We regret to say that Hon. J. Henry Cochran, U. S. Senator, Williamsport foremost citizen, our friend, your friend and a good and great man, has been very sick, but we are pleased to add that he is convalescing and will soon be able to about again and lend his strong hand in defence of Democracy.

Wednesday afternoon almost the entire male portion of our High School dropped in upon us in a regular avalanche. They paid us a pleasant call and withdrew in perfect order, thus proving their gentlemanly qualities. Danville boasts one of the best High Schools in the State, and justly can it so. Gentlemen, "be sure you are right, then go ahead." A small wagner can produce a great noise. But we didn't see the ice cream.

PARKER TO SPEAK IN THE CAMPAIGN

Heads Democratic List of 3,000, Including Cleveland and Bryan.

Three thousand orators are to be turned loose in the doubtful States by the Democratic campaign managers the last week in September.

Announcement was made at national headquarters yesterday by Daniel McConville, head of the speakers' bureau, of the list of speakers, declared to be the strongest ever engaged in a National campaign.

The list is headed by Judge Alton B. Parker. This is the first official announcement that has been made that the candidate is to speak. Where and when or how many speeches he will make was not explained, but it was said definitely that he would participate in the speaking campaign. It was explained later that in the formal statement issued by Mr. McConville it was said:

"It is known that Judge Alton B. Parker, ex-President Grover Cleveland and William J. Bryan will each take part in the campaign."

It was declared that about every eminent speaker on the roster of the Democratic party had enlisted. From one end of the country to the other they will be heard from the last week in September until election day. Mr. Cleveland is expected to make a few speeches in the East, the number not having yet been determined.

VOICE STRANGE TO OWNER

Never Sounds Exactly the Same as It Does to Friends.

That a man does not hear his own voice as all the rest of the world hears it is shown by an interesting experiment described by Dr. L. Laloy in La Nature of Paris, says the Literary Digest. Says this writer:

"If a person records on a phonograph a few sentences pronounced by himself, together with others, by his friends, and causes the machine to reproduce these at the end of a brief period, it generally happens that he easily recognizes his friends' voices, but not his own. On the other hand, the friends recognize his voice perfectly. This singular fact proves that every one hears his own voice differently from others."

"As is remarked by Professor Exner, the difference must lie in the quality of the tone. It must be remembered that one hears his own voice not only through the air, as do his auditors, but across the solid parts situated between the organs of speech and those of hearing. The sound thus produced has a different timbre from that conducted to the ear by the air alone."

"We may show this as follows: Take the end of a wooden rod between the teeth and pronounce a vowel continuously. Let the other end be alternately taken between the teeth and released by another person, who at the same time stops his ears. The latter will find that every time he seizes the rod in his teeth the sound becomes stronger than when it reaches his ear through air alone, and has a different quality. The experiment may be varied by applying a wooden rod to the larynx of the person observed and touching it from time to time to the observer's own larynx. As in the preceding case, it will be found that its passage through a solid body augments the intensity of the sound and modifies its quality."

ANTI-PROFANE WOMEN, PLEASE SEND A WIFE

Oregon Man, Impressed With Berwick Crusaders, Writes, Proposing Marriage.

Berwick, Pa., Sept. 14. So impressed is Harry Wertfall, of Portland, Oregon, with the noble work being done by the Women's Christian Temperance Union of this place in suppressing the profanity that was formerly rampant upon the streets of that city that he has written the president of the society asking if there is not some marriageable member of it who wants a good home and a good husband.

Wertfall recently saw an account in the papers of how the woman had induced the Berwick Council to pass an ordinance forbidding swearing upon the street. He writes "under date of August 27:

"I see that you are going to curb the use of profanity; that is right. Now, while you are doing that try to see if you can find me a wife. I do not smoke or use profane language, and am 30 years old and good looking. Please show this to your society and see if you have any marriageable ladies. There is a good home and a good husband for her. With many thanks to you."

He gives his address as P. O. Box 1017, Portland, Oregon, but Mrs. Van Houten, the president of the society, has not yet answered his letter.

Low Rate to Williamsport via Reading Railway.

Account Races at Williamsport September 13th to 16th inclusive the Reading Railway will sell special Excursion tickets to Williamsport at about single fare for the round trip from Mt. Carmel, Bloomsburg, Catawissa and intermediate ticket stations. These tickets will be good returning until Sept. 17, 1904 inclusive.

A Wilkesbarre Methodist Church has improved on the time-worn custom of feeding a mortgage off, by dieting it off. For this week the congregation will abstain from all delicacies, the money saved to go next Sunday to freeing the church of debt. The sufferer from church suppers and church fairs will heartily approve of the change, while the self-denying adherents will doubtless be the gainers physically as well as financially.

