But diverse: Could we make her a man,
Sweet Love were slain:
Yet in the long years liker must they grow,
The man be sweetness and in moral height,
She mental breadth, nor fail in childward care,
Nor lose the childlike in the larger mind;
Till at last she set herself to man,
Like perfect music unto noble words:
And so these twin, upon the skirts of Time
Sit side by side, full-summed in all their powers,
Dispensing harvest, sowing the To-be
Self-reverent each and reverencing each,
Distinct in individualities;
Then springs the crowning race of human-kind;
May these things be!

Maledictory.

Our happy school days have passed like a fleeting dream, but they shall be treasured in our memories with the relics of our past glory. It is with the greatest love that we look back upon our four years of High School life. How endearing the association! How ennobling the influences! How lofty the inspiration that has always urged us on!

To-night we leave the guiding and protecting arm of our beloved Alma Mater to join that innumerable train, the followers of the fickle Goddess of Fortune. To her guidance and care we yield our lives, our hopes, our trusts, our all. With awe-inspiring majesty, she holds out her hand to us, and we, as under her magic spell, follow to our fate.
The duty, of saying farewell, in behalf of the class of 1904, has devolved upon me. Farewells though always sad must yet be spoken. We bid farewell to all our past associations. Farewell to our teachers, who have ever ably and wisely led us on our timely way. Farewell to our fellow pupils, who, by their genial attitude towards us, have aided in winning our success. Farewell to our school, the object of our devotion and the means of our delight. And now farewell to each other.
As we join the ever swelling Alumni, let it be the prime endeavor of each one of the Class of 1904 to become an honor and a success to the school which graduates us to-night, and to our town.
To all we say farewell.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES.

Next Friday (June 17) two of the great Association Summer camps for students open in the Central West, one at Lake Geneva, the other on Lake Erie. A third is now in progress at Waynesville, N. C., for the men of the Southern colleges. Immediately after these is the Northfield camp for Eastern college men. Fully 2,000 men from 120 colleges will spend ten days at these camps.

The Western Slope men meet earlier in California and Oregon. The mornings and evenings are devoted to addresses and Bible classes and the afternoons to athletics. Another type of camp the Association is conducting is summer vacation camps for boys and young men, at which the religious service is more an incident. Bible classes, however, are conducted in the morning and are the most popular features of the day. At nearly 250 of these camps at least 6,000 men and boys will be entertained. The Canadian Association has gained possession of lakes and built log-cabin. Albany has an island in Lake Champlain; Cleveland rents a farm of ten acres with a pond in it. Members in California and Colorado go on broncos and barros. In California the boys camp without tents, as there is no rain there in the dry season. In the Middle West boys travel down the big rivers in house boats, while Racine members have a moving camp. Parties in Ohio go on gypsy trips in big farm wagons. Nebraska boys have "biking" trips, carry their blankets, play ball, swim and sleep in barns. Some Worcester, Mass., members spend their vacations in canoes. At the New York camp at Westport, which opens July 7, and will continue for two months, an average of 50 boys will be under canvas. Here astronomy, photography and forestry will be taught in a popular way. At the New Jersey boys' camp an "old salt" will go along and teach the boys all sorts of nautical things. In the northern New York camp, on Lake Erie, an expert in Indian lore, botany, geology, ornithology and zoology will head the expedition. Members of the Pennsylvania Association will spend their vacations in the woods and incidentally entertain and preach at the number camps.

First Steel Car Ever Built.
An epoch in the history of steel car construction was marked last week when there was completed at the Berwick plant of the American Car and Foundry Company, the first steel car ever constructed. Although a number of plants have attempted to build an all-steel passenger car, it was the Berwick plant that first successfully accomplished its construction.

It was Friday night that the sample car of the 300 car order for the Interborough Company of New York City was shipped from the Berwick plant. The construction of this car has been watched with the greatest interest, not only by the local officials, but by the general manufacturing world as well. The new car is a model of beauty of design and is perfect in every detail. It is built entirely of steel, with the exception of an aluminum finish and has bamboo seats. The car is not quite so long as an ordinary passenger car, and the seats run along the sides. It is painted in several shades of red and weighs 55,000 pounds.

R. Horton Batcher, broker, Langhams in the Tombs, New York, awaiting extradition papers for his removal to Northumberland county court. M. S. Nagle of Shamokin, recently elected president of the Aberdeen Consolidated Copper Company of New Mexico, charges embezzlement against Batcher who promoted the company, $800 advanced personally by Nagle for paying employees but alleged to have been converted by the broker to personal use, is the specific charge. $60,000 was raised in Shamokin alone to develop the Aberdeen mine and dividends were paid by Batcher when no money was being earned. All those and more will appear at the trial.

The payments of life insurance companies during the year 1903, upon the lives of Danville residents, amounted to $75,199. Subsidy was paid $12,552; Lewisburg, $25,448; Watsonown, $6,208; Milton, $30,302; Millburg, $2,200; Washingtonville, $9,924; Mountgomery, $1,000; Northumberland, $9,000.
