Kisses Were Sacred.
Among old laws against kissing those of Iceland appear to have been the most severe. Banishment was the penalty laid down for kissing another man's wife, either with or without her consent, and the same punishment was enforced for kissing an unmarried woman against her will.

NATIONAL SEXTET

BUILT IN FIVE CUSTOM BODY MODES

Speed So Smooth that Miles Melt Away

Sixty miles an hour is an effortless speed for the new National Sextet. So smoothly and masterfully does the car hit this road racing gait that you are tempted to question the accuracy of the speedometer and wonder if it should not be showing a leisurely thirty.

The retarded throttle brings the speed of the Sextet down to two miles an hour in high, yet the car accelerates to forty miles an hour within a standard city block. (12 blocks to a city mile.)

The Sextet also recognizes the authority of the brake, as well as the command of the accelerator, coming to a full stop from forty miles an hour in less than nine car lengths.

Utmost ease of handling is a salient Sextet virtue. The car obeys the slightest touch of hand and foot. The steering is of the freely operating worm-and-gear type. Brake and clutch pedals yield easily to pressure. Control levers are exceptionally long, and operated without change of posture.

Lift the long, tapering hood of the National Sextet and you will see the source of the car's extraordinary road competence. It is an improved overhead-valve, high-efficiency, six-cylinder engine, built complete in National shops and capable of developing 71 horsepower.

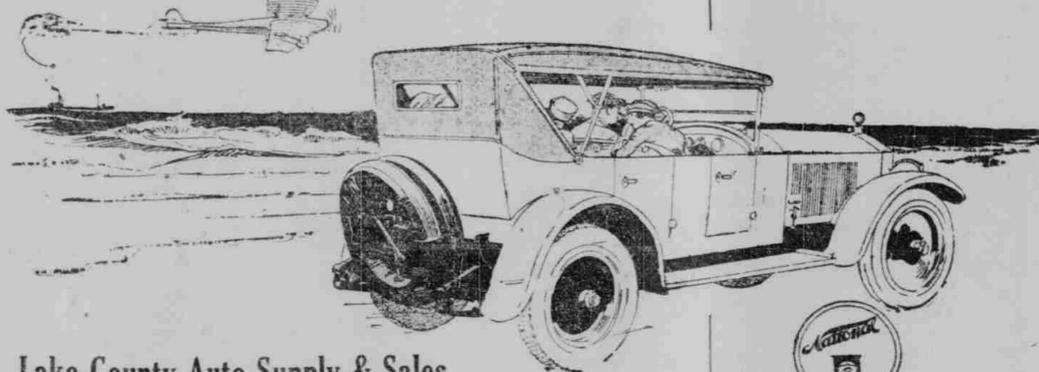

Only the experienced eye will note the correctness of design that makes the Sextet engine the fine piece of mechanism that it is.

And only a visit to the National factories can disclose the close limits to which this engine is built and the advanced methods of precision manufacture that are practiced by expert craftsmen in translating this design into steel and its alloys.

Yet even the novice, when he takes the wheel, instantly appreciates the advantages of these qualities which are responsible for the abundant, smooth, silent, flexible power that is ever at his bidding and control.

A demonstration? Gladly, and at your pleasure.
