Why Glover's Report was Suppressed. The following letter has been furnished THE REPUBLICAN for publication.

Dear Sir: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 29th inst. in relation to the suppression of my report on the operations of the Treasury Department, and for the reasons, as the writer contends, that the Treasury has been wronged by him. That, then, is for me, and will go for what it is worth. The charge is directly made, and very likely that accounts for the suppression of Glover's report by a Democratic House, that it was withheld from the public for the reason that it exposed certain frauds connected with the accounts of Mr. Morrison's committee at New Orleans in 1877.

It is confessed that this letter was written under a high sense of duty to the public interest and the impositions of an official score. The writer takes all the responsibility of it.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 15, 1879.

Sir: On the 2d of March last the House made an order to print the report and evidence of the Committee on Expenditures in the Treasury Department, but that order is still disregarded and the evidence remains unprinted.

before the Glover committee simply as a witness in order to secure justice for the Government as well as for the public interest.

The Glover committee was organized in 1877 by an act of Congress, and its jurisdiction was extended by an act of the same date. It was composed of Messrs. Sherman, Tilden, and Tamm, and its members were sworn to investigate the operations of the Treasury Department, and to report thereon to the House of Representatives.

You must know that while preparing the report in my own name, I was not allowed to see the report, and that the report was suppressed.

Very respectfully,
W. B. MOORE.
