THE PATTERSON CLAIM.

The District Commissioners Address a Letter to Senator Ingalls.

The commissioners have written a letter to Senator Ingalls, under date of April 7, in regard to the bill for the relief of Eliza M. Patterson. This claim is for damages sustained by the claimant through the construction of a sewer and by other improvements along squares 670, 671, 672, 710, and 711, which, at the time the improvements were made, belonged to the United States but were donated to the assigns of Joseph Peabody by an act of congress in 1852. In reply, the commissioners state that they are informed that the donation was made through a misapprehension; that Patterson had really purchased the property through his agent, Mr. Pleasanton; whereas the records show that, as to forty of the lots, they were allotted to the United States in the original platting of the city in 1790, part of the estate of Mr. Young, and that the United States has owned them from that time, while the rest were conveyed, under the trust deed to Mr. Pleasanton for the United States, as shown by the order of the court and the affidavit of said Peabody, on file in this case. "If the information be correct," they say, "it would seem that the taxes on these five squares prior to 1852 were illegal, and that there can be no just claim for damages caused by street, sewer, or other improvements laid on a ground to remit the taxes on the two farms in the county, or on the other lots, unless it be because the United States is indebted to the claimants, in which case it is presumed that congress would not think it proper to charge that debt to the district." An abstract of the title accompanies the letter.
