The Indianapolis Journal indulges this fine vein of sarcasm: "The toy pistol should be introduced in all our schools. There is nothing like the object lesson for making enduring impressions on the infantile mind. Nothing is so apt to reach the youthful student the uncertainty of life and the frail tenure we all have on it as the toy pistol. It is better than a new version Testament. If he only succeeds in putting one eye out of his little sister's head he has accomplished something, and may afterward's 'point with pride' to his young achievements. It is well that all good boys should be furnished with the toy pistol early in life, for of such is the kingdom of heaven. They invariably die young, and the toy pistol route has advantages over all others."

Fish Protection Laws.

Col. R. M. Edwards, writing from Nashville says: The Fish Commissioner for Middle Tennessee, Col. Geo. F. Akers, is just now the recipient of quite an assortment of literature in the form of letters from all parts of the State, in regard to fish-culture, fish production, and all manner of questions in regard to enforcement of the law.

For instance, some man has a trap or a seine, and is catching fish by those means, and straightway his neighbor writes to Col. Akers to come and remove the trap and destroy the seine. Another one writes to send him some German carp or he will report him to President Garfield or somebody at Washington; another one writes that Tom Jones has been using some other illegal contrivance to catch fish and for him to come and make him quit it.

Now, all such people mean well but they are in need of information. For instance, they perhaps do not know that for several years Col. Akers has been doing all he could, by correspondence with the United States Fish Commissioner, Prot. Baird, and otherwise to stock the streams in Tennessee with a good variety of game and other food fish; that at his own expense he has had thousands of young fish or spawn put into different streams and ponds of the State, and has by his energy and liberality not only distributed the different varieties of young fish, but has generally inculcated the idea over the State of protecting them, so that now we have a good law to effect that object. They need, further, to be informed that the law gives him no compensation for his trouble, nothing to pay postage or to defray expenses of transportation of young fish for our streams, nor does it give him any more power over the matter than any other citizen, so far as enforcing the law is concerned. Hence no appeals to him need be made to enforce the law as each citizen has just as much authority as he has to do that.

But if each county will organize societies as they have in Montgomery county, with a President at the county site and Vice President in each of the civil districts, specially selected to look out for and prosecute violators of the law, the good effects intended in the passage of the law will in a few years be so manifest that all who oppose it now will with equal zeal oppose its repeal. What is desired is that the fish be protected, particularly from seines, nets and poisonous substances and other destructive appliances until they become so abundant that in proper seasons enough may be taken with hook and line in half hour to supply immediate demands of a family without going into the water to the detriment of health and destruction of all the young fish and the eggs.

Honored and Heed.

When a board of eminent physicians and chemists announced the discovery that by combining some well known valuable remedies, the most wonderful medicine was produced, which would cure such a wide range of diseases that most all other remedies could be dispensed with, many were skeptical; but proof of its merits by actual trial has dispelled all doubt, and to-day the discoverers of that great medicine, Hop Bitters, are honored and blessed by all as benefactors.—Democrat.

Family Poisoned at Palaski.

PELLASKI, TENN., July 25, 1881. EDITOR HERALD: Our town was thrown into a state of excitement this morning about 10 o'clock when the report became general that Circuit Court Clerk, J. H. Morris, two of his little sons, eight and ten years old, respectively, and the Postmaster, T. R. Morgan had been poisoned. Mr. Morris is thought to be very dangerously affected, and but little hopes are entertained of his recovery. The others are resting tolerably well, and it is thought will recover. They are supposed to have been poisoned by the milk they drank for breakfast this morning. Some of the family did not drink any milk, and those who did not drink any, are not affected at all. The milk was kept in the basement of the house, which Mr. Morris lives in, the night previous, and the poison is supposed to have been put in it some time during the night. The poison found in the milk bucket has not yet been analyzed, but will be to-day. There is no clue to the party who did the poisoning. Mr. Morris kept no servant, which makes it more mysterious. It is not known who did it, or what it was done for. The excitement is intense over this affair, and if the guilty party is found out Judge Lynch may sit on the case.

Those at a distance wanting them must send a 3 cent stamp. In no case will we pay the postage. Parties not subscribers will be furnished at 10 cents per package.

On average soil these turnips will grow to from 6 lbs to 10 lbs. We have known them to grow in this county as large as 13 lbs, 7 oz.

Premiums Paid on Matrimony.

—How it Works—Effect in the Rural Districts.

