Election Notice.

In obedience to an ordinance passed on the 8th of August, 1887, by the Board of Mayor and Aldermen of the town of Milan, in which the Constable was ordered to open and hold an election on the 13th day of Sept., 1887, at every voting place of said town to ascertain the will of the qualified voters of Milan on the subject of making a subscription of $15,000 in bonds to the Tennessee Central & Alabama Railroad as provided in said ordinance, I will, on the said 13th day of September, 1887, open and hold an election for said purpose as provided in said ordinance. Those favoring said subscription will have written or printed upon their tickets the words "For subscription" and those opposed the words "No subscription." This 11th August, 1887.
W. B. BRYANT, T. C.

New Drug Store.

With the valuable assistance of Mr. W. H. Coley, I have just selected and opened, at the corner of Main and Jackson streets, in the Collins block, a brand new stock of Drugs, Medicines, Perfumes, Stationery, and other goods sold in first-class drug stores. All my drugs are fresh and pure. Mr. James V. Wear, an experienced prescriptionist, will be found in the store day and night. Dr. W. H. H. Bledsoe will also make his headquarters at the store. A. M. BIGHAM.

SMALL CHANGE.

Cool nights.
Our gas well is still being talked, Let us have the well by all means.

J. F. Pinkston, our merchant tailor, or, is to be found in the Kastner house.

Stewart & Danner has moved into the house formerly occupied by the tinner.

Camp meeting at Snodgrass was well attended last Sunday by our citizens.

Mr. S. M. Rhodes has moved his tin shop above Martin & Dawson's grocery.

The post office has moved into the house formerly occupied by S. M. Rhodes, tinner.

Only a few more days until the election to grant $15,000 in aid of our new railroad.

Another brick business house will soon be erected on corner Main and Williamson street.

Prof. Kellogg will open the schools Monday morning, Sept. 12th, when a full attendance is expected.

Bro. Lewis has returned home, and will hold service in the C. P. church, to-morrow and regularly thereafter.

Mr. A. M. Bigham's new drug store is as bright and neat as a brand new pin. Call around and see him.

A runaway horse hitched to a wagon caused considerable flurry on Main street yesterday. The wagon was damaged to a small extent.

Mrs. Emma Hale, widow of the late post master, is an applicant for the vacancy occasioned by her husband's death, and long petitions in her favor have been sent up. It is thought that she will receive the appointment, especially as her son, Leon, is assistant postmaster now, and has really attended to the business of the office for some time past.

Capt. W. S. Moore last Tuesday auctioned off the first bale of new cotton that has been brought to town this year, which was bought by Mr. P. C. Lovelace at 13½ cents. It was raised by Dr. J. P. James, who lives about five miles west of this place. It was classed as good middling and weighed 540 pounds. This bale is eight days ahead of last year, as well as 4½ cents better in price.

On Thursday night the temperance alliance met at Primary Hall with quite a crowd of ladies and gentlemen in attendance. A committee of five ladies and five gentlemen were appointed to select the time and place to hold a grand prohibition rally. On next Thursday night the alliance will meet again, at which time Hon. W. I. McFarland, of Humboldt, and V. L. Ware, Esq., will address the meeting. Everybody is invited to attend.

Col. Killebrew, late Commissioner of Agriculture, Statistics and Mines, says that the Tennessee Central and Alabama road will run through some of the finest iron and timber lands in the state, and that the furnaces at Florence and Sheffield will take 1500 to 2000 tons of ore per day from the line of the road, besides returning it over the whole line toward St. Louis and Chicago in the shape of pig iron. He thinks the road will pay for the first. Our people should not fail to vote the $15,000 asked for. Let us have this new trunk line.

To the Ladies.

Just received new line Hats, fall styles, which are pretty, also "Corinne" bustles, new style ribbons, ruffling, handkerchiefs, corsets, best kid gloves in town, $1. sailor hats for school children. Everything cheap for cash.
MRS. R. J. BURROW.

PERSONAL.

Mr. T. B. Tooms, of Jackson, called on us yesterday.

W. M. McCall, Esq., of Humboldt, was in town yesterday.

Ervin Vawter, of Huntingdon, visited relatives here this week.

Mrs. F. B. Herron, of Memphis, is visiting relatives near this city.

Miss Fannie Claxton, of Stanton, is visiting Miss Beckie Cain here this week.

