

THE COMING CONTEST.

President Hayes and the Forty-sixth Congress.

A Vast and Important Exposition of the Policy of the Administration--Prudential Reflections of the President--The Bayonet Must Go--The Test Oath for Jurors to be Abolished--The Supervisors Law.

The Administration and Congress.

Several particularized statements have recently been made regarding the attitude the Administration may assume in the threatened conflict between Congress and the Executive, but it is due to President Hayes to explain that, restrained by a proper regard for the dignity of a co-ordinate branch of the Government, he has carefully avoided authorizing any publication relative to this subject which may be construed as a threat or an attempt to intimidate Congress in any way.

The So-Called Bayonet Law.

It is known, however, that he has made up his mind, in the light of present information, to authorize by his official action what is known as the Beck programme in its most essential points. He has repeatedly yielded his assent to that part of that programme which provides for a prohibition of the use of the military at the polls in national elections, and will undoubtedly approve any bill that may be presented to him in which that prohibition may be properly included.

The Test Oath for Jurors.

Regarding the existing provision known as the jury test-oath law, he has reached the conclusion that its repeal will in no way obstruct the administration of justice, and he recognizes the inconsistency of permitting the execution of the law by officials of the judiciary branch who could not themselves serve as jurors under the requirements of the test oath. He does not believe that the law as it now stands is effective in producing the results for which it was designed, and does believe that the ordinary course pursued under the common-law system of selecting jurors can now be re-navigated without injury to the public weal.

The Supervisors Law.

As regards the third, and most vital point of this programme, which provides for a repeal of the supervisors' law, he is firm in his determination to exercise every power at his command to retain the law upon the statute books in full force and effect. He insists that the law, as it now stands, is plainly and simply a law for the prevention of fraud in our national elections, and further, that if any complaint can be raised against it, it must arise from some fault in its execution. The spirit of the law, he believes, is non-partisan, and its administration, under the true impulse of that spirit, cannot be objected to except by evildoers of either party who are determined that it is designed. He repudiates as absurd and slanderous the wholesale charge of the Opposition that the officials appointed under this law have been using it for partisan purposes.

False Boasts of Economy.

Great credit was claimed by the committee on Appropriations in the House for passing the smallest sundry civil appropriation bill that has become a law for several years. On examination, it is found that the appropriation for expenses of courts, amounting to $3,000,000, which was omitted, and must therefore be provided for in the legislative bill at the extra session.

Increased Mail Service.

The Post-Office Department has made arrangements by which the mail service between Washington city and Danville, via Lynchburg, on the Virginia Midland Railroad, will be doubled, and after next Sunday an evening train will be run from Washington to Danville, and will arrive at its destination about eight o'clock the next morning.

He said that he understood that the United States Government intended at the long session of Congress next winter to make some provision for the settlement of the boundary of the territory of Alaska, and it might be asked of the Canadian government to join them in managing some portions of the boundary between Alaska and British Columbia, and that the British government had neglected to take care of the interests of the western portions of this country when the treaty of Washington was made in 1793.

THE INTERNATIONAL WALK.

New York Greatly Excited Over the Event.

Condition of the Men at the End of Forty-eight Hours--O'Leary Apparently Unwell--Harriman Making Good Headed, But Rowell Leading--The Score at Different Hours of the Day.

The Pedestrian Contest.

NEW YORK, March 11.—Gimmore's Garden was crowded to suffocation to-night, over 8,000 persons being present. The most intense excitement prevailed in connection with the great six days' walking contest between O'Leary, Rowell, Harriman, and Ennis. Rowers are in circulation that O'Leary is breaking down, but his trainers deny them, and say that his stomach is getting well and his appetite improving. O'Leary looks sick, and he has not got his old class tread. It seems unable to close up the gap between himself and Rowell, but walks with dogged determination. He looks at the big blackboard frequently and sees Rowell thirty miles and more away. Harriman is showing fine style and endurance, and is pushing Rowell closely. His long stride is very telling and he is going up the hill better. Harriman to-night was four to one against O'Leary. Ennis and Rowell's right leg was cramped and stiff every day.

Rowell finished his 165th mile at 3:34.33 p. m., his 170th mile at 4:32.40, his 175th mile at 5:30.26, and his 180th mile at 6:25.55. He then left the track, had a good supper, and was seen last night. He remained sleeping until 9:30 a. m., when he again appeared on the track and commenced running at a lively gait. He was presented with a gigantic bouquet, amid great applause.

Harriman walks in splendid style, and gains ground rapidly. He finished his 155th mile at 3:50.33, his 160th mile at 5:21.55, his 165th mile at 6:15.52, his 170th at 7:04.00, and his 175th at 7:52.15. He received tremendous applause, and was only five miles behind Rowell.

Ennis continues to show good pluck and increasing speed, and he turned his 140th mile at 3:01.14, his 145th at 3:57.30, and his 150th at 4:53.30. O'Leary made several brilliant bursts during the evening, and showed some fine speed. He outwalked Rowell running, and the applause was tremendous. Rowell came on the track at 6:30 a. m. and commenced running. There was great applause, and all four men were on the track.

At midnight the spectators were gradually thinning out, and at 1 a. m. Harriman was alone on the track. Rowell was trotting, as usual, and it was said he was suffering from a blister on his ankle and heel, which caused him to limp. He received tremendous applause, and was only five miles behind Rowell.

O'Leary made his 169th mile at 10:31.50 and his 170th mile at 10:45.50 when he went off the track and remained in his room until twelve o'clock. He appeared fresh and in good condition, and was loudly cheered as he started off at 5 1/2-mile gait.

Rowell made his 185th mile at 10:30.55, his 190th mile at 11:23.30, and his 195th mile at 11:06.55.

The following is the record of the pedestrians at different periods during the day: 10:20 a. m. O'Leary, 137; Harriman, 131; Ennis, 125; Rowell, 117; 12 noon--O'Leary, 147; Harriman, 139; Ennis, 129; Rowell, 119 p. m.--O'Leary, 153; Harriman, 142; Ennis, 130; Rowell, 121; 2 p. m.--O'Leary, 159; Harriman, 148; Ennis, 136; Rowell, 127; 4 p. m.--O'Leary, 165; Harriman, 154; Ennis, 142; Rowell, 133; 6 p. m.--O'Leary, 171; Harriman, 160; Ennis, 148; Rowell, 139; 8 p. m.--O'Leary, 177; Harriman, 166; Ennis, 154; Rowell, 145; 10 p. m.--O'Leary, 183; Harriman, 172; Ennis, 160; Rowell, 151; 12 noon--O'Leary, 189; Harriman, 178; Ennis, 166; Rowell, 157; 2 p. m.--O'Leary, 195; Harriman, 184; Ennis, 172; Rowell, 163; 4 p. m.--O'Leary, 201; Harriman, 190; Ennis, 178; Rowell, 169; 6 p. m.--O'Leary, 207; Harriman, 196; Ennis, 184; Rowell, 175; 8 p. m.--O'Leary, 213; Harriman, 202; Ennis, 190; Rowell, 181; 10 p. m.--O'Leary, 219; Harriman, 208; Ennis, 196; Rowell, 187.
