GOVERNOR MORTON-HIS ENE-MIES.

We have no particular desire to read a curtain lecture to our exchanges on the subject which heads this article, but we will venture a little advice, and they can accept or reject. It is a right that every freeman should exercise, to ask the suffrages of the people, or be a candidate before our Legislature. We oggest, therefore, that when men do this thing, they do so upon their own strength and not the weakness of another, who is also a candidate for the same position.
