TO THE PUBLIC.
I have been opening during the past week my complete stock of

Fall and Winter Goods, as fine and nice as they have ever been brought to this market. Give me a call and see my goods before purchasing elsewhere. Change your eyes.—Cashmere Robes of the latest styles from 6 to 8 dollars a piece. Cloaks and Mantillas from $1 50 to $50 a piece. Shawls at all prices. French Caico Robes of the best manufacture. Silk Robes double skirts and with 11 bouffes. Also plain Silks Valenciennes Laces and Collars and Sleeves. Ladies and Children's Shoes, a large stock, fine and cheaper than was ever offered to the public.—Also I have received a large addition to the Millinery Goods. Fine Silk and Straw Bonnets and Ribbons. Examine the stock of LEOPOLD KAHN.

ALLEN'S Improved Stubble Shaver.
A number of the above important article, so useful in facilitating the culture of the sugar cane,—invented by J. ALLEN, and perfected by the undersigned—has been manufactured and is now on hand for sale in New Orleans by GEO. W. SISER, corner of Camp and Poydras, Agent for the sale of the machine in that city.

The undersigned has upwards of twenty certificates from the best planters in Louisiana, who have witnessed the operations of the Stubble Shaver in various soils; and there can be no question of the fact that it meets—and fully meets—all the requirements and desiderata that could be desired or desired for performing cleanly, neatly and perfectly the work for which it was invented to perform, and in which performance it does the labor of at least fifteen hands with the hoe! It will also shave from 25 to 50 acres without sharpening. The price asked for them will be found to be surprisingly small considering the price paid for their manufacture. Planters wanting the Stubble Shaver will please address GEO. W. SISER, New Orleans or to oct 13 A. ST. DIZIER, Plaquemine.

J. B. SOLARI HAS just returned from New Orleans, bringing a large and well assorted stock of

ORGANIZING IN NEW ORLEANS.
South Carolina and the Blue Cockade Endorsed and Upheld.

Enrolling of Minute-Men!
We perceive by the Delta that a large and animated meeting was held in New Orleans on Saturday night last, at Armory Hall, "irrespective of party," of which Dr. G. W. Nott was President, with a large number of Vice Presidents.

We make a synopsis of the above journal's remarks, to show the sentiment that prevailed:

H. H. Chalmers, Dr. G. W. Austin, J. M. Bonner, Maj. W. C. Capers, Judge Cotton, J. J. Michel, H. St. Paul, Dr. McFarland and R. M. Hunter addressed the meeting.

Mr. Chalmers said he was no longer a party man—he was a Southern man. We judge by this he must have been either a Bell man or a Douglas man.

Mr. Michel asked if we should submit to our enemies or resist them? "Resist till death!" was the wild response. Dr. Austin preferred quick action in the hour of danger. Southern men should unite as one man in a crisis like this. A southern sentiment should govern us truly. Loud cheering.

Maj. Capers said he had been a Bell man, but now he knew no party but the South.

Mr. Hunter called upon all men to forget their differences, and co-operate in the common cause of the south.

Judge Cotton was not for waiting for an overt act, not even submitting to the inauguration of Lincoln. He was for inquiring into the business of all strangers found amongst us.

Capt. St. Paul spoke with great earnestness. His Company, the "First Chasseurs a Pied," had tendered their services to the Governor. It was composed of young men, but they were willing to shed their blood for their country. Great cheering.

Mr. Bonner said he had been a Douglas man; but when the State elections from Pennsylvania and Indiana came, he was a southern man. It was an occasion for all men to come forward and enroll themselves under the banner of the south.

A sample of the Blue Cockade was shown, and every person desirous of wearing one, as an evidence of their determination to stand by southern right and southern integrity, was told that they could get one next day at the Armory Hall. 3000 persons enrolled their names in less than two hours.

A resolution was adopted, calling the organization "The Southern Rights Association of the State of Louisiana."

The following memorial to the Governor was adopted, and signed by about 300 persons:

To his Excellency, T. O. Moore, Governor of the State of Louisiana:
The undersigned, your memorialists, citizens of New Orleans, and of the State of Louisiana, deeply impressed with the conviction that the result of the recent election for President of the United States, in elevating a Black Republican to that high office, is evidence of a deep-seated hostility on the part of the North, towards our State in common with the other States of the South; and in view of the fact that many of our sister States are taking counsel through their Legislatures as to what shall be done in this emergency, would respectfully request your Excellency to convene the Legislature of our State at as early a day as practicable, to take such measures as they may deem necessary and proper to vindicate and secure our rights.

The following constitution of the organization was unanimously adopted:

Whereas, It is certain that an Abolition candidate will be elected to the Chief Magistracy of the Union, upon
