

CHRISTENED "ATALANTA"

My Gould's New Yacht Glides Into the Delaware River.

PHILADELPHIA, April 8.—A special train from New York arrived at Cramp's shipyard Saturday noon, bringing over a large party to witness the launch of Mr. Gould's steam yacht Atalanta. Among those on board the train were Mr. and Mrs. Gould, Miss Nellie and Annie Gould, George Gould, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Hoffman, R. L. Baldwin, Cyrus W. Field, jr., William Henry Hurbit, of the New York World, Miss Annie Hendricks, E. S. Jeffrey, Howard Jeffrey, William H. Bingham, John T. Terry, and E. O. Harris. Notwithstanding the heavy, damp atmosphere, a large crowd gathered to witness the christening of the craft to the water. In addition to the party from New York, there were many prominent Philadelphians present. Only workmen were permitted on board the craft, the launch being witnessed from a spacious platform constructed around the yacht, from which floated the stars and stripes. The owner of the yacht and his party occupied positions on the platform at the bow of the vessel. Shortly after 1 o'clock the long line of workmen arranged along either side of the keel of the Atalanta, began driving in the wedges preparatory to cutting away the last fastenings which held her on the ways. The vessel did not move at once upon the removal of the fastenings and a murmur of disappointment went through the crowd; but a few minutes later she glided smoothly and gracefully into the Delaware amidst the cheers of the assembled multitude and the din caused by the steam whistles in the city. As the bow of the boat left the ways Miss Nellie Gould christened her the Atalanta, by breaking the traditional bottle of wine. The launch was a complete success, and the Messrs. Cramp were the recipients of many congratulations. After partaking of a banquet at the office of the Messrs. Cramp the New York party returned by special train.

CHAMPION WRESTLING.

Acton Defeats the Englishman—Thirty Thousand Dollars Change Hands—Twenty-five Hundred Persons Witness the Contest.

PHILADELPHIA, April 8.—When articles of agreement were signed several weeks ago for Joe Acton and Tom Connors to wrestle the best two in three back falls, catch-as-catch-can style, for $500 aside, it seemed to be the general belief that Acton had struck a bonanza. As time wore on, however, and Connors's record in England came to be investigated, it was discovered that he had thrown a number of good men, conspicuous among whom were Smith, who is well known with his vanquished Acton. Connors, therefore, gained many admirers, and up to the time of the first hold in the ring at Pastime park yesterday the betting was even. Both men showed evidence of careful training, although in some quarters Acton was considered to be drawn too fine. Connors is a fine specimen of an athlete, and appeared eager for the fray. Acton weighed about 145 pounds and Connors was two pounds lighter. There were 2,500 persons present. At 3 o'clock the men were called to the mark by the referee, Thomas Wilde, and by a sudden movement they both became locked. Connors was the quicker of the two, but Acton's strength and judgment were greatly in his favor, and after a struggle of twelve and one-half minutes the first fall was accorded to Acton. In the second bout Connors made a desperate attempt to turn the tide of affairs, and although he succeeded in picking Acton up and throwing him as he would a child he was unable to get the fall. After nine and one-half minutes tussling Acton put Connors upon a back and was awarded the match. At least $30,000 changed hands on the result.

A LEAP FOR LIFE.

Jumping From a Railway Train at Full Speed—Recapture of the Prisoner.

NEW YORK, April 8.—Bernard Reinach, a collector for the Baur & Bets Brewing Company, left the city about three weeks ago, and was accused of carrying off $1,000 belonging to his employers. He was traced to Chicago, and arrested by one of Pinkerton's detectives. He agreed to return without a requisition, and he and his captor set out for this city on a fast train on Wednesday afternoon. About 9 p. m. Thursday, soon after the train had left Mount Airy, a station on the Pennsylvania railway, not far from Harrisburg, Reinach, who had won the confidence of the detective, and had the freedom of the car, leaped from one of the windows. The train, which was moving at the rate of thirty-five miles an hour, was immediately stopped, but the night was so dark that search for the fugitive proved fruitless. The next day, however, the detective learned that a man without a hat, whose face and hands were badly bruised and cut, had been walking on one of the less traveled roads leading from the railway. Following the trail, he caught up with Reinach about 5 p. m. Friday, and, as the latter was too sore from the effects of his jump from the train to run or resist, easily secured him. Although bruised and sore, Reinach proved to have escaped without serious injury from his leap. The rest of the journey to this city, at which he arrived yesterday, Reinach travelled handcuffed to the detective. He was committed for trial at the court of general sessions.

