Corset Talk

It makes no difference how well a Corset may look nor of what material it may be made if it is not built on correct lines and modeled to conform to the build of the wearer—in other words—if it does not fit—and fit comfortably—and lay a shapely dress foundation, it is not worth the money it is sold for.

We have given particular attention to our Corset department and the result of this attentiveness shows up today in the enjoyment of a large business in this line of merchandise.

We keep several well known and largely advertised makes of Corsets.

The celebrated G. D. "Just-rite" Corsets, Thompson's famous Glove Fitting Corsets, The New American Princess Corsets.

These are all $1.00 grades—and are kept in all the styles suited to the different forms. The extreme lengths are also among this lot and every size in stock from 18 to 30.

We make a special effort in our cheaper lines of Corsets—At present we have an extra good quality of French Batiste Corsets in short, medium, long and Extra Long models—most wonderful in value and as correct in fit as the higher priced goods.

To wearers of girdles we offer a very special bargain in a White Batiste Girdle, all sizes—wonderful in value.

Fifty golden years have passed during which these two estimable people have shared with one another all the joys and sorrows, all the trials and all the good and bad that mankind has to meet with. A reception was given by them in honor of the event from 2 to 9 p. m., and a family dinner was also served, attended by many of their old time friends and relatives.

Mr. Cole was born in Preble county, Ohio, in 1836, and came to this county and settled in Pleasant Ridge township with his mother when nine years of age, and afterwards moved to West Point township in 1949. Mr. and Mrs. Cole are the parents of one son, William, who is now residing on the Cole homestead, northeast of here. They are also the foster parents of two daughters, who were orphans, and whom they adopted as their own. Both Mr. and Mrs. Cole are yet hale and hearty, and they have the best wishes of their many friends for many more happy wedding anniversaries.
