

IS INVOLVED IN FORGERY

ANOTHER WARRANT IS ISSUED AGAINST CASHIER H. W. HERING

FETZER IN A FIGHT

Question as to Legality of His Appointment as Receiver—Judge Gibbons Names Another Man—Settle It in the Courts.

Chicago, Aug. 14.—Another warrant against Henry W. Hering, cashier of the Milwaukee Avenue State bank charging him with forging a note for $10,000 in the name of Marius S. Kirkby, was issued today.

The financial and criminal tangle arising out of the collapse of the Milwaukee Avenue State bank and the flight of its president, Paul O. Stensland, assumed three new phases yesterday.

Of most startling interest was the sudden appointment of a new and rival receiver for the bank. Upon the contention of Attorney S. O. Levison that Judge Brentano's naming of John C. Fetzer as receiver last week was illegal, Judge Gibbons late in the afternoon named the Chicago Title and Trust company to the same place.

This, the third receivership created including the federal action on the personal estate of the bank—has aroused deep indignation and alarm among the thousands of depositors who fear the complication will consume much of the remnant of assets. The Gibbons receivership will be subject to legal test.

Attack on Fetzer Is Surprise

The attempt of new interests to oust Mr. Fetzer as receiver came as a surprise to everybody connected with the present receivership and to Judge Brentano.

The application for the change of receivers was made to Judge Gibbons of the Circuit court on a petition by T. E. Elde, a depositor, who has secured a judgment of $6,000 against the bank. Judge Gibbons set the bond of the Chicago Title and Trust company at $500,000.

Mr. Elde, the complainant, lives in Leo, Ill., where he has a general merchandise store. He started his proceedings by filing suit against the bank in the Circuit court. Attorney John Waage immediately filed an appearance on behalf of the bank.

Elde was placed on the witness stand. He testified that at the time of the failure he had $5,295 in the bank. Attorney Waage then entered into a stipulation in which the bank admitted the debt. Judge Gibbons entered judgment for the amount named and a second suit was filed with the clerk of the Circuit court.

Tenure Will Come to an Issue.

The second suit included a bill in which the appointment of a receiver was asked. The document did not inform the court of the appointment of Mr. Fetzer by a judge of the Superior court, but Attorney Levison said the matter will become an issue if Mr. Fetzer refuses to abdicate.

"There will be some interesting legal questions to settle before the matter is through with," said Mr. Fetzer, "but I do not anticipate any unseemly clashes. There are enough courts to settle such matters."

Judge Would Test Question.

Judge Gibbons in the evening explained his appointment by saying it was made to test the question whether the original appointment of John C. Fetzer by Judge Brentano was in accordance with legal requirements.

"There is no conflict of jurisdiction between Judge Brentano and myself over this matter at all," he said. "It is simply a procedure to test the legality of the appointment of Mr. Fetzer. If that appointment is held to be legal then my appointment falls."

"I made the appointment on the representation that the proceedings before Judge Brentano were not in due form of law and it was necessary to test the question. The attorney for the bank, I do not know his name, represented the defense."

"The next proceedings will be for the trust company to make demand on Mr. Fetzer for possession of the property now in his hands. This, it is presumed, Mr. Fetzer will refuse and thus the issue will be raised. If it is decided Mr. Fetzer's appointment was properly made then that is the end of the claims of the trust company."

Who Is to Decide This, you or Judge Brentano?

"I do not know. Probably Judge Brentano."

HISSED FLAG; FINED.

Englishman Pays Penalty for Action in the Theater.

Bayonne, N. J., Aug. 14.—James Piere, an Englishman, was fined $25 in police court today for hissing the American flag during a performance at the theater last night. The judge who imposed the fine was a member of the audience. The hissing of the flag almost caused a riot.

FRANK WOODS IS NAMED CHAIRMAN

ESTHERVILLE MAN WILL HEAD THE REPUBLICAN STATE COMMITTEE

Resolutions of Appreciation of Treatment at the Hands of the Retiring Chairman, Robert H. Spence—Meets Again Aug. 1.

Des Moines, Aug. 14.—Frank P. Woods of Estherville was elected chairman of the republican state central committee at the meeting of that body at the Savery hotel yesterday afternoon.

S. D. Riniker of Rock Rapids was elected vice chairman and C. S. Franko of Parkersburg was elected secretary.

The chairman was empowered to name all committees, including the executive committee and heads of departments, except that the committee elects W. L. Converse of the fourth district to be in charge of the speakers' bureau.

Chairman Woods will at once open headquarters, securing quarters in the Observatory building.

Meet During Fair Week.

The committee adjourned to meet some day during fair week, probably on the last Friday of fair week, which would be August 31, to make plans for the campaign and to confer with the candidates on the state and congressional tickets of the party.

