WIT AND HUMOR.

A girl that has lost her beau may as well hang up her fiddle.
Uneasy is the head that wears a wig, the gale of wind.
A punster says: "My name is Somerset. I am a miserable bachelor. I can't marry; for how could I prevail on a young lady possessed of the slightest notion of delicacy to turn a Somerset?"
HEAVY GALE.—A Western chap in describing a gale of wind, says that a white dog, while attempting to weather the gale, was caught with his mouth wide open, and turned completely inside out.
VICES AND NOSES.—Many persons are led by vices as there are many who are led by their noses; but there are a far greater number who follow both without any leading at all.
DEFINITIONS.—Husband—A person who writes checks and dresses as his wife directs. Marriage—The only habit to which women are constant. Wrinkle—The first thing one lady sees in another's face.
A gentleman having been asked on his return from a party the other evening, if he had seen Miss A., a young lady noted for her low-necked style of dress, replied, he "had seen a good deal of her."
Many ladies like Newport, the watering place, but as for us, we like Old Port, without the watering.
A toast for any celebration:—"Woman! she requires no eulogy; she speaks for herself."
May we be delivered from the society of a masculine woman or a feminine man.
"The editor is not at home," said the printer's devil; "so if you want to whip him you must call again."
Woman—To her virtue we give love, to her beauty admiration, and to her hoops the whole pavement and more too.
Why is Fortness Monroe like the House of Lords? Because it contains the first talents of the nation.
Why is a restless sleeper like a lawyer? Because he lies on one side, and turns and lies on the other.
The way to a man's heart is down his throat.
A chaplain was once preaching to a class of collegians about the formation of habits. "Gentleman," said he, "close your ears against bad discourse." The students immediately clapped their hands to their ears.
Aunt Betsy has said many good things, and among the rest, that a newspaper is like a wife, because every man should have one of his own.
It is a popular delusion to believe that powder on a lady's face has the same effect as in the pan of a musket, and assists her to "go off."
Said a certain individual to a wag: "The man who has raised a cabbage-head has done more good than all the metaphysicians in the world!" "Then," replied the wag, "your mother ought to have the premium."
If you want to get a favor of a man, feed him. A man, like a horse, cannot be managed until he has had a bit in his mouth.
"Madam," said a gentleman to his wife, "let me tell you facts are very stubborn things." "Dear me, you don't say so?" quoth the lady, "what a fact you must be."
An editor, in Arkansas, was lately shot in an affray. Luckily the ball came against a bundle of unpaid bills. The bullet couldn't go through by a long shot!
At a printer's festival lately, the following toast was offered: "Woman—second only to the press in the dissemination of news!"
A lady in the book store of Messrs. Ticknor & Fields, Boston, saw a copy of Every Saturday, on the table, and inquired of one of the clerks if it was published monthly or semi-monthly. She must be the same person who asked the Siamese Twins if they were brothers.
A bachelor editor, sensitive in relation to his rights, objects to taking a wife through fear that if she should have a baby, his cotemporary, who habitually copy without credit, would refuse to give him credit for the baby.
The best toast of the season was, we believe, given by a typo, a short time since, viz.: "Woman—the edition is large, and no man should be without a copy."
To Revive Faded Black Cloths.—Boil two or three ounces of logwood in vinegar, and when the color is extracted, drop in a piece of carbonate of iron, which is of the same nature as rust of iron, as large as a chestnut; let it boil. Have the coat or pantaloons well sponged with soap and hot water, laying them on a table, and brush the nap down with a sponge. Then take the dye upon the table and sponge them all over with the dye, taking care to keep them smooth and to brush downward. When completely wet with dye, dissolve a teaspoonful of saleratus in warm water, and sponge all over with this, and it sets the color so completely that nothing rubs off. They must not be wrung or wrinkled, but carefully hung up to drain. The brownest cloth may be made a perfect black in this simple manner.
To keep Beds well Aired.—Nothing is more necessary than to fill a large stone bottle with boiling water, and to put it into the bed, which, with the bolster and pillows, should be pressed round it in a heap. It is astonishing the number of hours it will be found warm. By this simple contrivance no one need fear giving a friend a "damp bed," even if it is only done once a fortnight. Care must be taken to have the bottle well corked, and to prevent accidents, it would be as well to tie it down.

