A Novel Egg Farm. The Farallone Islands are about 90 miles from the mouth of San Francisco Bay, and they are the home of innumerable sea fowls. When San Francisco first began to be a city, its constant cry was for eggs. To supply the lack of eggs the project of stealing those of the gulls and the muhrs of the Farallone Islands was undertaken, and it proved successful and has ever since been maintained. The birds are too plenty to count or to estimate, as may be inferred from the fact that the egg-gatherers bring in often, or used to gather, 500 dozen in a day; and a great many of the nests are inaccessible, a great many others devastated by the rivalry of the birds themselves, and, of course, a large part of the birds at any one time are not laying. The egg season is from May to August, and, if even 400 dozen is the rate, the harvest would be pretty near 500,000 eggs. The quarreling between the gulls and the muhrs leads to the loss of a good many eggs, which the gulls at every chance destroy. The egg business is conducted by a company, which has the right. It pays egg-gatherers five cents a dozen and sells them in San Francisco at a considerable advance.

Liquid Fertilizer. [Mobile Register.] Some one tells us how to prepare a valuable liquid fertilizer for fruit trees, grape vines, and for garden truck generally. Take twenty pounds of fresh (horse) manure; put in a barrel; fill it with water; let stand for twenty-four hours and it is ready for use; apply with garden watering pot to vines, etc., once or twice a week and you will be surprised at the wonderful growth of plant thus fertilized. It is good for anything. The only limit to its use is the labor in supplying and applying. It is fine on flowers applied once a week. Twenty pounds of manure thus applied will produce better results than a wagon load the usual way. Two ounces of ammonia to one barrel of the liquid will increase its value, and one-quarter of an ounce of carbonate acid (in liquid form) will aid materially in keeping insects from plants, etc. The liquid is in itself good; try it.

MOTHER.—Honor the dear old mother. Time has scattered the snowy flakes on her brow, plowed deep furrows on her cheeks, but is she not sweet and beautiful now? The lips are thin and shrunken, but those are the lips which have kissed many a hot tear from the childish cheeks, and they are the sweetest lips in the world. The eye is dim, yet it glows with the soft radiance of holy love which can never fade. Ah, yes, she is a dear old mother. The sands of life have nearly run out, but feeble as she is, she will go further and reach down lower for you than any other upon earth. You cannot walk into a midnight where she cannot see you; you cannot enter a prison whose bars will keep her out; you cannot mount a scaffold too high for her to reach that she may kiss and bless you in evidence of her depthless love. When the world shall despise and forsake you, when it leaveth you to die by the wayside unnoticed, the dear old mother will gather you in her arms and carry you home and tell you of all your virtues until you almost forget that your soul is disgraced by vices. Love her tenderly, and cheer her declining years with holy devotion.—Exchange.

What the South Should Do. The Gazette, a leading democratic journal, published at Washington, D. C., speaking of the late presidential election, says: "Now, then, what of the future—what of 1884 and the duty of the South? Thrown on her own resources, rejected in her proffers of fraternity by the majority of the Northern people, and taught by repeated lessons that her participation in national elections is the signal not only for rebal abuse and unattested calumny, but for vindictive opposition to the candidate for the Presidency whom she may chance to support, the duty of the South is to retire hereafter from the field of party conventions and party nominations, to preserve her political autonomy intact, to advance her own material and business interests with all the strength and vigor that lie in her condition of homogeneity and political solidity, to establish within her borders, boundedly blessed as she is with the lavished riches of Nature and with a moral and conservative population, an imperium in imperio which shall restore to her wasted energies—wasted by war and unfostered since that war by the National Government—the life which they should exhibit.

"In 1884, therefore, let the South take no part in any party nominating convention, but let her nominate, in each Southern State, good and true men to represent her electoral tickets with instructions to cast their ballots in the Electoral College for that candidate before the Northern people who will promise most for her own interests. In this way the responsibility of nominating candidates will be left to the North alone; the pestilent and offensive cry of 'solid South' will cease to have any force or meaning, and the South, if solid at all, solid only for her own interests, will hold in her hands the balance of power, and will wield it in behalf of the best interests of the country. Let this be the cry for 1884, and the answer of the South to the election of 1880!"

The Size of our Great Lakes. [The Southland.] The latest measurement of our fresh water seas is as follows: The greatest length of Lake Superior is 335 miles; its greatest breadth is 160 miles; mean depth, 608 feet; elevation, 627 feet; area, 82,000 square miles.

The greatest length of Lake Michigan is 300 miles; its greatest breadth is 108 miles; mean depth, 600 feet; elevation, 503 feet; area, 23,000 square miles.

The greatest length of Lake Huron is 200 miles; greatest breadth 160 miles, mean depth, 600 feet; elevation 274 feet, area, 20,000 miles.

The greatest length of Lake Erie is 250 miles; its greatest breadth is 80 miles; its mean depth is 54 feet; elevation, 555 feet; area, 6,000 square miles.

The length of all five is 2,265 miles, covering an area upward of 187,000 square miles.

The Day of Judgment—Is It Not for 1881? [Lutheran and Observer.] 1881. This is a very peculiar number. The sum of its digits is 20. It is divisible by 9 without a remainder. The remaining quotient consists of two prime factors, 11 and 19. It reads the same both ways. If 18 be set under 81 and the two added, the sum is 99. If the 18 be reversed and then added to 81, the sum is 102; the sum of the digits of which is 9. The 102 is also divisible by 9, giving a quotient of 12, which is a second time divisible by 9. If the 81 be reversed and added to 18, the sum is 36, which is also divisible by 9, and the sum of its digits is also 9. But what of it? Add the following considerations before you press an answer. 1. Those who have cultivated the occult sciences have always held the number 9 to be possessed of great significance. 2. Those who have made a study of the numerical symbolism of the scriptures have regarded the number 9 as equally significant. It is "a number of finality or judgment, of creaturely completeness," says Dr. Mahan. And he adds, "It is the factor of all the great dates of judgment—viz: of the flood, the destruction of Sodom, the overthrow of Pharaoh, the captivity, and the final destruction of Jerusalem." As we have seen, it enters in a variety of ways in the 1881. What of it now? Has 1881 a judgment in store for the human race, and what is it?
