

FRANCE USES EDUCATION AS A WEAPON AGAINST REDS IN LAND OF MOHAMMEDANS

Mohammedan temple in Algiers.

In ancient Algiers France is fighting the Red peril that threatens law and order there as it does in the U. S. and other lands. The nomadic tribes of Arabs, Kurds and Dervishes form the bulk of the radical element and France is using the Mohammedan temples for the purpose of teaching the younger element throughout the nation the necessity of law and order.

Hints to the Housewife

HOUSECLEANING HINTS.

To clean oil paintings dip a soft sponge in lukewarm water in which pure white soap has been dissolved, drying the surface with a soft cloth or charcol. A charcol moistened with sweet oil may be used after this to restore the gloss.

To prevent the wall-paper under the pictures from fading, drive a brass tack in each lower corner of the picture to keep it away from the wall and so permitting the air to circulate behind it.

If you have in vain tried all means of cleaning your white willow furniture, take some bronze and paint it, thus giving it a beautifully artistic and entirely new appearance.

Remove match scratches on wood-work by rubbing first with lemon, then whitening and finally with a soapy cloth.

If you have mildew stains on leather, vaseline applied on a soft cloth will quickly remove them.

To keep heavy leather goods nice and pliable dress them once a year with Neat's foot oil.

Remove grease spots on wallpaper by applying a paste made of calcined magnesias and boiled water, which was standing still for at least five minutes.

After this paste has been dried remove it with a sharp knife. If the stain is an obstinate one, you may have to repeat the procedure.

Steel wool that you may use to clean your aluminum pots with is also a very good remover for paint stains on windows, much quicker and more effective than a knife or sand-paper.

Empty tomato and other cans thrown in the furnace will help keep the dust free clean.

A white sauce for creamed vegetables, croquets or macaroni—Heat one teaspoon of butter in fat-bottomed saucepan. When it bubbles, add one tablespoon of flour and stir till cooked together. Then add, slowly stirring, cup hot milk and cook till smooth and thickened. When well mixed, add 1/2 tsp. each of salt and paprika.

LEFT-OVER FRUIT-JUICE.

For each cupful of fruit-juice use one tablespoonful of gelatin-powder. Any fruit-juice may be used. Dissolve gelatin in enough cold water to cover for thirty minutes; heat fruit-juice to boiling, stir in gelatin, strain carefully and set on ice, or in cool place over night. Serve with whipped cream or soft custard. By adding slices of fresh fruit and nuts, a nice company dessert can be made from this often wasted "left-over."
