

DEMOCRATS ADOPT NEW STATE PLAN

Campaign Against New Tax Law Was Bringing No Results.

(TIMES BUREAU AT STATE CAPITAL)
INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Oct. 12.—The absolute failure of the Democratic organization to make any headway in the campaign by its propaganda of hate against the Republican state administration and the new tax law has resulted in a sudden change in front.

Although there is a faction of the Democratic organization still insisting that the campaign should be fought along local lines the big bosses in the party apparently have decided that this will not be continued—partly because of the failure of Dr. Carleton B. McCulloch, Indianapolis candidate for Governor, and because of the desire of the leaders to make the League of Nations the chief issue.

In the Denison hotel, where Thomas Taggart of French Lick fame, Benjamin Bosse, Democratic state chairman and mayor of Evansville, work out the details of how the other Democrats must conduct themselves, has come the word that the Wilson league must be the issue.

In accordance with this command the local Democrats have opened a "temple" for the preaching of the league. A room in the downtown district has been obtained and a "sermon" will be given each day at noon on the virtues of the Wilson covenant.

With a sort of religious fanaticism the Democrats have determined to wind up the campaign with this subject their sole issue. Blinded by their own enthusiasm they are spreading the propaganda that there is a "drift" in their favor and Republicans are going to forsake the party to support Mr. Wilson's league.

It can not be denied that with the efforts being put forth by the Democratic spellbinders they are succeeding to some extent in dodging the issues of the campaign by ignoring them in the hopes that they can throw a white halo around the league idea.

In Indianapolis, the center of their battle to win the state, they are not progressing in fooling the public with the slogan that the "League will keep the world out of war." Underlying the league controversy is a sentiment among the voters that the Democratic administration needs to be rebuked. That it was extravagant and catered to the south rather than to the industry and agriculture of the north. Political observers here declare that while the issue of the campaign might seem to be dimmed by the volume of talk about the league covenant, the fact remains that the paramount issue of the campaign always was and still is, "Wilsonism."

It was Taggart, fresh from French Lick, who declared at a meeting of Democratic precinct committeemen of Marion county, shortly after the party's state convention, that "Marion county is going to vote the state."

Taggart is a wise political boss. There is no doubt that Marion county with her 169,000 voters can be a force in the big battle. Yet, as matters now stand, Marion county will give the Republican state and national ticket no less than a 14-00 plurality. This feature is conservative and is not based on predictions of persons likely to be misguided as to facts.

COUNCIL FAILS TO NAME MAN FOR VAGANCY

Although the meeting was ostensibly for that purpose, members of the Gary city council at their special meeting last night did not appoint a new member to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Councilman Peter Dumas of the third ward in Gary a week ago.

It was on a motion made by Councilman Freeberry to table the resolution appointing a new member of the council, that someone seconded the motion and it was passed by a unanimous vote. A moment later someone seconded a motion to adjourn and the council members fled out of the council chamber, recording the shortest session in the history of the city.

Previous to his motion to table the resolution Alderman Freeberry stated that there were some twelve aspirants for the office and it would only be proper for the council to have more time to consider all the names and investigate the characters of the prospective candidates.

That effort is being made by the colored population of the third ward, who control three quarters of the vote, for the appointment of William E. Burrus as their representative in the city council was in evidence when dozens of prominent colored political workers were on hand to present a petition in the behalf of Burrus.

For years the colored population of the city have been eager for representation and have even demanded that their color and race be recognized. It was only recently that the negro residents did everything in their power to secure the appointment of a negro justice of the peace, but at the eleventh hour the appointment of Judge Henry Wellner was made public. Now that there is an opening in the council, the colored voters as a seat in that body.

JOHNSON STILL FIRM SUPPORTER OF SEN. HARDING

(INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE)
CHICAGO, Oct. 12.—Any doubt about the position of Senator Hiram W. Johnson upon the league of nations issue in the presidential campaign was dispelled by the California senator when he arrived here today to place himself at the disposal of the republican speakers bureau for a series of addresses in support of the candidacy of Warren G. Harding.

"I am as progressive in 1920 as I was in 1916," said Senator Johnson as he alighted from his train. "But the one issue before the people today is the league of nations. Temporarily I have forgotten everything else because of the terrible menace to the republic. When that is averted I shall return to other matters."

"Senator Harding," the California senator continued, "has scrapped the league of nations. In his public utterances he has termed it a 'supreme blunder' and 'stupid fraud.' And because of his attitude he will be elected president overwhelmingly."

Senator Johnson told his interviewer that there is no question of what California will do in the coming election.

ITALIANS OF E. CHICAGO CELEBRATE

Will Observe Columbus Day And Italy's Independence Day.

East Chicago Italians will next Sunday celebrate Italian Independence Day and Columbus Day, both in one big celebration, with a parade, band, fireworks, speeches and all the rest that goes to make up a big day. There will be a parade in the morning, band concert and speeches in the afternoon and evening and a grand wind-up of fireworks the last thing in the evening.

The celebration was originally planned for Italian Independence Day which was September 26th but because of lack of time for preparations it was decided to combine it with a Columbus Day celebration. The parade will be started at ten in the morning with the discharge of a giant rocket from which will float an American and Italian flag and after encircling the business section will stop at the city hall park where another rocket will be discharged. Costumes have been secured and in addition to the hundreds who will parade in costume there will be a large float depicting Columbus.

In the afternoon Professor Mezzacapa's twenty-two piece band will play at the city hall park and there will be speeches from George Baroso, a municipal judge of Chicago, and from Atty. John Dejazia, a cousin of Alderman Rocco Giorgio. Both are known as excellent speakers. In the evening the band will again give a concert and there will be speeches from Antonio Ferrari of Chicago an dRev. Nicola Accomando of Gary. The evening program will be held on Todd ave, just south of Chicago avenue. There will also be grand opera singers for the evening program. The artistic fireworks display will start at ten o'clock.

FRUIT BUSINESS IN HAMMOND GROWS

Jake Diamond of the Chicago Produce company, Hammond's pioneer fruit merchant, spent $25,000 dollars to give Hammond a fruit store the city might be proud of. It was Jake's intention to move from his old site, at the corner of Oakley and State street and abandon this location, but now he has changed his mind. He has enough business to keep both stores going full tilt, and he figures if he took any more business to the new location at 220 State street, he would be compelled to turn it down. "It isn't my disposition to turn the good people away," Jake reasoned, "and to take care of everyone we will go right ahead with both stores, giving the same big bargains as we always have."

The Chicago Produce company started in Hammond some two or three years ago in a small way, selling on a very narrow margin. It marked the real beginning of wholesale and retail fruit selling in Hammond, and since that time the business has grown by leaps and bounds.

Mr. Diamond discovered a waiting market for such products as fruits and vegetables and the business now permits him to buy in tremendous quantities. The East Chicago Produce company has contracted for potatoes, apples, etc., for future delivery that would stagger the average layman, but, as Jake puts it, "it is in knowing how and where to buy that enables us to move such quantities right out to the people who are ready and waiting for prices such as we are able to quote."

REWARDS OFFERED TO PROTECT "GINS"

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 12.—County officers in a number of counties in Georgia, Alabama and South Carolina are moving today to put an end to threats being posted on cotton gins warning the operators to stop ginning cotton and merchants to cease buying the staple until the price reaches 25 or 40 cents a pound.

In Georgia Sheriff Baggett of Douglas county, has offered a reward of $500 for the arrest of the guilty parties, and the sheriff of Carroll county has offered a similar reward of $500.

BUS LINE CUTS FARE IN HALF

The cost of transportation on the Red bus line operating between Hammond and Chicago Heights has been reduced 50 per cent, the former price being 70 cents for the trip. This announcement comes as an agreeable surprise to the hundreds of shoppers who have developed the habit of shopping in Hammond since the busses were put in operation some time ago. This will be an additional boost for Hammond, as more people will take advantage of the low fare and shop here instead of going to Chicago or patronizing the small order houses.

Three new Red busses have been added to the Red bus line and will soon be running hourly from Hammond to Munster, Lansing, Thornton, Franklin, Homewood, Oak Glen and Chicago Heights.

It is said the Red line boasts of the record of never having the slightest accident in its three years operation.

"White Mule" Blowup Kills Home Distiller

CHICAGO, Oct. 12.—Reuben Racinski, 33, of 1267 W. 112th street, was fatally burned yesterday when a homemade "still" exploded, setting his house on fire.

Pullman firemen found him crawling across the prairie toward the home of his nearest neighbor, half a mile away. He died in Pullman Emergency hospital.

The still was turned over to the Pullman police, together with several barrels of "mash" and 20 gallons of "white mule" liquor which were found.

The police are investigating a report that Racinski's brother runs a saloon near Thirty-fifth street and Hermitage avenue.

SOFT COAL DROPS $3 AT CHICAGO
CHICAGO, Oct. 12.—Coal took a slide yesterday and cuts ranging from $2 to $3 in the wholesale prices were reported by several dealers. Only Illinois bituminous was accepted by the drop. The cut is attributed to the fight against high prices.

Scores of cancellations of orders made under the former scale of top prices were reported during the day, consumers waiting for another tumble.
