

LARGE CROWDS ARE A FEATURE

ATTENDANCE AT CHAUTAQUA YESTERDAY A REPETITION OF FIRST DAY CROWDS.

PERRY LECTURES

Renowned New York Preacher Frank Perry Tells of Nation's Ills—Italian Band and Eccles, Humorist, Good Numbers.

The second day of the chautauqua was a repetition of the opening day in so far as being a huge success is concerned, and while the program varied, the quality was on a par. Lovers of the band music were afforded a treat by the performance of Sig. Pasquale Ferrante and his Royal Italian Guards band. Neither Sig. Ferrante nor his band are of the common type. Instead, they are masters of the several instruments they play and the huge canvas that filled to overflowing the sessions of the chautauqua. Then, too, there were other stars who contributed to the pleasure and instruction of the occasion. Walter Eccles, the funny man, was one of these. His specialty was to drive away dull care and make the blues vanish. No one left the chautauqua grounds last night a sufferer from the blues. The popularity of the chautauqua mode of entertainment which Ottumwa will have for the next week, is easily attested to by the immensity of the crowds that attend both afternoon and night. If Mr. Eccles furnished fun, then it can be truly said that Edward Russell Perry furnished much food for thought, for his lecture of the afternoon found lodgment deep in the minds and hearts of the hundreds of people who listened to him with a keen and never flagging interest throughout the session. His sincerity most appreciated.

Band Opens Session. The opening of the afternoon session was a concert by the Royal Italian Guards band of superb musicians, whose ability was never put to a real test in their entire program, so readily did they individually and collectively respond to the baton of their director, Sig. Pasquale Ferrante, whose fame as a bandmaster is wide. The concert was good, very good, and the variety offered among the many pleasing numbers played, met with general approbation of the vast audience. Always interesting and clever in the rendition of the splendid program, at no time was the audience tired of listening to the melody made by these men from sunny Italy. Among the selections played were "Pledge Chorus" from M. Shubert's serenade and "By the Light of the Silvery Moon," the latter by request. The closing selection was "The American Patrol." Although some of the selections were long, the numbers played were generous and all were of high merit.

Tells Ills of Country. This excellent band served as an introductory to the good things that were to follow in the form of food thoughts by Rev. Edward Russell Perry, a member of the American Society of Science, a famous New York preacher and an avowed enemy of all graft. This talk was well worth the hearing, and although the lecturer might say things that did not meet the full sympathy of some, he impressed all with the thoroughness of his knowledge of affairs generally and as pertained to the country's faults in particular. "Samson Aroused," was the title of the lecture, and when warned to his subject, Mr. Perry enacted the role of Samson in his defence of honesty and fight against graft, be it commercial or political. He stated that his subject found origin in an ancient legend and in bringing up to his real lecture, reviewed the life of the giant Samson and compared the pulling down of the pillar with its consequent destruction to his enemies, to the tearing down of graft and corruption in politics and commerce today. He said that every man or woman with a noble purpose in life, is a giant as well as Samson. He stated that want of morality is the root of human disaster, and that a universal awakening to new ideals is seen throughout the world and even in China, which country he said would furnish the history for the next ten years.

Lauds Roosevelt. Theodore Roosevelt was lauded by the lecturer who said that the effect of the administration of President Roosevelt would be felt in every administration for the next generation. The concentrated wealth of the country was said by the lecturer to be in the hands of a few families and that one bank, the City Bank of New York, controlled the wealth of the nation. He declared that 1 per cent of the nation controlled ninety-nine per cent of the nation's wealth. The beef trust and sugar trust were hit as well and the lecturer questioned the honesty of the methods whereby $50 to $60 per cent on an investment can be made honestly. He also referred to Guggenheim and Ballinger in the coal and timber lands of the northwest and said that Ballinger was suggested by Guggenheim, Wickersham by Pierpont Morgan and Dickenson by Wall Street.

