

THE CHOLERA.—We have seen letters from New Orleans, which state that the Cholera is as prevalent in that city at present as at any time during last autumn, and that a large proportion of the cases prove fatal. A highly intelligent gentleman, who arrived direct from New Orleans on Thursday, states that the deaths were supposed to average from 130 to 150 per day. If this is the actual condition of things, the conduct of the journals of that city, in their studious concealment of it, must be considered highly reprehensible.—Charleston Mercury.

The above is taken from the "Charleston Mercury," and it seems that for the last two months one has to be about a thousand miles off before he dares tell the truth in regard to the sickness of N. Orleans. New Orleans papers, merchants, landlords, and every body else in the city have for months been crying out "no cholera in the city," and steamboat captains, clerks, everybody in any way interested in the business of N. Orleans have been denying that any cholera existed there. Sometimes our citizens would take a "trip to town," and when they returned they would whisper that one or two hundred were dying daily of cholera, but counter reports circulated by interested men and newspapers would immediately neutralize the cry of "cholera in the city," and all would be quiet again.

It seems upon the whole that there have been more lies and fewer truths circulated in the last twelve months than in any twelve months we have ever known. If the cholera breaks out on a plantation five miles from Franklin it is two or three weeks before we can hear anything like truth about the extent to which it has prevailed. It seems that with the cholera striking people in the face they ought tell the truth if they ever do, but it appears to have had an opposite effect so far.

FROM CALIFORNIA.

From the Boston Transcript, April 3. Interesting Letter from San Francisco.—The following letter, of a recent date from San Francisco, was received by one of our most esteemed fellow-citizens from his brother, formerly American Consul at the Sandwich Islands, but now of San Francisco, and attached to one of the very first commercial houses at that place. It will be seen that the writer confirms all the wildest accounts we have yet had of the abundance of gold, of the high price of labor and provisions, and the extraordinary rise in land. These statements can be relied upon to the fullest extent, as the probity and sagacity of the writer are unquestionable.

SAN FRANCISCO, JAN. 20, 1849.

DEAR BROTHER.—I suppose that ere this reaches you the excitement in the United States about California will run as high as it now does throughout the Pacific. * * * My partner arrived here on the 10th Nov. and I on 21st and our sales already go above $500,000. The great excitement which prevails in Chili and Peru relative to this gold country is fast displacing those countries of their European population. Every vessel that arrives brings many passengers and reports of everybody else winding up their affairs to join in the rush.

The quantity of goods that is pouring into the country is reducing the prices materially; still, everything is, compared with the original cost, very high. I paid a bill to-day for our table; it ran thus; Butter $1; sausages $1 per pound pork 25 cents; eggs $2 a dozen; milk $1 per bottle; a box of fine salt $2; sperm candles $2 a pound; raisins $1 a pound; common lamp oil $2 a gallon; bottle of mustard (half a pound) $2, &c. &c.

For the little unfurnished one story building in which we stay—dining and sleeping in the same room—we pay $100 per month. Our cook receives $100 per month. My washwoman has consented to do my washing for $6 per dozen. The carpenters employed on our warehouse threaten to leave unless we increase their wages above $8 per day. I paid a cartman this evening $75 for two days' work. You can judge by the quotations the quantity of money that a laboring man can obtain by a little work.

In regard to the gold, every day only adds to the surprise created by previous reports of the quantity to be had. Yesterday morning an Indian showed me a specimen of ore intermixed with a stone, weighing five pounds. He sold it for five hundred dollars! To-day some Oregon farmers, who came down to obtain gold, and remain a month at the mines, offered to sell me 150 pounds of gold, which they had collected. Mr. Brannon, who has the establishment for storing and selling goods at the mines, told me to-day that seven men took from the earth, within one hundred yards of his upper store, thirty-three thousand dollars' worth of gold in four days; and the gold was weighed by a man in his employment.

At the dry diggings $100 per day is paid to cooks.—The general impression is that from 10 to $20,000,000 will be taken from the mines the coming Summer. It would not surprise me at all were it to be ten times that amount. The fact is, that it comes down from the mines by the peck, pure gold!

Land throughout California has gone up to enormous prices. The present week Mr. Cross purchased of Capt. Paty a building lot, say 100 feet square, on which there was an unfinished building, and paid $15,000 for it.—Two years since Capt. Paty gave a barrel of rum for it; or rather took it for a debt due for a barrel of rum. There is no lot of 150 feet square in San Francisco that can be bought for less than $3 to 10,000 dollars. Towns are being laid out in many parts or points on the Bay, and lots are selling at from $50 to $200.

The climate, to persons who have resided in the tropics, is not agreeable, because it occasionally rains, and is at times quite cold; but it is infinitely superior to New England. It has had an astonishing effect on me, and from a sallow looking skeleton (but not ill) I am getting fat, and am running out of my clothes fast. I suppose that in a week or more I shall have to throw them all aside. One thing remarkable in this climate is, that everybody, at all times, has a great appetite.

Lumber is very scarce, and goes off immediately at $150 per thousand, if seasoned; and $100 if green. Fifty ship-loads could be sold immediately. I think the greatest part of the lumber used here will be sent from Boston, for labor is too high, and it is too small business to send lumber in this country. Of all things that are sent out from home, none will be so sure of sale as small frame houses.

At the present, in San Francisco, many are living in tents, although occasionally there is a flight of snow and a plenty of rain. In order to afford the means to introduce the greatest quantity of lumber, Commodore Jones, now here, has licensed a limited number of foreign vessels to engage in a coastwise trade to the Columbia River.

Since my arrival here I have heard from my family at the Sandwich Islands as often as once in ten days; and I hope to continue to, while I am here. At present I do not entertain the idea of sending for them, as it would be quite impossible to make them as comfortable here as where they are, though I am satisfied they would enjoy better health.