Runaways Dragged Driver to Death.

Bloomsburg, Pa., Sept. 14.—Rupert Beach, of Catawissa, was killed in a runaway on the mountains near his home yesterday afternoon. He jumped out as the wagon overturned, was caught in the wheels and dragged to death.

Mr. Cleveland's Offer to Alton B. Parker.

Not many persons are aware of the fact that Alton B. Parker was offered a place in the first administration of President Cleveland. McCready Sykes tells the story in the "Greenbag" as follows:

"Parker was in close and intimate relations with the Albany Regency of latter days, and was a warm friend of President Cleveland. Early in 1885, he was summoned by a telegram to Washington, where President Cleveland offered him the post of First Assistant Postmaster-General of the United States. The salary was five thousand dollars. Parker thought the matter over, and although his salary as Surrogate was only three thousand dollars, he promptly declined the place, as he feared that to withdraw from the active life of his own country would mean the loss of his practice, which gave every promise of being established within a very few years."

"Somewhat surprised and a little disappointed, Mr. Cleveland sent for Mr. Vilas, the Postmaster-General, saying, 'Vilas, Parker says he has a three thousand dollar salary as Surrogate of Ulster County and is building up a law practice, and he can't afford to take a five thousand dollar place.'"

"That's strange," said Vilas. "I left a twenty thousand dollar practice to take an eight thousand dollar place in the Cabinet."

"Yes," retorted Parker, "and if I had been making twenty thousand dollars a year for ten years, I should not mind taking a five thousand dollar place in Washington."

"Later in the same year the offer was authoritatively made to Parker of the Democratic nomination for Lieutenant Governor of New York, but this, too, he declined."

"The time was at hand when Parker should definitely retire from politics, although he was not yet half through his thirties. On the urgent solicitation of the Democratic leaders, Parker consented, in the autumn of 1885, to act as chairman of the Democratic Executive Committee in the State campaign. That campaign is still spoken of as one of the most efficient and successful campaigns of the past generation. With practically no campaign funds, Parker fought an uphill fight wherein few hoped of success, and ended the campaign with a decisive victory. Here his political service came to an end, for in December of the same year, 1885, he was appointed to a vacancy on the bench of the Supreme Court. In the following year he was elected to a full term, the Republicans paying him the compliment of running no candidate. He was only thirty-five years old."

The Motor Car.

(From the London Telegraph.) The motor car is indeed making a revolution both in town and country life. House and land agents state that people are no longer unwilling to rent mansions in districts formerly regarded as inaccessible. With the motor car's almost magic agency of transport dwellers in the country cease to consider the number of miles that a house may be from a railway station or town. A lady may do her shopping in a town twenty miles away with as little trouble as she had in visiting one five miles off by means of a horse and trap. She may lunch with a friend at forty miles distance and return home comfortably to dinner. The motor car has this advantage over the train: that it takes the traveller all the way from his starting point to his destination. Therefore, on a fifty-mile journey one may travel as quickly by car as by train. For although the train travels faster—sometimes—that the car, the time lost in getting to and from the railway station at each end of the journey annuals that gain. In journeying from London to Brighton, for example, most people are so situated that they could, without transgressing the legal limit, get from home to house by car in very little longer time than by train, with the advantage of starting when they liked and not when the railway time table ordained.

Union County's Big Fair.

The Fifty-first Annual Fair to be held at Brook Park, Lewisburg, Sept. 28, 29 and 30, will be one of the most attractive for every standpoint that has ever been held by the Association. The premium list will be away ahead of any other fair in this section, and the racing track will have some of the fastest trotters and pacing horses that have ever been seen hereabouts. The management has been most liberal this year and the inducements they make will bring the exhibits away ahead of other years. Special features have been secured at great expense, in order to make the days a continual enjoyment for both old and young.

The track is rounding into first-class condition and all the buildings, etc., have been repaired and made attractive. Every day will be a big day. Excursion trains will be run on all roads, giving a very low rate to visitors. Big special premiums will be offered for displays by organizations in or outside of the county, while the list in general has been increased.

LARGEST CHECK EVER ISSUED BY THE STATE

Treasurer Mathews Utters One for $1,200,000 With Philadelphia as the Payee.

FOR PERSONAL PROPERTY TAX

Great Activity Displayed in Refunding the Three-Fourths of $1,600,000 Due McNichol's Playground.

