historico mornia con-Dwned In Turn by Goldsmith, Garrick, Dr. Johnson and Burke.

The famous literary society of Lonion called the Savage club has tradifonal connection with Will's coffeeouse and the Mermaid tavern of eary days. The reader of Mr. Watson's rolume of history and anecdote relathg to the club will come across in its sages incidental mention of things that recall names that are famous in our Sterature. How rich in associations a simple drinking cup may become is thown by the following:

In 1902 there was brought to the tlub a most remarkable relic of which the lord mayor of London had recently obtained possession. This was a lov ng cup holding a pint or a little more which, as certain inscriptions testified was at one time the property of Olive: Soldsmith. On Goldsmith's death i passed into the hands of David Gar fick and thence to the possession o me of the literary and artistic club-of the day. Then after an interval it passed int Dr. Johnson's hands, for one of the in eriptions engraved on its silver ri: secords that it was presented to Burl by his friend Samuel Johnson, docte of letters, as a memento of Johnson risit to Benconsfield, which wa Burke's home. The date of the presmtation was 1770, five years after the leath of Goldsmith and five before the leath of Johnson.

FINANCIAL NOTES

Latest estimates of the December quarter's caruings of the United States steel company, which will be announced Jan. 24, place them at $25,000,000 to $25,500,000. Before the sharp curtailment in production which became effective about the middle of December the estimates ran as high as $32,600,000.

Some copper authorities are now con-templating the possibility of an increase in the domestic stocks of refined copper. They fear this result unless there is a de-cided improvement in the demand from domestic consumers of the metal during the current menth. One of the discourag-ing features of the situation from the standpoint of the sellers of copper ingots is the heavy offerings of copper wire at radical concessions in price. These are to per ib below the card in some instances.

It is stated that the United States rub-ber company during the nine months to Dec. 31 booked the largest volume of rub-ber boot and shoe orders of any similar period in its history. The excess over the corresponding period of a year ago was about 20 per cent.

Gross sales of Sears, Roebuck & Co. in 1910 are understood to have been close to $63,800,000. This compares with a little more than $51,000,000 in 1909, an increase of about $12,800,000, or about 25 per cent. The aggregate earnings of the express companies in the United States in the year ended June 30, 1909, as shown in a re-port just issued by the interstate com-mere commission, were as follows:

Total receipts from operation. $132,509,190
Express privilege debit. 64,032,127
Total operating revenues. 68,587,064
Total operating expenses. 56,273,055 lying conditions, but there is no use deny-ing character of buying last few days has been better than in many weeks. Should been better than in many weeks. Should the outside inquiry increase to an extent that would enable new financing to be conducted on a broad scale the corporate outlook would then be somewhat more promising and in that connection it may be well to bear in mind that the prospects for placing the New York City bond issue on satisfactory basis is very good.

Realizing may induce irregularity, but we are inclined to think that the upward movement will extend somewhat further with trade showing a tendency to drift towards specialties. On recessions would make moderate purchases, employing the towards specialties. On recessions would make moderate purchases, employing the se of safeguards.

J. S. Bache, New York, says: Reading, Steel and Union Pacific will possibly be the leaders again in our market. The the leaders again in our market. The heavy gain in cash has disconcerted the bears completely. Short interests uncov-ered thought to be quite large.

GRAIN GOSSIP

Chicago car lot receipts Saturday: Wheat, 24, nine cars grading contract. Corn, 534; one car was contract. Oats, 217 cars; 127 contract. Receipts a year ago: Wheat, 36; corn, 265; oats, $8.

Northwest wheat receipts Saturday: Minnenpolis, 209 cars; last year, 302. Duluth, 52 cars; last year, 62. Winnipeg, 29 cars; last year, 111. Total, 380 cars, as compared with 475 ars a year ago.

Millers and flour dealers in general are reporting a very disappointing business. This is particularly true of the northwest, where millers agree that the bulge in wheat has failed to bring in any new demand. Extremely dull trade was reported in the southwest.

