RUSSIANS SAY DEFENSES ARE NOT YET DAMAGED

CLAIM REPORTS OF TELLING BOMBARDMENTS AT PORT ARTHUR ARE UNTRUE.

SIEGE GUNS NOT YET USED

Japanese Have Not, According to Official Reports, Begun a Real Land Attack Though the Bombardment From the Sea Continues Daily.

St. Petersburg, June 9. — The war office is in possession of information which the officials declare warrants the contradiction of the reports brought by Chinese fugitives to Che Foo, of a four days' land and sea attack on Port Arthur and extensive damage to the forts.

Siege Guns Not Used Yet.

An official dispatch from Rear Admiral Wittsoeff, dated June 7, reports that the enemy had been bombarding Port Arthur intermittently from the sea but does not mention serious operations from the land side. The general staff seems certain that the enemy's siege guns have not yet been brought up.

No Assault on Fortress.

St. Petersburg, June 9. — (5:30 p. m.) — All reports coming from unofficial sources at the seat of war mention the persistence of the rumors of fighting on Kwan Tung peninsula. The war office does not question the probable truth of these reports, but insists that no assault has been made on the fortress proper. The war office's advice is to the effect that the Japanese plans contemplated an attack.

Harbor is Blocked.

Che Foo, June 8. — Chinese arrivals from Port Arthur say the entrance harbor is still blocked and large vessels are unable to pass in or out. Gunboats and torpedo boats can effect a passage only at high tide.

Daily Bombardments.

The Japanese fleet is bombarding Port Arthur daily from a considerable distance off shore, fearing to attempt a closer range fire on account of the danger from the Russian mines.

One Officer Killed.

Tokio, June 9. — Admiral Togo reports that on the night of June 7 he sent eight small torpedo boats to make a reconnaissance at Port Arthur. The boats went far inside the heads and were exposed to the Russian fire. One sailor, one petty officer were killed, but the boats escaped undamaged.

Russian Mines Removed.

Tokio, June 8. — Official reports show the first section of Talienn Bay has been completely cleared of mines. Sixty-two have been found and exploded. Two Russian ships were found under the water, one of which is believed to be the cruiser Boyarin.

Naval Demonstration.

Liao Yang, June 9. — Six war ships, including one battleship, participated in the bombardment of the coast of Liao Tung peninsula near Kai Chou. They shelled the coast line between Hudela Tung and Balost Chan, and Russian scouts near Sianbantay. Later they were joined by eleven other warships. It is possible that the demonstration was made with a view to landing troops.

Skirmishes at Mudenfu.

The enemy is holding a small pass at Mudenfu, where the Russians exchanged shots with the Japanese all day Tuesday. Details of the skirmish are lacking.

ILLINOIS CENTRAL BOILER-MAKERS GO OUT ON STRIKE

Chicago, June 9. — Boiler-makers employed on the Illinois Central railroad system went on strike yesterday for an increase in wages and a reduction in the hours of labor from ten to nine. Company officials claim that the strike is a violation of an agreement made last year, which required thirty days' notice to be given of any change.

There are 305 boiler-makers employed on the system and reports received from the shops at various points yesterday were to the effect that over two-thirds of the men had responded to the strike order. The boiler-makers have been receiving 34 and 36 cents an hour and demanded 42½ cents, which would

DIES SUDDENLY

J. A. JOHNSTON PASSES AWAY NEAR BLAKESBURG, WHILE WIFE IS IN OTTUMWA.

Deceased Was Highly Respected and Wealthy Farmer—Widow and Two Children Survive — News Received While Mrs. Johnston Was Here.

"Mrs. I. E. Williams, 503 Myrtle street, Ottumwa, Iowa.

"Tell Mrs. Johnston that Mr. Johnston died just after she left.

"J. J. Johnston."

Such was the sorrowful message handed to Mrs. J. A. Johnston, who resides near Blakesburg this morning while shopping in the Leader. The grief-stricken woman and her daughter, Miss Lillie in company with a nephew, L. E. Kinder, left the deceased apparently in good health shortly after 5 o'clock this morning and came to this city. At 10 o'clock the sad news of Mr. Johnston's sudden death reached the ears of his wife.

Busily occupied making purchases for her two children's summer wear, conscious of nothing save the business she was transacting, Mrs. Johnston became almost hysterical when the news of her husband's sudden death was told her. Her daughter together with kind friends, comforted her in her hour of grief. This afternoon the grief-stricken woman returned to her home near Blakesburg, there to arrange for the funeral of her deceased husband.

Dies Suddenly.

Mr. Johnston has been troubled for the past two years with a disease of the stomach but had not complained very recently. His sudden death is supposed to have resulted from heart trouble. Mr. Johnston was a highly respected and wealthy farmer, having lived one mile west of Blakesburg for the past twenty-five years. He was 53 years old. The deceased is survived by his widow and two children, one daughter, Miss Lillie and one son, John, and one brother William Johnston of Blakesburg and sister, Mrs. Martha Willard of Milton, Oregon.

