Tax Payers.

The Tax Books for 1876 are now in my hands. You have the privilege of paying your taxes to me for three months from this date without cost or penalty. At the end of three months the collection papers will be put in the hands of the district officers, when you will have to pay 4 per cent. premium and 50 cents levy fee if a levy is made. Nov. 7, 1876. A. J. WHITE, Trustee.

The Cleveland district polled 408 votes last Tuesday. 55 Republican majority.

Election passed off quietly—some few colored people voting the Democratic ticket.

Mr. Peter H. Hambricht died at his home near Calhoun last Sunday at 5 o'clock p. m.

Jo. Hicks, our Democratic county Register, stood true to his word on once. He voted for Yardley and John Bates at the 10th district.

Capt. J. C. Morgan, of the P. O. Department of Washington arrived in this city Tuesday morning last; he is looking hale and hearty as when he left here.

Brother Nelson, of the Loudon Times, is a tolerably clever fellow, but when he undertakes to "clean up" every newspaper that don't agree with him, he finds it quite a large undertaking.

Last week several letters were received too late for publication. We are thankful to our friends for their favors, but they must be in time as the press cannot wait.

The board of alderman met in regular session last Saturday night. No business was done except allow the tune of the street hands to be paid. Amount, $288.43.

To our subscribers that are to pay us in wood, we would say bring it along. The weather is getting too cold to do without fire, and we can't dance and set type at the same time. Bring it along while the roads are good.

Old Bill Cullom's stepping around, And Jake is lagging back; His bugle note—a warlike sound, Has scared Jake off the track. —Loudon Times.

It don't look to us much like Jake was "scared off the track."

We have at least one hundred subscribers that are owing us from one to two dollars, and as we are needing the money we would like for them to forward it at once. There is no use in us having to write to you. Every one that owes us anything knows it, and therefore there is no use in us wasting postage. Send it along at once. No one can expect a printer to furnish them their paper free.

The city authorities are at last finishing the rock wall on South street in the 2d ward. Alderman Traynor has been working faithfully for two long years to accomplish this end, and has at last succeeded. It will be appreciated very much by the people of this ward, and of the west side of the county.

A young man of this place had heard that Centennial tickets from Chattanooga were selling at $15. He wrote to Mr. Truslow, the ticket agent, to know how it was. Mr. T. answered that he would commence selling tickets at that price on May 1st, 1876, and to get ready to go. The man has blacked his boots for the trip.

That "Tipton Letter."

The Loudon Times say: "Notwithstanding our relation with Bill Tipton of the Cleveland Herald, are not of the most cordial character, we regard the attempt on the part of the Democratic papers to fasten upon him the authorship of the forged letter which appeared in the Chicago Inter-Ocean as the basest of meanness."

It is too mean for even Democratic papers and the political capital that will be derived from the palpable forgery, will not amount to a single vote. It is almost too thin to amount to a fraud, and the man who concocted it, will never be a success as an accomplished villain."

A passenger train on the Cincinnati & Lexington Railroad ran into a "wild" engine on last Saturday. An engineer was killed and two firemen injured. No passengers were hurt. A passenger train on the O. & M. Railroad ran into a freight, and several parties were hurt.

The Norwich Bulletin says that one of the chief results of the election is to convince a large number of young men who made bets, that it isn't going to be a very cold winter, and that an umbrella trimmed with fur will be a very comfortable substitute for a winter overcoat.

Bound to Scream Anyhow.

"I'll scream if you touch me!" Exclaimed a pert miss, Whose lover was seeking An innocent kiss.

By this prindish conduct Cold water was thrown; The lover drew backward And left her alone.

I'll scream if you touch me!" She cried out once more. He said, "I ain't near you—I found it a bore."

She quickly subsided, Grew tender to view. And whispered quite softly: "I'll scream till you do."

UNCERTAIN!

Not Yet Settled, But the Chances Favor Tilden.

As we go to press this (Thursday) morning the Presidential election is yet unsettled—as the following dispatches show:

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—The Herald figures the State Assembly as follows: Democrats 70, Republicans 53, Ketchem, Republican, is elected to Congress. Hockins, Republican, is defeated. The Post gives Tilden 184 electoral votes, with Nevada, Florida, California, Louisiana, Oregon and Wisconsin as doubtful. It says Mr. Tilden appears to be elected President of the United States.

