

WHITE GETS BARRETT BY KNOCKOUT ROUTE; MAY MEET TENDLER

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—Charlie White, Chicago lightweight, made mileage last night in his long trip to another championship bout with Benny Leonard, the title holder, and Bobby Barrett, aspiring Philadelphia, took a long drop backwards.
Cool headed and quick when opportunity knocked, White dropped Barrett in the third round of their bout scheduled for fifteen at New York with a terrific right-hand punch in the region of the heart. The Philadelphia fighter fell to the floor face downward in a faint and came to just as Referee Patsy Haley was articulating the digit "ten".
Barrett was so disappointed when he was lifted to his corner and realized what had happened that he broke into tears and sobbed, almost heart broken. Matters had been even when he fell though the Philadelphia had missed by a foot or more half a dozen swings with his right hand that those who know say is about the deadliest wallop in the lightweight ranks today.
Unprepared for Blow
It was a simple case of an experienced ringster against a novice. Barrett took the lead and had ripped the scab off a cut on the Chicagoan's nose in the first round and bruised the wound in the second. He paid more attention to White's left hook, the blow that has made Charlie one of the lightweight leaders, and was totally unprepared for the hard right sock to the heart.
The result may mean that White and Low Tandler, who recently was turned back by Leonard will meet to decide which of the two is to have the next pot shot at the lightweight title. Tandler knocked out Barrett with body punches in seven rounds and then went 13 rounds with the champion.
White and Tandler never have fought each other. The winner of last night's bout was advertised as the next immediate adversary of Leonard but the champion has been quoted as saying that he will not go into the ring again until he returns from Europe, where he will go soon.

STORMS AND SNOW HANDICAP BALLOONISTS

(By Associated Press)
GENEVA, Aug. 8.—Thunderstorms and snow squalls, nearly spoiled the international balloon race for the James Gordon Bennett cup and gloom descended upon the enthusiasts here when news was received of several early landings on account of bad weather, some inside Switzerland others only small distances over the frontier in Germany. Later as reports continued lacking from one French, one Swiss, the three Americans, two Belgians and one Italian, hopes arose that some of the pilots had been able to rise above the storm zone and make good distances.
The American pilots remained the favorites, even after Lieut. Walter Reed had reported landing near Pappenheim, Germany. He probably was outdistanced by Capt. Armstrong, Swiss, who reported from Kirshlag, Lower Austria, but later Maj. Oscar Westover, the American was heard from in Hungary.
American Favored.
The race now seems to lie between H. E. Honeywell the American who is still unbeaten from Major Westover, and the Italian pilot, A. Guglielmetti, who was the latest to report, having landed at Salorn in Czechoslovakia. The general opinion in aeronautic circles here is that Capt. Honeywell probably will win.
There remained to be heard from today besides Capt. Honeywell, two of the Belgian entries, "Belgica" and "City of Brussels," one French "Anjou," one Italian "Triumphale VI" and one Swiss Zurich.
"Savoie" French entry landed at Rossbach in Northwestern Czechoslovakia near the German border instead of in Bavaria, as previously reported.

HOOSIER BOXER LOSES

(By Associated Press)
BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Aug. 8.—Claude Wilson, 17 years old, Birmingham flyweight, won a ten round decision over Frankie Mason of Fort Wayne, Ind., last night.
Wilson exhibited a left hand that proved the undoing of the former American flyweight champion. Mason had the better of the infighting but Wilson outboxed his opponent.

A department conducted exclusively for the protection of fish, game and natural treasures.

The sanctuary idea has proved fairly effective in game protection. There is no reason why it could not be applied to certain species of fish. This is especially true of trout. In some sections feeder brooks have been set aside as sanctuaries on which no fishing is allowed. The result has been very much better fishing in the streams into which such small brooks empty.

It is seldom that mature trout are caught in the small brooks and it is also a fact that anyone fishing with bait in small streams catches a great many fish below the legal size, many of which die even though they are promptly returned to the water.

The fish and game division of the state conservation department is taking another motion picture of outdoor Indiana as it pertains to the piscatorial sport, which will, when completed, give the department ten long reels depicting a great and healthful sport. This division is self-supporting, deriving its finances from licenses sold, and spends the money to propagate fish for stocking public waters.

