

WHAT'S THE NEWS.
By dint of persevering effort, and the enterprise for which the press is distinguished we have succeeded in obtaining local intelligence of an important character. Our information is perfectly reliable and embraces all that has transpired up to the hour of publication.

Those who have anything to do are at work; those who have nothing to do are loafing.
We could not tell our subscribers much more about home matters if we had time to visit every one of them.

RETURNED.
Our friends of the Sanitary Expedition to Vicksburg came home last night.
Also a good many of the Minute Men who went after Morgan.

Of these we are pained to learn that two at least, from this county lost their lives by our men firing on each other by mistake. Their names as given to us, were John Gordon, and Wm. Falkner or Farquhar. A man named Newman is said to be wounded. The names may not be correctly given.

As our paper is already made up, we have not space for any particulars.

Morgan at last accounts was six miles from Hillsboro, Highland Co., O.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.
The reader will not fail to notice the new advertisement of Nicholson & Brother in this paper. And we can say to our friends waiting any thing in their line, that their house on Main Street, opposite Citizens' Bank, Richmond, is a very good place to find and to buy it. Give them a call.

See new card of Phillips House, Dayton, O. It is the place to stop as you journey in that direction.

The Notion dealer is referred to the card of Coffman & Osborn, to be found in another column.

Arthur's Home Magazine for August is on our table.
This number is an improvement on its predecessors. There are fine engravings, poems, good stories, one or two scholarly papers, health articles, &c.

For general family reading we do not think this Magazine has any superior.
$2 a year, in advance; four copies for $5.

CROP NEWS.
In Dearborn county, the wheat is ripe for the sickle, and an average crop will be harvested. Fruit is blasted to a considerable extent. Hay will be half a crop. Wheat will prove a full average crop.

Corn is backward in most localities, although some pieces in the bottom are looking well.

Some fields of rye have been cut already, and many farmers are engaged in cutting their clover.

Grass, barley, oats, and flax seem to be doing well.

The Ft. Wayne Sentinel says: We are still without rain, and grass, corn and vegetables are suffering from the drought. The wheat however is fine and rapidly ripening. By the latter end of next week the harvest will be pretty generally commenced in this region.

In Hamilton county, wheat is about an average crop, grass heavy, oats good, and fruit, except peaches, will yield a fair crop.

The wheat crop in Fountain county will be an average one. The corn crop is backward, but has a good color, and the season for early working is very favorable, and the ground and crop now are generally in fine order.

The hay and oat crops will be light in many parts of the county, owing to drought in May.

The apple and peach crop will not be large, but the prospect now is, that there will be an abundant supply for home purposes.

DR. LYMAN BEECHER'S IDEA OF HEAVEN.—Excepting exemption from sin, intense, vigorous, untiring action is the greatest pleasure of mind. I could hardly wish to enter heaven did I believe its inhabitants were idle to sit by purring streams, fanned by balmy airs. Heaven, to be a place of activity, must be a place of activity.

Has the far-reaching mind of Newton ceased its profound investigations? Has David hung up his harp useless as the dusty arms in Westminster Abbey? Has Paul, glowing with godlike enthusiasm, ceased itinerating the universe of God? Are Peter and Cyprian, and Edwards, and Payson, and Evans idling eternity in mere psalm-singing?

Heaven is a place of activity, the abode of never-tiring thought. David and Isaiah will sweep nobler and loftier strains in eternity; and the minds of saints unclogged by cumbersome care, will forever feast on the banquet of rich and glorious thought. My young friends, go on, then; you will never get through. An eternity of untiring action is before you, and the universe of thought is your field.

INDIANA LEGION.
We have had, for some time past, on our table, the report of Major General Love, of the Indiana Legion, to the Governor.

General Love assumed command of the Legion, September 10th, 1861, and immediately made a personal inspection of the condition of the Legion in the border counties. He found a fair supply of arms, but an inefficient organization, which had been produced to some extent by volunteering into the service of the United States. It was put on an active war footing, and all along the Ohio river was efficient in protecting Indiana, and to some extent the river counties of Kentucky from rebel raids. This brought the military defense of the State upon a few who had no other aid from the State than the arms and equipments furnished.

General Love considers the present law too defective to produce an effective militia. One objection is that the organization of the Legion is a purely voluntary one, and has not been made except where danger was imminent.

General Love suggests an amendment to the law enrolling and organizing every citizen liable to military duty, and that from this number some two hundred should be detailed from each county to make up an active force, which would secure from ten to twenty thousand reliable militia for a time of danger.

