SOME TIME.

Some time we're going to do a kindly deed,
Or speak a helpful word to some lone heart;
Some time we're going to plant the living seed
In soil where it will thrive and do its part.
Some time we'll stoop to help a weary soul
Which staggers underneath a heavy load;
Some time we'll pause, while rushing toward the goal,
To aid a brother on the rocky road.
Some time glad eyes will speak the love they bear
Because of favors which were ours to show;
Some time in life's long day we'll gladly share
The little blessings which are ours to know.
Some time we're going to stop the ceaseless grind—
This everlasting hurry-life we live,
And be more loving, tender, true and kind,
More thoughtful and more ready to forgive.
Some time we'll cease to fret at little cares,
And put away our foolish, timid fears;
We will not look for pitfalls or for snares,
We'll speak no gossip for our neighbor's ears.
Some time we'll only see the good in men,
Be blind to all the worthless and the bad,
And recollect our own weak faults, and then
Just strive to make the whole world bright and glad.

TO GIVE DINNER.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lantz, who are now in the east on their honeymoon, will upon their return to this city give a dinner at their newly appointed home in South A street, as a courtesy to Miss Mildred Gaar and Mr. Julian Cates. The affair will be given Tuesday evening, November the twenty-first.

HAS RETURNED.

Mr. Howard Rice of the Wayne Apartment, has returned from an extended western trip.

IS IMPROVED.

Mrs. Ben Barrell who has been quite ill at the Reid Memorial Hospital is much improved.

LARGE PARTY.

A most delightful social event for Friday evening was the party arranged for by the members of the social committee of the Elks lodge and which was held at the club house in North Eighth street. Whist was played at twenty-one tables. The favors were given to Mrs. Edward Spencer and Mr. Louis Kluter. For those who did not care to play bridge, dancing was participated in. Piano, drums and violin furnished the dance music. Dancing was enjoyed until about one thirty o'clock. Refreshments were served during the evening. The affair last evening was in charge of Mr. Myron Malby and Professor F. L. Torrence.

The guests included members of the lodge with their wives and lady friends. The committee will give another party of this kind, Friday evening November the twenty-fourth.

ORGANIZED CLUB.

An evening bridge club has just been organized and the members are arranging for the first meeting which will probably be held either Tuesday or Friday evening of next week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gilbert in North Fifteenth street. COLDS VANISH

Quick, Sensible Method That Doesn't Upset the Stomach.

Have you heard of the overnight cold cure that is putting colds in the head and chest out of business between sunset and daybreak.

Here it is. Cut it out and save it if you don't need it now. If you have a cold, cough, throat soreness or acute catarrh, be sure and try it to-night just before going to bed. Pour a scant teaspoonful of HYOMEL (pronounce it High-mee) into a bowl of boiling water, cover head and bowl with a towel and breathe for several minutes the vapor that arises, then go to sleep and awake with a clear head free from mucus.

HYOMEL is guaranteed for catarrh, colds, coughs, croup, asthma, sore throat and bronchitis, or money back. Bottle of Hyomel 50 cents at Leo H. Fife's and druggists everywhere.

Westcott, Marie Brubaker, Ruth Gehart, and Berna Dena Landwer.

Tomorrow the young ladies will be entertained at dinner by Miss Ruth Joyce at Richmond and in the afternoon will attend the Earlham-Brother football game at Earlham—New Castle Courier.

ASSEMBLY PARTY.

A number of the young people of the city enjoyed the assembly last evening in the Odd Fellows hall which was held immediately after dancing school. Piano and drums furnished the dance music.

TO SPRINGFIELD.

Miss Dorey Lamson has gone to Springfield, Ohio, to spend the week-end with friends and relatives.

CRITERION CLUB.

The Criterion club will meet Monday evening with Mrs. L. M. Gentile at her home, 52 South Eighth street. The members are invited to be present.

Contrasting collars and cuffs of white on colors, or bright colors on neutral shades are the mode. Some wraps or coats are cut on straight lines and others have odd little seams and deviations from the straight models. Little panels are inset, the line of the waist is clearly suggested on some, and belts are very much in evidence. Large revers are the features, and the pointed or round shaped collars at the back promise to decorate successfully the favorite garment.

Frills and flounces play an important part in the styles of today. Even on the most subdued models flounces appear on house gowns of all kinds. For afternoon and evening wear they are particularly popular. Bodices that suggest the Second Empire styles are trimmed with pleatings that form a basque marking the waist. A few are showing a resurrection of the accordion pleating.

Flounces of lace trim many of the newest skirts. Double flounces, puffs and ruffles of satin with fringed edges appear in place of a hem at the bottom of short afternoon frocks. The fichu effect, being so strongly pronounced, gives ample opportunity for the use of frills. Net, lace, mousseline de soie, chiffon and every fabric that is soft enough to lend itself to frilling to employed in these graceful draperies.