The invention of the modern bass bug has done more to put bass fishing on a par with trout fishing than anything else. In fact, these remarkable lures make more anglers and better ones. Once the thrill of the rise of a bass to the cork bodied bug is experienced, never again will the angler resort to old methods. The strike is so wicked, fast and spectacular that over afterwards is the wielder of the fly rod a convert to bug fishing.

Bass will come to bugs when they will strike no other lure. Night fishing is far more successful than anything else. Streams can be fished with bugs where long ago the bass have become wise to all other kinds of artificial lures. The same as the dry fly of the trout fisherman, and they fly of the trout fisherman, and they are floated down under limbs and other inaccessible places, where the big fellows are, where no other method is feasible.

From start to finish bass bugs are ethical fish getters.

A five, five and a half or six ounce rod is ideal for casting bass bugs. Take up all slack before making the pickup, and give plenty of time for the back cast to stretch and overcome the air resistance. The rearward flight is slightly slower than with ordinary fly. The most desirable lengths of fly rods are nine and nine and a half feet. Strike instantly at the rise of the fish, and you will have mastered the art immediately.

Thousands of fish which should furnish sport for Ohio fishermen, are being killed by refuse from various manufacturing plants passed into the streams through city sewage systems, according to J. T. Travers, supervisor of streams in Ohio.

Travers' report shows that large numbers of fish are being killed in Paint Creek, near Washington C. H., and at Reynoldsburg, near Columbus. Untreated industrial wastes passed into the stream at Washington C. H., are said to be responsible for the condition there. Factories have been requested to install treatment systems, Travers said, but have refused to do so, declaring that responsibility for the sewage rests on the city after it passes into the sewers. The city has no disposal plant but proposals for the erection of one will be submitted to voters at the November election, it is said.

Wastes from creameries are said to be responsible for the killing of fish at Reynoldsburg.

No action has been taken by the state fish and game department in regard to the situation, it was said.

PADDOCK SPEEDS ON WITH NIMBLE HEELS

Charlie Paddock continues to shake a nimble pair of heels at father time. Five new world's records in a single day in a recent meet at Santa Barbara only emphasized once more his greatness. He clipped a fraction of a second off the 60-70-75 and 90 yard records and the 175 yard dash. He lowered the 175 yard dash record of 18.2 seconds to 17 seconds.

Paddock is a native of California, one of the men who have carried the west from almost obscurity in athletics to the front rank in recent years.

When it is recalled that Paddock, Dan Kelley and Howard Drew are the only men in the world who ever have officially run the 100 yard dash in 9.6 seconds, the matter isn't ended. Paddock has run the 220 yard dash faster than Bernie Welfers, Sr., Dan Kelly, Ralph Craig, Don Lippincott, Drew and George Parker are credited with doing. Charlie's mark is 20.8 seconds, two-fifths of a second below the mark which all the others made.

Paddock led the invasion of the American runners at Stockholm and his wonderful running in the 100 yard dash at the Olympic games there left all the European experts stunned.

To detail the records he has smashed in his career would take a small volume. Suffice it to say he has broken records, national and world at various distances from 60 yards up to the middle distances.

Brookville Gains Decision In Battle With Eldorado

ELDORADO, Ohio, Aug. 8.—Brookville won from Eldorado here Sunday afternoon after the hardest kind of a fight for the decision at the end of the ninth inning. The final score was 6 to 5. Eldorado tried hard for a rally in the ninth, but it fell short just one tally.

Features of the game were the stops of hard hit balls by H. Hunt, of Eldorado and the hard hitting of Shields, Brookville, who connected for three doubles and a triple in four trips to the plate.

Liberty Lines Up Strong
The remainder of the Eagle lineup will remain the same for Sunday, while Liberty will come with their best possible array of players. The following players: Bossert, 3b; Carey, 1c; Heinback, ss; Helm, 2b; Stricker, cf; Reiter, 1b; King, c; Rosson, p; Barnard, rf.

Rosson is a good hurler, strong in the pinches, and this alone is enough to insure a fine game Sunday.

MAX CAREY, PREMIER VETERAN OF PIRATES

"MAX CAREY" is synonymous with "Hart Kart" as far as the opposing teams and pitchers in the National league are concerned these days, for this veteran Pirate outfielder is causing even the million-dollar Giants to entertain thoughts of committing suicide according to the oriental code.

Playing in his fourteenth season in pro baseball this fleet-footed gent is the outstanding star of the Pittsburgh team. In the recent clash between the Pirates and Giants in New York Carey made five home runs in four games and fielded and ran bases in such spectacular style that the fans took to watching Carey and not the progress of the game.

Carey is 32. He was born in Terre Haute, Ind. He first cavorted in pro circles with South Bend in the Central league in 1909. He had visions then of being a great shortstop. The next year, however, he was sent to the outfield. The Pirates bought him late in 1910. He got his first chance as a regular outfielder with the Pirates early in 1911, when injuries forced the great Tommy Leach to go to the bench. Fred Clarke was playing left and King Wilson right.

Carey has led his league several times in base stealing. He has always hit well. His grace in fielding and his popular personality are his outstanding characteristics.

Cincinnati and New York were prevented from starting their four game series Monday by a rain storm. The teams were set for a big start Tuesday.

Fire Threatens Cottages At Michigan Resort

(By Associated Press)
TOLEDO, Ohio, Aug. 8.—Fire of undetermined origin for a time early this morning threatened more than 100 cottages at Lakeside, Mich., a summer resort town 15 miles north of here. The grocery store of S. Fagenbaum and a cottage next to it were destroyed by the flames, which were fought under control after an hour's fight against a stiff breeze off Lake Erie.

Calls for help were sent to the Toledo and Monroe, Mich., fire departments, but their services were not needed.

LIBERTY AND EAGLES CLASH HERE SUNDAY; PROMISE GOOD GAME

Liberty will be played in a return game at Exhibition park by the Richmond Eagles Sunday afternoon. This will be the second meeting of the teams, the Eagles having played at Liberty earlier this season.

With the line-ups of both teams rejuvenated considerably, a peppy and lively game should take place at the yard when the two meet.

Knight, former catcher for the Eagles, and who played the star role in the presentation, "The Prodigious Son," at Exhibition park last Sunday, when he appeared in center field for the Eagles, will grace the center garden again this Sunday and for the remainder of the season if he continues at the clip which he has already started.

Snyder, who was shifted to the outfield when Don Byrket, another prodigy, returned to the Eagle lineup, failed to show up for Sunday's game and it is doubtful if he will play with the local club any more this season.

Third Sackler Rile states that he will be here in good time for Sunday's game. At least everybody hopes so, for he has been tied up with business several times and cut the fans out of their pleasure at seeing him cavort on third. However, the exhibition put up by Henges at the hot corner for Sunday's game, was nothing other than high class. He was caught idle by the Eagles Sunday, and they engaged him for the one game. He plays with the Blue Grass league.

French, utility infielder from Indianapolis, who played the role as pinch-hitter in Sunday's game, will be on hand again. He evidently was so disgusted with the fact that he hit a slow grounder Sunday, when he took responsibility for a pinch hit, that he refused to give his name to the scorer so that the alteration might be made in the box score. However, we know his name now.

Liberty Lines Up Strong
The remainder of the Eagle lineup will remain the same for Sunday, while Liberty will come with their best possible array of players. The following players: Bossert, 3b; Carey, 1c; Heinback, ss; Helm, 2b; Stricker, cf; Reiter, 1b; King, c; Rosson, p; Barnard, rf.

Chips and Slips

New York Yankees and St. Louis Browns remain in their same places as a result of their wins Monday. While St. Louis was swamping Washington, the Yanks let Detroit down by the narrow margin of 4 to 3. The Yankees are 13 points behind the leading Browns.

Ken Williams, leading American league home run hitter, did an unusual stunt in Monday's game with Washington in getting two home runs in one inning, which was the sixth. Nine runs were scored by the St. Louis nine in the sixth inning.

Rogers Hornsby pulled an error in Monday's game, at Boston, which is something unusual for the National league's leading batsman. It was an easy pop fly by Ford, when three runners were on base, but the slugger dropped it and three runs were across.

"How much is an ice cream chocolate soda?" asked a little six-year-old, as he sat down and put five cents on the counter.

"Fifteen cents," answered the soda clerk.

"Oh, dear," said the little boy. "What can I get for five cents?"

"I can let you have some ice cream," answered the clerk.