Bradstreet's reports weekly clearances of wheat and flour as wheat from United States and Canada as follows:

It is the gossip in speculative circles around the Chicago board of trade that the big holding of May corn is now centered largely with a coterie of eastern traders, some of them cotton specialists, who make their headquarters with the Hutton house in New York. Livermore, of whom little has been heard in the last of whom little has been heard in the last few months, is, according to the gossips, at the head of the eastern long interest. Corn specialists in the pit are of the opinion that the Armour grain company holdings have been vastly reduced in the last week and that the corn sold as a hedge against country purchases has landed mainly with the eastern speculators.

Logan-Bryan, Chicago, wired A. W. Thomson company: Cash wheat is in a strong position at all outside markets and cheaper here than in other winter wheat cheaper here than in other winter wheat centers. The much lighter primary receipts will give us builtish statistics soon if they continue. After this week it is claimed many country elevators in the spring wheat states will be clossed, especially in North Dakota, where the supply is reported well cleaned up. Some Gossip From Berlin Berlin of considerable merit, and the

BY STEVEN BURNETT.

Berlin, Jan. 14.-The kaiser's brother, Prince Henry of Prussia, whole of Italy by defending himself in and oft expressed admiration of the press as the greatest education force of the age, has suddenly got into a grounds in demonstration of his real he earnestly desires his liberation not scrap with the local press of Kiel, where the prince resides with his family, since he retired from active naval

The Prince, however, appears to be an ardent supporter of this kind of socialistic undertaking, for during a recent performance he sent for one of the newspaper critics and remonstrated with him for his hostility to it. The two leading organs of Kiel have now united in an attack on the prince, whom they accuse of improperly atempting to interfere with their freedom of criticism.

Berlin is rather alarmed at the constant rumors of the danger of an impending war between China and Japan. The first rumors to this effect reached here via St. Petersburg just after Christmas, but did not find much credence, as the Russian paper whose Vladivostock correspondent started them is pronouncedly anti-Japanese. German consular reports from the far east which have just arrived here, however, rather confirm the rumors, stating that both powers display feverish military activity and at Peking it is generally thought that the coming spring will see the outbreak of a war in which the United States is expected to take sides with China, in the hope of breaking the power of Japan, which has become a menace to American interests in the Pacific.

The personal influence of the kaiser added to the strenuous efforts of the minister of education has succeeded in restoring at least a semblance of peace in the philosophical faculty of the Berlin university. Obeying an imperial dictum the two professors, Sering and Bernhard, some days ago each issued statements which apparently satisfied the other part, though Bernhard seemed to have had rather the best of the quarrel.

Those who are more intimately acquainted with university affairs assert, however, that the reconciliation affects only the academic issues and that the personal questions still remain unsettled, and that there is therefore a strong possibility of the two hot headed "philosophical" minds agreeing as to the terms on which they are prepared to shed one another's blood.

According to figures just published the officail Socialistic press of Germany now consists of seventy-eight papers, with an aggregate of 1,160,000 subscribess. In 1904 the latter number was 600,000, so that it has nearly doubled in six years.

"Many persons in the street," alleged the police, "have complained that the Venus was undraped. If Herr Goeben will drape it, it may remain." As nearly every new house in Berlin has mere than one undraped statue on its facade, this judgment is likely to have far reaching consequences.

Prof. Karl Roechling has, with the Kaiser's permission, painted for the officers' convalescent home, near Wieshaden, a representation of the Kaiser burning himself in tasting a bowl of soup as served to the troops on manouvers.

According to the "Mittagszeitung," the incident actually occurred. The Kaiser, as usual, insisted on tasting the rations and burned his mouth: whereupon the monarch observed in Broad Berlin dialect: "Ah! William. thou hast properly burned thy mug (schnauze) again."

The popular hero of the day in Italy is beyond doubt the notorious Sicilian brigand Salomone, who has now served five years of his life sentence for murder. Altogether this remarkable man has over a dozen assassinations to his discredit. Under other circumstances and in
