Our Candidates.

We this day present, at our mast-head, the names of our candidates for President and Vice President. In doing so we feel the proudest satisfaction in being able to say that they meet with our entire approbation, and as far as we have been able to hear, with the entire approbation of the great Whig party.

Stroudsburg Academy.

We are requested to state that the second quarter of the Summer session of this Institute will commence, Thursday, July 1st. During the last quarter it has been very respectably patronized, and we believe Mr. VAIL has given general satisfaction. We are confident that the Academy will afford good advantages under his tutorage, and will be every way worthy of the patronage of our citizens.—There is not a citizen in this place who is not interested in the prosperity of a good school in our midst, and we hope to see the Academy liberally supported.

The MASSACHUSETTS TEACHER, for June, shows us that this Magazine has not degenerated from the high ground it has occupied. Education is one of the absorbing topics of our day, and every one should consider it his duty as well as privilege to be well informed about it. And in no way can this be better accomplished than by reading educational journals.

The OHIO JOURNAL OF EDUCATION, Published monthly under the auspices of the "Ohio State Teachers Association." This is the title of a Magazine, the June number of which we have received. It is an excellent work, devoted to a noble cause, much talked of but little understood, and we wish it success. Terms one dollar a year. Address Lorin Andrews, Columbus, Ohio.

GODEY'S LADY'S BOOK, for July, is a beautiful double number, with four full pages of engravings, and a number of handsome illustrations, by Hinckley, and others. It is a number which will be particularly interesting to our readers.

Whig State Convention. Philadelphia, June 19, 1852. This body met in Philadelphia on Saturday to nominate a candidate for Judge of the Supreme Court, in place of Richard Candler, deceased, and organized by appointing David Leach, of Armstrong, President, J. W. Killinger, of Lebanon, Secretary. After two unsuccessful ballots, the convention adjourned until Monday at twelve o'clock.

Monday, June 12, 1852. The convention re-assembled to-day at noon, and nominated Hon. JOSEPH BUFFINGTON, of Armstrong, for Judge of the Supreme Court. Mr. B. is one of the ablest lawyers in Western Pennsylvania. He is also a very popular man and received a tie vote with Judge Jessup, for a similar nomination, in the convention held at Lancaster, last year.

A run was made on the Farmers' Bank of Schuylkill Haven, Pa., on Saturday week, in consequence of a report of its failure, but it promptly met all its demands. The Free Soil Nomination.—The Anti-Slavery Central Committee, of Massachusetts, have put forth the following names for candidates of the Free-Soil party, whose Convention will be held at Cleveland, Ohio, on the fourth of August next. For President, John P. Hale, of New Hampshire, for Vice-President, Cassius M. Clay, of Kentucky.

From the N. Y. Tribune.
Scott is Nominated!
With no ordinary satisfaction do we this morning give to the breeze the Whig banner inscribed with the names of WINFIELD SCOTT for President and WILLIAM A. GRAHAM for vice-President of the United States. They are both men whose capacity has been proved, whose integrity is undoubted, and will bring to the stations whereto the People are about to call them the dignity which reposes in transcendent Virtue and Patriotism.

WINFIELD SCOTT has been for more than forty years devoted to the service of his country. Born in Virginia, June 13, 1786, he was educated for the law, admitted to the bar in 1806, and the next summer volunteered in a troop of horse raised in Petersburg, on a call of President Jefferson, to protect the coast of the Chesapeake after the shameful affair of the Leopard. The next May, 1808, the Army being enlarged, he was appointed a Captain of Light Artillery, and has ever since served his country as a soldier with ever-increasing renown, until his fame is now commensurate with the civilized world. No fields were more warmly contested, no laurels more proudly won, than those wherewith the name of WINFIELD SCOTT is indissolubly blended. They need not be named—the Country knows them by heart.

But Winfield Scott is not merely nor mainly distinguished as a warrior. He has served with equal emicence as a minister and preserver of Peace. The deplorable Removal of the wronged and outraged Cherokees was conducted by him with a kindness, consideration, humanity and patience which prevented the effusion of blood, which else was inevitable, and which would have deepened and darkened the stain of perfidy which that enforced Removal cast upon our National Honor. In the winter of 1832-3, he commanded the U. S. forces in Charleston Harbor during the crisis of Nullification, when one rash, irritating word from him, would probably have deluged South Carolina in blood, and might have led to the dissolution of the Union. His calmness, firmness and discretion elicited universal approbation. During the "Patriot" troubles on the Canadian frontier, and again when the Boundary dispute between Maine and New-Brunswick threatened to plunge the two greatest free Nations into interminable butchery, Scott was placed in immediate command, and succeeded in preventing bloodshed and restoring tranquility and harmony. His bearing, his efforts and his success on these occasions elicited the following emphatic eulogium from the heart and pen of the illustrious DR. CHANNING, in his preface to his Lecture on War, delivered in the year 1838:

"Much also, is due to the beneficent influence of Gen. Scott. To this distinguished man belongs the rare honor of uniting with military energy and daring, the spirit of a philanthropist. His exploits in the field, which placed him in the first rank of soldiers, have been obscured by the purer and more lasting glory of a pacificator, and a friend of mankind. In the whole history of the intercourse of civilized communities, we doubt whether a brighter page can be found than that which records his agency in the removal of the Cherokees. As far as the wrongs done to this race can be atoned for, Gen. Scott has made the expiation. In his recent mission to the disturbed borders of our country, he has succeeded, not so much by policy as by the nobleness and generosity of his character, by moral influence, by the earnest conviction with which he has enforced on all, with whom he had to do, the obligations of patriotism, justice, humanity and religion. It would not be easy to find among us a man who has won a purer fame; and I would do something, no matter how little, to hasten the time when the spirit of Christian humanity shall be accounted an essential attribute and the brightest ornament in a public man."

So in the War with Mexico—he did not merely conquer those he was sent to fight—he won their esteem and admiration. While this country resounded with his victories, Mexico thought only of his humanity, his stern repression of armed license, his protection of the conquered people, and his constant anxiety for peace.—If Mexico were now a part of the Union, her conqueror as he was, he would receive the vote of all her States. Could anything more thoroughly attest his wisdom as a ruler or his worth as a man?

WILLIAM A. GRAHAM was first known to the Nation in 1841, when he was chosen to fill a vacancy in the U. S. Senate, and served through the memorable twenty-seventh Congress. He was not re-elected, because the Legislature of 1842-3 was adverse of politics. In the vehement struggle of 1844, he was chosen by the Whigs to breast the shock of Texas issue as their candidate for Governor, and carried the State over an able and popular opponent by 3,153 majority on a larger vote than was ever before polled. He was re-elected in 1846 by 7,859 majority, and declined a third term, retiring to private life. In 1850, on the accession of Mr. Fillmore, he was called into the Cabinet, to fill the post of Secretary of the Navy, which he still holds. He had already been indicated by the entire Whig party of North Carolina, through almost or quite every journal and public meeting, as their emphatic choice for Vice President, to which place the National Convention has just called him.

Whigs! This ticket can be elected, and shall be! See to it all of you!
The Ohio Statesman says, Gen. Pierce was a soldier in the war of 1812. As he was then but ten years old, an old volunteer suggests that he must have been attached to the infant-ry.

We copy the following from Thompson's Bank Note Reporter—post it up.
A FRAUDULENT AFFAIR.

Refuse all notes answering to the above description, no matter on what bank, or of what denomination they may appear. They have already been altered to a number of banks.

MORE COUNTERFEIT MONEY.—On Friday the 11th inst., two men were arrested and brought into our borough upon charges of passing counterfeit bills of the Commercial Bank of Philadelphia. They gave respectively the names of George Wagner and John Hamilton. The first named was discharged from custody on Saturday morning in consequence of a want of sufficient evidence to hold him for trial, with the wise saying of 'Go and sin no more' ringing in his ears. The main circumstance against him was his intimacy with the other man, who is lying in Jail awaiting trial.—Carbon Co., Gazette.

The defeat of Mr. BUCHANAN is a great triumph to his enemies in Pennsylvania. The threat made in the State Convention at Harrisburg, was not without meaning. His enemies declared that they would pursue him to the National Convention—and faithfully have they wreaked their vengeance! Buchanan has fallen! He lies prostrate at the foot of his adversaries, a victim to the parrioidal hands of Pennsylvania Democrats!

A letter from a distinguished Free Soiler, at Washington, says:—"Mr. Chase and myself will oppose Pierce and King in Ohio—and we have no doubt he will lose that State."

If you wish to re-fasten the loose handles of knives and forks, make your cement of common brick-dust and rosin, melted together. Seal engravers under this receipt.

Potatoes.—The Boston Herald says the planting season is over, and a vast stock of old potatoes remain on hand. They may be bought now, in that city, at from thirty-five to forty cents a bushel.
