

TWEED'S DISCLOSURES

CONTINUED FROM THE GREAT ENEMY IN NEW YORK AND ALBANY.

What John Kelly Thinks of Them—The... The New York Herald has published...

New York, April 18.—The excitement over the alleged confession of William M. Tweed is gradually increasing, and in the general topic of conversation in all circles.

Mr. Hugh Hastings was called upon this morning by the editor of the New York Herald...

A call was made at the comptroller's office in order to obtain a new review, but the gentleman refused to be interviewed...

From a gentleman intimately connected with the comptroller, it is ascertained that the views were that Mr. John D. Townsend had a very strong case, as such a prominent lawyer as Mr. Townsend is considered to be well qualified to go to the bottom of the matter...

The Attorney General of the State without there was some truth in the confession, and without it being backed up by the most indubitable proof, including all the names of the many prominent citizens...

Mr. Kelly said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

Mr. Kelly said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

Mr. Kelly said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

Mr. Kelly said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

Mr. Kelly said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

Mr. Kelly said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

Mr. Kelly said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

Mr. Kelly said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

Mr. Kelly said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

Mr. Kelly said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

Mr. Kelly said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

Mr. Kelly said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

Mr. Kelly said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

Mr. Kelly said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

Mr. Kelly said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

Mr. Kelly said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

Mr. Kelly said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

Mr. Kelly said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

Mr. Kelly said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

Mr. Kelly said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

Mr. Kelly said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

Mr. Kelly said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

Mr. Kelly said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

Mr. Kelly said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

THE ST. LOUIS INQUIRY

Nothing as to the Origin or Management of the Fire yet Developed—Testimony of the Proprietors of the National Republican.

St. Louis, Mo., April 18.—The investigation was proceeding with this morning, but no evidence having been obtained on the origin of the fire...

John R. Reese, professor of mathematics in Washington University, gave a very graphic description of the escape of himself and wife and children from the burning building...

Geo. S. Darling, a clerk, one of the proprietors, testified: Didn't know that any particular orders were ever given to employ a watchman or sentinels, who should be in case of fire...

Mr. Darling said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

Mr. Darling said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

Mr. Darling said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

Mr. Darling said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

Mr. Darling said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

Mr. Darling said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

Mr. Darling said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

Mr. Darling said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

Mr. Darling said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

Mr. Darling said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

Mr. Darling said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

Mr. Darling said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

Mr. Darling said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

Mr. Darling said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

Mr. Darling said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

Mr. Darling said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

Mr. Darling said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

Mr. Darling said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

Mr. Darling said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

Mr. Darling said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

Mr. Darling said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

Mr. Darling said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

Mr. Darling said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

Mr. Darling said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

Mr. Darling said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

Mr. Darling said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

THE LOUISIANA MIDDLE

THE NICHOLS PROPOSITION REJECTED BY THE PACKARD CAUCUS

The Republicans Resolve to Stand by Packard to the Last—Speeches by General McMillan and Governor Warmouth—Mr. W. M. Dingrass to the National Republican.

New Orleans, April 18.—Both Houses of the French Legislature met in joint session at eleven o'clock. There were eighty-three members present, including Washington and Brooks, the two colored members recently elected with the Nichols House.

General McMillan, on the part of the executive committee, laid before the caucus an official copy of the resolutions passed by the Nichols Legislature yesterday, which were received by the members of the caucus with great interest...

Mr. McMillan said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

Mr. McMillan said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

Mr. McMillan said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

Mr. McMillan said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

Mr. McMillan said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

Mr. McMillan said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

Mr. McMillan said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

Mr. McMillan said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

Mr. McMillan said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

Mr. McMillan said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

Mr. McMillan said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

Mr. McMillan said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

Mr. McMillan said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

Mr. McMillan said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

Mr. McMillan said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

Mr. McMillan said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

Mr. McMillan said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

Mr. McMillan said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

Mr. McMillan said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

Mr. McMillan said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

Mr. McMillan said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

Mr. McMillan said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

Mr. McMillan said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

Mr. McMillan said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

Mr. McMillan said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

Mr. McMillan said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

THE SURRENDER OF HOSTILES

Twenty-five Hundred More on Their Way in to the Agency—Siding Bull and His Band the Only Party to the National Republican.

New York, April 18.—A Red Cloud Cheyenne dispatch of April 17 says: Five hundred Cheyennes, under chief Standing Elk and Dull Knife, are now within forty miles of here, coming in to surrender.

