W. A. WADE.

Still on Deck.

We are working hard as well as blowing hard. What we can't do ourselves we hire done. Sometimes we have to pay high and sometimes we get a good bargain. Don't you forget the place. We are always busy, but always up and ready. So don't stay away but follow the crowd.
CHAMBERS' CASH HOUSE.

At the Head of the Procession.

Just received one of the largest stocks of the very latest style HATS for men, boys and children ever exhibited in Milan at prices to suit all. If you want a new hat, a late style hat, and a cheap hat call on Owen & Co.

Just received a new stock of Crinkle Dress Goods at low prices:
OWEN & CO.

SMALL CHANGE.

Several showers this week. Milan has a boom of her own. Roasting ears are on the market. A heavy rain fell here last Thursday. Sam Martin says he is going to Medina to-morrow. Wonder what for. Wallace Lusk has moved from his old stand to the Bryant-Jackson block opposite the post office. The street committee have repaired the street in front of the editors' residence, for which they have his thanks. The old odd fellows' hall on Church street is in a very dilapidated condition and should, by all means, be torn down.

Rev. J. D. Lewis, will, on to-morrow (Sunday) night, preach on the question of prohibition from a bible stand point. A big barbecue, bran dance and balloon ascension will be given at Idlewild tank, four and a half miles north of Milan, on Saturday, July 23d. "Our social nature—What shall we do with it" will be the subject of the sermon at the Baptist church to-morrow night and "Despisers of Christ" at 11 o'clock. John Hunt, colored, was arrested and fined last Monday by the mayor for being a little too free with his fist. In a fight with his wife he knocked her down and broke her ankle. We learn that Mr. James Jackson, son of John A. Jackson, of district No. 12, had his arm torn off by the cylinder of a threshor on his father's farm last Thursday. He is improving at this writing.

A temperance alliance was organized last Wednesday night at Hope Hill. We learn that there were about seventy present and all joined the alliance except six men. Messrs. S. F. Rankin and E. R. Williams made rousing speeches for the cause. We learn that several parties at a distance are inquiring of our citizens the rent they have to pay for dwellings in this city, as they contemplate moving here to send their children to school. We will give them all a cordial welcome to our little city. On the morning of June the 28th, at Paragould, Ark., little Walter Turner Stencil, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wiley Stencil, formerly of this place, died of meningitis. He was three years old and a bright little fellow. They have the heart-felt sympathy of our people in their loss.

Messrs. P. C. Lovelace, G. W. Martin and J. P. Rhodes have established a real estate agency in our city. These gentlemen are well known to the citizens of our town and community as live, energetic business men, and will do all in their power to sell at the very best figures all property intrusted in their hands. On last Friday night the young people of Milan gave a very enjoyable dance at Primary Hall. All the chivalry and beauty of Milan were out in full force and revelled in the giddy whirl of the waltz to sweet music rendered by the Jackson band, until the lateness of the hour warned them to leave for their respective homes. About fifteen of our citizens boarded the 5.30 o'clock train last Monday for Trenton, where they expected to celebrate the glorious fourth, but, alas, their expectations were nipped in the bud. The trains missed connection and, consequently, they had to lay over at Humboldt six or eight hours. They reached Trenton at about 5 o'clock in the afternoon, took supper, then immediately boarded the train for home.

Gov. Taylor arrived here last Monday morning, and was met by several of our citizens at the hotel with carriages and went through the country to Trenton, where he delivered a fourth of July oration. It is said that there were over 5,000 people in that town to hear the governor and to celebrate the Fourth. Mr. E. E. Blankinship and Miss Clara McKinney were united in the holy bands of wedlock at the residence of the bride's sister, Mrs. Atkins, in Greenfield, last Wednesday evening at 7.30 o'clock, Rev. J. P. Weaver officiating. The bride is one of Milan's pretty young ladies and the groom is a very prominent young man of this place. Em. and his fair bride have the best wishes of a host of friends.

MILAN.