Treats Subject Frankly. Dr. Perry does not leave any doubt in the mind of the hearer, but with frank disclosure of facts finds the all-trunk remedy and happily shows its effective working. Presented judiciously and with enthusiastic and conscientious motive, it is a vital presentation. He said in part: "The economic question is so entwined with social problems that a primary understanding of the great social questions must be gained through the knowledge of the economic influence upon social conditions. It is becoming clearer to the public mind that the economic motive underlies the moving forces in civilization and social conditions. The failure to discern this has resulted in two standards, one for economics, or business life, and another for the social life. But today, economics, through the contrast of these two standards with unwholesome social and economic conditions which embarrass the nation, and result in economic disorder, is bringing home to all thoughtful observers the lesson that right practices in the economic life of the people is essential to the preservation of a wholesome social order.

New Awakening. "The awakening to this understanding of economic conditions in which the life of the people must be parallel with a right way of doing business. The economic life and the social life are hand together, and will rise or fall according as business is transacted honestly or dishonestly, in proportion as there exists in the business life of a people, a disposition toward the social order."

Band Pleases Audience. An audience which filled every available seat and overflowed outside listened to the grand concert last night by Sig. Pasquale Ferrante and his Royal Italian Guards band. The band is composed of twenty-five pieces, the reed section being very strong while the horn section had several talented soloists. On the object was raised against the band and this was too much of the cymbal arrangement which gave so much of the early numbers a tin pan effect but in the renditions of heavier pieces this objection was eliminated and the audience listened intently to the stories as brought out by the great composers of music. Although unable to utter a word in English, Sig. Ferrante, director of the organization demonstrated that he could play an enchanting and charming music from his musicians by magic—scutious of his hand. The evening's program was a heavy one, the Italian musicians rendering the William Tell overture, a selection from Faust and the ever popular "Miserere" from "Il Trovatore." The latter number's arrangement was something unusual and pleasing and was heartily endorsed. The solo part was furnished by one isolated from the band, being located at the rear of the audience. His sweet-toned instrument gave added sweetness to the selection. The sextette number was unusually good. The selection from Faust was well rendered and the players got all there in the rendition of this classical composition.

Another piece of music, "The Jolly Fellow" with the whistling effects of the musicians. The most appreciated and best number on the program was the concluding piece, a medley of American national and popular airs. The patriotic strains brought the audience to their feet making a fitting climax to the evening's program.

Eccles Brings Laughs. Walter Eccles, humorist and popular entertainer, was the featured attraction of the evening's entertainment. Eccles humorous sayings last night struck a popular chord and sooner or later he will be classed among the humorists of America the day. He is a big, fat, jolly fellow, and when he smiles, which he does all ways, it is infectious and the audience laughed and forgot dull cares. His imitation of Harry Lauder, the Scotch song, "I Love a Lassie," was exceedingly clever, but he probably scored a greater hit in the vehicle of Ezra Kendall, "A Trip to Niagara Falls," imitating the great American comedian. He did not confine his program largely to humorist numbers, but he also showed that he had emotional talents in the poem, "Which Are You." His travesty on the tricks of the magician was something out of the ordinary and was amusing and pleasing. He would do some of the easy tricks of the magicians and by accident give them away which made it amusing. His imitation of a crying youngster at the conclusion of his part of the entertainment was rich.

Sunday, August 7. 2:30 p. m.—Recital by A. Ruthven McDonald, Canadian baritone. He is big enough to be seen and sings so you can understand. You get the story as well as the music. From heights of social splendor amid the classics, he drops to the marvelously clever "Biberty Bob," a popular hit that once heard is always remembered.

Dr. Wm. F. McDowell, Methodist Episcopal bishop, "Life and the Bible." An event of more than ordinary importance is the approaching engagement of Dr. Wm. F. McDowell, the distinguished Bishop of all the Methodist Episcopal churches of America. Dr. McDowell has been consecutively moved from promotion to promotion: chancellor of the University, Director of the board of education, Methodist Episcopal churches, and is now bishop of America; preacher to Harvard university and president of the board of trustees of Northwestern university. He is a world traveler and immediately after his engagements on the chautauqua platform this summer sails for India, China and Japan. 7:30 p. m.—"The Story Beautiful," by Rev. Father MacCory. There is but one man that can tell "The Story Beautiful" in the limitable way that Father MacCory tells it, and that man is Father MacCory himself. He is unlike anyone else on the platform. He is in a class by himself. His power of holding his hearers spellbound throughout an evening of one minute moving them to tears and the next thrilling them with ecstasy—of compelling surrender to one strong emotion after another—of this is his most remarkable characteristics. This is due not alone to his surpassing eloquence and fire, but in a great degree to the magnetic quality of his voice and manner, to his earnestness, and to a most engaging personality. He touches the fountain heads of art, music and literature and brings the life and times of the Messiah up through the dim azure of the ages until one thinks it must all have happened a new yesterday ago. His word painting gives in brilliancy, and in some instances wins the mastery over, the exquisite coloring of the paintings projected on the canvas. His scathing denunciation of the injustice of the world at the scene of the woman taken in sin—the injustice which stones an erring woman but condones a more sinful man—It like a vivid stream of lava, consuming and irresistible in its fiery force.

