THE VERMONT ELECTION.

Full Returns From All Three Towns. BRATTLEBORO, Sept. 9.--Fifteen towns in Windham county gave a democratic gain of 170 over the vote of 1878, while the other eight towns give a republican gain of 198. The republican majority on the popular vote in the county is 3,041--an increase of 28 over that of 1878. Tyler (rep.) for congress has a majority of 1,000 in the county of 2,017 against 2,422 in 1878. Two democratic, one independent and twenty republican representatives are elected. The towns of Wilmington and Whitehall both elected their representatives by a majority of one vote.

Waterbury, Sept. 9.--A private telegram received here tonight from Rutland, Vt., says: Two hundred and twenty-nine towns give a republican gain of 1,248 over the vote of 1878. The same towns in 1878 gave Fairbanks 44,328, Brigham 59,553, and scattering 72.

Waterbury, Sept. 9.--Returns from the gubernatorial vote of the state have been received from 238 towns, leaving three towns more to be heard from. The congressional vote was made last evening. A clerical error was made last evening in compiling the vote for governor in the third district. A correction of that error and numerous others made by sending in the final returns of the Fairbanks majority considerably below that reported last night.

A careful revision of the returns gives the following vote for governor: Fairbank (rep.), 45,091; Farnham (dem.), 24,248; Heath (greenback), 1,572. Fairbank's majority over all, 20,582.

The same towns gave in 1878 Fairbanks (rep.), 44,328; Brigham 59,553, and scattering 72. Fairbank's majority, 23,708. Republican vote over 1878, 1,402; democratic gain, 625. The towns to be heard from will not increase this majority materially.

The congressional vote is as follows: First district--Joyce (rep.), 15,591; Randall (dem.), 6,741; Martin (greenback), 635; and scattering, 142. Joyce's majority 8,225.

Second district--Tyler (rep.), 18,585; Campbell (dem.), 6,544; Mead (greenback), 328; and scattering, 16. Tyler's majority 5,777.

Third district--Grant (rep.), 11,295; Currier (dem.), 5,752; Farwell (greenback), 1,216; and scattering, 328. Grant's majority 3,947.

Town representatives--205 republicans and 16 democrats as far as heard from.

The Campaign in Missouri.

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.--Colonel Chalmers I. Filley of St. Louis, who has just returned from Missouri to attend a meeting of the national committee, after a careful inspection of his state makes the following statement:

"There is better organization in Missouri than in any other state. The republican clubs are better organized, have republican clubs were never attempted before. Nearly every county in the state has reported county and township committees, and the democratic clubs are better organized than in any other state. There is a panic among the bourgeois because the republicans do not make nominations in several districts; it forbodes the defeat of the republican candidates. The indications are that in the fifth, sixth, seventh, eighth, ninth and twelfth districts the bourgeois and greenbacks will be left to contend for the election, with little chance of success against the bourgeois."

A report from Missouri has reached the national republican headquarters from a prominent journalist in the south-west, the editor of the Carthage Banner. Some extracts from this report are encouraging. "Two years ago," says the editor, "only one representative (republican) was sent from this part of the state to congress. I believe I can safely say within the probabilities which I say this year almost every county which has heretofore been republican will be recovered. We will have a republican majority in the legislature. A joint discussion, thus far without avail. I believe, if it were possible to make the same sort of canvass in every county in the state, we are making in this country, we could elect our candidates for state and congress."

Another report from Moberly, Randolph county, Mo., says that the republican organization had existed in Randolph county, but that on last Saturday a Garfield and Arthur club was organized, with 150 members to begin with.

PRACTICAL SCIENCE.

Yesterday's Session of the Social Science Association.

Adulterations in Everything We Eat, Drink and Wear--Glucose and Oleo-margarine.

Interesting Papers on Familiar Subjects.

SARATOGA, N. Y., Sept. 9.--At last evening's session of the Social Science association, Professor S. W. Johnson of Yale college read a paper on the "adulteration of food, drugs and domestic articles." He gave a history of the food adulterations in England for over five hundred years, particularly in the use of alum and other substances in bread. Next to bread is the adulteration of milk. Regarding sugar, the use of alcohols and other articles for the adulteration of cane sugar is less common than is supposed. In glucose is a healthy substance, and if used would do no harm. Cautions are advised by mineral poison used for coloring, but generally not so common as is supposed. Notwithstanding the great talk on the subject of the adulteration of food, very few have been discovered in this country in the articles of common use, as well as of the soil, and not forget the distinction of merely getting a living and a higher life. He closed by again advising them to go on, and to be true to their duty as citizens, labor and cherish in their children a love for home and country for generations to come.

James Harlan of Kentucky and Senator Hoar of New Hampshire, who were present, stated followed with brief addresses.

The Big Fire in New York.

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.--The loss by fire at the Manhattan market is $1,500,000. The market, bay sheds on the adjoining block and ninety freight cars of the Hudson River railroad were burned. During the fire Inspector Dilkes and Captain Washburne of the twelfth precinct, in command of the reserves, had charge of the fire. It is estimated that the loss of the market falling, Michael Loftus, a homeless man, was badly burned. The eastern half of the Manhattan market is in ruins, and completely gutted, except for fifty feet of the building. The western half, containing the offices of the market company, was saved by the fire, but was undoubtedly of incendiary origin. The stands in the market were owned by some sixty persons or firms, whose losses range from $200 to $2,000 each. No insurance. The loss on the market building is $400,000, insured in various companies to the amount of $100,000. A brick building and eight hay sheds on the subject of the fire, and the loss of the building belonged to the Hudson River Railroad company. The loss on buildings will not fall short of $100,000.