Ruches and tiny frills trim collars and cuffs and border draperies on many of the latest imported gowns. Tunics of transparent material veiling satin or brocade evening gowns are frequently bordered with a flounce of fine lace, especially if the tunic be draped.

FLORENCE FAIRBANKS.

Germany is a country of Nimrods. There are, we learn, 600,000 sportsmen, which means one gun for every hundred people. Each year fall to the gun on an average 400,000 hares, 4,000,000 partridges, 2,000,000 thrushes, 500,000 rabbits, 190,000 deer, 145,000 woodcocks, 40,000 wild ducks, 25,000 pheasants, 22,500 deer, 15,000 quails, 12,500 ducks, 1,400 wild boars and 1,300 bustards. In weight this "bag" represents 25,000,000 kilograms, a kilogram being two and one-fifth pounds. The monetary value is about $6,500,000. The sum reserved for licenses to shoot is about $1,500,000.

STUNG!

"I overheard my husband talking in his sleep last night," remarked Mrs. Trigger to her closest friend. "Oh, how interesting!" exclaimed the friend. "Did he mention some strange woman's name?" "No," snapped Mrs. Trigger; "he was dreaming about a baseball game." —Birmingham Age-Herald.

THE OTHER SIDE.

Husband (mildly)—You should remember my dear, that the most patient person that ever lived was a man. Wife (impatiently)—Oh, don't talk to me about the patience of that man Job! Just think of the patience poor Mrs. Job must have had to enable her to put up with such a man.

NATURALLY.

Scribbler—I am going to call my new play "The Wicked Flee." Wigwag—I suppose you'll try it on the dog? —Philadelphia Record.

AS USUAL.

"Mrs. Parker is back in town." "Has she any servants yet?" "No. She's screaming for help." —Harper's Bazar.

Golden Text—God shall bring every work into judgment, with every secret thing, whether it be good, or whether it be evil. Eccl. xii:14.

(1) Verse 1—Of what country was Belshazzar the king?

(2) What is the social, intellectual and moral value of "smokers" and drinking parties?

(3) What is the general effect of the practice of men standing up to the bar and drinking?

(4) Verses 2-3—What was the moral or spiritual quality of the act of drinking out of the gold and silver vessels that had been taken from the Temple at Jerusalem?

(5) Does the first "taste" or the first influence of wine, stir the noble, or the ignoble passions in a man?

(6) Verse 4—When a man is drunk, what is likely to be the quality of his worship?

(7) What do men, who are given to strong drink, generally worship?

(8) Verses 5-6—By whom was this writing on the wall probably done?

(9) Would you think a similar phenomenon probable, or even possible, to-day?

(10) What was it that really struck such terror to the king's heart? (11) What would you say is the limit of the possibilities of a guilty conscience, to create remorse and agony of soul?

(12) Verses 7-9—When we are in trouble or perplexity about the future, is it of any service to us to try and get light from any human being and if so, how and from whom?

(13) Why is there no need for a true follower of God to be in any dread of the future, no matter what weird or mysterious circumstances may surround him?

(14) Would it have been possible for any true follower of God, no matter how timid, to have been terror-stricken as Belshazzar was? Give your reasons.

(15) Verses 10-12—Was this queen the wife, or the mother of Belshazzar? (16) If this queen had been one of the merry wine drinking party, would she be in condition to have given such sane advice to her son?

(17) Who was Daniel, the man the queen's mother recommended, and what had he come to be spoken of so highly by her?

(18) What is the only means of giving ease to a guilty conscience?

(19) Verses 13-23—What was the accusation which Daniel brought against Belshazzar?

(20) Was there ever any man who escaped the natural consequences of his wrong doing?

(21) Verses 24-31—What reason is there to believe that practically the same doom is written against every sinner as was against Belshazzar? (This is one of the questions that may be answered in writing by members of the club.)

THE HEDGEHOG.

Tactics It Employs in Making a Meal of an Adder.

The hedgehog is the possessor of tastes which, like Sam Weller's knowledge of London, are "extensive and peculiar," says the Scotsman. Scorning fastidiousness, it can make a hearty meal of nearly any insect and is one of the vertebrates which can tackle the cockroach. For effectual extermination of beetles and crickets it is as useful as a mongoose among the rats, but it is not generally known that it has a partiality toward snakes and adders.

