A Proclamation. The proclamation issued by Governor Cummins is as follows: State of Iowa, Executive Department. By the governor: Be it universal exposition, commemorating the acquisition of the United States of the vast territory known as the Louisiana Purchase, is now in progress at St. Louis. This event sought to be emphasized is not only one of the most important in the history of governments, but the exposition itself is the greatest and most complete exhibition of the achievements of the past in the race ever brought together. Of all the states which occupy the territory so acquired, Iowa, by common consent stands first, and therefore her interest in the exposition is not surpassed by any of her sister commonwealths.

Each state will have a "day" during which the exposition will be peculiarly her own. Iowa has chosen June 17 as her "day." The choice has been wisely made, for it is the day above all others upon which the men and women of Iowa can most fittingly celebrate the transfer of the Louisiana territory from the Empire of France to the republic of the United States. It is the anniversary of the most important day in the history of our people, for on June 17, 1803, the eyes of civilized man first rested upon the beautiful shores of our beloved state. Iowa will, therefore, take possession of the exposition on June 17, and by appropriate ceremonies will signalize the two mighty events. It is the earnest hope of the chief executive that as many of our loyal citizens as can make it convenient to do so, will attend at St. Louis upon the day aforesaid, and thus give to the day and enthusiasm to a celebration which will be full of pleasure and overrunning with instruction.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused to be affixed the great seal of the state of Iowa, Done at Des Moines, this 7th day of June, 1904. By the governor: Albert B. Cummins. W. B. Martin, Secretary of State.

OBITUARY.

Frederick Metzger was born on November 12, 1839, in the kingdom of Wurtemberg, Germany. His father's name was Martin Metzger, who died at the age of 80, his mother died in 1862. To these parents were born five children, three daughters and two sons, one of which was the deceased Frederick. Of these children, two sisters and one brother are still living, the latter being at this time on a trip to the old fatherland. In his infancy Frederick was baptized in the Evangelical Lutheran church, was brought up in her teachings and faith which are based on God's Holy Word, and was confirmed at the proper age. In 1854 the family emigrated to America, settling down in the state of Ohio, where for twelve years they were engaged in farming. In Ohio it was where the deceased found in Miss Caroline Harsch a faithful wife. Their union was blessed with nine children, five sons and four daughters, one son, the oldest having preceded his father in death at the age of 21. In 1867 the family came to Iowa and settled in Wapello county. Here it was where the deceased suffered his greatest loss of his life, his dear wife being taken from him by death on January 7, 1884. Though over twenty years have passed since, the deceased had never forgotten her and always spoke of her in loving kindness. About five or six years ago he gave up farming and moved to the city of Ottumwa making his home with his children. He has for several years felt the burden of old age, but not until six months ago was he bound to the sick-bed, which according to God's gracious will was to become his deathbed on Saturday, June 4, 1904, at 4:45 in the afternoon, having attained the age of 64 years, 6 months and 22 days.

The deceased was a quiet, unostentatious man, and has been faithful to his religious convictions. Though in the world he kept aloof from the world and its pleasures and has never joined any society or association that would tend to destroy his faith in his Saviour Jesus Christ. He was one of the oldest members of the German Lutheran church of Ottumwa, whose services he attended as often as he could, and during his illness often expressed his desire to be able to join the worshipping congregation.

FREE FROM WINDSTORMS. Small Loss This Year in Iowa Compared With Other Years.

Des Moines, June 9.—Tornado insurance companies in Iowa are congratulating themselves on the small amount of loss experienced this season, in comparison with last year and previous seasons.

"It is a little too soon to brag," said the secretary of one of the large Des Moines companies, "but the heavy wind storms are apt to occur as late in the year as the latter part of June, but our percentage of loss has so far been very small. There has not been this season in Iowa a storm which could be dignified with the term tornado. The cold, backward weather, with the absence of sultry temperatures, has been a protection."

ALBIA. Albia, June 9.—The Hoskinson writ of habeas corpus case was decided yesterday in favor of the plaintiff, Judge Vermillion giving the children, Willie, aged thirteen, and James, aged six years, over to the custody of their mother, Mrs. J. T. Erisman, who left with the boys for her home in Denver, Colo., this morning.