Mr. Dull Knife said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

Mr. Dull Knife said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

Mr. Dull Knife said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

Mr. Dull Knife said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

Mr. Dull Knife said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

Mr. Dull Knife said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

Mr. Dull Knife said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

Mr. Dull Knife said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

Mr. Dull Knife said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

Mr. Dull Knife said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

Mr. Dull Knife said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

Mr. Dull Knife said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

Mr. Dull Knife said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

Mr. Dull Knife said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

Mr. Dull Knife said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

Mr. Dull Knife said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

Mr. Dull Knife said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

Mr. Dull Knife said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

Mr. Dull Knife said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

Mr. Dull Knife said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

Mr. Dull Knife said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

Mr. Dull Knife said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

Mr. Dull Knife said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

Mr. Dull Knife said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

Mr. Dull Knife said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

Mr. Dull Knife said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

Mr. Dull Knife said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

Mr. Dull Knife said that he had seen Tweed in the morning, and that he had seen him in the afternoon, and that he had seen him in the evening...

CAPITAL SUMMARY

THE UNFORTUNATE OF THE ENGRAVING AND PRINTING BUREAU.

Illness of Minister Morrill—The Wild Apache to Be Released—Head of the Grasshopper Plague in the West—Reports of Secretary Thompson, &c., &c.

SAW THE PRESIDENT.—AMONG the more prominent of those who called on the President yesterday, was Justice Miller, ex-Governor of New Jersey, and Governor Swann, of Maryland.

TWO HOURS TOO LONG.—A delegation of workmen engaged upon the new State, War and Navy building called upon the President yesterday, and remained for some time in the work ten hours per day.

WANTS TO BE DISTRICT COMMISSIONER.—A delegation of West Washingtonians waited upon the President yesterday, and asked the appointment of Heron Browning as Commissioner by the District of Columbia.

THE PACKARD LETTERS.—The originals of Packard's letters addressed to the President have been received at the White House, and President Hayes has not yet had an opportunity to read them outside of newspaper reports.

EVENING VISITORS AT THE WHITE HOUSE.—Gov. Denison, Bishop Simpson and Gen. Sherman were the evening callers at the Executive Mansion last evening, the latter of whom the President was closeted with for two hours.

POSTAGE ON MAIL FOR CHINA.—The Post Office Department has received notice that letters from the United States for China (Hong Kong and dependent ports excepted) forwarded via England may be sent by the steamer route at fifteen cents per half ounce, and by the British route at sixteen cents per half ounce.

THE NATIONAL ACADEMY PAY THEIR RESPECTS IN A BODY TO THE PRESIDENT AND ARE TODAY RECEIVED.—The Papers Read Yesterday.

The National Academy of Science returned yesterday afternoon with an increased attendance, including several members of the Johns Hopkins University of Baltimore.

Prof. Joseph Henry, the president of the academy, presented his annual report of its operations during the past year, including an account of the geological survey of the United States.

THE POSTAL SERVICE.—Fully two thirds of the appointments of postmasters who were made last year have been made, and the Postmaster General says that the pressure upon his office is growing weaker daily.

THE POSTAL SERVICE.—Fully two thirds of the appointments of postmasters who were made last year have been made, and the Postmaster General says that the pressure upon his office is growing weaker daily.

THE POSTAL SERVICE.—Fully two thirds of the appointments of postmasters who were made last year have been made, and the Postmaster General says that the pressure upon his office is growing weaker daily.

THE POSTAL SERVICE.—Fully two thirds of the appointments of postmasters who were made last year have been made, and the Postmaster General says that the pressure upon his office is growing weaker daily.

THE POSTAL SERVICE.—Fully two thirds of the appointments of postmasters who were made last year have been made, and the Postmaster General says that the pressure upon his office is growing weaker daily.

THE POSTAL SERVICE.—Fully two thirds of the appointments of postmasters who were made last year have been made, and the Postmaster General says that the pressure upon his office is growing weaker daily.

THE POSTAL SERVICE.—Fully two thirds of the appointments of postmasters who were made last year have been made, and the Postmaster General says that the pressure upon his office is growing weaker daily.

THE POSTAL SERVICE.—Fully two thirds of the appointments of postmasters who were made last year have been made, and the Postmaster General says that the pressure upon his office is growing weaker daily.

THE POSTAL SERVICE.—Fully two thirds of the appointments of postmasters who were made last year have been made, and the Postmaster General says that the pressure upon his office is growing weaker daily.

THE POSTAL SERVICE.—Fully two thirds of the appointments of postmasters who were made last year have been made, and the Postmaster General says that the pressure upon his office is growing weaker daily.

THE POSTAL SERVICE.—Fully two thirds of the appointments of postmasters who were made last year have been made, and the Postmaster General says that the pressure upon his office is growing weaker daily.

THE POSTAL SERVICE.—Fully two thirds of the appointments of postmasters who were made last year have been made, and the Postmaster General says that the pressure upon his office is growing weaker daily.

THE POSTAL SERVICE.—Fully two thirds of the appointments of postmasters who were made last year have been made, and the Postmaster General says that the pressure upon his office is growing weaker daily.

THE POSTAL SERVICE.—Fully two thirds of the appointments of postmasters who were made last year have been made, and the Postmaster General says that the pressure upon his office is growing weaker daily.

THE POSTAL SERVICE.—Fully two thirds of the appointments of postmasters who were made last year have been made, and the Postmaster General says that the pressure upon his office is growing weaker daily.

