

BRINGING UP FATHER

By McManus

WILL IS CONTESTED.

EATON, O., Dec. 24.—Contest of the will of G. J. Reid has been instituted in common pleas court, the suit being brought by L. J. Reid, an heir-at-law. The other heirs are Clarence and Adam Reid, who are executors of the estate, and they are named defendants to the suit. The plaintiff avers in his petition that the document probated is not the last will of the testator. The testator died last July.

STARRS WINNERS IN EXTRA-INNING GAME

The first extra-inning game of the Industrial Indoor Baseball League was played last night between the Starrs and the Atlas team. The Starrs finally winning in the eighth inning. Hill started in the game, striking out ten of the Starr men but had bad luck and lost the game.

The Malleable team last night forfeited a game by its failure to show up to the Indianapolis Glove company. There will be no game Wednesday night and the games will be played on Saturday night, when the F. and N. meets the Simplex and the Wayne Works plays the Swayne-Robinson.

Meet This Week to Plan
Basket Ball Tourney

A meeting of the team representatives for the Independent Basketball Tournament will be held this week sometime to draft plans and set dates for the tourney.

On The Screen

WASHINGTON.
Greater fame than any that has yet come to Tom Moore awaits him when the screens of the world present this tremendously popular player as a Goldwyn star in "Just For Tonight," a play that brings out as no other vehicle has every angle of the many-sided talents that have endeared Tom Moore to screen audiences everywhere.

Goldwyn promoted Moore to stardom at the request of theater owners and picture patrons, who, charmed by his ability and splendid personality, were a unit in declaring him worthy of a place among Goldwyn's famous group of stars. Moore's performances as leading man with Madge Kennedy, Mabel Normand and Mae Marsh in Goldwyn pictures were the achievements that prompted public clamor.

MURRAY.
He was being pursued by the police. In his pocket was a large wallet that had belonged to a prosperous-looking individual only a few minutes before. He had not wanted to steal; he hated to be considered a thief. But he had been hungry and his landlady had threatened to eject him, and he still was feeling the effects of a wound which had brought about his discharge from the Canadian Expeditionary Forces in France.

In "Kiss or Kill," which comes to the Murray theater today, Warner's experiences and those of a beautiful girl form one of the most thrilling yet appealing stories yet shown on the screen.

MURRETTE.
The struggle of an artist's model who was forced to marry a man whom she detested and whose beauty was so exploited by her husband that she grew to hate her own charms is pictured with tremendous dramatic intensity in the William Fox photoplay, which will be shown at the Murrette theater today with Evelyn Nesbitt in the title role.

This is the first of a series of master productions featuring this beautiful and accomplished star. "I Want to Forget," tells the story of a woman's sufferings under the hand of her husband, a Bulgarian Prince.

Permanent Community
Christmas Tree Urged

WASHINGTON, Dec. 24.—Why not the permanent Community Christmas Tree, is the question asked many times of the American Forestry Association, which is urging memorial trees for soldiers and sailors in the world war.

In urging this, C. P. Palmer, acting state forester of New Jersey, says: "To do this will stimulate the 'get together' spirit locally by insuring an annual gathering and holiday season because the tree will command recognition as a temporary provision from year to year. Originally set with definite memorial purpose, it will further emphasize in a public way the recognition by its planters and those who come after them, of the gratitude for loyal, patriotic service rendered in the crucial period of the nation and the world."

The American Forestry Association points out the great waste in setting up community trees every Christmas and then throwing them away, and suggests that a permanent planting be adopted in suitable locations where ever possible. The Memorial tree idea is being adopted all over the country, reports to the association show, and being considered as the proper setting for other forms of memorial plans.

Mrs. Julia Lichtenfels received a letter from her son, Peter Lichtenfels, today saying that he was in Luxembourg on his way to Coblenz, Germany, where he would be stationed with the 16th Infantry of the 1st division, army of occupation.

Lichtenfels was in action about ten days before the armistice was signed. He went over the top and came out without a scratch. He was transferred from the 84th Division, with which he went overseas, to the 1st Division soon before going to the front.

A letter received by Ray Lichtenfels today from Victor Newman says he is in splendid health, and has been in communication with "Pete" several times.

Leroy Gibbons of the 161 Aero Squadron returned recently from England and arrived in Richmond last evening, following his honorable discharge from Camp Sherman.

Roy I. Plummer came Sunday to spend the holidays with his parents. Plummer is on the U. S. S. Kentucky.

S. A. T. C. DEMOBILIZED.

OXFORD, O., Dec. 24.—Miami University's S. A. T. C. unit was formally demobilized yesterday, the 400 boys receiving their December pay and their discharges. The majority of them left at once for their homes, and it is estimated that at least 100 will not return after Christmas. However, a number of students who have been in other branches of the national service will return, and President Hughes looks for an enrollment of about 850 in January.