The Tribune, in an extra just issued, says the latest news leaves a bare possibility of Hayes' election, though the probabilities are all the other way, but the Republicans now claim Wisconsin and California. This leaves Tilden one vote short of election and Hayes twenty short, and the following doubtful States, from which either must draw for what he needs: Florida 4, Nebraska 3, Nevada 3, Oregon 3, South Carolina 7. Hayes cannot be elected without all these. Accurate returns from them today are impossible.

THE ELECTION.

As far as we can hear Bradford has the majorities: Loudon County, 373. Bradley " 203. McMinn " 300. Chambers majorities are reported as follows: Monroe County 590. Polk " 100. Meigs " 300.

The above are not official except Bradley, Monroe and McMinn, but we are inclined to think they are about correct and that Bradford is defeated by a very small majority.

REPRESENTATIVE. For Polk and Bradley, Dowell's majority in Bradley is 218. Hancock's friends claim that he will beat Dowell in Polk County 250 votes. No returns in from Polk yet. The race is close with chances favoring Hancock. The Republicans have gained 12 members of the Legislature that we know of. Will give list next week.

East Tennessee.

Randolph is elected to Congress in the 1st district, and Thornburg in the 2d. The latter's majority is 3,500.

From the 1st of September to the 25th of October there were 1,167 deaths in Savannah, 873 white and 324 colored, out of a population 26th of October of 7,353 whites and 11,938 colored. Among the deaths were two doctors, seven clergymen, seven policemen and five sisters of charity.

An Odd Chair for the Next President.

From the San Francisco Bulletin.

Seth Kinman and his son Carlin, the renowned California hunters and trappers are now in the city. Seth has gained considerable notoriety as the maker of unique chairs for the Presidents of the United States. He presented Buchanan with a chair made of elk horns and hoofs in 1854, and gave Abraham Lincoln a similar one in 1864. Andrew Johnson was the recipient of a chair made of grizzly skins and claws. During a recent visit to the Centennial Exposition Seth called on Gov. Hayes at Columbus, Ohio, and presented him with a chair similar to the Lincoln and Buchanan chairs—of elk horns and hoofs, with a grizzly robe covering. He has another chair similar to the Andrew Johnson chair in store for the President elect, only it has the addition of a grizzly's ferocious head cunningly concealed underneath the seat, which, by touching a spring in the rear of the chair, is thrown forward, the jaws snap viciously two or three times, when it returns to its place of concealment.

The Romance of the Arctic Disaster.

The disaster to the New Bedford whaling fleet in the arctic sea reminds us that the haunts of the Leviathan of the ocean are more inaccessible than they were years ago. When the Biscayans began the fishery in the twelfth century the king of the arctic ranged from Spitzbergen nearly to the equator. When the Dutch and English embarked in the business a century or two later, the Bay of Biscay had ceased to be its habitat, and the affrighted monster had begun its retreat through the chilly waters of the North Sea and the North Atlantic to the forbidding localities beyond North Cape and Iceland, where the ice flows grind and snap, the icebergs reel and thunder, and the white bear makes its home in the everlasting snows. The whale, so vindictively pursued by the English, Dutch, Russians and Norwegians, made, in time, a flank movement, and appeared in vast numbers along the eastern shores of North America. It was about this time that the Nantucketers observed whales spouting and sporting in the sea off shore, and one of them said: "There is a green pasture where your children's children will go for bread." And this green field the hardy sons of New England have tilled diligently from that day to this. It is related that the first bowhead whale in the Belting sea was captured in 1813. In 1817 they were discovered in the Ochotsk Sea. The bowhead whale has retired from sea to sea until he is now at his "last ditch," at the north pole. He appears disinclined to stop short of the latitude of unmelting ice and snow. In connection with the recent disaster of the New Bedford fleet, it is a little singular that just about a year ago whalers were on the lookout for a repetition of the catastrophe of 1871, when another fatal wind should bear down with its icy coronal, and with its right wing resting on Ice Cape, sweep the whole flotilla high and dry on the low beach that fringes the northern coast. The disaster, however, and unfortunately, had happened a year later than was predicted, although in a somewhat different form, but with terrible results. Whalemanship, it is said, note a most remarkable change in the seasons of the arctic zone. A few years ago they reached the whaling grounds sometimes in August, and now they are obliged to leave them early in Sept. (as was the case in the late disaster.) Two years ago they lingered into October, and might have delayed longer so far as peril from the ice-pack was concerned. They went within eighty miles of the mouth of the McKenzie River, where sailing vessels, we believe, never have been before; and it was thought at the time that a steam vessel, aided by the currents, might have easily gone through to Baffin's Bay, a distance of less than 1,000 miles from the extreme point attained, thus solving the mystery of the northwest passage.