THE POSTAL SERVICE.—Fully two thirds of the appointments of postmasters who were made last year have been made, and the Postmaster General says that the pressure upon his office is growing weaker daily.

THE POSTAL SERVICE.—Fully two thirds of the appointments of postmasters who were made last year have been made, and the Postmaster General says that the pressure upon his office is growing weaker daily.

THE POSTAL SERVICE.—Fully two thirds of the appointments of postmasters who were made last year have been made, and the Postmaster General says that the pressure upon his office is growing weaker daily.

THE POSTAL SERVICE.—Fully two thirds of the appointments of postmasters who were made last year have been made, and the Postmaster General says that the pressure upon his office is growing weaker daily.

THE WAR IN EUROPE

THE PORTS WILL SOON PROCLAIM A STATE OF SIEGE.

Portals threatening Turkey's Advance Position—The Progress of the Campaign—The War in the Middle East.

BRUSSELS, April 18.—Greece has been prepared with a view to the immediate declaration of the Eastern Army possible, which would have the effect of cutting off the Turkish communications with the Balkans.

THE PORTS WILL SOON PROCLAIM A STATE OF SIEGE.—The Turkish fleet has been ordered to leave the Bosphorus, and to proceed to the Aegean Sea, where it will be ready to receive the British fleet.

THE PORTS WILL SOON PROCLAIM A STATE OF SIEGE.—The Turkish fleet has been ordered to leave the Bosphorus, and to proceed to the Aegean Sea, where it will be ready to receive the British fleet.

THE PORTS WILL SOON PROCLAIM A STATE OF SIEGE.—The Turkish fleet has been ordered to leave the Bosphorus, and to proceed to the Aegean Sea, where it will be ready to receive the British fleet.

THE PORTS WILL SOON PROCLAIM A STATE OF SIEGE.—The Turkish fleet has been ordered to leave the Bosphorus, and to proceed to the Aegean Sea, where it will be ready to receive the British fleet.

THE PORTS WILL SOON PROCLAIM A STATE OF SIEGE.—The Turkish fleet has been ordered to leave the Bosphorus, and to proceed to the Aegean Sea, where it will be ready to receive the British fleet.

THE PORTS WILL SOON PROCLAIM A STATE OF SIEGE.—The Turkish fleet has been ordered to leave the Bosphorus, and to proceed to the Aegean Sea, where it will be ready to receive the British fleet.

THE PORTS WILL SOON PROCLAIM A STATE OF SIEGE.—The Turkish fleet has been ordered to leave the Bosphorus, and to proceed to the Aegean Sea, where it will be ready to receive the British fleet.

THE PORTS WILL SOON PROCLAIM A STATE OF SIEGE.—The Turkish fleet has been ordered to leave the Bosphorus, and to proceed to the Aegean Sea, where it will be ready to receive the British fleet.

THE PORTS WILL SOON PROCLAIM A STATE OF SIEGE.—The Turkish fleet has been ordered to leave the Bosphorus, and to proceed to the Aegean Sea, where it will be ready to receive the British fleet.

THE PORTS WILL SOON PROCLAIM A STATE OF SIEGE.—The Turkish fleet has been ordered to leave the Bosphorus, and to proceed to the Aegean Sea, where it will be ready to receive the British fleet.

THE PORTS WILL SOON PROCLAIM A STATE OF SIEGE.—The Turkish fleet has been ordered to leave the Bosphorus, and to proceed to the Aegean Sea, where it will be ready to receive the British fleet.

THE PORTS WILL SOON PROCLAIM A STATE OF SIEGE.—The Turkish fleet has been ordered to leave the Bosphorus, and to proceed to the Aegean Sea, where it will be ready to receive the British fleet.

THE PORTS WILL SOON PROCLAIM A STATE OF SIEGE.—The Turkish fleet has been ordered to leave the Bosphorus, and to proceed to the Aegean Sea, where it will be ready to receive the British fleet.

THE PORTS WILL SOON PROCLAIM A STATE OF SIEGE.—The Turkish fleet has been ordered to leave the Bosphorus, and to proceed to the Aegean Sea, where it will be ready to receive the British fleet.

THE PORTS WILL SOON PROCLAIM A STATE OF SIEGE.—The Turkish fleet has been ordered to leave the Bosphorus, and to proceed to the Aegean Sea, where it will be ready to receive the British fleet.

THE PORTS WILL SOON PROCLAIM A STATE OF SIEGE.—The Turkish fleet has been ordered to leave the Bosphorus, and to proceed to the Aegean Sea, where it will be ready to receive the British fleet.

THE PORTS WILL SOON PROCLAIM A STATE OF SIEGE.—The Turkish fleet has been ordered to leave the Bosphorus, and to proceed to the Aegean Sea, where it will be ready to receive the British fleet.

THE PORTS WILL SOON PROCLAIM A STATE OF SIE