

Skin Irritations that Itch and Burn

Cause Untold Torture as Warm Weather Approaches

Many cases of eczema, tetter, pimples, scaly eruptions, and other evidences of a disordered skin very often lie dormant during the winter season, but become active as warm weather approaches, and soon break out into almost intolerable torture.

As soon as you realize that so-called skin diseases originate in the blood, and treat them accordingly, you will be on the right track to free yourself of this annoying trouble.

Just imagine that there is a steady blaze of fire in constant contact with your tender skin, and you can form some idea of the pain that must be endured by the afflicted. For the millions and millions of tiny disease germs that seem to burrow through the skin, each one carrying a torch of fire, cause pain that is almost unendurable.

The constant plea of those afflicted is the oft-repeated question, "How can I find relief from this constant torture?" Not palliative, temporary relief that causes the terrible itching to abate for awhile, but real genuine relief that shakes off the shackles of the disease and restores the skin to its former healthy condition?

And temporary relief is the most that can be expected from local treatment, such as ointments, salves, lotions, etc., which is one reason why these diseases seem to hold on with such tenacity. It is not because they are incurable, but because they are improperly treated that they appear to be so stubborn and so difficult to cure.

The fact is they are misnamed, and, therefore, improperly treated. Because the trouble attacks the skin and all the pain and discomfort is confined to the surface of the skin, these disorders are called "skin diseases." But the real cause is a disease germ in the blood, which multiplies by the million and sets up an irritation in some tender location of the delicate skin.

You can get some little relief for the time being by rubbing or scratching the irritated skin, but you would not expect to be cured in this way. Neither should you expect a cure from local applications of lotions, ointments or other remedies applied to the skin, for the simple reason that a cure must come from the source of the trouble.

You must locate the headquarters of the disease germs, and cut off their base of supplies. The blood is saturated with them, and they will set up their attacks on the surface of the skin as long as they remain in the blood, no matter how much local treatment you take.

A million gallons of local treatment applied to the surface of the skin will not eliminate the germs of the disease from the blood, and until they are eliminated your skin will never be free from the itching and burning discomfort.

If you want genuine relief, then take a treatment that goes right to the seat of the trouble and removes the cause. Such a remedy is S. S. S., the reliable old blood purifier that cleanses the blood and routs out germs of disease.

S. S. S. has been used successfully in some of the worst cases of eczema and other skin troubles, and it can be relied upon to cleanse the blood. S. S. S. is also a splendid tonic and system builder, and it builds up and adds new vigor to the whole system.

Go to your drugstore and get a bottle of S. S. S. today and begin the right treatment for skin diseases. Then write for free medical advice about your own case. Address Chief Medical Adviser, 183 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.

PACIFIC FLEET READY SAYS RODMAN

(INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE)

ON BOARD THE U. S. S. NEW MENICO, LOS ANGELES HARBOR, April 27.—Admiral Hugh Rodman, commander-in-chief of the Pacific fleet, in an exclusive interview with the International News Service today caustically characterized as "typewriter tactics" the reports that the Pacific fleet is an experiment.

"An experiment," scoffed the admiral with energy. "There you are. There it is again. It is the typewriter. 'Ambidextrous men, whose leather-soled trousers were glued to swivel chairs in land-locked offices during the war, are trying to accomplish with the typewriter what the German submarines could not accomplish with torpedoes and naval guns.'"

"The Pacific fleet is not an 'experiment.' Our experience since coming to this coast nine months ago fully demonstrates the feasibility of maintaining a great fleet in these waters. The Pacific fleet is here to stay. 'We have found West coast harbors astonishingly well adapted to our needs. Our main object now is to expand and develop.'"

"The Pacific fleet at present is under-armed," the admiral said. "This is due largely to low prices," he explained.

"But always there is this comfort," he commented, "we know that despite all the typewriter barabaras that may be laid down, the men who returned by tens of thousands to civil life when the war was over will be available over night if occasion arises. 'Those of us who stayed on our ships to fight the submarines waited vainly for the enemy's fleet to appear, grow weary at times when we read the type, written analysis of the mistakes made by those who won the war.'"

These goods are getting scarce and hard to get at these prices. This is fancy stock and a bargain especially the No. 10 goods. It will pay you to buy the No. 10 goods and recan the contents in pint or quart fruit jars if the amount is too large for one using. Sugar is advancing at such rapid rate and with the scarcity of California fruit, it will make canning fruit prohibitive through the summer. Better lay in your next winter supply now.