James Clever, who has been the guest of his father, the morning from Pittsburg, left for his home in Washington state last evening. Martin Clever is in Milo for a visit with relatives and friends.

Thos. Teas has purchased four and one-half acres of land from McGilvery, just north of the Q. tracks in this city. Mr. Teas went to Girley, Kansas, this spring and purchased a farm, but thinking it at home the better place, will bring his family back to Albia. He is now in Des Moines attending a camp meeting of the Friends.

The many friends of Frank Morse assembled last evening and lastly decorated the home to which he and his bride will return this week with old shoes and various mottoes appropriate for the occasion. Mr. Morse will undoubtedly appreciate this kindly attention of his friends.

Attorney J. C. Mabry left for Leavenworth, Kansas, this morning to attend to some business in the federal court. Miss Alida Atchison left this morning on No. 3 for Turke, Mo., to be present at the commencement exercises of her Alma Mater. She will visit a day with her brother Morris, and wife at Greenfield, on her way thither.

Mrs. John Noble and daughter Blanche left this morning for their home in Wayne county, after a pleasant visit to visit with relatives and friends in this city.

Miss Grace Atkinson, osteopath, who has been practicing in Albia for several months, has been compelled to give up her work here on account of asthma trouble and will return to Kirksville, Mo., for treatment.

The clerk of the court issued a marriage license yesterday to Bert A. Johnson, aged 21, of Russell, to Miss Katie B. Kimber, aged 19, of Avery. G. B. Stewart, of Des Moines, was in town this morning on business. Mrs. M. E. Clinton, of Russell, was calling on friends in Albia yesterday. J. W. Rawson came in from Oska-loosa last night to look after some business matters.

NO MASONS' HOME

IOWA GRAND LODGE WILL DISPENSE CHARITY AS IN THE PAST.

Sioux City, June 9.—The grand lodge of the Masons in Iowa will continue to dispense charity individually through the grand lodge charity fund to distressed Master Masons, their widows and orphans, rather than through the medium of a Mason's home.

This question was determined at the present session of the grand lodge, whose sixty-first annual convention was opened with elaborate ceremonies Tuesday morning at the Grand Opera House.

The question of whether the grand lodge should undertake the project of a Masons' home in Iowa has been a mooted one among Masons. Two years ago the grand chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star, an auxiliary to the Masons, composed of Masons and their wives and daughters, at their annual convention voted to inaugurate a Masons' home project and accordingly a permanent building fund was started. Considerable money has been accumulated in this fund. Meanwhile the members of the grand lodge, A. F. & A. M. concluded to investigate the matter of the supposed need of such an institution and the question of its maintenance and from an economical standpoint. This investigation was made.

Clark Advises Action. Grand Master Clark, in his annual address to the grand lodge, called attention to the Masons' home subject and said some sort of action should be taken. He said the question was an important one to the Masonic fraternity of Iowa. If there was to be a Masons' home, he said, the grand lodge might desire to have it under the jurisdiction of this organization.

The members of the committee to which was referred the report of the grand master for investigation and recommendation, consisting of W. H. Norris and W. S. Gardner, reported declaring themselves in favor of continuing the present plan of distributing charity by means of a board of trustees, but adding that the grand lodge would say "godspeed" to any movement for charity that might be taken up by the Order of the Eastern Star. The committee said the grand lodge seemed thus far to be thoroughly satisfied with the work done in the past by the trustees of the grand lodge charity fund—Thomas Lambert, of Sabula, George W. Ball, of Iowa City, and Judge J. P. Gamble, of Knoxville—who had quietly and without ostentation conducted an intelligent and judicious distribution of the grand lodge's bounty.

The report of the committee complimented the administration of Grand Master Clark. The report of the trustees of the grand lodge charity fund was read by Thomas Lambert, chairman, showing that $4,315 was expended on charity individually to disabled Master Masons, their widows and orphans over the state, which was supplemental to the work done by the local lodges in the state.

In jurisdictions the size of Iowa investigation has shown that it is more economical to administer charity in individual cases, rather than through the medium of a central institution. The members of the grand lodge in first class hotels, it is declared.

WOMEN'S WOES

It does seem that women have more than a fair share of the aches and pains that affect humanity; they must "keep up," must attend to daily duties in spite of constant aching back, of headaches, of dizzy spells, bearing down pains, they must stoop over, when to stoop means torture. They must walk and bend and work with racking pains and many aches from Kidney ills.

