

CHRISTIANS RENEW OLD TIES SUNDAY AT MILTON CHURCH

(Special to The Palladium).
MILTON, Ind., Oct. 9.—Visitors from several counties in eastern Indiana, with half a dozen from distant states, even from as far as California, attended the homecoming held by the Christian church congregation Sunday. A dinner of fried chicken, and dozens of dishes of salads, vegetables, meats and fruits, as well as pies and cakes, was served by the Ladies' Aid, to 241 guests at noon.

The necessity and the joy of serving others in every way possible, was emphasized by Earl Crawford in giving the Bible lesson during the morning. "He is happiest who is serving the most to the best of his ability. Indifference to interests other than our own was scored. Such indifference was the cause of the war, and thousands of deaths in Flanders fields probably were due to others, perhaps parents of the boys who died, not having done their duty on some earlier occasion.

Mrs. Gordon Leader.
Mrs. Sarah Gordon, of Newcastle, former member of the congregation, acted as leader during the morning service. After a musical selection, a talk was given on "Temperance" by Albert Ferris, followed by the the lesson.

Earl Crawford and Frank M. Jones, as elders, and Aaron Crawford, Clarence Pitzman, Ora White and Benton Wagner, as deacons, assisted with the communion. Harry and Lois Doty sang a duet with piano accompaniment by Miss Nellie Jones.

The afternoon program was as follows: Solo, Harry Doty; violin solo, Lloyd Outland; song by congregation; solo, Fred Jones; sermon by Rev. P. C. McCormick; song by the congregation; remarks by members of the congregation; closing song.

Renew Friendships
Homecomers from a distance who renewed their acquaintanceships Sunday were: Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Vardaman, Virginia Barrett, Beatrice Neely, Alice Vardaman, Mr. Ned Howe and Miss Emily Howe, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Jones, all of Muncie; Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Grigsby and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Matthews of Centerville; Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Squires of Lyonsville; Mrs. S. E. Mandlin, Whitier, California; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Nelson, Connersville; Mr. and Mrs. Volney Thompson, Kansas City; L. A. Kindel, Bentonville; John Posey Jones of Earlham, Richmond; Mr. and Mrs. Christopher Sionaker, Mr. and Mrs. Shuman Jones and Dr. and Mrs. William Squires and daughter, all of Richmond; Ernest Jones of Indianapolis; Mr. and Mrs. Emory Baker of Dayton, and Mr. and Mrs. George Gordon and Mrs. Sarah Gordon of Newcastle, and Mr. and Mrs. Warren of Los Angeles.

Supervised by Class
The homecoming program was arranged and its presentation supervised by the Loyal Sons' Bible class of the church, while the Ladies' Aid had charge of the dinner.

Announcement was made during the morning of a two day annual fair to be conducted on Oct. 27 and 28, by the Ladies' Aid. Apron, handkerchief, and miscellaneous booths will be operated as well as a candy stand and a tea room where dinner will be served during the evening, as well as a continuous luncheon during the day. A musical program will be presented Friday afternoon and evening, a market will be held at 9 o'clock Saturday morning, a playlet given at 2 o'clock in the afternoon and a complete play be staged in the evening. Members of the program committee are Mrs. Ed. Jones, Mrs. Wallace Warren and Mrs. Oliver Wallace. A feature of the fair in which unusual interest has been manifested, is an antique room, in which will be displayed relics and antiques, for the observation of visitors and possibly for sale.

MUD—AND LOTS OF IT—GREETES ENVOYS TO TURKISH-ALLIED MEET AT MUDANIA

"Mudhole of Mudania," with sunken Turkish ship at dock. Allied delegates arriving at Mudania for a peace conference with the Turks agreed that the town was well named. In fact they were unanimous in declaring that the last three syllables were superfluous. Mudania is a small village on the southern shore of the straits.

BUFFALO CO-OPERATIVE LIVESTOCK FIRM EXPECTED TO GET READY FOR BUSINESS

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Oct. 9.—The board of directors of the Buffalo livestock commission firm, including two Ohio livestock leaders, met in Buffalo today. A manager and sales force probably will be employed and final arrangements for opening the concern for business on the Buffalo livestock terminal will be made.

Buffalo will be the fifth co-operative firm to open under a plan adopted by livestock representatives in all parts of the United States. The four firms already in operation handled 325 cars during one recent week, according to figures at the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation, with one concern handling the largest volume of any in that market. These co-operatives are located at Chicago, Indianapolis, East St. Louis and Peoria, Ill.

The American Farm Bureau Federation is starting a nation-wide drive to have the Federal land bank act amended so that the maximum of $10,000 for federal farm loans may be abolished, according to word received by the Ohio Federation.