DIAZ IN BOSTON.

Received by the City Authorities—An Interview with the Ex-President.

BOSTON, April 8.—Gen. Diaz, ex-president of the Mexican republic, and party arrived here from New York at 6 o'clock this morning by a special train from the New York and New England railway. They were received at the depot by a committee of city officials and escorted to the hotel Vendome. They will remain the guests of the city until Thursday morning. This evening an informal reception was held and a dinner given, at which Mayor Parker, Aldermen O'Brien, President Flynn (of the common council), Senator Yama, Mr. Thomas Nickerson, Dr. E. W. Cushing, Senator Tarrjia, and others with their ladies were present. Ex-President Diaz, in an interview to-night, said that the statement published that he is visiting this country on official or business matters is entirely erroneous. The trip is for pleasure only, and for the purpose of becoming acquainted with our institutions. He is not cooperating with any American syndicate of railway operations. He denies that his influence is to be used to obtain for such parties any concessions. He trusts that prompt action will be taken on the reciprocity treaty, and says that the German scheme so called, in Mexico is wholly imaginative.

The Southern Methodists.

PROVIDENCE, April 8.—The exercises of the New England Southern Methodist Episcopal conference to-day, held in Infantry Armory hall, were attended by large congregations. At 9:30 a. m. a conference love feast was held, led by Father Upham, the oldest traveling preacher in the world. Bishop Simpson delivered a powerful and eloquent sermon on "Power and Influence of Christianity." Nine candidates for deacons' orders were then ordained by Bishop Simpson. The afternoon service consisted of the usual religious exercises. Rev. Dr. A. Whedon preached. Rev. C. L. Goodell, Archibald McLeod, E. W. Goodier, Addis Allero, and William L. Ward were ordained to elders' orders.

Funeral of Matt Grace.

NEW YORK, April 8.—Matt Grace, the wrestler, was buried in Calvary cemetery to-day. His funeral was attended by a large number of sporting men. Among the pall bearers were John L. Sullivan, Old Bill Toovey, James Caloran, of Troy; John Hanahan, of Boston; Mike O'Leary, of Philadelphia; and Henry Miller. Many beautiful flowers were sent to the dead man's late residence, the principal donors being Harry Hill and the pugilist Sullivan.

A Yellow Fever Victim.

PHILADELPHIA, April 8.—The schooner Marion Hill arrived to-day off Chester from Miragone, Hayti, with male and steward sick. The captain had died during the voyage of fever, passing away in a few hours after being attacked with the disease. Opinion is divided as to whether the disease is yellow fever or Haytian fever.

PASSED AWAY.

Death of a Great French Journalist and Other Prominent People.

PETERSBURG, VA., April 8.—Col. D. G. Carr, a native of Ohio county, N. Y., and for many years a resident of Petersburg, Va., died at his home in that city yesterday, in his 70th year, of inflammation of the stomach. Col. Carr was appointed by President Grant, in 1862, collector of customs for the Petersburg district, and again by President Hayes in 1879. The term of the last appointment expired a few days ago. MERIDEN, CONN., April 8.—Hon. James P. Stow, who died on Friday night, was at one time a member of the Alabama state senate. He accumulated much wealth in the south, and in 1868 was chairman of the Alabama delegation to the republican national convention, and his state being the first in the roll-call, his was the first vote ever cast for Gen. Grant as a candidate for president. Soon afterward he returned to his home in Meriden and became prominent in many local enterprises.

