Enjoy outdoor life all you can.

Well August may warm up a bit.

The berry season is nearly ended.

Farmers have commenced to plow.

The home raised roasting ears are fine.

Tramps are numerous on the South side this summer.

Starched clothes soon lose their stiffness this weather.

The campaign committees are now opening headquarters.

Sandwiches have been lost in the shuffle this kind of weather.

The campaign committees are now opening headquarters.

Sandwiches have been lost in the shuffle this kind of weather.

Lancaster county is harvesting the largest crop of oats in 25 years.

Mrs. Samuel Sainsbury is seriously ill at her home on Grand street.

The hot air man has evidently been doing something to the weather.

Mrs. P. C. Newbaker and Mrs. James Foster have taken cottages at Hunter's Park.

All you need to enable you to enjoy your outing is plenty of dollars and good good sense.

Danville's improvements this year are more extensive than usual. This indicates a go-ahead spirit.

The farmer who is busy with his harvest would be thankful for at least a mild week of dry weather.

Milwaukee stands high as a center of the tanning industry. But that isn't what made it famous.

The trout season came to a legal end on Sunday. Remember that it has an offense against the fish laws is expensive to say the least.

Not even the Japs will sympathize with the bomb thrower who killed Minister Plehve when punishment is meted out to the wretch.

Snydertown has shown its educational progress and liberality by extending its school term one month and increasing pay of teachers.

Of course it costs money to bring customers to a store—but no store ever yet lost money through having too many customers.

Coach excursions to St. Louis via Lackawanna $17.00 on August 3, 10, 17, 24 and 31.

WANTED—LADY OR GENTLEMAN of fair education to travel for a firm established 30 years. Salary $1,072 per year and expenses, paid weekly. Address with stamp, H. W. KELLEY, Danville Pa.

Frog farming is recommended by the state department of fisheries. With a plentiful supply of frogs there will be no need to worry over the price of spring lamb. The "spring" frog will be in season all the year round.

There is one convention scheduled to take place in Pennsylvania this month that is bound to be quiet. It is that of the State's deaf mutes and it will be held at Allentown on August 16 to 20. Field sports will be held and a bare ball game played.

The attendance at the St. Louis exposition is disappointing, and the management has begun to retrench expenses, beginning, of course, with labor. Reductions of salaries from 5 to 20 per cent. will be made on August 1st, and a large number of employes notified their services would not be required.

Through the liberality of friends an electric light plant, from which all the buildings and Campus will be illuminated, is being installed at Bucknell University, Lewisburg. The work of wiring is well advanced and is being finished as rapidly as possible. It is expected that the plant will be ready for use at the fall session, September 23d.

Pottsville and Reading parties are preparing to drill for coal near Berwick. A shaft is being built at the swamp to furnish water for the engine operating the drill, and it is said that work will be commenced this fall. The new operations are nearly opposite the coal prospecting of George Wessle on the Neseque mountain.

Coach Excursions to St. Louis via Lackawanna Railroad, on August 3rd, 10th, 17th, 24th and 31st Lackawanna ticket Agents will sell coach excursion tickets to St. Louis at date of $17.00 tickets good on date of sale on train leaving Danville at 10:19 a. m. and will not be honored in parlor or sleeping cars. Returning, tickets will be good on any regular train up to and including ten days from date of sale.

DEATH OF HON. R. E. PATTISON

FAMILY AT HIS BEDSIDE

The Ex-Governor Made a Brave Fight for Life

Laid to Rest

Robert E. Pattison, twice Governor of Pennsylvania, and the only Pennsylvanian of recent years seriously considered as a Presidential possibility, died Monday morning at 6.25 o'clock.

The end came after a prolonged struggle, in which the distinguished patient's firm will and reserve vitality prevailed against death long after the attending physicians had abandoned hope. Early on Sunday Mr. Pattison's illness, pneumonia, aggravated by a heart affection, took a sudden turn for the worse, but, with characteristic energy, he rallied from a series of relapses until his strength was completely spent.

The funeral took place yesterday (Thursday) at 11 o'clock. Services were conducted at the family residence, Overbrook, by Bishop Neely and Rev. G. W. Izer, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church of the Government, Eighteenth and Spruce streets, in which Mr. Pattison attended. The funeral was private and of a simple character.