Miss Callie McGee, of Trenton, is visiting Miss Mollie House, of this place.

Miss Alice Hurt spent two or three days visiting relatives in Trezevant this week.

Miss Maude Henderson left yesterday for Clinton, Ky., where she will attend school.

Miss Zora Pearce returned home from a two-week's visit to friends in Paris last Tuesday.

Miss Sula Claxton left this week to visit relatives in the country. One of our boys is looking sad.

Mrs. Wright and family, of Coffeeville, Miss., are visiting the family of Mrs. S. C. Fields, near town.

W. A. Cunningham, one of Milan's live commercial travelers, went to St. Louis this week to spend several weeks.

Mr. Eldon Shepherd, after spending several months visiting relatives and friends here, returned to his home at Chicago last Wednesday.

Misses Addiecaux Harris, Ura Robison and Mary Cunningham left last Wednesday night for Gallatin, where they will attend school.

Misses Mickie Hansbro and Mamie Hutherson, after spending several weeks visiting relatives and friends in Paris, returned home Thursday.

Humboldt Messenger: We have given our foreman instructions to keep the personal of Robt. McKelvy, of Milan, standing, as we have to use it every week.

Mr. James V. Wear, of Kentucky, an experienced prescriptionist, is to be found behind the counter of Al. Bigham's new drug store. Call and make his acquaintance.

$9.25 Chicago and Return. $9.25.

A splendid opportunity to visit the great city of Chicago is offered by the Illinois Central R. R., on train No. 4, leaving Milan at 12:21 noon, Sept. 4, 1887, at the very low rate of $9.25 for the round trip, Milan to Chicago and return. Tickets good to return at any time within fifteen days from date of sale. For further information see E. M. Brown, Ticket Agent, I. C. R. R. this place.

Even Wild Horses Go There.

A runaway horse came dashing down Main street yesterday, making everybody scamper for safe quarters. After a lively chase he came to a halt, after smashing the wagon against a post, in front of our house. You can't blame the horse. Everybody goes there and the horse followed the crowd. CHAMBERS' CASH HOUSE.

Removal.

I have just moved into Kestner's house, one door below Dr. Jordan's drug store, where I will be found with a full line of samples. I am now better prepared to do first-class tailoring than I have been since locating in Milan. I guarantee satisfaction in every respect or money refunded. I mean what I say. Call and examine my samples before purchasing elsewhere.
J. F. PINKSTON.

Still they Come.

New goods have arrived every day this week. We have new goods in every line. Come and see them. They are going fast, but we intend to keep our stock up to the requirements of our customers, even at the risk of having an interview with the sheriff. CHAMBERS' CASH HOUSE.

DIED.

Capt. S. H. Hale, one of the most prominent citizens of this county and a gallant ex-confederate soldier, died at his home in this city last Monday at 1 o'clock, p. m., after a few hours illness. Capt. Hale was about forty-four years old and was born in this county. He was educated in the schools of this county and at Union University, Murfreesboro. He enlisted as private in the confederate army at the beginning of the war, and was soon promoted to the captaincy. After the war he returned to his home, three miles north-west of here, and engaged in farming, and in 1874 moved here and engaged in the grocery business for some time. He held the mayoralty of Milan for four terms and held the office of magistrate for a number of years. In the year 1885 he was appointed postmaster, which he held until the time of his death. Capt. Hale was one of Milan's most popular and enterprising citizens and his absence will be sorely missed. He was a prominent Knight of Pythias and was also a member of the Knights and Ladies of Honor, Knights of Honor and Masons. Services were held over his remains at his late residence and then his body was taken and laid to rest with appropriate ceremony by Prospero Lodge, K. of P., in Oakwood cemetery. He leaves a wife, several children, and a host of friends to mourn his loss.

Mrs. Joseph Lewter, widow of the late Jos. Lewter, died of dysentery at Kenton, Tenn., last Sunday morning at 9:30 o'clock. Her remains were brought here Sunday night and buried in Oakwood cemetery at 8:30 o'clock Monday morning. Services were held at the grave by Rev. J. P. Weaver.

Mrs. Bettie A. Harris died at her residence, three miles west of this place, last Monday, of consumption. Her remains were brought to Milan and laid to rest in Oakwood cemetery. She leaves two children, both sons, and a host of relatives and friends to mourn her loss.

