OBITUARY

George S. Evans, the well known lawyer, a native of Oakland, Cal., who died Thursday, May 26, was a nephew of Mrs. H. C. Nosler, of this city, and son of Mrs. Mary Evans, who formerly resided here and is well known to the older residents of Ottumwa. He died at the hospital in San Francisco from typhoid fever.

Regarding the death of Mr. Evans, Murray Laidlaw, of Oakland, Cal., in a letter published in the Oakland Tribune, says: "The lamentable and deplorable death of my friend and former associate, Library Trustee George S. Evans compels me to pay a passing tribute to his memory. "He served two years with me on the library board and he displayed the most indefatigable zeal in the discharge of his duties. Part of the time he was chairman of the book committee and as such showed remarkable judgment in the selection of books purchased for the patrons of the library."

Conscientious Worker.

"Mr. Evans was indeed the most conscientious man I have ever had the honor of being associated with and at all times showed the highest sense of duty, coupled with the most marked ability, particularly in literary matters. "He was in his administration of library matters always controlled by the finest sense of honor, justice and good judgment and it was a treat and a privilege to have served with him in an official capacity. "Had he lived, and the regret that he has not will be lifelong, he would have made a great work in municipal affairs, because, like all healthy minded young Americans, he was ambitious to do things and he would have done them and done them right. In my whole life I have never met a man in whom I had greater hope and confidence than in George S. Evans. "True to his friends, loyal in distress or affluence, always to be depended upon, he was a man whom the community may well deplore his loss. Such men as he leave their mark on the community in which they live and his mark is good. "Promising Author. "The irrepressible regret, words fall to be adequate, is that with his talents he should not have been permitted to live to pursue his cherished desire, which was a literary career. Such high publications as Scribner's, The Century, and other high class periodicals readily received his contributions. And had he lived his progress in literature would have reflected credit on the city of his residence. "With many fast and unforgetting friends I deplore his untimely death. To my finite mind such men should be permitted to live for the good and benefit of the community and the infinite pleasure they themselves have and derive in doing good. I consider the death of George S. Evans to be not only a personal, but a community loss."