Democratic Rascality in Chicago.

CHICAGO, April 8.—The canvass of the returns from the south town ticket in the late election has been completed and has brought forth to light the fact that in the fourth precinct, second ward, the ballot box was held for a day or two by the judges, part of the time being in a disreputable saloon. When the box was opened for canvassing it was discovered that the tally sheet had been doctored with chemicals, and two hundred votes transferred from republican to democratic candidates. The job had been done laughingly, and the evidence of fraud is said to be conclusive. No action has yet been taken toward punishing the guilty parties. It is difficult to imagine the object of the act, as the republican majority in the town is over two thousand.

Scoured by Smallpox.

NASHVILLE, TENN., April 8.—Thirteen new cases have been developed since yesterday morning. Nashville is threatened with a smallpox epidemic. Fifty cases with high fever have been reported. The Main street school, containing 600 pupils, has been suspended for two weeks.

Wheat and Snow.

BISMARCK, April 8.—Over 1,000 acres of wheat have been planted in this section during the past two days. East of this place there is yet some snow, but it is disappearing rapidly.

Social Events.

Capt. and Mrs. Lorenzo R. Bailey have gone to Greensboro, N. C., where they will take up their residence. They have written home speaking in the highest terms of the town and of its people. He has been appointed chief deputy of Col. Thomas B. Keogh, United States marshal for the western district of North Carolina. Capt. Bailey has been a member of the supreme court of the District of Columbia for about seven years, and is a member of the bar of the supreme court of the United States. For some time past he has been in command of the Washington Light Guard, and upon the occasion of his resignation—by reason of his removal from the city—the members of that command accepted his resignation with regrets, and gave a rising vote of thanks for his efforts in behalf of the company. Miss Katie E. Martin, of Baltimore, was married last night to Mr. John T. Caldwell, of this city. The ceremony was performed at St. Peter's church by the Rev. Father Sullivan, only a few personal friends and relatives of the bride and bridegroom being present. Mr. and Mrs. Caldwell left on the 9:40 train for Baltimore, where they will spend the honeymoon. There were a few unexpected presents, among them a check for $1,000 from Adjutant General Drum.

Dashway Reform Club.

A large audience assembled in Odd Fellow's hall last evening at the regular Sunday evening meeting of the Temperance club. The president of the club, Mr. Nye, presided. The first speaker was the Hon. Hiram Price, commissioner of Indian affairs. He advocated in strong terms a constant and aggressive line of action and fight against the evil of selling intoxicating drinks. He was followed by Mr. B. N. Warren and Rev. Mr. Burghard. The closing address was made by Chas. M. Nye, the president, and his speech was responded to by a large number of signers to the pledge.

Meeting of the Press Club.

There was a meeting of the Washington Press club at its new rooms over the new Capital office, on Pennsylvania avenue, opposite Willard's, yesterday. Reports of the executive committee were received and adopted. A number of new members were admitted and others were proposed. It is expected that this week the rooms will be fully furnished, and after the transaction of some routine business the club adjourned until next Sunday at 3 o'clock p. m.

After Forty Years.

Senator Jones, of Florida, will be in a few days sail for Europe. He says he has seen about all of this country, and he knows of no better opportunity to see Europe. He came from Ireland about forty years ago a poor boy, and will go back as a United States senator enjoying the leisure between sessions. He will look England over, go to Paris, to Rome, and perhaps to other cities on the continent, returning in October.

Local Items.

Rev. Dr. Sunderland will deliver an essay on "The Cheops Pyramid," before the classical society at Miss Kauffman's studio this evening. The annual meeting of the directors of the Central Free dispensary will be held on Friday evening. TICKETS BY TELEGRAPH.—The Athletics of Philadelphia, defeated the Yale nine in Philadelphia on Saturday. A dispatch from St. Louis announces that Lotta has lost her voice, and will go to Europe for medical treatment. Scarlet fever has broken out among the students at the Iowa Agricultural college, and the sessions have been suspended. The Lynchburg tobacco factories will be thrown open to-day, and nearly half of the strikers will return to work on the old terms. Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Van Noy stepped over the tracks at Port Jarvis, Saturday, to avoid a freight train, and were killed by an express. Engineer Robinson stuck to his post and was killed when a freight train ran into his engine on Friday night at Minersville, Pa., while his fireman jumped in safety. C. G. Jackson, James Dever, and D. P. Duncan, employees of the San Francisco street cleaning department, are charged with stealing $100,000 yearly by means of false warrants and dummy pay rolls. At a prize fight near Nanticoke, Pa., on Saturday morning Tom Slavin, of Wanaquo, and Mike Cavanaugh, of Nanticoke, fought a battle of twenty-two rounds. Slavin was knocked down twenty times and Cavanaugh was declared the winner. Both men are terribly disfigured. Thomas H. Corbett, who was formerly a trustee of the Leo Avenue Baptist church, Brooklyn, when the Rev. J. Hyatt Smith was pastor, sued the reverend gentleman for $1,125, which he had been paid in election expenses. The case was settled Saturday, when it was called before Judge Cullio.

THE COMMISSIONERS.

Current Transactions at the Various District Offices.

At a session of the commissioners Saturday evening the school sites were taken under consideration. Health Officer Townshend has decided to compel the strict enforcement of the plumbing regulations, and to-day Inspector Robinson will file information and swear out warrants against several plumbers who have not complied with the regulations. The health officer reports the vital statistics for yesterday as follows: Deaths, 14; births, 6; stillbirths, 1.

The proposition of Mr. A. Watson, in a communication to the district commissioner, to hang a sign on the opposite side of Center market, notifying colored people that they could be seen and hired to do farm work in Maryland and Virginia, and which was referred to Mr. Clayton H. Buell, market master, has already announced in THIS REPUBLICAN, been reported adversely upon by that gentleman. Upon inquiry among the farmers who frequent the Center market Mr. Buell found that farmers considered colored people addicted to Washington life, and that the colored people, on the other hand, it was learned preferred to remain in Washington with all the uncertainties of gaining a livelihood to doing farm labor with the assurance of a few weeks' plenty to eat, and good shelter. Mr. Watson referred to the great number of colored people that are daily brought to the police court charged with petty crimes as an argument in favor of his scheme. Mr. Buell contends that this condition of affairs is a measure by which the colored people are being in vogue among employers of colored help in this city. He says that the average housewife seldom inquires into the character of colored people whose services they engage, treating these people alike, whether inclined to thieving or faithful in the performance of their duties and otherwise worthy. Such a system, Mr. Buell says, tends to demoralize the entire colored population. The opposite course, Mr. Buell contends, would in time decrease the swarming of the police court. Mr. Buell especially objects to doing that which would attract an idle and vicious class to a vicinity where farm products are exposed for sale, as it would tend to the violation of the eighth commandment of the law of God. The police, harass the farmers, and augment the troubles of the colored people, which are already great enough. The commissioners have not approved Mr. Watson's proposition.

More Changes in the Police Force.

Chief of Police Dye is evidently proceeding with the work of making himself familiar with the personnel of the force under his control in a thoroughly systematic manner and as fast as he finds incompetent and inefficient men he discharges them. Five men who will render faithful and intelligent service. The resignations of Sergt. Hamilton and Officer Connell were accepted by the commissioners on Saturday at Maj. Dye's recommendation. It is understood that the next victim will be Lieut. Johnson, whose age is beyond that of active service, but whose regard for bravery and fidelity while he has been on the force is not surpassed by any member. It is presumed that those officers who are called in question were made so by those who were suspected of complicity in the malpractices of the ex-detectives or permitting the existence of immoral or illegal practices in their precincts are being looked after, and that when Maj. Dye takes up their cases he will mean business.

The Life Ring Fire Escape.

Saturday afternoon a public test was made at the Arlington hotel of the life ring, a very simple and ingenious machine of the fire escape kind. It consists of a rope, one end of which is fastened to the window or roof; on this rope is a movable ring, controlled by the operator at will by a brake of simple construction, but great and certain power. To the ring are attached two belts, on one of which the person sits, while the other passes around his back and under the arm. The ring, with its burden, slides down the rope at a speed which can be regulated by the party in the belts or by one at the lower end of the rope. The experiments on this subject were witnessed by a large crowd of interested spectators, and were highly successful. A number of people were let down from the top story and from the roof, and afterward trunks and other baggage were lowered.

The Seegerbund's Concert.

The last sacred concert of the season, given by the Seegerbund to its members, took place at Abner's hall last evening. Every seat was occupied, and the programme presented much appreciation. The best features of the evening were "An Act and a Number," "Lieder und Verklaerung" (beatification of song), and "Der Voelker Gebet" (the nation's prayer), rendered by the entire chorus of the society with full orchestral accompaniment. The solos were rendered by Mrs. Loemer-Kaspar, a large crowd of interested spectators, and were highly successful. A number of people were let down from the top story and from the roof, and afterward trunks and other baggage were lowered.

PERSONAL.

J. C. Alexander and wife, Maryland, are at the St. Marc. William D. Peck and wife, Kentucky, are at the St. James. C. H. Fitch, M. Levy, E. G. Kestner, New York, are at the Seegerbund. Mr. John Rogers, manager of the Minnie Palmer company, is at the Arlington. Miss Minnie Palmer, the pretty and sprightly little actress, is at the Arlington. Solicitor Raynor, of the Treasury department, returned to Washington on Friday. Mr. Samuel M. Nickerson, president of the First National bank of Chicago, and wife are at the Aliggs. Dr. Harry P. de Vol, of the patent office, has recovered from his recent severe attack of diphtheria. Hon. Gen. B. Loring, commissioner of agriculture, returned from Marietta, Ohio, yesterday morning.

ALEXANDRIA AFFAIRS.

The receipts of the Alexandria Light Infantry fair for the five nights including Saturday night amount to about $1,700. The fair will close to-morrow night. To-night the grand fair lottery will be drawn. There are about 600 tickets now sold, and for every dollar's worth of tickets sold there will be placed in the wheel one dollar's worth of goods. Among the prizes are one of Studebaker's lumber wagons, one range cook stove, one sewing machine, two barrels of fine flour, clothing, fruit, liquor, &c., all goods having been contributed.

The April term of the corporation court commences here to-day. A number of interesting cases are on the calendar. City liquor dealers will be required to take out licenses at this term of court.

The supply of fish is increasing. Shad sold at the wharf Saturday at $22 and $24 per hundred.

By order of A. W. Armstrong, commissioner, all of the buildings and fences occupied by the Alexandria and Fairfax County Fair association were sold at auction Saturday, bringing $750. W. A. Smoot bought the main building for $292. He will take it down and have it erected on his farm forty miles down the river. The fencing was purchased by different members of the crowd. This ends the county fair business for this county. It never was a success.

At a meeting held in Peabody hall Saturday morning by the advisory committee respecting the school books offered by the different book houses, it was decided by the school committee to make but few, if any changes, in school books for the coming year.

Church services were all largely attended yesterday. Pulpits were filled by the regular pastors except those of the First and Second Presbyterian and the Baptist church. Rev. George C. Barnes preached an excellent sermon in the morning at the First Presbyterian church, and preached again in the evening. Rev. J. K. Hazen supplied the pulpit at the Second Presbyterian, and Rev. Mr. Cumpton preached at the Baptist church.

The schooner Joel Cook, Capt. Shinger, arrived here yesterday loaded with yellow pine plank for the vessels being built here. Last Friday one of the crew fell and dislocated his left shoulder, which was replaced by Dr. Lewis, of this city, on the arrival of the vessel at this port.

Both ferriesboats are running between this city and Washington now, making regular trips, leaving each city on the half hour.
