

"KILL 'EM! KILL 'EM!"

With This War Cry the Chivalrous Virginians Pursued and Shot the Unarmed Negroes.

Colored Women Crowded a Confederate Captain Across the Curbstone.

Whereupon He Bought a Pistol and Prepared to Defend Himself and Family.

Piling Up Proof Against the Danville Democratic Murderers.

A large amount of testimony was taken yesterday by the subcommittee which is investigating the Danville murders. It is expected that the work of this subcommittee will be concluded early next week.

The first witness was W. P. Graves, who had been a soldier in both the Mexican and civil wars. He had white hair and long white whiskers, and carried a heavy silver-headed cane.

Charles Adams, another big colored man, testified that he was in Danville Nov. 3, but that he did not go to the store of his employer, Mr. Nichols, when he heard a pistol shot and cry of "Murder."

Mr. J. Adams, the colored policeman, and a brother of the last witness, testified that he separated Noel and Lawson, the first firing and then ordering him to do it.

Then the witness testified that there were other assaults. Frequently he had been crowded by negro women on the sidewalk.

He had endured it for awhile, but finally he made up his mind not to strike them, but to give them a shove with his shoulder, and he had been following that course of late.

"Do you mean to say, Mr. Graves," inquired Senator Lapham, "that such an affair as that one, occurring two years ago, put you in such fear that you felt you must buy a pistol?"

"Then the witness testified that there were other assaults. Frequently he had been crowded by negro women on the sidewalk.

He had endured it for awhile, but finally he made up his mind not to strike them, but to give them a shove with his shoulder, and he had been following that course of late.

"Do you mean to say, Mr. Graves," inquired Senator Lapham, "that such an affair as that one, occurring two years ago, put you in such fear that you felt you must buy a pistol?"

Then the witness testified that there were other assaults. Frequently he had been crowded by negro women on the sidewalk.

He had endured it for awhile, but finally he made up his mind not to strike them, but to give them a shove with his shoulder, and he had been following that course of late.

you were summoned to do?" asked Senator Sherman.

In answer to this question Adams said that he went to the depot to take the train Friday night. He went into the negro waiting room, and being alone he was going to Washington, and he said that he was.

Then the witness testified that there were other assaults. Frequently he had been crowded by negro women on the sidewalk.

He had endured it for awhile, but finally he made up his mind not to strike them, but to give them a shove with his shoulder, and he had been following that course of late.

"Do you mean to say, Mr. Graves," inquired Senator Lapham, "that such an affair as that one, occurring two years ago, put you in such fear that you felt you must buy a pistol?"

Then the witness testified that there were other assaults. Frequently he had been crowded by negro women on the sidewalk.

He had endured it for awhile, but finally he made up his mind not to strike them, but to give them a shove with his shoulder, and he had been following that course of late.

"Do you mean to say, Mr. Graves," inquired Senator Lapham, "that such an affair as that one, occurring two years ago, put you in such fear that you felt you must buy a pistol?"

Then the witness testified that there were other assaults. Frequently he had been crowded by negro women on the sidewalk.

He had endured it for awhile, but finally he made up his mind not to strike them, but to give them a shove with his shoulder, and he had been following that course of late.

"Do you mean to say, Mr. Graves," inquired Senator Lapham, "that such an affair as that one, occurring two years ago, put you in such fear that you felt you must buy a pistol?"

Then the witness testified that there were other assaults. Frequently he had been crowded by negro women on the sidewalk.

He had endured it for awhile, but finally he made up his mind not to strike them, but to give them a shove with his shoulder, and he had been following that course of late.

"Do you mean to say, Mr. Graves," inquired Senator Lapham, "that such an affair as that one, occurring two years ago, put you in such fear that you felt you must buy a pistol?"

Then the witness testified that there were other assaults. Frequently he had been crowded by negro women on the sidewalk.

He had endured it for awhile, but finally he made up his mind not to strike them, but to give them a shove with his shoulder, and he had been following that course of late.

It was the first election he had missed since he had the privilege of voting.

