

CLEANINGS OF NEWS

Accounts from the country (in France) represent the celebration of the 24th of February, as highly encouraging to the Republican party. This state of things is tacitly acknowledged by the reactionary journals, who raise the cry of alarm, and call on their party to cease its dissensions and save the country. At several places the processions and crowds were broken up by the military, at others they were prevented altogether, and at a great many the military were kept in their barracks all day, prepared to rally out at a moment's notice. At Lyons the day passed off peacefully, and the shouts of Vive la Republique were enthusiastic. Banquets were forbidden at several of the principal towns, but allowed in Paris.

Great sensation has been lately caused at Florence by an intended duel with pistols between two countesses, in consequence of a political dispute. One of these ladies had taken an active part in the war of Italian independence, and the other was the wife of a distinguished diplomatist. The combatants were on the ground, and the pistols charged, when fortunately their husbands arrived, and put a stop to the affair.

At the last Court ball at Vienna, a lady of noble family refused, with some disdain, to dance with a young officer, decorated with the cross of honor, but not belonging to the noblesse. The Emperor, perceiving what had passed exchanged a few words with his mother, the Arch-duchess Sophia, and approaching the young officer, said, "My mother desires to waltz with you."

At Yeaton, in England, a fine cock, of the silver pheasant breed, being chased by a little boy, turned upon its pursuer, and, seizing him by the nose, struck his spurs into the temple and cheek of the little fellow with such force that one of them was left imbedded in the cheek bone, nearly an inch in depth.

Messrs. Dumond and Caillaud have made propositions to the municipal council of Nantes to regulate all the clocks in that city by means of the galvanic fluid. The council have accepted the offer, and voted a credit of 1000 francs to meet the expenses of the experiment.

The Russian Government has decided that the thousandth anniversary of the foundation of the Russian Empire, which according to the historians of that country, dates from the year 852, shall be celebrated next year with the greatest pomp in all the cities and large towns of the European and Asiatic provinces of Russia.

Charles Stanhope, Earl of Harrington, Viscount Petersham and Baron Harrington, is dead. In his early days he was an intimate companion of George IV, then Prince Regent. His wife was Miss Maria Foote (the celebrated actress), by whom he leaves an only daughter, Lady Jane St. Maur Blanche Stanhope.

The Duke of Brunswick and Mr. Charles Green made a balloon ascent lately, with a view of going to France, but when they had reached Gravesend, the violence of the wind shifted their course, and they were obliged to land. They will make another attempt.

The carnival this year passed off without much spirit. The Roman people are sullen and discontented, and would rather play at sword exercise with their oppressors than to race horses in the Corso. French bayonets are not good provocatives of mirth.

A slight shock of an earthquake was experienced at Calcutta, and a more severe one at Burrissal, on the 8th of January; another was felt at Mooltan and Lahore while the moon was under eclipse, on the 17th.

The French workmen are endeavoring to get up a second World's exhibition, in imitation of that held in London. They offer to pay the expenses by subscription, if the government will allow them.

M. Jules Coutin has left Paris for the United States, charged, by the Minister of Public Works, with the mission of studying the railway system of this country.

M. Napoleon Junot d'Abantes, the eldest of the two sons left by the Marshal, recently died at the age of 43, in an insane asylum.

In the Heathcote divorce case, now pending before the House of Lords, the party criminated is the lady's own brother.

Letters from Paris says "Louis-Napoleon is reported to desire an union with one of Queen Christina's daughters by Munoz."

The French Government has decided to execute a railway round Paris, for the purpose of connecting the termini of the different railways.

Another Arctic expedition has just been fitted out and was to sail from London so as to reach Lancaster Sound by the middle of June.

The Americans in Rome celebrated Washington's birthday by a grand supper, in which some three hundred ladies and gentlemen participated.

The cholera has been raging with great violence at Bombay, 2,500 persons having died in a month.

"SEING THE ELEPHANT"—While Van Amburgh's collection was entering New Haven, not long since, the elephant, completely enveloped in a large blanket, reaching nearly to the ground, was very leisurely engaged in picking up with his proboscis, the end of which was only exposed to view, the scattered straws of hay which were scattered about the streets, observing which, a son of the Emerald Isle, among the bystanders, exclaimed, "Be jabbers, an' what sort o' beast is that, stingin' hay with his tail?"