The reports of commanders of brigades and regiments, which compose part of the report, show the unusual proportion of duty entailed on the regiments of the border counties, and the faithfulness and efficiency with which they met the demand, adding greatly to the reputation of Indiana.

A GOOD RULE.

In times like these, the true lover of his country holds no equivocal position. He may have been a party man; but while the national life is in danger, he looks past all mere political questions, and thinks only of the honor and safety of his country. There is a good rule by which to determine whether a man is a patriot or not. If you hear him perpetually criticizing the means taken by the government to put down rebellion, yet never speaking a word against rebels, you may regard him as a sympathizer with treason, and one who is doing all in his power to give aid and comfort to our enemies.

Arthur's Home Magazine.

MAKE A BEGINNING.

Remember in all things that if you do not begin you will never come to an end. The first weed pulled up in the garden, the first seed in the ground, the first shilling put in the savings bank, and the first mile traveled on a journey are all important things; they make a beginning and thereby a hope, a promise, a pledge, an assurance that you have undertaken. How many a poor, idle, erring, hesitating outcast is now creeping and crawling his way through the world, who might have held up his head and prospered, if, instead of putting off his resolutions of industry and amendment, he had only made a beginning.

SMALL INVENTIONS.
The value of small inventions is aptly illustrated in the following paragraph. Probably not even the inventor himself realized the value of his idea when he first conceived it.

"Three million pairs of metal tips are annually applied to the toes of children's shoes. It is claimed that one pair will out wear three pairs without tips; this would make an annual saving of nearly six million dollars to those who use them, an important item at the present time. An individual who has three children says that since he commenced buying metal-tipped shoes (one year ago) he has saved the price of new boots for himself."

WOOL.

The New Hampshire Journal of Agriculture states that about 60,500,000 pounds of wool are raised annually in the country, and our manufacturers consume 80,000,000 pounds, thus showing a deficiency of about one-third of the supply to meet the demand. From the scarcity of cotton at present, the demand for wool must increase, and efforts should be made to meet it with American raised wool. In the British colonies in the South Pacific, and Cape Town in South Africa, 86,700,000 pounds of Merino wool are raised annually, nearly all of which is sent to England.

We understand that Pemberton surrendered Vicksburg at 3 A. M., July 4th, and at 4 o'clock Grant had forty thousand men on the march to find and whip Johnston. From ten to fifteen thousand men were put on board to reinforce Banks. Showing the same energy which has hitherto characterized Grant.

A poet was walking with M. de Talleyrand in the street, and at the same time reciting some of his own verses. Talleyrand perceiving at a short distance a man yawning, pointed him out to his friend, saying: "Not so loud, he hears you."

THE RAID AND ITS LESSON.
On last Wednesday, John Morgan, with a roving, thieving band 5,000 strong, crossed the Ohio river at Brandenburg, and invaded Indiana. Reliable information did not reach this place until nearly two days afterwards, but Governor Morton and General Wicks, in the meantime, took such precautionary measures for defense as appeared to be necessary. Fortunately the Governor had just procured a large lot of arms for the State, and was able to send to the exposed points of the army and ammunition that could be used.

Morgan advanced with celerity, first on Corydon, thence to Salem, on the New Albany and Chicago Railroad, where he destroyed the track and burned the depot, thence to Vienna on the Jeffersonville Railroad, where he destroyed a bridge and tore up the track and telegraph; thence to Paris and to Vernon, in Jennings county; to Dupont, Jefferson county, and Versailles and Osgood, in Ripley county, destroying on his way the Madison Railroad, the Ohio & Mississippi Railroad, and Cincinnati & Indianapolis Railroad, stealing a large number of horses, and having a number of skirmishes with the Union forces. On Monday forenoon it was reported that he had made his exit from our State into Ohio, passing the line at near Harrison.

At the time this raid was commenced we were comparatively defenseless. All effective United States troops had been sent into Kentucky. Our people were busy with their harvest, and on account of the scarcity of arms, were unable to do more.

But when the Governor called the resister and the almost spoiling grain were deserted, and thousands and tens of thousands of our brave citizens rushed unhesitatingly to repel the invaders. So great was the rush that in a few hours not less than twenty thousand men had reported to rendezvous at Indianapolis alone, and fully seventy-five thousand had notified the Governor that they were ready for service.

The Governor, finding that Morgan was heading toward, ordered no more troops to come here. Twelve thousand had already arrived, and more than as many more had assembled and organized at points below. At least thirty thousand men were then in the field, standing at the ready to move in chase of the rebel force. In two days more the Governor could have had an army of one hundred thousand men in the field.