President J. R. Howard of the national association, has pointed out that March 1, 1923, will be settlement day throughout the whole country on land purchases, and says that this date will hold the greatest opportunity for service which the federal land banks have had.

Reports from nearly every section of the country, Howard declared, show that the present act does not allow its greatest service both in the purchase and improvement of farms, because of the low rate limit.

O. E. Bradfute, Xenia, president of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation, is in Texas this week, where he will judge Aberdeen Angus cattle at the Texas state fair. Mr. Bradfute is known over the country as an Angus judge, and was, himself, the owner of a noted herd that took high awards on the show circuits for many years.

Secretary of Agriculture Henry C. Wallace will be the main speaker at "Agricultural Community Day" at Washington C. H., October 18. The event is being prepared for by eight counties in the vicinity of Washington C. H.

Besides the address of the secretary, a pageant parade, presenting 50 floats depicting various activities of organized agriculture, will be a feature of the day. Secretary Wallace is expected to arrive in Columbus on the morning of October 18. He will be escorted to Washington C. H. by state, farm bureau and grange officials. It also is expected he will speak at an extension conference at Ohio State University that evening.

Farmers who would control peach leaf curl are advised to start right now and not wait until spring, by extension experts at Ohio State university. After the leaves have dropped from the trees is the time to spray for curl, they are advised.

It is not that spring spraying, delivered at just the right time, before the buds crack, will not control the trouble, continue plant disease men at the university, but it is simply that wet land and high winds which prevail in the spring often keep the farmer out of his orchard until after the peach buds have begun to open. Then it is said to be too late to get all of the leaf curl with the spray.

Fall spraying for peach curl is a new practice in Ohio, the specialists say, but the farmers who followed this practice last year found that they got thorough control of the curl, while those who waited until spring, according to the university men, often found they had waited too long.

The spray recommended is lime sulfur 1:15 or, when scale also is present, lime sulfur 1:7.

Weisbrod Officially Begins Duties As Postmaster

One of the youngest, if not the youngest, postmaster of a first class office in the United States, occupied the postmaster's chair in the Richmond postoffice Monday. The scent of rosebuds filled the air, a present from the local Kiwanis club to their former secretary. Postmaster Ray H. Weisbrod officially headed the local department Sunday, but first greeted the public Monday morning. Former Postmaster C. B. Beck ended more than eight years of service in the local federal building Saturday evening. Monday he took over his work as manager of a local company and co-partner with Dr. C. E. Duffin in a local automobile sales agency.

SPREADING VIPER KILLED IN HOME AT NEW ALBANY
NEW ALBANY, Ind., Oct. 9.—After a brief but exciting battle a spreading viper was killed at the home of George Alexander here. The reptile fought fiercely, springing at its assailants and striking at them. The reptile was found in a closet. It is believed that it entered the house through an open door and had taken up winter quarters in the closet.

Do You Know How To Act in a Fire?

What would you do—
If someone's clothing caught on fire?

If you were trapped in a smoke-filled room?

If you had to care for someone overcome by smoke?

Also, do you know how to attack a small fire with a bucket of water or with an extinguisher?

Lives and wealth may depend upon what you do in the first five minutes after a fire starts.

All of these things are explained in the Fire Booklet prepared by the National Board of Fire Underwriters for the United States Bureau of Education.

It also explains in great detail how to reduce to a minimum the danger of fire which threatens every home in this country every minute.

No householder can afford to be without this splendid booklet, containing 94 pages of text and 90 marginal illustrations. You can get your copy from our Washington Information Bureau if you send in your name and address with two cents in stamps for return postage. Write your name and address clearly.

JESSE EBY, PREBLE MAN, SUED BY WIFE

EATON, Ohio, Oct. 9.—Jesse Eby, wealthy farmer and former member of the Preble county election board, is being sued for alimony by his wife, Sara Reese Eby, following their marriage 30 years ago in Warrensburg, Mo. Mrs. Eby asks for temporary alimony during dependency of her suit and permanent alimony and custody of children after hearing of her complaint.

Mrs. Eby declares in her complaint that her husband's affections for her have undergone marked and decisive change within the last several years, and he has developed a nagging, fault-finding and taunting disposition. She further avers he has used violent and ugly language toward her and very recently struck her violently in the face and disfigured her. He has given her only a few dollars for personal use in many months, she avers.

Common Pleas Judge Risinger, upon Mrs. Eby's request, issued a temporary injunction against Eby disposing of or incurring any of his realty or chattels. He also is enjoined from harassing or in any manner annoying his wife. Mrs. Eby was not required to give any bond upon the court's granting the restraining order.