The following special to the Memphis Avalanche of Aug. 31, from Trenton, explains itself: "Col. Scott, president of the Tennessee Central and Alabama Railroad, is here with a large force of hands and teams, and he will have completed nine miles of this very important railroad ready for the rails, that have been bought and are now in transit for this place. Track laying will begin soon.

Letter of Acceptance.

Messrs A. Jordan, V. L. Ware and others.

Gentlemen:
In response to the call made on me through the last issue of the Milan Exchange, "to give my views upon the great question that is now agitating the minds of the people of Tennessee, the constitutional amendment," at an appointment to be designated at Milan, I wish to say that, while I feel my inability to discuss the pending question satisfactorily to the public or myself, I most cheerfully accept any invitation and undertake the performance of any duty demanded of me by the people of Milan and vicinity, and will speak at Milan on Saturday evening, September 10, 1887, upon the proposed amendment to the constitution. Resp'y,
S. B. WILLIAMSON.

We Want to See You.

We want to see every lady that comes to town next week. We want to talk fall Dress Goods and Trimmings to them for a few minutes. We want to please them and make no mistake. Your friends,
CHAMBERS' CASH HOUSE.

TRIBUTES OF RESPECT.

Eagle Lodge, K. & L. of H., No. 96.

Whereas, Because of the interposition of the great wielder of all things terrestrial and celestial, we are again brought very near the portals of death, in the demise of our loved brother and Protector, S. H. Hale,

Resolved, That in his loss to us we are sorely bereft of his counsels of wisdom and feel that, not only our order but the community at large in which he has ever lived, has lost one of its warmest advocates of justice and right at all times, and, whatever fault may be laid at his feet, his magnanimity and chivalry of character largely preponderates.

Resolved, That we offer to his sadly afflicted family our sincere condolence, and freely offer ourselves collectively or individually to them to command for any succor that may arise to their need.

Resolved, That these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of our lodge, and a copy furnished the family of deceased.

R. E. EDWARDS,
MRS. E. N. STONE,
H. L. DICKINSON,
Committee.

Castle Hall, Prospero Lodge, K. of P. No. 24.

Whereas, In the divine dispensation of an all-wise and merciful God, we are again bereft of a shining light in our honored brotherhood, in the taking away our much loved brother, S. H. Hale, from the walks of men, no more to mix with or lend his ever appreciated counsel and wisdom to our brotherhood,

Resolved, That in his death we feel that we, as a body of men associated together for the furtherance of most laudible ends, have lost one of our members who has ever been as a stationed light upon the rifted rocks at sea to warn the wayward seaman away from troubles unward to the placid deep.

Resolved, That in his seemingly premature death, and its dreadful and sorrowing affliction to his beloved wife and children, we do most heartily extend our heartfelt condolence and sympathy, ever praying the blessings and protection of our God upon them.

Resolved, That the Milan Exchange be requested to publish these resolutions and furnish the bereft friends with a copy, and that they be spread upon the minutes of the lodge, and that the charter of lodge be draped in mourning for 30 days.

P. C. LOVELACE,
E. N. STONE,
A. W. LOVING,
Committee.

IN MEMORIAM.

Mrs. Bettie A. Harris died at 9 o'clock Monday Aug. 29, 1887, of that dread disease, consumption. In all her sufferings, and such are rarely if ever seen, she displayed that same christian fortitude that has ever been her characteristic through life. She conversed with her relatives and friends cheerfully about death, and told them she hoped to meet them in heaven. The angel of death was welcomed joyfully by her, and in her last moments she prayed for death to come quickly and requested all to pray for the same. On the day of her death, not many hours before her bright spirit winged its flight to the celestial regions above, she praised God in a sweet and glorious song, and, although gasping for breath, she brought out the glad chorus "Halleluiah" clearly and triumphantly. She leaves two noble sons and many relatives and friends to mourn her loss, yet they mourn as they who have no hope. Surely we can say, "Death is swallowed up in victory. O, Death, where is thy sting? O, Grave, where is thy victory?" Let me die such a death.

"Holy you were, and good, and true,
No change can cloud our thoughts of you.
Guide me like you to live and die
And reach my Father's house on high."
E. L. H.

A Novelty in Dress Goods.

We are in receipt of a few pieces of very pretty Dress Goods—something not kept here before. Come and see them and help us admire them.
