ALLEN'S Improved Stubble Shaver.
A number of the above important article, so useful in facilitating the culture of the sugar cane, invented by J. ALLEN, and perfected by the undersigned—has been manufactured and is now on hand for sale in New Orleans by GEO. W. SISER, corner of Canal and Poydras, Agent for the sale of the machine in that city.

The undersigned has upwards of twenty certificates from the best planters in Louisiana, who have witnessed the operations of the Stubble Shaver in various soils; and there can be no questions of the fact that it meets—and fully meets—all the requirements and desiderata that could be needed or desired for performing cleanly, neatly and perfectly the work for which it was invented to perform, and in which performance it does the labor of at least fifteen hands with the hoe! It will also shave from 25 to 50 acres without sharpening. The price asked for them will be found to be surprisingly small considering the price paid for their manufacture.

Planters wanting the Stubble Shaver will please address GEO. W. SISER, New Orleans or to oct 13 A. ST. DIZIER, Plaquemine: Or to J. McWILLIAMS.
