A Question for our Scientists to Consider and Report Upon. Brooklyn Sagle. The recent succession of mild winter of a country largely depends upon in contributes to make the temperature And it is for this reason that we find such a discrepancy in the climates of the same latitude. For instance, we occupy the same latitude with Spain, yet the difference is as marked as between Florida came to light on the last day of congress, and New York. Scotland, Ireland and "So sure as you play, so sure you will and it illustrates the carelessness that Labrador are in the same latitude, but the Prince a young man of his corps, for The next morning he was taken to a spot become fond of it; in consequence you sometimes prevails in high places. Some of our shrewd observers are in that the last expedition reached the latitude of eighty-seven degrees north, much turther than any expedition had before reached. If this theory of the northward moving of the Gulf stream could be adopted, we might find a plant for the apparent change. For the effect would be coming belt upon the ice-fields of the north, and the winds of the north would be much tempered to us. It seems to be a settled belief that the Gren Salura is like an immense furnace, from which hot winds sweep over Europe and if this be so, why may not the great ice fields of the north be like a huge refrigerator, from which the icy, marrow freez by winds sweep over our confinent? If this be serepted, and the theory of the porthward moving of the Gull stream tempering by its influence the northern latitudes he adopted, we have an easy explanation of the charge in our winters and summers, and the assurance that the change is pergoment and for the luture.