News of ex-Governor Pattison's death came as a great shock. Only his most intimate friends had known of his illness, and even they had no knowledge of its seriousness. Telegrams of condolence poured in from all parts of the State, and the family received others from distant points. Among the first received was one from Judge Alton B. Parker, Democratic candidate for President. He expressed profound regret and extended a message of condolence to the widow and family. Another was received from George W. Guthrie, who was Mr. Pattison's mate on the Democratic State ticket of 1902.

OAK GROVE.

Mr. Roland Clinger and Miss Sallie Zartman returned to Sunbury, after spending a two weeks' vacation at Miss Z's home.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Yost and little son, of Milton, visited at W. C. Sterner's Sunday.

Miss Jennie Butler, of Northumberland, is visiting relatives in this vicinity.

Mr. Clarence Leidy, of Indiana State Normal school, is spending his vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Leidy.

Miss Julia Hagenbach entertained the Misses Grace Billmeyer and Anna Cotner over Sunday.

Mr. Eugene Hagenbach, of Sunbury, visited his mother Saturday.

Miss Minnie Roberts, of Maudslate, visited Miss Widda Pennabacker over Sunday.

Miss Margaret Robbins spent Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Sterner.

The festival, which was held at this place Saturday evening, was a grand success.

RAMBLER.

MOORESBURG ITEMS.

Mr. O. K. Rumsan and son, of Easton, Pa., are visiting the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Stahl.

Mrs. Mane Bine, a nurse at the Danville State Hospital, is spending a week's vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Bower.

Mrs. Geo. Wench is able to be around again, after a week's illness.

Mr. W. G. Ford and Miss Maggie Beach, of this place, were united in marriage last Wednesday, at the home of the bride. Rev. Sleep was the officiating minister.

Rev. A. Herr will deliver his farewell sermon to his present congregation at this place on the last Sunday of August. He will enter on duties in a new field at Haledale, Penn'a.

Quite a number of our town people attended the Eagles' Mere excursion on Tuesday.

Miss Agnes Curry has broken ground for a new dwelling in our town. Let the good work in improvements continue.

Oats Heavy.

Oats is now pretty nearly all harvested. The crop this season is an unusually good one. Not only are the heads well filled and the grains well developed, but the straw is heavy. Owing to the latter fact the oats were heavy rains have occurred is badly "lodged" and is cut with much difficulty.

New Stone Pavement.

Another improvement at St. Joseph's Catholic church was begun yesterday in the form of a new stone pavement on the Ferry street side. The old pavement was mostly of brick with a small portion of flagstone. It was still in a fairly good condition but the new pavement is a great improvement. D. J. Rogers is doing the work.

Ocean Grove Excursion.

Friday, Aug. 19, annual excursion to Ocean Grove via Reading railway. Tickets good to return until Monday, Aug. 29, inclusive. Leave Danville 7:33 a. m. Excursion fare $4.50.

Washington Letter.

Special Correspondence to the Intelligencer by Charles A. Edwards.

It is the consensus of opinion in the national capital that in the line-up for battle between the two parties, the Democracy has the best of the situation. It is believed here by the leaders of the party who have visited Washington since the convention in St. Louis that the outcome of the convention has practically solidified the Democratic party in this country.

It looked for a time in St. Louis that no power on earth could ever bring the two warring factions together. But conciliation and compromise on both sides and the splendid attitude of Mr. Bryan and his leaders have performed a political miracle and the old Democratic party is once more a solid phalanx and will move in serrated ranks on the cohorts of corruption and extravagance in the Republican party. There are divergent opinions here concerning the telegram sent by Judge Parker to the convention, but the majority of Democratic leaders believe that it has had more of a beneficial effect than otherwise. While, of course, Judge Parker did not mean literally that the gold standard was "irrevocably established," yet it practically is so until gold becomes so cheap that men who are now gold men will seek to demonize it. So long as present conditions obtain the gold standard will remain fixed and nothing can disturb it. When, however, the per capita of real or basic currency becomes less than it is now, there will be more clamor for the double standard and the money question will become once more a paramount issue in our politics. There are some people who criticize Mr. Bryan for his action in criticizing Judge Parker and portions of the platform since the convention adjourned. But the truth of the matter is that Mr. Bryan has done more to help the ticket and hold his forces together for it than any one man in the country. If he had laid down immediately after the convention an accepted fully and entire everything that was done, hundreds of thousands of his followers in the past two campaigns would have become angered at him, would have declared him insincere and dishonest, and would have bolted the ticket. When he was honest enough, however, to criticize the things in Judge Parker that he did not like and things distasteful to him in the platform, while at the same time he proclaimed that there was enough Democracy in the platform to warrant his entire support, his friends here and there are honored and agreed that it is the chance of Judge Parker's election are growing greater every day. There is really no doubt of Judge Parker's election, if the Democrats of this country, who believe in Democratic principles instead of trust domination and the reign of an aristocracy, will stand shoulder to shoulder for the Democratic ticket. This, the leaders of the party believe will happen and they are far more encouraged than I have seen them since 1892.

