Complete Remedy at Law. Justice James yesterday in the court in general term delivered the opinion of the court in the case of Wm. Chas. Gough, Robert E. Fry, and John Leach, officers of the Thirtieth Building Association, of Georgetown, against William King, Jr., holding that it was not a case for equity jurisdiction, that the complainants had a complete remedy at law, and dismissed the bill. The object of the bill was to recover $941 alleged to have been overpaid the defendant on the 10th of August, 1886, in dues on two shares of stock, but withdrawn and was settled with on the basis of sixteen shares, on which the defendant had paid the complainants, and the defendant had to the complainants the amount of the shares paid to the insolvent of the condition of his accounts until the insolvent of the secretary was discovered.

Railroad Interests. The District commissioners to-day met the representatives of the several companies operating in the District to talk about the steam and street railroads in the city. The commissioners have prepared a mass of matter bearing on the subject. It is in the hands of the Engineer, and is a plan for a union depot, and the introduction of the street railroads through the city through the extreme eastern section of the city. Col. Lindbergh, it is believed, has firm advocates of having the steam roads come into the city by way of the eastern section.

BURNED TO DEATH.

Sad Loss of Life While Trying to Escape From Fire.

Early Saturday morning the house of Stephen H. H. Culver, a colored man, residing about two miles from Severn, a station on the Baltimore and Potomac railroad, in Anne Arundel county, Md., was totally destroyed by fire. The building was a combination of log and frame, one and a half stories high. The family consisted of Mrs. Culver, a son aged 19, a daughter aged 17, and two smaller children.

The eldest son was unable to open the door of his room, and cried loudly for help. His father made a vain attempt to rescue him, but was driven away by the flames. Just as he was about to escape by way of the window the roof and floor gave way, and he fell down among the ruins, with one of the younger children whom he had in his arms. For a time the mother supposed he had escaped, but on hearing her son's cries she endeavored to rescue him, finally breaking down the door to his room, only to find he had perished in the flames. The two other members of the family were overcome with grief. All possible assistance was promptly rendered by the neighbors, among whom Mr. Culver was highly respected.

NATIONAL HOTEL LICENSE.

A Knotty Question That Bothers the Commissioners.

The commissioners yesterday afternoon held a lengthy board meeting. The only matter they said that was before them was the liquor application of the National Hotel people. There seems to be a hitch about the granting of a license due to the litigation now pending in the courts. The question arises in whose name shall the license be granted. The commissioners, on adjournment, said that they had not come to any decision.

Mr. Webb spoke of two cases of bar-rooms on O street, near the high school, that are in adjoining houses. The complaining engineer reports that one house was 200 feet from the school building and the other exactly 400 feet. The result is that one of the bar-rooms will not get a license. "I would like to see the Massachusetts law in force here," said he, "it would obviate many difficulties in the way now."

I HAVE had catarrh for twenty years, and used all kinds of remedies without relief. Mr. Smith, druggist, of Little Falls, recommended Ely's Cream Balm. The effect of the first application was magical. It relieved my head, and the next morning my head was as clear as a bell. One bottle has done me much good that I am convinced is its use. It is a permanent cure. It is soothing, pleasant, and it is strongly recommended by all my sufferers. Geo. Terry, Little Falls, N.Y.

REVIEWING THE OLD FIELD.