The witness said he knew in the morning that trouble would occur, but he expected it would be different. He was standing on the street when he saw a white man, named Winbush Young, come along and warn the other colored man that there was going to be shooting that day.

"Going out to kill niggers, weren't they?" asked Senator Vance, with much sarcasm in his voice. It was a common remark in those days for white men to go shooting niggers, wasn't it?

"It was a common thing about election day," said the witness.

The witness thought that the trouble about which Young warned his friend was a probable riot, and he was going to Washington, and he said that he was.

Then the witness testified that there were other assaults. Frequently he had been crowded by negro women on the sidewalk.

He had endured it for awhile, but finally he made up his mind not to strike them, but to give them a shove with his shoulder, and he had been following that course of late.

"Do you mean to say, Mr. Graves," inquired Senator Lapham, "that such an affair as that one, occurring two years ago, put you in such fear that you felt you must buy a pistol?"

Then the witness testified that there were other assaults. Frequently he had been crowded by negro women on the sidewalk.

He had endured it for awhile, but finally he made up his mind not to strike them, but to give them a shove with his shoulder, and he had been following that course of late.

"Do you mean to say, Mr. Graves," inquired Senator Lapham, "that such an affair as that one, occurring two years ago, put you in such fear that you felt you must buy a pistol?"

Then the witness testified that there were other assaults. Frequently he had been crowded by negro women on the sidewalk.

He had endured it for awhile, but finally he made up his mind not to strike them, but to give them a shove with his shoulder, and he had been following that course of late.

"Do you mean to say, Mr. Graves," inquired Senator Lapham, "that such an affair as that one, occurring two years ago, put you in such fear that you felt you must buy a pistol?"

Then the witness testified that there were other assaults. Frequently he had been crowded by negro women on the sidewalk.

He had endured it for awhile, but finally he made up his mind not to strike them, but to give them a shove with his shoulder, and he had been following that course of late.

THE GREAT PULL.

Preparation Making Among the Workers to Capture the Democratic Convention.

The Chicago Silk Stocking Sad Because They Are in Bad Company.

The headquarters of the delegations from the various cities who desire the next democratic presidential convention to be held in their midst were formally opened yesterday, and active work commenced.

The Chicago silk stockings are in bad company because they are in bad company with the other delegations.

Several of the Kentuckians said last night that in the event that it became definitely known that the American people were in favor of the Democratic party, they expected a strong support from the Missouri men, who could be relied upon to strongly oppose the selection of either Chicago or Cincinnati.

The Philadelphia Republicans Carry the City by an Overwhelming Majority—Good News from Other Cities.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 19.—Smith (rep.) is elected mayor by about 9,000 majority. Warwick (rep.), for city solicitor, will have a majority of about 12,000 or 13,000.

READING, Pa., Feb. 19.—The election here today was a success for the democratic council, and resulted in the election of 23 democrats and 23 republicans.

LANCASTER, Pa., Feb. 19.—D. P. Rosenmiller was elected mayor by a majority of 475 majority over David McMullen, democrat. Both branches of the city council are largely republican.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Feb. 19.—The only fight at today's election was for district supervisor and city clerk, but the democrats prevailed to insure the re-election of the old officers.

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., Feb. 19.—This city today was a success for the democratic party. S. M. Crans, democrat, labor candidate; comptroller, Charles Nash, republican; treasurer, D. Langsdorf, republican.

ALLENTOWN, Pa., Feb. 19.—The republicans today elected their mayor by a majority of 100, and the city treasurer by about 300 majority.

SCRANTON, Pa., Feb. 19.—F. A. Beamish (dem.) was today elected mayor over A. V. Stevens (rep.) Beamish's majority, with six colored districts not being counted.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 19.—Following is the full vote in this city: For mayor, Smith (republican), 79,295; King (democrat), 70,374; for city clerk, Smith (republican), 10,374; for city treasurer, Smith (republican), 10,374; for city solicitor, Smith (republican), 10,374.

VIENNA, Feb. 19.—In the lower house of the Austrian reichsrath today Herr Schonerer introduced a motion providing that state aid should be given for the relief of families who were expelled through the working of the extraordinary laws directed against anarchists.