Kidneys cause more suffering than any other organ of the body. Keep the kidneys well and health is easily maintained. Read of a remedy for kidneys only, that helps and cures the kidneys and is endorsed by people you know.

OTTUMWA PROOF

Mrs. Elizabeth Bowen of 103 Clayton avenue, says: "I found Doan's Kidney Pills a most valuable aid for dispelling aching pains through the kidneys. There was a time when I had a very bad back and as Ottumwa is somewhat hilly this made it hard for me to get around and even walking a little fast caused the pains in my loins to become excruciating for the time being. This was my condition for at least several years. Doan's Kidney Pills, which I procured at Will L. Sargent's drug store was the first medicine that ever gave me real and lasting relief. I have been subjected to exactly the same conditions but my back has not hurt me since using them. I have told my lady friends how good and reliable Doan's Kidney Pills are, and will continue to do so, for I know the user of them will not be disappointed in securing the expected results."

NAME IS A HOODOO

THE CHATTANOOGA, MISSISSIPPI PACKET, CANNOT BE FLOATED.

Boat Was Formerly the Megiddo and Was Used by a Religious Sect Called "The Christian Brethren"—Name Was Changed and Craft Unlucky.

Davenport, June 9.—Capt. Walter H. Blair has received a letter from Paducah, stating hope is about given up of ever raising the boat Chattanooga, which was sunk near that town ten days ago. The steamer ran onto a reef of rocks, and was broken in the middle, her nose being on one side of the rocks and her stern on the other. The rising river has stopped work on the grounded boat and it is now very doubtful if she can ever be saved.

The Chattanooga has had an interesting career. She was built about six years ago for a religious sect called the Christian Brethren which was originated in Davenport. She was fitted up as a gospel ship and given the peculiar name, Megiddo. The Brethren with their families lived in the Megiddo and cruised up and down the Mississippi. It was their custom to stop at the towns along the river to seek employment. As they were all skilled mechanics the men had no trouble in securing work. The women's board spent the time in sewing and did their part in supporting the family. At night they would all go ashore and conduct religious services at a hall rented for the purpose. On account of her unusual name and the strange manner of her owners the boat became an object of interest all along the river.

TO CONVENE AT BLOOMFIELD. Keokuk District Epworth League Gathers June 22-23.

Keosauqua, June 9.—The Epworth league of the Keokuk district, will hold its annual convention at Bloomfield, June 22 and 23. Dr. A. E. Craig pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church of Ottumwa will deliver the convention sermon at 11 o'clock Wednesday June 22. The convention will be addressed Wednesday evening by Dr. E. E. Lymer of Iowa Wesleyan university and Elizabeth Wright of the New York Deaconess Home and Training school. Thursday morning at 11 o'clock by Rev. Thomas Osborn of Fairfield and in the afternoon by Mrs. Ella Fichereau, conference secretary of the Woman's Foreign Missionary society and Mrs. Alma Hearne Holland missionary to India.

The climax of the convention program will be an address by Bishop Oldham Thursday evening. Dr. Oldham, as he is familiarly known, is a magnetic speaker and none should fail to hear him. The program is an exceptional one and merits the attendance of Epworth leaguers from all parts of the district.

BONAPARTE. Bonaparte, June 9.—Yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Joseph Hinish, occurred the marriage of Chas. E. Barbour, of Chillicothe, Ill., and Miss Mary White. A bounteous wedding supper was then partaken of by the contracting parties and a few invited guests, after which they left for Chillicothe, Illinois, to make their future home.

Miss Emma Beck was a visitor in Keosauqua yesterday. Mrs. S. F. Henry and Mrs. Amella Hays spent yesterday in Bonaparte with relatives. Mrs. Ed. C. Smith and little daughter Madge, and Herman and Katherine Summers were visitors in Eldon yesterday.

Earle Packer returned last evening from Ames, where he has been attending the state agricultural college in the civil engineering department. Miss Bessie Sherman returned from Chicago yesterday. Miss Arnie Biely, of Ottumwa, is visiting here with her aunt, Mrs. M. King and family. A. W. Allen and wife, of Stockport, were Bonaparte callers yesterday. Mrs. Jennie Sturdivant had the misfortune to severely sprain her left ankle Tuesday afternoon. Sheriff R. P. Ramsay, of Keosauqua, was a business visitor in town this morning.

