The marriage of Miss Maxine Noblett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Noblett, of Indianapolis, to Ted Campbell, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Campbell, of Indianapolis, was celebrated with a beautiful ceremony, Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, at the home of the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Lott, on South Eleventh street. The service was read by the Rev. A. H. Backus, pastor of the Grace Methodist Episcopal church, before an altar banked with bouquets of autumn leaves and huge baskets of yellow chrysanthemums. The rooms which had been darkened were softly illuminated by shaded lights. Preceding the ceremony Frank Holland sang several numbers, accompanied by Mrs. Lawrence Jessup, pianist. The wedding march was played by Mrs. Jessup and Glen Crum, violinist, an uncle of the bride. Miss Jane Harting, of Elwood, and Keith Crum preceded the bride party making an aisle with white ribbons. The bride wore an exquisite gown of silver grey tulle with panels and collar of silver lace. She carried an armful of Premier roses. Miss Virginia Livingston, as maid of honor, wore a gown of coral shade crepe back satin trimmed in silver. Her flowers were a corsage of Madame Butterfly roses tied with blue ribbon. Miss Marguerite Miller, of Indianapolis, as bridesmaid wore a satin gown of silver-green with corsage of pink roses. Clarence Hoover, acted as best man and Harmon Snook, of Indianapolis, as groomsmen. An informal reception was held after the wedding. Mr. and Mrs. Campbell left later on a motor trip. They will be at home after November first in the Hawthell apartments, Indianapolis. Mrs. Campbell formerly lived here and attended the Richmond high school. Mr. Campbell attended college and is a member of the Phi Delta Theta fraternity. He is connected with the Fletcher Trust and Savings company of Indianapolis.

The out-of-town-guests here for the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Campbell, Kenneth Campbell, Miss Leona Grady, William Campbell, Miss Marie Andis, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ault, Mr. and Mrs. William Hockett, Miss Helen Hockett, Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Will Harting, Miss Jane Harting, Mrs. Mary Peacock, Miss Margharita Miller, Mrs. Louise Smelser, Harmon Snook, Lloyd Turpin, Herbert Wedowen, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Noblett, Miss Edith Noblett, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Noblett, all of Indianapolis, Mr. and Mrs. L. Miss Mary Hamilton, daughter of Mrs. Thomas W. Hamilton, of Dayton, Ohio, and Henry Deuker, Jr., of Shelbyville, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Deuker, of this city, were married at one of the loveliest afternoon weddings of the week Saturday at 3 o'clock in the First English Lutheran church at Dayton. The Rev. Miles Crumblin, pastor of the church, officiated. The altar, illuminated by candlelight, was banked with palms, ferns and garden flowers. A program of bridal airs was played by Henry Ditzel preceding the ceremony and Robert Gentle, violinist, of this city. The bride wore a gown of white Duchesse satin with veil caught with wreath of orange blossoms and old lace. Miss Martha Smith, of this city, as maid of honor, wore coral satin. The ringbearer, little Miss Mary Louise Karstadt, wore blue tulle and the flower girl, little Miss Doris Stark, pink tulle. Kenneth Teegarden was best man. A reception at the home of the bride followed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Deuker left later on a wedding trip. They will reside in Shelbyville where Mr. Deuker is connected with the Chambers Manufacturing company. Among those who attended from this city were Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Deuker, Sr., Mrs. Richard Smith, Mrs. William Whitacre, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Deuker, Robert Gentle, Miss Martha Smith and Mrs. Lawrence W. Deuker, of Chicago.

Dr. and Mrs. E. H. Mendenhall entertained informally at their home on South Eighth street Saturday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Garver, of Springfield, Ohio, former residents of this city. Decorations of fall flowers were used through the reception room. An informal musicale was enjoyed during the evening followed by dancing. Refreshments were served by the hostess. The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Garver of Springfield, Ohio, Dr. and Mrs. N. S. Cox, Mr. and Mrs. Dempsey Dennis, Mr. and Mrs. George Ballinger, Dr. and Mrs. Lee C. Hoover, Dr. and Mrs. L. F. Beautiful Ceremony Unites Dorothy Dilks And Dr. Richie of N. Y.

One of the most notable weddings of the season was celebrated with a beautiful ceremony Saturday evening at 7 o'clock in the North A Street Friends' meeting house when Miss Dorothy Ellinor Dilks, daughter of Mrs. Alice Dilks of South Thirteenth street, was united in marriage to Dr. E. Roberts Richie, of Brewster, N. Y., son of Mrs. Elizabeth H. Richie, of Moorestown, N. J. Stately baskets of chrysanthemum combined with clusters of palms and ferns formed a beautiful setting for the service. Preceding the ceremony a program of bridal airs were played on the harp by Signor Pasquale Montani, of Indianapolis.