PARIS, Feb. 19.—A current topic among the gossips is the dispute between Mrs. Mackay and Meissonier in regard to her portrait painted by the latter. The price paid for the portrait was 65,000 francs.

THE GREAT CALAMITY.

Measures Taken for the Relief of the Flood Sufferers.

Scenes of Ruin and Destitution Along the Ohio.

Reports from the Officers in Charge of the Government Boats.

CHARITABLE ACTION OF CITIZENS OF WASHINGTON AND OTHER POINTS.

HUNTINGTON, W. VA., Feb. 19.—At 10 o'clock yesterday morning the relief boat Stockdale started on her way back to Pomeroy. The water left the streets of Catlettsburg, Ky., on Sunday night. Forty-five houses are swept away, and the loss to the city is over $100,000.

HANGING ROCK, Ohio, Feb. 19.—The destruction at Hanging Rock, Ohio, is beyond description. The people are plucky and at work.

EVANSHVILLE, Ind., Feb. 19.—The government relief boat, Mattie Hayes, which left Huntington on Friday morning, arrived last evening and after a brief stay started back.

At Shawneetown at 6 p. m. yesterday the river was within six inches of last year's highest stage for some time past.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 19.—The Red Cross society has established its headquarters here at Central park, and is doing a noble work.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Feb. 19.—The work of forwarding supplies to the flood sufferers from this point is going on rapidly.

NORFOLK, Va., Feb. 19.—The police commissioners met last night and removed Joseph Holland, the present chief, and appointed Hunter Saunders, formerly a sheriff of the city, to fill the vacancy.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Feb. 19.—A professional pool tournament opened here to-night.

PARIS, Feb. 19.—The Morning News publishes intelligence from Berlin which asserts that naturalized German-American citizens who return to Germany are again being rigorously subjected to military duty.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Feb. 19.—A thorough investigation of the finances of this city shows that but $900 are required to be realized to enable the city to meet its obligations.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 19.—The John L. Sullivan sparring combination returned from the north yesterday. At the exhibition last evening it was announced that Sullivan could not spar, being incapacitated by reason of a strain sustained in jumping.

THE WEATHER.

Barometer, 30.0; wind, light; weather, fair; followed by rising barometer.

THE GREAT CALAMITY.

Measures Taken for the Relief of the Flood Sufferers.

Scenes of Ruin and Destitution Along the Ohio.

Reports from the Officers in Charge of the Government Boats.

CHARITABLE ACTION OF CITIZENS OF WASHINGTON AND OTHER POINTS.

HUNTINGTON, W. VA., Feb. 19.—At 10 o'clock yesterday morning the relief boat Stockdale started on her way back to Pomeroy.

HANGING ROCK, Ohio, Feb. 19.—The destruction at Hanging Rock, Ohio, is beyond description. The people are plucky and at work.

EVANSHVILLE, Ind., Feb. 19.—The government relief boat, Mattie Hayes, which left Huntington on Friday morning, arrived last evening and after a brief stay started back.

At Shawneetown at 6 p. m. yesterday the river was within six inches of last year's highest stage for some time past.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 19.—The Red Cross society has established its headquarters here at Central park, and is doing a noble work.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Feb. 19.—The work of forwarding supplies to the flood sufferers from this point is going on rapidly.

NORFOLK, Va., Feb. 19.—The police commissioners met last night and removed Joseph Holland, the present chief, and appointed Hunter Saunders, formerly a sheriff of the city, to fill the vacancy.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Feb. 19.—A professional pool tournament opened here to-night.

PARIS, Feb. 19.—The Morning News publishes intelligence from Berlin which asserts that naturalized German-American citizens who return to Germany are again being rigorously subjected to military duty.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Feb. 19.—A thorough investigation of the finances of this city shows that but $900 are required to be realized to enable the city to meet its obligations.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 19.—The John L. Sullivan sparring combination returned from the north yesterday. At the exhibition last evening it was announced that Sullivan could not spar, being incapacitated by reason of a strain sustained in jumping.

THE WEATHER.

Barometer, 30.0; wind, light; weather, fair; followed by rising barometer.