The methods it employs for the attack are interesting. Having come upon the adder, it goes that reptile to the offensive and at the first dart immediately rolls into a ball. The adder is then left to attack the spines, in which encounter it naturally comes off second best. After awhile, when the hedgehog feels that his antagonist has exhausted his power, it once more opens out and makes a bite at the adder's back, thereby breaking its spine. It then proceeds to crunch the whole of the reptile's body by means of its powerful jaws, and after that it is said to start at the tail and devour its prey.

The armies of Europe used to rely on the omnibus companies as a means of supplying a sudden demand for horses, but this can no longer be reckoned on, as automobiles are rapidly supplanting horse-drawn stages.

HURRIED THE WORK.

Peculiar Experience of a Turkish Literary Man.

Once upon a time a certain Turkish literary man living in Constantinople arranged to translate for a daily newspaper a novel then popular in England. Each day he rendered a sufficient quantity of it into the Turkish language to fill the space reserved for it. One day his peaceful home was entered by the police, who peremptorily arrested the man of letters and dragged him off to prison. No explanation was given for his arrest. The novel reflected in no way against the politics of the state, and he had broken no laws. He was not even given time to bid farewell to his family, but he was commanded to bring the work under translation with him. Arrived at the prison, he was given pleasant quarters, good food and drink and sternly commanded to complete his task. So for several days the frightened translator worked ardently.

When the work was done he was, to his astonishment, instantly liberated and presented with a large sum of money. Upon further inquiry as to his treatment it was explained that the sultan had become interested in the story as it appeared from day to day and was too impatient to wait for the end. He wanted to read all the rest of it at once! Truly, there are certain advantages in being a sultan.

STRANGERS IN BERLIN.

Their Comings and Goings Always Known to the Police.

"I had no idea that they kept such an espionage over strangers in Berlin until a friend of mine had occasion to look up some one there," said a traveler. "We had come up from Vienna, and as my friend was in the diplomatic service we called at the embassy."

"While there he happened to think of another friend, an American, who had gone to Berlin about three years before to represent an American concern and wondered how he could get a trace of him."

"Nothing is easier," said the embassy secretary. "Just wait a moment." "He wrote a note and handed it to a messenger."

"We shall know all about your friend within fifteen minutes," he said to us.

"Sure enough, within that time the messenger reappeared with an answer. From it the secretary read that So-and-so had arrived in Berlin on such a date three years previous, that he had lived at a certain address, that he had gone the week before to a little town in the interior, but that he was expected back within three days."

"Well, he turned up on the day the police said he would be back, and we had dinner with him."—Detroit Free Press.

A Sensational Prophecy.

One of the most sensational of prophecies was a Kosa negro named Umhlikasa, who did his prophesying in British Kaffria, Africa, in 1836-7. His niece had met some mysterious strangers near a stream, and Umhlikasa, having gone to see them, reported that they were the spirits of his dead brother and others. They communicated a prophecy which rapidly grew. On an appointed day in 1857 two blood red suns were to rise, the sky would fall and crush the Flings and the whites, herds of splendid cattle would issue from the ground, great fields of ripe millet would spring up, the Kosa dead would rise and live with their descendants, and trouble and sickness should be no more. Unhappily there was a condition—the Kosas must slaughter all their existing cattle. And so 200,000 cattle, the wealth and sustenance of the people, were killed, and probably 50,000 credulous natives starved themselves to death.

The Secret of Keeping The Skin Wrinkle-Free

(From American Family Journal)

The great secret of keeping the face smooth, wrinkle-free and refined in texture is to use an effective astringent when the skin shows a tendency to become loose or the pores to enlarge. The best thing of the kind is a simple solution made by dissolving an ounce of powdered saxolite in a half pint witch-hazel. Used as a wash lotion, this promptly tightens the skin which of course smooths out the lines and wrinkles and reduces too-large pores.

Large pores, by the way, are responsible for blackheads, being so easily clogged with dirt and grime. The lotion referred to is therefore an effective blackhead preventive. It is also valuable in cases of sagging cheeks and chin, the astringent action of course serving to "draw in" the folds and obliterate the creases. Saxolite now being sold by druggists generally in this country, any woman can make this lotion herself.

The Lamp That Saves The Eyes

Children naturally never think of possible strain on their eyesight when poring over a fascinating book.

It is up to you to see they do not run their young eyes these long evenings by reading under a poor light.

The Rayo Lamp is an insurance against eye troubles, alike for young and old.

The Rayo is a low-priced lamp, but it is constructed on the soundest scientific principles, and there is not a better lamp made at any price. It is easy on the eye because its light is so soft and white and widely diffused. And a Rayo Lamp never flickers.

Easily lighted without removing shade or chimney; easy to clean and revivify. Solid brass throughout, with handsome nickel finish; also in many other styles and finishes. Ask your dealer to show you his line of Rayo lamps; or write for descriptive circular to any agency of the