With a promissory note unprecedented in the history of Pennsylvania's finances, State Treasurer William L. Mathews last Thursday sent a check for $1,200,000 to the city of Philadelphia, returning to that city its share of the $1,600,000 which was last week paid into the treasury for personal property tax.

Never before has the payment been made so promptly, never before has such a large check been drawn at the State Treasury and only once before has the payment of Philadelphia's share of the tax been made in a lump sum.

There is nothing to compel the repayment of the money so quickly. As a matter of fact, it generally drags along for weeks or months. The only occasion when but a little time elapsed between the receipt of the entire amount and the repayment of the portion due the city was several years ago during Colonel Barnett's term as treasurer.

State Treasurer Mathews preferred to repay the fund as quickly as possible and to send it to Philadelphia in a lump instead of having the accounts drag along and be split into small amounts during the Fall and Winter.

It was said at the Treasury that this check for $1,200,000 is the largest ever issued from that office.

The personal property tax was, according to the law, paid by Philadelphia into the treasury only a few days ago, the amount being $1,600,000. Under the same law three-fourths of the money reverts to the city and the other one-fourth remains in the coffers of the State.

Miss Annie Wagner spent Sunday at Exchange.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Litchard spent Sunday with Frank Fry and wife.

Mrs. Geo. W. Watson left Tuesday for St. Louis, and will visit in several other western States before her return.

Too many merchants look upon advertising as a scheme to help the editor. With rural delivery and department stores sending out tons of advertising matter, the country merchant must have the goods and the prices and he must advertise or get run over in the march of civilization. His rents are less, his help costs less and he can compete with the city retailer and pay his advertising, too; and the time has come when he absolutely has to do it. The country merchants are finding this out and are taking advantage of it. Our exchanges are showing half page and whole page ads that have always carried but small ads before.

SUBWAY TAVERN DENOUNCED

Methodist Minister Calls It a Third-Rate Bawling Saloon. At the Methodist Preachers' Meeting at No. 150 Fifth Avenue New York, after the speaker for the day the Rev. Harvey Wood, of the National Temperance Society, had concluded the Subway Tavern, the Rev. Dr. F. C. Iglehart said: "One of the most ridiculous as well as terrible things in recent times in this city has been the spectacle of the sanctification of the low-down, greasy Bawling saloon called the Subway Tavern. Thinking that the establishment might have been misrepresented, I visited it myself. I did not find the slightest evidence there of the respectability claimed for it, in building decorations, bar, bottles, customers or atmosphere. I do not know what a first-class saloon looks like, except for the glimpse I have had through swinging doors, but in comparison I should call the Subway Tavern a third-rate saloon."

CHICKEN FIN'S $2,000 GEM

Asheville, N. C., Sept. 9.—A chicken scratched up Mrs. William Marion Smathers's $2,000 diamond, after it had lain in the earth ten years. The stone was lost by Mrs. Smathers while visiting relatives in Great Barrington. Mrs. Smathers was then Miss Rebecca Loring Renouff, and she was the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Wright Crippen. A diligent search for the diamond was kept up for months afterward.

An Agreeable Surprise.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. David Smith, near White Hall, was taken by storm last Saturday night, their friends and neighbors from all parts of the country having gathered in to celebrate the 60th anniversary of Mr. Smith's birth. Notwithstanding the dark night and threatening weather, by 9 p. m. the large house was filled to its utmost, and the lawn and veranda, which surrounds three sides of the house, were lined from one end to the other with young people, who sought this occasion to have a good time.

There were about 250 people present, among whom were Rev. Munro, of White Hall; Mr. Samuel Paul, of Philadelphia, and Mr. Wm. Welsch, of Turbotville. Refreshments were served. All enjoyed the music furnished by Messrs. Ames Johnson and Peter Riessel. Altogether, it was a grand success. FRIENDS.

Making Friends Every Day.

It can truthfully be said of JELL-O ICE CREAM POWDER, the new product for making the most delicious ice cream you ever ate; everything in the package. Nothing tastes so good in hot weather. All grocers are placing it in stock. If your grocer can't supply you send 25c. for 2 packages by mail. Four kinds: Vanilla, Chocolate, Strawberry and Unflavored. Address, The Geisey Pure Food Co., Box 295, Le Roy, N. Y.

PARKER ABOUT TO SPRING SENSATION

May Go to New York for the Purpose—Startling Rumors Concerning It.

Esopus, Sept. 12. It is reported that Mr. Parker will soon make an announcement of great political importance. About its nature there were startling rumors, none of which can be confirmed. Mr. Parker himself refuses to say anything except that whatever statement or announcement he has to make will be made when he is ready to make it.