Glenwood, June 9. — C. C. Porter, for twelve years clerk of the courts of this county (Mills), has not been in the city for one week. When last heard of he was in St. Joe. Sheriff Morgan has left for Kansas City to see if he can not find him. For several weeks here there has been a dispute regarding the accounts of Mr. Porter between himself and the board of supervisors. It is stated there is a difference of $6,900 between the board and Mr. Porter. Colin Ballantyne, of Sioux City, as an expert accountant, has been making an examination of the accounts for the board. For Mr. Porter, John Robinson, deputy clerk of the courts, and S. Klein of Sidney, also made an examination.

On Strike At Waterloo.

Waterloo, June 9. — The boiler-makers employed on the Illinois Central system declared a strike yesterday, and twenty-two men suspended work at the local machine shops. Between two hundred and fifty and five hundred men in all have been affected by the action thus far, and it remains with the boiler-makers whether or not the help and apprentices will follow suit.

BIG MEETING IS CLOSED

MRS. ANNA LEE MAHIN WRITES OF LAST DAYS OF METHODIST CONFERENCE.

FOREIGNERS IN LOS ANGELES

Visitors to the City of Flowers See Many People From Lands Across the Seas—Conference Has Made More Popular Foreign Missionary Work.

(By Mrs. Anna Lee Mahin, special representative of the Courier at the Methodist General Conference.)

Los Angeles, May 30, 1904.

The great conference has drawn to a close. Already delegates are starting for their homes. The conference is so large a body it is not easy to entertain its members as a whole, but some delightful courtesies have been extended them. A trip to Riverside one afternoon, with a stopping of the cars in the midst of a very large orange grove and an opportunity for each person to pick an orange from a tree, was the first excursion. A trip to Long Beach was the second and here was an opportunity to see the beautiful Pacific ocean and rides were planned along the beach and free tickets given to all who desired the use of the famous plunge and private baths. An invitation was extended by Pasadena for an excursion and luncheon, but the conference found the date set too near the closing hours of the session and was obliged to decline.

Personally we have been greatly favored by the attentions of kind friends, having had an entire afternoon of the most delightful driving about the city, through magnificent homes and grounds, which could not have been reached by car lines. The same afternoon we were taken to the Orphan's Home and the public baths, both of which institutions are under the care of great-hearted men and women who devote money and time to caring for the helpless and mitigating the hardships of the poor. We were most deeply interested in both these charities because of the interest in them of one who has also done much for our own city of Muscatine. A noble woman, who very much prefers to quietly extend her generosity to these and other deserving benefactions without having her name associated therewith. The baths are located in a populous and poor district of the city. The fact that over 70,000 free baths have been taken at this establishment in two years shows how important it is and the good it is accomplishing.

One of the most interesting experiences to those who visit this city is the large number of foreigners to be seen. They are on the streets, and at all places of entertainment. Of course Chinese and Japanese prevail but we see the Spanish and half-breed Indians also.

One evening we saw a large number of Japanese young men at the mission exhibit. They were addressed by three returned missionaries, who spoke to them in their own language. No company of young Americans could have been more devout in conduct or more appreciative of the addresses as their devoted attention and frequent applause attested. They have all adopted the American dress and were a rather handsome company of young men.

The same evening some ten or twelve Chinese families had been invited to the exhibit. They were all in the Chinese costumes, even the little children. They, too, were addressed in their own language by missionaries, and they appeared deeply interested and touched. However, they did not appear to be of as high a grade of intelligence as the Japanese. A young Chinese girl has been in attendance upon the conference, a Miss Mary Strong. She is from one of the mission schools in China and is a fine singer. She has been in great demand at all missionary meetings and receptions. She sings nothing but hymns or songs of a religious nature and the greatest charm of her singing is her distinct enunciation of each word. She says the meaning of the song is its beauty to her. She is a sweet-faced, retiring little lady, and wears the Chinese dress when appearing at meetings. She returns very soon to China to take up missionary work among her own people.

This conference has certainly made foreign missionary work more popular and better understood than ever before. The workers themselves are so winning in personality and earnestness and eloquent of speech, and the result of their work as shown in the young men and this young lady must convince the most skeptical of the need and benefit of it.

Here I might refer to two beautifully covered tables set here from a boys' school in northern India and one from a school in southern India. They sold at "auction" one day last week in the conference, and $1,000 was paid for one and $500 for the other. The money is to go to the respective schools where the tables were made. The gavel used at this conference was made of different woods from the Philippines. It was sold for $40.

I regret that I cannot even mention many other interesting matters, my time is so crowded.

