

If any of our subscribers have the blues, and would like to create a laugh, let them read "Amateur Gymnastics," in another column, and if their imagination is pretty lively, we'll treat, if the tears don't come out of their eyes by the time that fellow gets into the "dressing room."

The Homestead bill, which has passed the U. S. House of Representatives, provides that any person who is the head of a family or who has arrived at the age of 21 years and is a citizen of the United States or who shall have filed his intention to become such citizen, shall be entitled to enter, free of cost, 160 acres of public lands, upon which such person may have filed a pre-emption claim, or which may, at the time such application is made, be subject to pre-emption, a dollar and a quarter or less per acre, or eighty acres at two dollars and a half per acre. No certificate or patent is to be issued until the expiration of five years of the date of entry, and on payment of ten dollars. Rights are secured to the actual settler to issue to heirs and devisees the lands acquired, which are in no event to become liable for the satisfaction of any debts contracted prior to the issue of the patent.

Rev. Thos. H. Stockton, of Philadelphia, has been elected Chaplain of the Federal House of Representatives. The Cincinnati Commercial says he is a gentleman of the Methodist persuasion, who has soared above creeds, and taken a position so independent of sects, that though a man of a high order of talents, he has been troubled to find a flock, and has for some years devoted a large portion of his time to writing for various periodicals, in the publication of which he was concerned.

LAW OF LOUISIANA REGULATING INTEREST.—The following Act was passed by the late Legislature:

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the State of Louisiana in General Assembly convened: That the owner of any promissory note, bond or written obligation for the payment of money to order, or bearer, or transferable by assignments, shall have the right to collect the whole amount of such promissory notes, bonds, or written obligation, notwithstanding such promissory notes, bonds, or written obligations may include a greater rate of interest or discount than eight per cent. per annum.

Provided, Such obligations shall not bear more than eight per cent. interest per annum after their maturities until paid.

SECTION 2. Be it further enacted, &c. That all laws in conflict with the provisions of this act be and the same are hereby repealed.

IMPORTANCE OF PUBLICITY.—Hunt's Merchants' Magazine for February—one of the best numbers of that excellent work issued—says: "Notoriety or publicity is an indispensable element of success to the merchant, mechanic or manufacturer, who would give a speedy and wide distribution to the commodities and productions which he seeks to exchange for money. He may have capital, skill, convenient position, punctuality, industry and honesty—every possible fitness for his business—and all is nothing, if he have not sufficient notoriety. This notoriety, let it cost more or less, he must purchase or provide for as carefully as he purchases or manufactures his stock. And it must, in extent, bear a certain relation to the business he would do; it must be both positive and comparative. People must not only know him and his business, because otherwise they will not find him; but they must know him, because otherwise they will find and trade with those who are better known. To do a successful and profitable business, a merchant must advertise—no matter what he sells."

MASSACHUSETTS A GOOD PENAL COLONY.—Mr. Bradley (Louisiana) introduced into the House an act for the transportation of all negroes convicted of capital crimes to the State of Massachusetts. If the bill pass, we are in hopes the pulpit blackguards, and John Brown sympathizers generally, will profit by their association with convicted Cuffy. The bill would be more appropriately styled "an act to send missionaries to Boston" to improve the morals and manners of abolition clergymen.

Fire.—We are surprised that any man should dispute with his wife as to which of them should get up and make the fires when they have no servant. The husband should do it, of course. A man who would lie in bed while his wife got up and made the fires, ought to be put to bed in a snowbank, with a lump of ice for a pillow and a northeast wind for a blanket.

AMATEUR GYMNASTICS.

A young "Law Student," a misanthropic dyspeptic, who was induced to "try" gymnastics, sends to the Knickerbocker Magazine some of his "experiences" in that department of physical science.

"I didn't attempt anything for a good while. I sat and calmly surveyed the scene. I saw very little boys, who seemed to be qualifying themselves for the profession of India Rubber men. I saw great strapping men (new comers) attempt and fail in things which fellows whom they could put in their pockets did with ease. I saw feats performed which seemed very hard, and which turned out to be very easy; and feats proved very simple to look at, and 'splitters' to try; and then took off my coat and 'went in.' I pulled up the small weights five or six times; I went along the horizontal ladder and the parallel bars once or twice. I went home and found two fine blisters on my hands next morning. Still I went there the next evening; exercised twice as much as I did before, felt convinced that I was getting along very fast; and lay awake almost all night, my arms ached so.