Monday Night. The election is over and the dye is cast and what may be said about political speeches and political meetings cannot have any effect on the voting, yet some things were said last Monday night which we wish to notice. The meeting was Republican.

One of the speakers said that "if a person believed that he was right, he was right." We are sorry to hear such a sentiment advanced, because it is calculated to mislead any one who may not be able to reason on the subject. Many colored people were present, and we dreaded its effect on them. A few ex-rebels were present, and the sentiment advanced was calculated to console and comfort them. If what a man believes is right makes it right, simply because he believes it, then Paul's persecution of the Church before his conversion, was right. He thought he was doing God's service, while he persecuted the Church. Who that has the mental capacity to put two ideas together, will endorse any such a notion? No one, certainly. Such a doctrine would upset the entire foundation of the Christian Church.

Then again, many rebels believed that they were right in fighting against the government. Did that make the rebellion right? Of course not. If every man and woman connected with the Southern Confederacy had believed that they were right, still the rebellion would have been as cruel and wrong as though no one believed it right. The doctrine advanced by the speaker was dangerous, whether we look at from a political or religious standpoint and therefore it should be discarded.

The same speaker uttered a noble sentiment when he said that justice in the courts of the country should be meted out equally to the ignorant, weak and poor and rich and influential. That is a grand thought, noble sentiment. But terribly weighty is the conviction that it is not acted upon in this country. A poor, ignorant and friendless negro or white man commits some small offense—steals a few dollars worth of goods, for instance—and in a very week he is sentenced to the penitentiary for years. Another man, colored or white, with money and friends commits some great crime—shoots a man down dead upon the streets for instance—and by managing and putting off, the case is dismissed from court and he goes free. Everybody knows this to be true so far as this country is concerned. Our courts of justice (heaven save the name!) stand out in mockery of what they pretend to be. As the speaker said, so we say, let all who violate the law be punished. We do not say that who commits a small offense, although he be poor and ignorant, should go free by any means. Let him be punished, but let the other also be punished. That is our doctrine, and that is the doctrine of right.

Smith's Bay is only forty-five miles from where the crews of the recently-abandoned ships were left; and, as there was an abundance of provisions on the vessels, it is thought by experienced New Bedford shipmasters, familiar with the coast, that the men, having no fears of starvation, wood and water being plenty, and the shores lined with driftwood, and the seal, deer, and seaweed found in abundance, will werry through the ice to Smith's Bay, where they may remain in safety until delivered from their unfortunate condition by some vessel sent there for the purpose; and it is possible that some of the officers among the brave men may bring their ships to port. In fact, there is no reason for alarm at all for those men who stuck close by their ships with their valuable cargoes.—Boston Globe.

The official Republican majority in Colorado is 2,376.

Election in Hamilton County.

Hamilton county has gone Republican by about 250 majority, except for Representative. It is close between Monger and Key—Monger beats in the city, but it will require the official vote to decide it. Hayes & Wheeler leads the tickets in the County and then Drake, Padget and Pryor follow close after them.

Pay Up.

We have been sending the paper to many of our subscribers for some time, expecting every week to hear from them in the way of greenbacks, but many—very many—have not let us hear from them yet. Let us tell you that our ears are open, our eyes are open, and we want to hear and see the greenbacks. From this day we will begin to listen and look more earnestly than ever. We must hear from you. Our coat is old, our hat is old, and the baby needs a new coat, and you owe us the money and we want it. Send it on without delay.

Some of our subscribers wanted the paper till after the election. The election is over. Send us the money and let us stop it, or send the money and take it longer. If you want your paper stopped send us the money. Remember this, we expect to hear from you soon. That you may make no mistake, we again tell you to address us at Chattanooga, Tenn. G. A. GOWIN.
