The "Excelsior" Bagasse

Furnace.
THE attention of the Sugar Planters is respectfully called to the superior advantages combined in this Furnace, both in principle and mechanical arrangement; the air to support combustion is heated in its central hot air chamber, from whence it is distributed to all parts of the Furnace, where entering in small jets it readily consumes the incandescent bagasse.
It thoroughly mixes and consumes all the gasses where the three exit flues meet in the mixing chamber ere reaching the boilers. There is no grate of any kind nor iron works in its interior.
There is very little slag formed, and the whole Furnace can be cleaned at any hour without stopping. In case of need the whole heat can be turned off from the boilers at any moment.
Its feed apparatus is so constructed that no cold air can get in, neither can any heat or sparks of fire escape at the top, so that there is no danger of fire during its operation.
It works upon different principles to the other Furnaces in use. An examination of its patent drawings, and specifications will at once convince all scientific men that it is founded on the only correct principles.
All intriguements of my patent will be held strictly accountable.
For further information please address the patente.

KETTLE SETTING.

A Labor of Years Reduced to a Few Days.
HAVING been induced by frequent solicitation, to make public the science of Kettle Setting that I practice, I hereby give notice to all persons desiring to acquire a knowledge of the art, that I will give them instructions for the Setting of Kettles, for either wood or coal, on application to me.
My system is based upon principles, the plausibility and correctness of which admit of no contradiction, which are quickly and fully comprehended, and therefore not liable to be easily forgotten.
I have models for five different constructions of Kettles, and designs by which instruction is made easy, and the art soon acquired. Copies of designs or drawings are given to those whom I instruct. All those to whom I teach my system, are also assisted by my services, if required.
Instructions are only given to those who have been three or four years at the business of Kettle Setting, and are good workmen.

For further particulars, inquire, by letter or otherwise, of the undersigned.

THE TUTTLE HOUSE.

The undersigned proprietor deems it expedient to inform the TRAV-ELLING PUBLIC in particular, as well as Regular Boarders, that the above House—which has been established about two years, more as a Private Boarding House than a Hotel—has lately, by the advice of friends and the urgent demands of the public, been extended to a depth as great as its former length, and now presents, in the extent and style of its accommodations, the characteristics of a first class Hotel, second to no other in the country pariah, to which he invites the attention of all requiring accommodations of the character which may be expected at a first class Hotel.

The TUTTLE HOUSE is most eligibly situated, both for the convenience of Travellers and the Business Community. It is situated on the corner of Bank and Plaquemine streets, opposite the steamboat landing, and immediately on a line with the late Planters' (Bissell's) Hotel, and about one hundred yards distant from the river.
In front of the House there is a handsome por-tico, above and below, an extensive Reading and Reception Room, in which there is one of the best Saloons for the preservation of valuables, anywhere to be found—a delightful Dining Room and Bed Rooms, that cannot be excelled; in front and partly around the house there is a yard of fine green sward, most delightful for children.

In fine, the undersigned is confident that Travellers and others will find at the TUTTLE HOUSE, every comfort and attention that could be expected at Hotels of the highest reputation, and at prices that cannot fail to be acceptable.

The late improvements being now almost completed, with an entire new outfit of Furniture, Bedding, &c., the TUTTLE HOUSE is confidently thrown open to the public as a first class hotel, to which the undersigned respectfully invites all who desire quiet and elegant accommodations.