Editor Exchange:
I find in these days of lightning and steam progress that the world is impelled in its great developments by the push and pressure brought to bear by its divisions in every land. I see that stupidity and inertia, wherever they may be found, are but the deadly coil of the anaconda, and when found to exist in town or country, it does not take the pen of a prophet to picture out the terminus of their prosperity. Now, sir, it occurs to me, that with the surroundings of this, our beloved and beautiful Milan town, with its splendid advantages of education, excellent church facilities, beautiful women and a high standard of morals and intellect, we should sever the stupidity that has taken hold of our community, and commence in earnest a work that will cause a reaction and attract to our aid live people from other sections. We have as genial a climate as any part of our common country. The diversity of agriculture can not be surpassed in the United States. We raise all kinds of cereals, cotton, tobacco and grasses. We have rivers and springs that ripple fourth in their crystal beauty, forer to gladden the hearts of those of hamlet and country and why should we not wake up from the sleep that we were cradled into by our sleepy ancestors and catch the inspiration of our day and put on our armor, march to the front, and dress in line with our progressive sister southern towns and cities. It can be done, and we should see to it, that it is done. If we, as a people, will all catch the inspiration, go to work in earnest, we can work a revolution that in five years will astonish and amaze the croaker. To-day we have the best railroad facilities of any town in our division of the state except Memphis. Railroad men looking for new enterprises, are now looking this way, and taking in account the advantages offered here for outlet in every direction. At this writing we have leaving here daily eleven passenger trains, affording passenger facilities scarcely surpassed in many larger cities. I am glad to know that there has been a real estate agency just organized to conduct a business here, and I feel if the town and country will give them their support and encouragement they will be a powerful lever to infuse new life in the direction of permanent growth and development. Hoping this short article may be read by digestive people, and that all may catch up the watchword of onward, industry, energy and enterprise.
L. C. P.

Geo. H. Millington, the murderer of Thos. O. Kenedy of Memphis, was sentenced to 15 years imprisonment.

PERSONAL.

Mr. Louis Person, of Jackson, was here last Monday. Several of our young men spent last Monday in Memphis. Eldon Shepherd, of Chicago, is visiting relatives and friends here. Miss Eva Priest, of Huntingdon, is visiting the family of E. N. Stone. Miss Mays Woolen, of McLemoresville, is visiting Miss May Jordan here. Mr. P. D. Warlick and wife, of Greenfield, visited relatives here this week. Miss Lillie Thompson, of Mansfield, is visiting Miss Maggie Peoples this week. Miss Nannie Witt, of McKenzie, is visiting the family of Rev. E. B. Graham. Mr. R. J. Burrow and family spent last Monday in Fulton, Ky., visiting relatives. Mrs. Eliza Burrow, of McKenzie, is visiting Mr. R. J. Burrow's family this week. Mrs. Claxton and her daughter, of Stanton, are visiting the family of Mr. G. L. Cain. Miss Eva Partee, of Bateville, Miss., is visiting Dr. J. J. Richardson's family. E. L. Dickson, the genial operator of the I. C. at Jackson, was in the city this week. Misses Biggs and Davis, of Jackson, are visiting Mr. J. D. Loving's family here this week. Walter Boyd made a flying trip to Greenfield last Sunday. Wonder what the attraction. Miss Ella Harris, who has been teaching school at Iuka, Miss., returned home last Saturday. Mr. E. L. Chambers left last Monday morning for Fort Worth, Texas, where he will visit relatives and friends. Messrs. John Chambers and Jim Horner, of the southern express office, enjoyed themselves celebrating the Fourth in Memphis. A nice sociable was given at the residence of Mrs. Fawcett last Tuesday night, which was very much enjoyed by the young people. Mr. Fred Collins and Miss Alice Hurt, accompanied by several of Jackson's young people, left last Tuesday for Mammoth Cave, Ky., to spend several days. Mr. Sam Harris left last Monday for Fort Worth, Texas, where he will reside for some time. Mr. Harris is one of Milan's nicest and politest young men and we wish him well. Jackson Whig: Mr. Edgar L. Mathis, a young machinist of Milan, and brother of our fellow-townsmen, Mr. Luther Mathis, has moved to Jackson and accepted a position in the M. & O. shops. Mrs. W. E. Turner, of Brooklyn, N. Y., stopped off here last Wednesday to visit relatives. She left Thursday for Corinth, Miss., where she will visit her mother, Mrs. L. E. Whitmore, for several weeks. Mr. John Roper, a former citizen of Wisconsin, and lately of Trezevant, moved his family to this place this week, where they will reside in future. He has a stove factory in Trezevant which he intends to move to this place in the fall. We welcome them among us.

Southern Home Seeker's Guide.
The Illinois Central R. R. Co., recently issued an illustrated pamphlet, entitled, "Southern Home Seeker's Guide." Everyone interested in the south, can secure a copy by addressing the undersigned at Manchester, Iowa.

A terrible disaster occurred at Zug, Switzerland, last Tuesday in which 40 houses and a large hotel crowded with guests suddenly sank into the lake of Zug and disappeared from sight. There was scarcely any warning of the catastrophe, and it is likely that many of those that perished never knew what had happened. At least, 1,000 people lost their lives.

President Cleveland wrote a manly letter to Mayor Francis, of St. Louis, last Thursday stating why he cannot visit the G. A. R. encampment.

Have They Gone Crazy!
This question was asked on our streets this week. They think we are certainly crazy because we keep buying new goods. Now let us say a word. We may be crazy but as long as we can sell the stuff, so long will we be crazy and keep buying. Come and see us, we won't hurt you, and you can buy things right cheap, for we have lots of things to sell.