With the opening strains of the Lohengrin wedding march the groom, best man and ushers entered followed by little Miss Betty Lou Cole and Master Russell Dilks, who robed the bride who entered on the arm of her brother, George Dilks. The simple and beautiful Friends' service in which the couple marry themselves was used. Following the ceremony Everett L. Richie, of Moorestown, N. J., brother of the groom, read the wedding certificate and the closing prayer was offered by Dr. Alexander C. Purdy of Earham college.

Exquisite Gown
The bride's gown was an exquisite creation fashioned of white Pan satin and old lace. Over the long court train fell a tulle veil caught with a crown of lace. Her flowers were white rosebuds and lillies-of-the-valley arranged in a shower bouquet. Her attendants wore gowns in rainbow shades trimmed with silver lace and flowers. Miss Mildred Schalk, as maid of honor, wore a gown of broadened georgette in American Beauty shade made with long bodice. Her slippers were of silver and her flowers an arm bouquet of Columbia roses.

Mrs. Grace Weller, sister of the bride, who was matron of honor, was stunningly gowned in lavender shadubrocaded crepe trimmed in iridescent heads and pearl. She carried pink rosebuds and lavender biddie in a Duchess bouquet. The bridesmaids were: Mrs. David Dilks, of Landdown, Pa., Mrs. George Coale, of Vincennes, Mrs. Harrie Dilks and Mrs. Herbert Cotton, of Hartford Conn. Mrs. Richie and Mrs. Coale entered together and Mrs. Dilks with Mrs. Cotton. Their gowns were of satin crepe.

Gown of Satin Crepe.
Mrs. Richie's gown was of satin crepe in orchid shade with silver flowers for trimming. She carried pink rosebuds. Mrs. Coale wore apricot color and carried Ophelia roses. Mrs. Dilks' gown was of turquoise blue satin crepe with silver lace and she wore a wreath of silver leaves in her hair. Her flowers were Columbia roses. Mrs. Cotton was gowned in green and carried Sunburst roses. All wore silver slippers. Little Miss Peggy Coale, as flower girl, wore a dainty frock of white organdy and lace. Little Miss Betty Lou Coale, who with Russell Dilks, son of George Dilks, was a ribbon-bearer, wore organdy and lace, and Master Russell Dilks wore a white suit. Betty Lou and Peggy Coale are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. George Coale, of Vincennes.

Isaac Miller, of Philadelphia, Pa., was best man. The ushers were George Dilks, Harrie Dilks, David Richie, of Landsdowne, Francis Taylor, Cheltenham, Pa., and George Coale, of Vincennes.

Mrs. Tacy B. Hill, grandmother of the bride, was one of the guests at the wedding. Mrs. Hill is in her ninety-seventh year.

ty-seventh year. Mrs. Alice Dilks, mother of the bride, wore a gown of black velvet and lace, and Mrs. Elizabeth Richie, mother of the groom, wore a black gown of satin and lace.

Reception Held
Following the ceremony a reception was held in the reception room in the church basement, at which 350 wedding guests attended. The reception room was a bower of flowers with its tall baskets of fall flowers, and colored leaves. The Misses Mary and Sarah Evans, Mrs. T. J. Ferguson and Mrs. Walker Land assisted in the reception room. Assistants in the dining room were: Mrs. Lydia Bell, Mrs. Nettie Kirby, Mrs. Leslie Cook and Mrs. Will Breckenridge. Fall flowers formed the table decorations.

Later an informal reception was held at the home of the bride's mother to which out-of-town guests and members of the immediate families were invited. The wedding supper was served here, covers being laid for 90 persons. Pink rosebuds and chrysanthemums in profusion were used through the residence. The bridal party was seated at a large table over which fell a shower of smilax. White roses formed the centerpiece and the table was lighted by green candles in crystal holders. Other guests were served at small tables.

Dr. and Mrs. Richie left later for Brewster, N. Y., where they will reside.

Out-of-Town Guests.
Among the out-of-town guests who were here to attend the wedding were: Mrs. Clayburn Jones, of Chicago, Mrs. Collins, of Seattle, Wash., Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Woodard, of Indianapolis, Miss Rebecca Swain and Mr. and Mrs. Will Swain, of Pendleton, Mrs. Walter Conrad, of Philadelphia, who was formerly Miss Edna Chandler of this city; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Evans, of Indianapolis. Mr. and Mrs. George