Debb's says, tailors would make splendid dragons, they charge so.

Rags as true love is, it is less so than the blue ribbon.

AN INVITED GUEST.—Capt. Mosely, one of the French overlords to California expedition, had been staying at Willard's a couple of weeks, and had during that time been excessively annoyed by a particular cabman, and determined to put a stop to it. Accordingly, one day coming out of the hotel, and being accosted, as usual, with "take a ride to-day, sir?" said he would—and he did, for he made the fellow drive him first to the Capitol, then to the War Department, then to the National Hotel, then back to the Capitol, and at last home to his hotel, after some three hours. On stepping out of the cab, he politely asked the driver to take a drink with him, and this exercise being performed, inquired at the office for his letters, and started for his room. As he reached the stairs, the cabman stopped him with— "But you have not paid me?" "Paid you!—for what?" demanded the apparently astounded Mosely. "Why, for the ride."

"Gracious!" exclaimed Mosely.— "Here is a gentleman, who for two successive weeks has had the politeness to ask me to ride, and when to-day I have found an opportunity to accept his polite invitation, asks me to pay for it!"

A loud laugh broke forth from the assembled bystanders; and the cabman, finding himself sold, stood treats and vomited, minus the pay for his three hours' drive.

He never asked Mosely to ride after that.

EXTRAORDINARY LONGEVITY.—Died, at the residence of her son, Dr. McCarthy J. P., in the full enjoyment of her faculties, Helena, relict of Timothy McCarthy Kilfadamer, Esq. This respected lady was born in the year 1750, and had obtained the patriarchal age of 101 years three days before her death. She was married in the year 1766, and gave birth to 18 children, 15 of whom reached mature years and married. She has left 122 grand-children, 144 great-grand-children. Many members of this family are in every quarter of the world, and her two great-grand-children are at this moment emigrants to America. At the lady's death there were therefore 5 generations living. Her mother only died in the year 1827, at the age of 99 years, at which period there were also five generations living. It is not the least extraordinary fact connected with this lady's long life, that an insurance was effected on it in the year 1817. Her eldest child is now living, and in her 82d year.

Married: On Tuesday, the 8th instant, at the residence of Dr. Joseph T. Hawkins, near this town, by the Rev. C. S. Hodges, Mr. JAMES W. MURDOCK, of the parish of Saint Landry, to Miss AZENA DEMARIE, of this parish.

Died: On Wednesday, the 29th ult., at his residence, in this parish, Mr. CHARLES GRAVENBERG, in the 54th year of his age.

COMMUNICATED. THE LATE CHARLES GRAVENBERG.—A sudden calamity has taken from our parish a citizen whose loss will be deeply and widely felt. Mr. Gravenberg had just passed the meridian of life, when, in the full tide of health and spirits, he was struck down by the deadly hand of paralysis. He was riding over his plantation, to supervise the labors of the field, when, being violently attacked, he returned to his house, where he was assisted from his horse and placed upon his bed. His inability to speak indicated but too plainly the alarming nature of the attack, and a messenger was immediately dispatched to St. Martinville for Dr. Landry, who, in connection with Dr. Dungan, used every expedient to arrest the disease and rally the sinking powers of his victim which medical skill, combined with judgment and experience, could suggest. Yet all was unavailing! Paralysis continued to creep slowly yet steadily upon its victim, baffling the most powerful and efficacious remedies, until every faculty was fettered by its iron grasp. How brief, yet how sad, the memorial which records the closing scene in the life of this estimable man! Death approached him as the highwayman approaches at midday the unsuspecting traveller. Charles Gravenberg—the gay, the hospitable, the chivalrous Charles Gravenberg—is no more! Where could be found a man loved by so many warm, zealous, devoted friends? Who has not partaken of his open-hearted hospitality? His friends be looked upon as members of his family, and nothing pleased him more than to see them around him. A kind and indulgent master, an affectionate husband, a devoted father, a true friend—in a word, his eminent social virtues stamped him a good citizen and a worthy man. Peace be with thee and comfort to thy afflicted family, whose grief is sympathized in by thy many friends! A FRIEND.