Of course, every man who attended the great Democratic Convention in St. Louis look in the latest and greatest of all the world's expositions ever held. The great St. Louis Exposition in its entirety can not be described. It has to be seen to be appreciated. It is not only larger and greater in area, but the buildings are more beautiful in design and finish, and the exhibits more comprehensive than any exposition ever held. The Philippine Village in itself will take two days to fully explore the interesting things there to behold, and the wonderful "Oriskany" especially at night, when it is one glittering, glaring mass of electric light, is worth going many hundreds of miles to see. At the same time, there can be seen a little more and there seems to be no attempt to gouge visitors on the part of the exhibitors. I talked to many people there who have seen all the world's expositions since the centennial in 1876, and they say that nothing has ever compared favorably with the St. Louis Exposition. It is a liberal education in itself and the opportunity of a lifetime, and any one who possibly can spare a few dollars is doing himself a grave injustice not to visit and witness this great aggregation of the world's progress and splendor.

The Speed of Birds.

William W. Murphy, a locomotive engineer on the Burlington's fast express between Hannibal and St. Joseph, has been making observations on the speed of various birds and insects. Many birds, he says, make a practice of flying beside or in front of his engine, and when the weather is clear and there is no wind he opens the throttle and races with them.

He finds that a chicken hawk and a crow can make twenty-five miles an hour. A turkey buzzard flies at the rate of twenty-one miles an hour. The pigeon is one of the fastest birds in the United States. It makes a speed of forty-five miles an hour with ease. When chased by an eagle it can beat the Burlington's St. Louis express. The wild duck is travelling at the rate of forty-four miles an hour while the hunter is pumping the contents of a repeating gun at it. The black-bird, robin, dove and other small birds travel at a speed of thirty-eight miles an hour. The humming-bird can and does excel a speed of a mile per minute. Murphy says that a honey bee the other day flew in and out of his cab window while he was going at the rate of sixty-three miles an hour. The performance lasted while the engine traveled half a mile.

anything that has lately appeared. In that communication, he calls attention to the difference between the Republican and the Democratic National Conventions. He says that at the Republican Convention the colored man was treated as a companion, friend, and brother; that there he was made to feel as though he were not only a political, but social equal; that the delegates followed the advice and example of President Roosevelt, who teaches that the colored man deserves to be treated as a social equal. He says that to emphasize this fact, he had the courage to have at his table, Prof. Booker T. Washington, and that if Roosevelt is elected, it will encourage the negro men that they will demand that Booker Washington shall be the Republican candidate for Vice-President in 1908. He calls attention to the scene in the Republican Convention, when a beautiful white girl was placed upon the stage and by her side a negro boy, and that they led the cheering, thus making an example of the equality of the races. He then points out that the Democratic Convention was a white man's convention, of a white man's party, and that in it, there was not a single negro man. He says that he will do more to make the race question one of the leading issues of this campaign than anything else that could be suggested. There are many doubtful States in the North that will give to the Democrats sufficient Republican votes upon the negro question alone to send them into the Democratic column. The chances are therefore that the Democrats will force this issue whenever they can.

Of course, it goes without saying that if the Democrats win the Presidency, they will also win the House, because no President was ever elected who did not carry the House with him. Specifically, the Democrats are counting upon gains in the next House in Arizona, Michigan, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, West Virginia, Virginia, Maryland, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, and possibly Connecticut and Rhode Island. In the West, they will probably elect their Congressmen or a majority of them in Colorado—also their Representatives in Montana and Idaho—possibly Wyoming and possibly make gains in California. There is a possibility of the House going Democratic with a Republican victory for President. But it is not probable, inasmuch as all precedent is against it. The Republicans admit this openly. They also admit that the chances of Judge Parker's election are growing greater every day. There is really no doubt of Judge Parker's election, if the Democrats of this country, who believe in Democratic principles instead of trust domination and the reign of an aristocracy, will stand shoulder to shoulder for the Democratic ticket. This, the leaders of the party believe will happen and they are far more encouraged than I have seen them since 1892.