The ordination of the bishops was a scene of great solemnity and impressiveness. The largest audience of the entire conference was present, more than 3,500 people. The ceremonies were simple, dignified and without ostentation, and according to the form always used by the church.

The closing business session of the conference lasted until midnight Saturday, May 28. The closing religious exercises were held on Sabbath afternoon. Bishop Hamilton says: "The average intelligence and intellectual ability of this twenty-eight conference is surely superior to any one of the eight general conferences which I have attended. There has been through all of the legislation no precipitate movement. A conscious weight of responsibility seems to have held in check hasty legislation and rashness of judgment. There will be some very widespread criticism of certain measures which have prevailed, but in the main the church at large will accept the conclusions of the conference as judicious and satisfactory."

WOMAN TELLS STORY

MRS. HANNAH ELIAS SAYS RICH NEW YORKER GAVE HER MONEY FREELY.

New York, June 9. — Mrs. Hannah Elias, held in $50,000 bail on the charge of extortion brought by John R. Platt is expected to take the witness stand on Friday. At the hearing testimony of such a character is expected that at least two other arrests are likely.

Mrs. Elias will admit having accepted about $400,000 from her aged admirer, unless present plans are changed maintaining, however, that the money was a free gift. Describing the circumstances under which she became possessed of a fortune she will declare that in order to hold on to the goose that laid the golden eggs for her it was necessary for her to keep a large part of her gifts in circulation. If she repeats what she told the district attorney she will swear she herself has been blackmailed to the extent of more than $100,000 by persons who knew her relations with Platt and threatened to expose them to the aged man's family unless well paid to keep silent.

In supreme court today Justice Clarke dismissed the writ of habeas corpus in the case of Mrs. Hannah Elias, held on an extortion charge. The prisoner was remanded to the Tombs.

MACCABEES MAY CHANGE RATES

Head of Knights Reports to Convention in Battle Creek.

Battle Creek, Mich., June 9. — In the business sessions of the great Camp of the Knights of the Modern Maccabees, which began here yesterday, Commander Boynton reported a proposal to raise the insurance rates after next October as follows: Twenty cents per 1,000 between the ages of 40 and 45, 25 cents between 45 and 48, and 50 cents between 48 and 51, and also to make an additional increase of 25 cents on an extra $1,000 of insurance over the rates charged for the first $1,000.

The order voted to drop from its incorporated name the prefix "Great Camp."

LONG, HARD FIGHT

TOM DENNISON WILL COMBAT ALL EFFORTS TO BRING HIM TO IOWA.

Des Moines, June 9. — "I doubt if they get Tom Dennison into Iowa short of two years," said Senator C. G. Saunders, of Council Bluffs, former county attorney of Pottawattamie county, yesterday. "Dennison's lawyers are manifestly trying to raise a federal question during the hearing on the writ of habeas corpus, and it is my prediction that when they are defeated in the Omaha courts they will appeal first to the state supreme court and then to the United States supreme court. Dennison is a man of great resources, a man of determination and he means. He will not come to Iowa if he can help it, and he will probably stay off the end in this manner for two years."

In corroboration of Senator Saunders is Dennison's own statement made to George M. Christian, United States marshal, who was appointed to serve the warrant on Dennison and bring him to Iowa. As recalled by Mr. Christian yesterday morning Dennison said to him: "I'll never go to Iowa if I can help it, you can count on that. If those farmers ever get a chance to sit as my jury over there, they'll send me up for life for being a gambler."

ENJOYING THE FAIR

MISS CORA CONNELLY FIRST COURIER PRIZE WINNER TO TAKE TRIP.

Ottumwa Girl Who Won in Fourth City Division of the Courier's Great World's Fair Contest Writes Interesting Letter From the Marble City.

St. Louis, Monday, June 6, 1904.

