HOW IS A LETTER DELIVERED?

Does the fact that your post office never heard of the address of your friend delay the letter you write to him in getting to its destination?

Not one minute!

It's sent to the central postoffice in that part of the state in question, relayed to the proper local postoffice and delivered immediately by the carrier.

That's the system. And that explains why it's easy to find any letter you want in the Palladium's A-B-C Classified Section.

The A-B-C Ads are first divided into Main Groups, then into separate Classifications, and alphabetically arranged in each of the latter divisions.

There's not a minute's delay in putting your finger on the very ads you want.

Read the A-B-C Ads regularly!