"I stayed away about a week, and then fell to work again manfully, became acquainted with a young gentleman who 'knew the ropes,' and, under his guidance, I performed many marvelous feats, and also met with more mishaps than I believe anybody ever met with before, in the same space of time.

"Being long and lean, and naturally awkward, everything I learned was ushered in with a disaster or two. But still I persevered, for I now 'slept like a top,' and ate at a rate very alarming to my boarding house. I persevered for two long months, and was still in the full tide of successful experiment, when, on going to the gymnasium at my accustomed hour one evening, I found a brilliant assemblage of beauty, brought together by invitation of the managers, to witness our performances.

"I dispersed myself on the floor some time, until at length my evil genius impelled me to ascend, for the first time, a ladder which ran up one side of the room nearly to the ceiling; then across and down the other side of the room. Under the horizontal part of the ladder was temporarily placed a spring-board, of whose existence I was unaware. I jumped up the ladder with convulsive jerks of the legs, the audience looking on in respectful silence, but when I had reached the middle of the horizontal part, locomotion became impossible. I could neither go backward nor forward, but hung suspended between heaven and earth, like Mohammed's coffin. I squirmed about with my legs, but I could find no rest for the sole of my feet. I could hold on no longer; and as the distance wasn't very great, I determined to drop to the floor as gracefully as possible, and persuade the audience that it was done on purpose. So I let go, and down I came perpendicularly—and up I went flying. I had come down on my feet upon the spring-board.

"My first impression was a chaos; my a cond was that I dropped into the mouth of a cannon just as it was going off. Up I went, like a shuttlecock, almost to the ladder, at which I made a desperate but ineffectual effort to 'claw,' which threw me out of the perpendicular, and down I came, bang, bang! in a sitting posture; up I went again, gathered my legs under me distractedly as I rose; so that when I dropped again, I was shot in a slanting direction, head foremost, as from a catapult, into the waistcoat of a two-hundred pound man, who was looking on in open-mouthed astonishment. Down he went with a 'squelch,' and over him I went, like lightning, into the dressing room! I rushed into my clothes, and out of the building, and have never entered a gymnasium since!"

THE SOUTHERN CONFERENCE.—The Richmond Whig says: The Southern "Conference" scheme was killed very dead in the House of Delegates, on yesterday. The vote was taken at 1 o'clock, and stood 42 for and 99 against sending commissioners to that "conference."

Thus this newly patented Disunion scheme has been sent to the tomb of the Capulets so far as Virginia is concerned. We are rejoiced at the result, and so will be the reflecting and patriotic masses of the people throughout the Commonwealth.

A SLEEP OF THE TONGUE.—On Saturday a young lady entered one of our music-stores, for the purpose of purchasing a piece of music, entitled, "When I sleep I dream of thee;" but by one of those ludicrous mistakes which will sometimes happen in the best of families, she astonished the young gentleman of the store by inquiring if he had the music entitled, "When I dream, I sleep with thee!" This brought a modest blush to the cheek of the fair inquirer—ditto to the young gentleman.—Norfolk Argus.

AN IRISH VALENTINE.—Oh Paddy! swate Paddy! if I was ye'r daddy, I'd kill ye with kisses enterly; if I was ye'r bruther an' likewise ye'r muther, I'd see that ye went to bed early. To feel ye'r swate breath, I would starve me to death, and lay off my hoops altogether; to joost have a taste of ye'r arm on my waste, I'd laugh at the meanest of weather. Dear Paddy, be mine, my own valentine—ye'll find me both gentle and civil; our life we will spend to an illigent end, and care may go dance with the devil.

The following is the published report of the PENNSYLVANIA STATE AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY, on awarding the premiums at the conclusion of their Fair, at Pittsburg, on the 1st of October last:—

"The Committee have given a full opportunity to the exhibitors of several Sewing Machines, to show and explain their several articles, and after a close investigation have concluded, while Singer's Machine for heavy work is equal to any and also an excellent Machine for general use, Grover & Baker's is more simple in its construction, and equal in its ability to perform for general purposes; but without disparaging the merits of either of the above, the Committee feel constrained to award a diploma to the Wheeler & Wilson Machine as being the best for all family purposes.