Dear Courier.—As I am the first one of the successful contestants in the Courier's great World's Fair contest to visit the Louisiana Purchase Exposition, I wish to publicly express my gratitude to my friends and your estimable paper for the work done in my behalf and this splendid opportunity to see the fair. Sister Myrtle and the writer left Ottumwa Friday morning on No. 16, stopping at Burlington for dinner and supper with our brother and sister, arriving in St. Louis Saturday morning at 7:15. But for the excessive rainfall at times the trip was a most delightful one. On arriving at the Union station in St. Louis, we took a LaCade street car, which runs from the Union station, direct to the grounds, and within a block of the Inside Inn. We found the management at the Inside Inn very courteous and accommodating in every way. The Inside Inn is fitted up to accommodate 5,000 guests daily. We are being well entertained here and have first-class accommodations. Reasonable rates can be had either on the American or European plan. We found Mark Bennett, manager of the General Press Bureau, at the Administration building, a most accommodating and congenial gentleman, ready to answer all inquiries. The location of the fair is admirable. Everywhere throughout the grounds, stand majestic oak, elm and other shade trees, inviting the visitor to rest and repose. The first of the state buildings visited was, of course, the Iowa building. There amid the edifices of the sister states, stood Iowa's contribution to the greatest exhibition of modern times. The Iowa building is one of the finest in every point of view on the grounds, and a fitting monument to the artistic and mechanical skill of our people. The Indiana, Pennsylvania and New York buildings are handsome and imposing structures. The concessions on the Pike are in many respects, novel and interesting. The Tyrolean Alps, Creation, Ancient Rome, Great West Flood, Battle Abbey, Colossal Pageant of the Nations, Jerusalem and the cliff dwellers seem to be the most popular with the visitors. We took more interest in the Creation than any of the others visited. The subject of creation is always interesting from every standpoint, and especially when the description goes back to the foundation of the world. Here the visitor has a glimpse of the earth rolled into space like a ball, following in rapid succession the various creations down to man. Then follows various types of civilization, an modes and forms of government, beginning with the Assyrian and ending with the American form of government. This alone is worth the price of a trip to the fair. Of the others I may say more later on Saturday was "Pike Day" on the Pike, and all the nations and various shows on the grounds were representative of a most spectacular affair. Here the Jew, the ancient money changer of the east, and the growing power in modern finance, kept step with the wandering native of Egypt. This were mingled the various types of the human race, from the different points of the earth. Saturday was also "Inspection Day" for the West Point cadets. This was a most interesting as well as picturesque affair. The boys looked their best and were certainly a splendid type of American manhood.

HARD FIGHT YESTERDAY

One Man Killed By Soldiers, Who Charged the Crowd of Strikers Near Dunville — The Victor Record's Office and Machinery Are Wrecked.

Cripple Creek, June 9. — After a night of intense excitement due to the battle between the troops and the strikers at Dunville, and the wrecking of the Victor Record office, matters have quieted down in this military district and it is generally believed the worst is now over.

Has Enough Troops.

General Bell will not call for more troops, believing the two companies now on duty, assisted by the sheriff's deputies, can cope with the small parties of miners scattered among the mountains.

Friedley is Captured.

One of the wild chases in the general hunt that the military is conducting ended in the capture of C. C. Friedley at Thompson's ranch. The three Friedley brothers, miners, had gone southward and as one of them was suspected of having fired the shot that killed Roxie McGee in the riot Monday, the military gave chase.

Friedley, when captured, at first refused to talk, but the soldiers placed a rope about his neck and he then told which way his brothers and another man had gone. Friedley was brought back to Victor and placed in the bull pen.

George Friendly Captured.

Marshal Naylor and a squad captured George Friendly today near Canon City. He is charged with having killed Roxie McGee in Victor and with having attempted to shoot C. C. Hamlin, secretary of the Mine Owners' association.

An Alderman a Prisoner.

Chris Miller, a union leader and a member of the Goldfield city council, has been captured at Canon City and will be brought back to the camp. He is charged with having done some shooting in the Denver riot.

Will Revive Paper.

George H. Kyner, proprietor of the Victor Record, whose office and machinery were wrecked by the mob last night, said today that he will establish a new plant as soon as possible. He estimates the loss at $8,000.

Has Fought for Law.

Though the Record has been the official organ of the miners' union since the strike began it has vigorously denounced the assassinations which took place at Independence on Monday and has been outspoken in support of law, order and justice.

Two Battles Yesterday.

Denver, June 9. — Two pitched battles were fought yesterday afternoon and evening between militiamen and strikers, in which one man is known to have been killed and many others wounded. The extent of the casualties may not be known for some time, as the strikers, after their attack on the soldiers, retreated into the hills, taking their wounded with them. The one man known to have been killed was John Carley, a union miner of Cripple Creek.

The first fight took place near a new camp called Dunville, sixteen miles south of Cripple Creek. Adjutant General Bell arrived in Cripple Creek at 2 o'clock in the morning and immediately placed the entire district under martial law. Later he learned that a large number of strikers who participated in Monday's riot were encamped in a strong position near Dunville, that they were well supplied with arms and ammunition, and had announced their intention of fighting should an attempt be made to capture them.

General Bell, with 100 militiamen and deputies, took a special train, which carried them within a few miles of the place where the miners were encamped.

Carley is Killed.

After a hard fight in which the soldiers pressed the strikers hard. There was no bluffing, no shooting in the air in an attempt to scare the men away from attacking. They shot to kill, and the first one to fall was John Carley, who was shot through the heart with a Crag-Jorgensen bullet. Carley, in the retreat, was running from his hiding place behind a rock to the shelter of a tree, some distance away, when he was killed.

Plants that had been kept in operation in the expectation of an improvement are being closed and indications are that all will be out of blast before the end of another week.