Mr. Woods, who succeeds Mr. Spence is connected with five banks in northern Iowa, one of which is at Estherville and another at Fort Dodge. He is about 40 years of age, unmarried and will devote all of his time to the active management of the campaign during the next three months. He was one of the leaders of the Cummins men in Emmett county and has taken a lively interest in politics for many years, though he never held public office.

His candidacy was not proposed by his friends until very late. It was supposed up to yesterday that the chairmanship would go to W. J. McCoy of Clinton. The first vote on the office was six to five, and on motion the election of Mr. Woods was made unanimous. Those who voted for Mr. Woods were Messrs. McCoy, Franke, Converse, Estabrook, McCoy and Riniker. Those who voted for Mr. McCoy were Messrs. Woods, Cowles, Epps, Copeland and Wright.

Best of Feeling.

The best of feeling prevailed among the committeemen and there was no talk that savored of anything except harmony and victory. The committee expects the usual republican majority.

The following resolutions expressed the sentiment of the former state central committee toward the chairman, who goes out after five years' effective service:

"Resolved, That the republican state central committee hereby express our appreciation of the courteous treatment shown each member of this committee by our retiring chairman, R. H. Spence, for which we hereby tender him our heartfelt thanks.

"Resolved, Further, that we appreciate his loyal, able and unbiased efforts for success of the party during the preceding campaigns of which he has been chairman. We realize that in him the party has a loyal and true worker and supporter.

"W. W. Epps, "W. J. McCoy, "George R. Estabrook."

BONAPARTE.

Bonaparte, Aug. 14.—Mrs. J. Spruance and Howard and Hattie Spruance returned to Denver, after a month's visit with friends and relatives.

Roger Cox is visiting in Mt. Zion this week.

The O. E. S. initiated several new members Monday evening. Elegant refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Vickers of Mt. Sterling, are visiting relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Coolidge are visiting in Hillsboro and Mt. Pleasant this week.

The class of 1901 of the Farmington high school surprised their fellow classmates, Martin Wehn of this place, Monday evening. A very enjoyable time was reported.

COMPETITION ON RIVER.

Steamboat Men on Mississippi and Illinois Fight for Traffic.

Davenport, Aug. 14.—The fight for the Mississippi river trade between Keokuk and Quincy, which has been waged for the past ten days, and which became hot last week when Captain Walter Blair announced that he intended to put the steamer Columbia on the Illinois to drive the steamer Fred Swain from the Peoria-LaSalle trade, came to a sudden termination Saturday when David Swain surrendered by taking his new side-wheeler packet, the "David Swain," from Keokuk and bringing it to Peoria to enter the excursion business.

"Captain Swain tried it for ten days in the Keokuk-Quincy service," said Walter Blair this morning upon his return from Keokuk, but in his disappointment he found that his new boat which he expected to be a winner, did not draw the trade, and that it was not worth while to stay there.

That was the explanation given by Captain Blair yesterday, but it is well known that this was not the only reason why David Swain gave up the Keokuk-Quincy service. Captain Blair had gone to Peoria and made arrangements to bring the Columbia over to the Illinois river to compete with the Fred Swain, which has absolute control of that trade, and rather than have two fights on his hands he decided to give up the Keokuk-Quincy attempt and hike over into his own territory.

THIS IS DAY OF REUNIONS

GATHERINGS OF OLD SOLDIERS IN ALL PARTS OF MINNEAPOLIS HELD

SOME ALL DAY AFFAIRS

Colonel Charles A. Clark Latest Entry in Contest for Commander-in-Chief of Grand Army of the Republic—Race is Now On.

Minneapolis, Minn., Aug. 14.—This was reunion day at the G. A. R. encampment and the gatherings of old soldiers were held in all parts of the city. In addition there were receptions, a majority of them being all day affairs by various patriotic societies, Masonic bodies and various organizations affiliated with the Grand Army of the Republic.

Contest for Commander. Charles A. Clark of Cedar Rapids is the latest entry in the race for commander in chief of the Grand Army of the Republic. Colonel Clark's candidacy has been announced, and although his entry is generally considered merely as an announcement of his active candidacy for the place in 1907, he will undoubtedly draw support from many Grand Army departments and the political situation will be complicated by his entry.

According to lobby gossip Brown of Ohio is still in the lead in the race for the chieftainship of the veterans' organization. His strength was shown at the Denver convention last year when he ran second to "Corporal" Tanner.

Burton of Missouri will receive the support of his home state, and his popularity in Grand Army circles will undoubtedly result in a substantial vote in the convention. P. H. Coney, department commander of Kansas, has received the unanimous indorsement of his delegation and will enter the fight with the solid backing of the Sunflower state.

Minneapolis Man. Rumors are current of the entry of a Minneapolis man in the race for senior vice commander, but in local Grand Army circles it was positively asserted that no Minnesota man will seek the second honor at the hands of the encampment. It has been customary for the encampment city to name a senior vice commander, but owing to the election of Silas H. Towler as junior vice commander at Denver last year, Minneapolis has not put a man in the field for the position.

Capt. E. B. Fenton of Detroit is as yet the only announced candidate for the position of junior vice commander at the convention. He is backed by the delegates from Michigan and neighboring states and may receive the election unanimously.

FARMINGTON.

Farmington, Aug. 14.—Mrs. Francis King and daughter Elsie left Saturday afternoon for Chicago to visit Mrs. S. B. Allison.

Rev. A. W. Wiggins of Tonica, Ill., is the guest of friends.

Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Boler and children of Dallas, Texas, are visiting at the homes of Dr. G. R. Neff and T. B. Boler.

Miss Pearl Miller of Milton is a guest at the home of Dr. Neff.

Miss Mabel Holloway of Milton, and Miss Turner of Kakaha, Mo., are visiting Mrs. C. L. Paisley.

Orion Boler and wife of Keokuk, visited over Sunday with T. B. Boler and family.

Wesley Sanders of Arapahoe, Okla., is visiting his father, John Sanders, and sisters Mrs. George Boyer and Mrs. H. F. Barton.

Miss Grace Boler and J. E. Foregrave were married Saturday evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Boler, Rev. James McKernan performing the ceremony.

This popular young couple have the good wishes of a host of friends. Mr. Foregrave has charge of the telephone work at this place and the happy couple will go to housekeeping in rooms over Carr's store.

Farmington's Chautauqua closed Sunday under the most favorable circumstances, a beautiful day and a large crowd of people. Rev. George L. McNut preached a most excellent sermon in the morning, and Dr. R. S. McArthur of New York, gave a most scholarly discourse in the afternoon.

The financial part of the Chautauqua is also satisfactory; after paying all the bills and the slight indebtedness of last year, there will be a balance of $200 in the treasury. A large number of shares were sold during the week, and the continuance of the Farmington Chautauqua is an assured fact.

DAN HAMILTON IS GIVEN RECEPTION

ADDRESSES PEOPLE OF SIOUR. NEE UPON RETURN FROM OTTUMWA

Siourney, Aug. 14.—D. W. Hamilton received an enthusiastic demonstration upon his return here from the democratic congressional convention in Ottumwa, yesterday, where he was nominated as candidate for representative. He returned to the city on the 7 o'clock passenger and was met at the depot by the Siourney brass band and a large number of citizens. He was hailed to the stand in the public square at the head of an enthusiastic throng and was taken to the band stand in the public square where he spoke for a few minutes. Siourney seems to be getting her share of candidates this year, and more yet are predicted.

DEMOCRATS HAVE SOME WARM TIMES

LOCAL MEN PLEASD WITH YESTERDAY'S CONVENTION AT GRAND OPERA HOUSE

Was Harmonious Affair at the End, Though For a While Quite Warmly Contested—The Resolutions—Hamilton, the Nominee, Makes Address.

What the members of the democratic party of the Sixth district consider to be one of the largest and most successful congressional conventions ever held in this district was that one which yesterday afternoon nominated D. W. Hamilton of Siourney, as the opponent of Major Lacey in the campaign this fall.

While the issues of the convention were in some instances hotly contested, the nomination of Mr. Hamilton was made unanimous and when he was brought to the stage he was introduced by G. M. Tripp of Jasper county, who had been in charge of the Weaver force.

The matter of proxy voting was the cause of most of the wrangling that marked the convention. No sooner had the committee on credentials made its report finding that out of the counties were represented and allowing the voting by proxy of those representing absent delegates, than a motion was made to amend the report by ordering that in all cases where the county convention choosing the delegates had instructed the delegates present to cast the full vote of the delegation, the voting by proxy be not allowed.

This amendment precipitated a storm. A number of speeches were made for and against the measure. Monroe county bore the brunt of the attack on the amendment and Jasper and a part of the Wapello county delegation championed it.

Lie is Passed. One of the most dramatic incidents of the convention occurred at this time. John P. Reese of Albia in an impassioned speech against the proposed amendment, after naming a number of prominent Monroe county democrats, himself included, who were among those voting by proxy, cried out: "Do you mean to say that we do not represent the democracy of Monroe county?"

"Yes," cried some one in the front row of the Wapello county delegation. "You're a liar," said John P. Reese.

The balloting was short but spirited. Three formal ballots were required to choose a candidate. The informal ballot gave Williams of Davis county 12, Weaver 23 1/2, Hamilton 40 1/2, and Seever of Mahaska 17.

The first formal ballot showed little change in the relative standing of the candidates. The second ballot gave Weaver a gain of nine votes, with Hamilton no nearer the desired fifty votes required for choice. But in the third ballot the end came. Davis county dropped Williams and gave 11 of its 12 votes to Hamilton. The final vote stood as follows:

For Hamilton—Davis, 11; Keokuk, 16; Mahaska, 9; Monroe, 3; Poweshiek, 10; Wapello, 11. Total, 60.

For Weaver—Jasper, 15; Davis, 1; Mahaska, 8; Monroe, 6; Wapello, 8. Total, 38.

The announcement of the vote was greeted with cheers and the nomination was made unanimous. The applause at this moment was uproarious. A committee was appointed by the chairman to escort Mr. Hamilton to the platform.

When the applause had subsided the newly nominated candidate was introduced to the convention by Mr. Tripp of Jasper county, who had led the Weaver forces in the struggle for the nomination.

Hamilton Talks. Mr. Hamilton spoke as follows: "Gentlemen of the Convention: I thank you for the honor conferred upon me today in being selected as candidate to represent our constituency in the Sixth congressional district, and at this time fully realize the responsibility that rests upon the candidate. I appreciate the respect shown me and if successful will endeavor to conduct myself in such a manner that you will not be ashamed of what you have done on this occasion.

"I ask the democrats to each appoint themselves as a committee of one to work with their neighbors. Make it an educational campaign. The people of the district as well as of the state and nation are largely of one accord as to their belief as to what ought to be done. The people of the country advocate democratic doctrines. The voters should go to the polls to cast not the partisan but the individual ballot.

Untiring Efforts Needed. "I do not wish to speak at length at this time but I again urge the democrats of the district to carry on a campaign of education on the tariff and the trusts. If you do this and earnestly work there is no question about the results. Don't flatter yourselves that it can be done without work. We have against us one of the most cunning politicians in this part of the west. Success will come only from untiring efforts. I thank you for the confidence that has induced you to place me in this position of responsibility.

Mr. Tripp was then called upon and he spoke briefly as follows: "General Weaver is proud of his friends; he loves the democratic party; he has no hatred for any one, and only wishes to hear that Claude C. Porter is governor, and Daniel W. Hamilton has taken the place of Lacey after the smoke has rolled away at next election time. While General Weaver would have been pleased to have been your choice today, he would not make a fight for it. Whatever of a scrap there has been must be charged to the delegates, and not to General Weaver.

"Don't think because of the fine convention today and the finest state convention we have ever held, that our ticket is elected. It is the duty of every democrat to work in the campaign for the people of the commonwealth."

The following are the resolutions adopted by the convention: Resolutions. "Resolved, That the democrats of the Sixth Congressional district in convention assembled, hereby endorse the platform adopted and the candidates nominated by the state convention recently held at Waterloo and hereby pledge the same our undivided support. That governments are created by the people, and for the people; that it is the duty of government to make it as easy as possible for all people to be good citizens and that equality, squareness, liberty, charity and common honesty, are essentials in all just government. That graft, greed and gall of private monopolies as exposed and appears in insurance, in meat packing, in food adulterations, in Standard Oil deal, in coal investigations, in rebates, in lobbies, in the private car system and in interference with law-making and affairs political, are a triple relic of barbarism, are a menace to health, morals and civilization, and should receive the instant condemnation of all and the surest, swiftest remedy possible. That we condemn the present lobby system in legislation and ask that such statutes be enacted as shall banish it from our capitol. That we oppose government by injunction, and condemn it as dangerous, unconstitutional and un-American, and as infringing upon trial by jury, one of the most sacred rights of a free people. That we favor a reasonable and immediate revision and reduction of the tariff by the friends of the people to the end that Americans shall have better treatment than foreigners in the matter of prices. That the tariff shall not be a shelter for private monopoly nor a weapon of offense against the American market itself. That tariff laws should be amended by putting the product of trusts upon the free list to prevent monopoly under the plea of protection.

"That coal, iron and lumber should be placed on free list and that tariff duties should be levied for the purpose of revenue only. That we further affirm that one of the most important issues is the proper control or action toward those great oppressive combinations, called trusts, or monopolies, under whatever form or name, and we insist that such action be taken by our legislative bodies as shall insure the absolute control of this country and its resources to the people, by the people and for the people.

"That we demand such regulation of the railroad rates and power as will regulate and in event of failure therein a gradual public ownership. We hereby pledge our candidate for congress, if elected, to use his best effort toward the establishment of a federal court within this, the Sixth Congressional district. We demand the enactment of a service pensioner bill, thereby doing justice to those who actually fought our battles, regardless as to whether they were incapacitated or not.

"That we insist that a fair test of public service be had. That any one who has held public office for any reasonable time and who has not incurred the displeasure of any of the above great combinations, has not done his full duty toward the people, and does not deserve re-election. And we further favor nominating as our presidential candidate for 1908, that peer of men, that great champion of pure democratic principles, who kept the faith, that great American commoner, William Jennings Bryan."