The Life of Bread. Good yeast is the life of bread—without yeast bread is cold, dead dough. You never tasted finer, whiter, sweeter, all-round better bread than that raised with Yeast Foam. It tastes good, does good, and stays fresh and moist until the last crust disappears. YEAST FOAM. contains the energizing principle of leaven in its purest form. It is made from healthful vegetable ingredients, malt, hops, corn, etc., in the largest, cleanest, yeast factory in the world. The secret is in the yeast. All grocers sell it at 5 cents a package—enough to make 40 loaves of bread. With proper care it never grows stale. Keep it on hand all the time. Send for our book "How to Make Bread," free. OSKALOOSA CHOSEN

EPWORTH LEAGUE'S STATE CONVENTION WILL BE HELD THERE NEXT FALL.

Des Moines, June 9.—The cabinet of the Iowa State Epworth league in session here has determined on Oska-loosa as the place of holding the annual convention next fall. The convention will begin Thursday, November 17 and close Sunday evening the 20th. The attendance this year will be the largest in fourteen years' history of the state organization. The cabinet officers have virtually picked themselves to have an attendance of 400. The conventions during the past years have drawn between 200 and 300.

Several other cities prominent among them being Burlington, were anxious to be the hosts of the convention. Oska-loosa was selected as being easily accessible from all parts of the state and with a location sufficiently central to draw well from all quarters. It is directly reached by the lines of the Rock Island and Burlington roads from the southern part of the state, while the Iowa Central and Des Moines connections bring it in close touch with the lines of the northern part.

The Over Sunday Plan. The plan at one time proposed for this year's convention of holding it in mid-week has been abandoned for the old over-Sunday plan, which seems preferable. The business of the convention will be conducted on lines similar to those of the general conference of the Methodist church, with which the Epworth league is connected. The rolls of districts will be called, giving each delegate an opportunity to advance any measure he may deem worthy the action of the convention. After reference to a proper committee it will be acted upon by the entire body. In this manner it is hoped to draw more individual delegates into the active business of the convention than heretofore, when the work of bringing up business and originating schemes for the advancement of the work has rested largely with the officers.

The League Officers. The officers of the current year are president, Rev. G. F. Whitfield, Ruthven; secretary, Rev. E. T. Gruller, Hampton; treasurer, W. J. Tutt, Des Moines; junior superintendent, Mrs. S. T. McKim, Traer.

Department presidents—Spiritual Rev. C. N. Pace, Lone Tree; world evangelism, W. E. Tackaberry, Sioux City; mercy and help, L. E. Hill, Tama; literary and social, C. E. Jones, Indianola.

Tells Story of Disappointment. In her home yesterday, her head swathed in bandages, she told her story, which frequently was interrupted by a hacking cough. Mrs. Mulkey, who is evidently a woman of refinement and education, said: "Is it a crime to have children and bring up a family as God intended that mothers should do? I am discouraged and broken in health and spirit by the treatment I received in looking for a home for my little ones. I have been from Hinrod street to Forty-fourth street in South Brooklyn. I have tried eighty-seven different flat houses and I have been turned away from every one because I had children."

NEW YORK, June 9.—During the last three weeks Mrs. Thomas Mulkey of 239 Hinrod street, Brooklyn, has visited eighty-seven different flat houses in all parts of Brooklyn trying vainly so far to find a home for herself. Mrs. Mulkey now lies ill in bed at her home as a result of the fatigue and exposure of her search. The landlords of every one of the eighty-seven flat houses which Mrs. Mulkey visited have refused to rent their apartments because of the five children.

Thomas Mulkey is a die setter by trade, has steady employment, always pays his bills, and has the reputation both in his neighborhood where he lives and in the shop where he works of being a hard working, faithful and reliable man. No one ever suggested he was not good for any contract which he made. He works in South Brooklyn, and because of the confining mature of his occupation is unable to spend much time in looking for a home. That work has fallen upon Mrs. Mulkey.

It is a crime to have children and bring up a family as God intended that mothers should do?