On Monday when it was ascertained that Morgan had reached Ohio, Gov. Morton promptly ordered the several regiments were sent subject to General Burnside's orders in the evening of that day.

A MEDICAL WONDER.

We are assured that no language can portray the immediate and almost miraculous change occasioned by Dr. Roback's SCANDINAVIAN BLOOD PILLS and BLOOD PURIFIER in nervous diseases, whether broken down by sickness, or debilitated by nature, the untiring and relaxed system is at once recruited and renovated. The medicines have a threefold action. They purify, purify, and strengthen at the same time. Hence their astounding cures of Indigestion, General Debility, Biliousness, and Intermittent Fever. In fact, there seems to be no kind of ailment to which they are not adapted. Dr. Roback's advertisement is an appeal to common sense, which all who need medical treatment would do well to read.

A new book, by Mrs. Frances Anne Kemble, is soon to be issued by the Harpers. It is her journal, kept during a residence with her husband, Pierce Butler, on their large plantation in Georgia. This book is pronounced, in advance, to be "the most thrilling and remarkable picture of the interior social life of the slaveholding section in this country that has ever been published." Where the witnesses are reliable, we cannot have too much testimony in the case of slavery. Let the exact working of the "institution" be seen in all its painful, revolting, and inhuman details, that its weak, prejudiced, or venal apologists at the North, may yield to irresistible evidence, or be shamed into silence. Mrs. Kemble's book will probably have a circulation equal to Uncle Tom's Cabin.—Arthur's Home Magazine.

The boys and girls should read the account of the life and character of Prince Albert on our first page. It contains excellent counsels for all our young friends.

Induced by the extensive sale and universal popularity of Hoofland's German Bitters (purely vegetable), hosts of ignorant Quacks and unscrupulous adventurers have opened upon suffering humanity the flood-gates of Nauseas in the shape of poor whiskey, vilely compounded with injurious drugs, and christened Tonics, Stomachics and Bitters.

Beware of the innumerable array of Alcoholic preparations in bottles and boxes, and well belied keys, under the modest appellation of Bitters, which, instead of curing, only aggravate disease, and leave the disappointed sufferer in despair.

ATTENTION, SOLDIERS!
AND THE FRIENDS OF SOLDIERS.

We call the attention of all having relations or friends in the army to the fact that "HOOFLAND'S German Bitters" will cure nine-tenths of the diseases induced by exposures and privations incident to camp life. In the lists, published almost daily in the newspapers, on the arrival of the sick, it will be noticed that a very large proportion are suffering from debility. Every case of that kind can be readily cured by Hoofland's German Bitters. Diseases resulting from debility of the digestive organs are speedily removed. We have no hesitation in stating that, if these Bitters were freely used among our soldiers, hundreds of lives might be saved that otherwise will be lost.

We call particular attention to the following remarkable case: George B. Ayres, one of one of the nation's heroes, whose life, to use his own language, "has been saved by the Bitters."

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 25th, 1862.
Messrs. Jones & Evans—Well, gentlemen, your Hoofland's German Bitters has saved my life. There is no mistake in this. It is attested by numbers of my comrades, some of whose names are appended, and who were fully cognizant of all the circumstances of my case. I am, and have been for the last four years, a member of Sherman's celebrated battery, and under the immediate command of Capt. R. B. Ayres. Through the exposure attendant upon my arduous duties, I was stricken in November last with inflammation of the lungs, and was for 72 days in the hospital. This was followed by great debility, heightened by an attack of dysentery. I was then removed from the White House, and sent to this city on board the Steamer State of Maine, from which I landed on the 28th of June last. Since that time I have been about as weak as any one could be and still retain a spark of vitality. For a week or more I was scarcely able to swallow anything, and if I did force a morsel down, it was immediately thrown up again.

I could not even keep a glass of water on my stomach. Life could not last under these circumstances; and, accordingly, the physicians frankly told me they could do no more for me. As a last resort, a friend who visited me at the hospital advised me to try your Bitters, and I had procured a bottle. From the time I commenced taking them the gloomy shadows of death receded, and I am now getting better. Though I have taken but two bottles, I have gained ten pounds, and I feel sanguine of being permitted to rejoin my wife and daughter, from whom I have heard nothing for 18 months; for, gentlemen, I am a loyal Virginian, from the vicinity of Front Royal.

Very truly and sincerely,
ISAAC MALONE.

We fully concur in the truth of the above statement, as we had despaired of seeing our comrade, Mr. Malone, restored to health:
