

LOCAL RECORD.

Having a large and increasing circulation, the Journal will be found an excellent medium for advertising. Business men, look to your interests! and let the people know what you are doing.

The Postmaster has received a supply of self-sealing and stamped wrappers for doing up single papers; the most convenient arrangement we have seen for many a day. Price, 30 cents for 25 wrappers.

There is but a single dry goods house in Winchester that advertises, and any body, with "half an eye," can see that it is doing the principal business in that line. This is a fact.

If you want a good Reaper & Mower Combined, purchase the "Manny," for sale by Elisha Martin, at the Brick Warehouse.

The New Castle Courier says that a telegraph line will soon be put into operation along the Cincinnati and Chicago Railroad.

From a late number of the Muncie Free Press, we learn that Will R. Irwin has been promoted to the First Lieutenantcy of Capt. Brady's Company, 8th Ind. Volunteers.

The Delaware County Times, under the head of "Union Congressional Ticket," inserts the name of Hon. David Kilgore. The Free Press, of the same place, hoists, as its Union Congressional candidate, "The People's Nominee," which does not mean Judge Kilgore, by upwards of considerable.

Mrs. Capt. Hamilton will please accept the thanks of the Junior Editor of this paper for that dish of honey. It was the nicest we have seen for a long time.

The Atlantic Monthly.

The July number commenced the 10th volume of this popular Magazine. The publishers promise the readers of the Atlantic a great variety of the best articles in all departments of literature. Among its contributors we may mention the names of James Russell Lowell, H. W. Longfellow, Louis Agassiz, Ralph Waldo Emerson, John G. Whittier, Bayard Taylor, Mrs. H. B. Stowe, Edward Everett, Harriet Prescott, and a host of other able and popular writers. Terms, $3 per annum.

Another Soldier Gone to Rest.

Our readers will remember that we in our last issue made mention of a young man being run over by the cars, at Union City. The particulars of this sad accident, as near as we have been able to learn them, are about as follows:

As we before stated, he was a soldier, and was returning from Pittsburg Landing on sick leave, to his home in Jay County. Arriving at Union City, he got off the train and stepped upon the track, and while standing there, was knocked down and run over by a car which had just been detached from another train, and which came upon him in an opposite direction. He was very hard of hearing, and did not heed the warnings of the Conductor and others in time to save himself. The car passed over both his legs just below the knee, crushing them in a horrible manner, and otherwise bruising and injuring him. His legs were immediately amputated, and hopes were at first entertained that he would recover, but, after lingering in the greatest agony for some four days, death came to the poor fellow's relief.

His name, we understand, was Joseph Brewster, and he belonged to Capt. ...'s Company, 40th Ohio Volunteers.

E. J. Putman, Esq., will leave this place on next Monday for Kentucky, as special agent of the U. S. Sanitary Commission, in charge of live chickens and eggs for the sick soldiers in the hospitals at Columbus, Ky. Donations will be received until 10 o'clock a. m. on Monday. We know that this appeal will be nobly responded to.

The supper at the Masons' Hall last Tuesday evening was the most splendid affair of the kind we ever attended. The Masons never do anything unless they do it right.

A table around the whole Hall was groaning with provisions, and the richest delicacies of the season. Notwithstanding it was a free supper, three times twelve baskets full might have been gathered up. The ladies, particularly, must receive the praise and thanks of the order, for the material interest which they gave to the evening.

It was lately reported in the English papers that the Monitor had been captured by the secessionists, our fleet in the Mississippi destroyed, McClellan whipped near Richmond, and the army of Gen. Banks completely annihilated; all of which our readers know was a huge humbug. But it is no humbug, but a fact that Jack Ross keeps the best regulated Livery Stable, the best and fastest stock, finest buggies, carriages, etc., etc., in eastern Indiana.

Farmers every where are cutting their wheat which promises an abundant yield. Providence seems to be smiling upon us in every respect; but in our efforts to put down rebellion. Perhaps the many shackles of silver are hid in the camp.

Charles W. Cotton, formerly of the Indianapolis Sentinel and afterward connected with the Minnesota press, is now local editor of the New Albany Ledger.

John A. Gunckle is erecting a frame dwelling house on the north side of the Railroad, west of John W. Diggs.

Turnpike Meeting.

There will be a meeting of the citizens of Winchester and Deerfield, and all other persons of the county interested, at Winchester on Saturday, the 12th day of July, 1862, for the purpose of organizing a Turnpike Company to build a Pike Road from Winchester north through Deerfield. Let every body come out to the meeting.

MANY CITIZENS.

To JUSTICES.—We have just printed a lot of neat blank summonses. Call and examine them.

Connersville has, at last, a Railroad. The Junction Road was completed to that place a few days ago.

The Fourth.
Early in the morning, even before some of our citizens had arisen from the embrace of Somnus, the people from the country began to pour in to celebrate the natal day of our Independence. The streets of Winchester were crowded until about 10 o'clock, when the procession was formed by Col. Thos. M. Browne, who wore the insignia of officer of the day. The procession then marched to the grove and were entertained by speeches by Judge Peelle, Secretary of State, Judge Brown and Colonel Browne. The speeches were able and full of patriotism. We have not the room to give even a condensed report of their remarks, but suffice it to say that a firm spirit that this rebellion must be crushed by any means prevailed the whole. Dinner was then the next item on the programme, and we suppose, both by observation and actual experience, that ample justice was done this department. At two the meeting was again called to order by the inspiring notes of the fife and drum, when the choir again treated the audience to their choicest music. We never heard 'Glory, Hallelujah,' 'Hail Columbia,' and the 'Star Spangled Banner,' sung better.

The regular toasts were then in order, and replied to as is seen below. Our columns are too limited to do justice, but all must be satisfied to know that the responses were not only able but patriotic. Next week we will try to give some of them as near as our memory will serve us. The news of the defeat of our army before Richmond had a tendency to dampen, not the patriotism, but its outward manifestation by the assembly. Still, deep down in their hearts was a firm determination that the Government must be preserved and the American flag again wave in triumph over every foot of Columbia's soil. After three rousing cheers for the Union, the assembly marched back into town, in the same order in which it went out, and was dismissed on the east front of the Public Square; when, on the call of Capt. Smith the old Silver Grays gave three rousing cheers for the 4th day of July, 1776. They then dispersed to their farms and workshops, to meet again when their country called them, even if it be on the battle-field.

REGULAR TOASTS.

1. THE DAY WE CELEBRATE:
It was the day on which our Nation was born into the family of Nations. The preservation of it as a Nation is committed to us. Let us not suffer it to die in our hands; but let us preserve and transmit it to our children as we received it from our Fathers.

Response by Jere. Smith.
2. THE PATRIOTS OF THE REVOLUTION:
Through toil and blood they acquired our liberty and independence, and handed them down to us. It is our duty to preserve them for our posterity.

Response by Rev. Mc. Stout.
3. THE CONSTITUTION OF THE UNITED STATES:
The Nation's Covenant. Long may it be preserved in the Ark of Safety, and be presided over by the departed spirits of its immortal founders. Now being baptized in the blood of patriots, it will arise in the newness of life.

Response by Miles Hunt.
4. THE MEMORY OF WASHINGTON:
The Father of his Country; first in war, first in peace, and first in the hearts of his countrymen. Let us cherish and imitate his virtues.

In silence. Response by the Choir—"Hail Columbia, happy land."

5. THE UNION:
Our strength and safety in war, our honor and glory in peace; that which gives us a name throughout the world, "it must and shall be preserved;" and stilled be the heart and palsied be the hand that would dismember it.

Response by J. A. Moorman.
6. OUR COUNTRY:
Lo! here the oppressed of all Nations look for help.

Response by A. J. Neff.
7. THIS UNHOLY REBELLION:
It must be suppressed, and may the time speedily come when this Nation shall, as in times past, be one undivided people.

Response by Col. A. Stone.
8. THE PRESS:
By its Argus eye frauds and corruptions are detected and exposed, treason denounced, and the liberties of the people preserved.

Response by G. H. Bonebrake.
113 E. J. PUTMAN.

9. AGRICULTURE:
The most ancient, honorable and useful avocation of man.

10. INDIANA:
Her prompt and loyal response to the call of our country, shows her to be as ready to defend the Constitution in war as she has been to maintain it in times of peace.

11. OUR BRAVE SOLDIERS:
They are entitled to the thanks of a grateful people for the dangers and hardships they have undergone to preserve the free institutions of our Government from the hands of treason and rebellion.

12. OUR REPUBLIC:
We have rallied around it in other days when the sunshine of prosperity was upon us. Let us not forsake it in gloom and adversity that has now gathered around it,—still let us, like brave men, bear aloft the Banner of our Country, inscribed with the sentiment, "In hoc signum vinces." (By this you shall conquer.)
Response by James Brown.

13. "THE FLAG OF OUR UNION":
The protection of our citizens in all foreign lands. It must and shall be their protection at home.
Response by Choir—"The Flag of the Union."

[For the Journal.

WINCHESTER, Saturday, June 28, '62.
According to a previous notice a number of the Directors and persons that felt an interest in the Randolph County Agricultural Society, met at the Auditor's office. The meeting was called to order by the President.

The Committee that had been appointed to ascertain and select some permanent and suitable place for holding Fairs, requested the Board to accompany them and examine such places as might be had for that purpose. They proceeded to the old Fair ground, and, after an examination, came to the conclusion they would remove it to some other place, if a suitable one could be found. They then looked at two other sites that were proposed and returned to the office, when Dr. Converse offered the following, viz:

WHEREAS, David Heaston has proposed to the Randolph County Agricultural Society a part or all the field adjoining town on the west and north of the Winchester and Muncie State road for the term of 10 years, agreeing to use the same only for pasture, so as not to injure it in any way for the use of the Society; the Society agreeing to fence the same, and have the right to make such improvements as they may deem necessary, and exercise a guardianship over the same: Be it therefore

Resolved, That the Society accept said proposition, and a committee be appointed to enter into an article of agreement with said Heaston and report at our next meeting.

Which was unanimously adopted, and Dr. A. F. Teal was chosen as said Committee.

Benjamin Hunt offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That the Executive Committee be appointed and empowered to remove all the old lumber from the old Fair grounds that belongs to the Society, and fence and fit up the new grounds ready for holding our next Fair.

Which was adopted.
On motion of Lafe Irvin, the President and Secretary were appointed a Committee to make out a list of premiums for the next Fair and report at our next meeting.

On motion, the Society adjourn to meet on the first Saturday in August next, at this office, and that the Directors from the different Townships are specially requested to attend, and all others that feel an interest in the cause. Carried.

DR. A. F. TEAL, Pres't.
N. P. HEASTON, Sec'y.

JAMES BROWN, Esq., will address his fellow-citizens of Huntsville on political topics on FRIDAY EVENING, July 18th. All are invited to come and hear for themselves.

Notice is hereby given that all those indebted to me must call and settle immediately. The accounts of J. F. Deem are also in my hands for collection and must be settled at once. Those knowing themselves to be indebted to me or J. F. Deem will do well to see me and save further costs.