LEXINGTON, Pa., July 25.—Marriage insurance is becoming as contagious in Pennsylvania and adjoining States as death-bed insurance. There is likely to be as much criticism of it. In some counties the judges refuse to make charters to the marriage insurance companies, but the parties who are refused apply in a neighboring jurisdiction and are successful. They readily procure a charter of license to go into the business of guaranteeing single young men and women one thousand dollars, more or less, when they marry.

Soliciting agents find it very plain sailing in the country districts, and do considerable business among young women by assuring them that young men seeking wives invariably select a young woman who has had sufficient business tact and judgment about her to get herself insured in time. The consequence is that the young women pay over their hard earned dollars, and then revel in the hope that very soon a young man will come hunting a wife; that he will select her; that she will get $1,000 soon after her wedding day from the company, and that little fortune will be so very handy to have in the house to buy a parlor and bed room set, carpets, a horse, a few cows and many odds and ends to start married life with.

Speaking "by the Card."

Quincy, (Ill.) Daily Herald: C. H. Wood, Esq., of the C. & T. Ry., Port Huron, Mich., favors our correspondent with the following: After suffering for nearly a year with rheumatism, receiving treatment most of the best physicians of Michigan and the west, I happened to try a bottle of St. Jacobs Oil. Upon the first application I used fully half a bottle, and its effects were almost instantaneous. I immediately dropped all other treatment, and confined myself to its use alone. After the use of three bottles, instead of being driven to my business, or moving about on crutches, I walked from one to three miles daily about business, and have been free from this horrible disease for over a year, not having the slightest twinge of it. Hence, I say that all medicines known to me are useless when compared with the Old German Remedy. Use this statement when and where it suits.

WONDERFUL ARABIC SALVE

We have discovered a remedy likely to prove of untold value to those owning and managing horses. It is our ARABIC SALVE, for the cure of all Skin Diseases in Horses. It is a combination of ingredients simple and harmless in themselves, so no one need fear, because of its marvelous healing powers, that some deadly poison is mixed with it, as is so commonly affirmed (and so true) as to be so far as we know, it might be applied to the human body with safety and good effect. We do not hesitate to say that it is the only salve which will prove entirely satisfactory and far superior to any other for the same purpose on the market. ONE PACKAGE OF IT WILL CURE SEVERAL CASES. And it is so simple any one can apply it by following the directions. We are so confident of its merit that we freely offer to refund the money if it fails to cure upon a trial, according to directions on package. The following TESTIMONIALS from old and experienced livery stable men will be sufficient proof in themselves to warrant any horse owner in purchasing at least one package. If your horse is not now in need of it, you can not tell how soon he may; and such diseases should need prompt treatment. We feel confident a trial is only necessary to insure your keeping it on hand all the time. GENTLEMEN:—I am glad to bear testimony to the wonderful healing powers of your ARABIC SALVE for Horse Diseases, such as Wet and Dry Scratches, Greasy Heels, Bruised and Sore Back, Sore Shoulders, Stock Leg, Fistula—in fact, all cases of Sores and Inflammation. I have been treating horses for the last fifteen years, and can truthfully say this SALVE excels all other remedies I have ever tried, in that it cures perfectly in every case, leaving the skin moist and restoring the hair to a remarkable degree, in a treatment of from one to two weeks. I have lately treated six cases of succession of the worst kind, of from two to six years standing, in every case successful, whilst all other remedies failed, your SALVE acting like magic. Since I have tried it a thorough practical test I feel like I can not recommend it, too highly. Anyone wishing, can see for themselves its good results by calling at my stable in Knoxville, Tenn. ANDY COCKRE. GENTLEMEN:—I most cheerfully add my testimony to the foregoing, believing it to be true, having used your salve in a number of cases at my livery stable, on Cumberland st., Knoxville, Tenn., working a case in every instance. I believe it to be by far the most valuable remedy I have ever tried. B. C. ANDRES.

HOW TO USE T.

For Scratches Bruised and Sore Back, Stock Leg, Sore Shoulders and in all other cases of Inflammation. Rub the SALVE on at night and wash off in the morning with tepid water, and dry; and repeat each night until cured. FOR FISTULA, Shave off the hair, apply morning, noon and night, and wash off as in other cases. It is better to let your horse rest while under treatment; but some have worked every day and still gotten well. Price 50 cents per can of 1 quart. RICHARD KERR, Agent, CLEVELAND, TENN.