Soda Biscuit—Into one quart of flour put a spoonful of lard, one teaspoon of soda, and a little salt; knead out a stiff dough—the more they are kneaded the better they will be, but mind have it soft—roll out and cut in small cakes, about half an inch thick. Bake quickly in a hot oven.
Doughnuts.—Warm a pint of new milk, put into it a cup of white sugar. Pat it to sponge; in the morning knead it up. Let it rise; roll out thin, cut it whatever shape you fancy; let them lie on the table about an hour, then boil in lard, and sprinkle with sugar while hot. U. S. S.
Celery Sauce for boiled Potatoes.—Wash the stalks, and cut them into thin slices about two inches long. Stew them till tender in a little weak gravy or water. Season them with powdered mace, pepper and salt; then add the juice of a lemon, and thicken with a small piece of butter which has been kneaded in flour.
Corn Oysters.—One pint of grated corn, one egg, one teaspoonful of salt, one tea spoonful of pepper; flour sufficient to make a thin batter; drop into fat and fry like fritters. If the corn is dry, add a little milk to it.
Bread Dumplings.—Roll out some light bread dough, cut into small cakes, let them remain on the table about an hour, then put them into boiling water and let them boil half an hour. Serve hot; to be eaten with sugar and cream.
A Nice Dish for Tea.—Pour boiling water on crackers; cover them; in a short time they will swell and become soft. Boil some milk; add one egg, a little butter and salt; take the crackers out of the water and pour the milk over them.

Founder in Horses.
To the Editors of the N. Y. Day-Book:
The chest founder is produced by violent exercise on a full stomach and drinking large quantities of cold water, by the use of mouldy corn, oats, etc., or by eating large quantities of green food while performing hard work. The seat of the disease is in the lungs. The heart and liver are also considerably enlarged, insomuch that there is not room for them to perform their office with ease. The liver, lungs, diaphragm and surrounding parts are all covered with large brown spots, and are much inflamed. Symptoms—A horse that is chest (body) founder will straddle with his fore-legs, showing an unwillingness to bring his feet together, and if they are placed near each other, he will not permit them to remain so for a minute; indeed, they are frequently eighteen inches apart, which is caused by a fullness and continual uneasiness about the chest, the cavity being too small to contain the lungs, etc., in their enlarged situation with ease. The hind legs are free from the palsied appearance of those before, and it is not difficult to distinguish it from a common founder, as it is wanting in all its symptoms except the stiff and benumbed appearance of the legs. Large bleedings should be resorted to, and a tablespoonful of powdered alum, mixed with a quarter ounce of Barbadoes aloes given internally will generally effect a cure. All the readers of the Day-Book who wish more information on the disease of horses, are earnestly requested to send to me.

THE MOST PROFITABLE SHEEP FOR WOOL.—At the Ohio Wool Growers' Convention, held at Columbus during the late State Fair, a resolution was passed declaring "the Improved American Spanish Merino the most profitable for wool growers to raise." The following account of the discussion we take from the Ohio Farmer: Mr. Sears, of Medina, offered a resolution to the effect that the interests of the wool growers would be better promoted by encouraging the growth of wool, instead of oil and gum. Mr. Harris, of Cleveland, moved to amend by saying that such interest will be best promoted by the growth of such fleeces as will yield the most clean wool in proportion to the cost of production. After some little discussion as to the bearings of these several propositions, Hon. S. Lahm, of Stark county, moved that the Improved American Spanish Merino is the most profitable for wool growers to raise. An exciting discussion followed, in which Hon. T. C. Jones said that the adoption of such a resolution would be in effect to vote all other sheep out of the catalogue, when it is well known that the mutton breeds are in profitable demand. Some person remarked that we were talking about wool, to which Judge Jones replied that we could not raise wool without raising sheep. Mr. Lahm thought the most money was in the Merino, and that should determine the question. After further talk, which brought out no new ideas on the subject, a vote was taken, and the resolution of Mr. Lahm was declared adopted. A statement of facts, showing the amount of wool required to produce a hundred pounds of scoured wool, with the price manufacturers will pay for it, would be more satisfactory than a dozen resolutions.

All former students are invited to review their studies free of charge.
The South must now educate her sons practically if she would develop her vast resources of wealth, which are much more numerous than those of Brazil. We have ample arrangements for 500 students during the current year. Parents can make liberal conditions for their sons if they apply soon. Those from the country can board with good families, speaking English, French, Spanish or German, at moderate rates.
A Business Education, that enables one to earn $2000 or $3000 annually, is the best fortune parents can give their sons. As the College has been in successful operation for more than a quarter of a century and the practical plan here pursued, received the unanimous commendations of the Press and business community, and as several of its former students are now in business in this city and over the country, it is deemed useless to go into an explanation of the plan or merits of the Institution.
So far as known, not one of the many thousands of former students is now out of employment, and so far as known, not one in a thousand of those who have been sent for years to Europe or the North, is qualified on returning home to enter a business house, although thousands of dollars have been expended on his education.
A word to the wise is sufficient.
The city is now healthy. Persons from 10 to 50 years of age attend such branches as they may wish. By having a special Professor for each branch three-fourths of the students' time is saved. Students intended for this College should bring this circular or special direction, as every winter there are temporary establishments opened. Young students should put their funds in the hands of their merchant, or the President of the College. Citizens and strangers are invited to call.