Father MacCory is one of the greatest of popular orators, and "The Story Beautiful" is unquestionably the highest reach of both his artistic and oratorical ability. FARMINGTON. Harry Greenleaf of Moline, Ill., is visiting his father L. Greenleaf. Miss Alta Reineke has gone to Bloomfield to visit over Sunday. Floy Knapp and family and Rev. and Mrs. J. C. Shipp were Keokuk visitors Monday. Mrs. E. W. Van Fleet of Peoria, Ill., is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Locke. ARREST ALLEGED IMPOSTER

Self-Styled Prof. D. W. Brown Solicits Money Without Any Authority. Waterloo, Aug. 8.—A negro styling himself Prof. D. W. Brown, of Independence, and acting as agent for the Nixobe Industrial school of McLeod, Miss., who has been in the city for the past week soliciting funds for the extension of the school, was arrested by the police and accused of being an imposter. He was locked up pending an investigation.

When arrested he had a satchel full of literature of the school and references from some of the most prominent people in the country. During the time that he has spent in this city he has secured $31 and just returned from Cedar Falls to work the city again when arrested. At police headquarters he would admit nothing at first but under a searching fire of questions he broke down and made several guilty admissions. Professor Brown's home is in Independence, Mo., where he claims to have a wife. He claims to have been carrying on this work for the past three years with varying success and so far as is known it was here that Brown met his Waterloo.

Brown has visited practically all of the cities and town of any material size in the state including Cedar Rapids, Des Moines, Dubuque, Iowa City, Sioux City, Glidden and Parkersburg and Cedar Falls from where he came to Waterloo after spending a week here. A large number of prominent people in this city have been swindled out of sums ranging from $1 to $5 and $10 by Brown and as a result any further charity work on the part of agents will receive a severe chill in this city for a time at least.

A SAD JOURNEY FOR MOTHER.

Bringing Husband's Body Home, Child Died Enroute—Mrs. Ryan Arrived in Mason City Grief Stricken. Mason City, Aug. 6.—Ill and weak with exhaustion of grief and a long journey, Mrs. James Ryan has arrived here from Livingston, Mont., with the bodies of her husband, killed in a railroad accident, and that of her one-month-old baby, who died enroute. Mrs. Ryan, who was a passenger conductor on the Northern Pacific had both legs cut off in the yards at Livingston last Friday, and lived two days. This city being the home of his parents and other relatives, Mrs. Ryan came to this city with the body, and her baby took ill and died west of Minneapolis. James Ryan was born in Mason City forty-three years ago and lived here until manhood, when he went west and had been for several years in the employ of the Northern Pacific.

AGED MISER HAD RICHES

OLD RESIDENT OF HARLAN HAD $6,400—OWNED FINE FARM.

Harlan, Aug. 6.—Nels Mathiesen, a prominent resident of Jackson township for over thirty years, was found dead in a vacant room in the Overholt block by County Coroner Dr. E. A. Moore.

Mathiesen returned from California a few weeks ago and on account of family troubles which had given him away, did not return to the home of his son in Jackson township where he had formerly made his home, but rented the room where he was found dead.

He has always been a miser and since his return from the west has gone for several days at a time without eating a single meal. Friends of the man notified the sheriff that he was starving himself and Deputy Sheriff McMahon made daily trips to his room but could not induce him to eat anything, saying that he did not feel well, but he would always go and drink a glass of root beer and seemed to doze on that. He simply starved to death and no advice of the doctors or officers would he listen to.

Over $400 in money was found on his person and also a certificate of deposit for $5,000 on a local bank. Mathiesen owned a farm in Jackson township. He was 71 years of age and leaves a son in this county. No inquest was held over the body.

HORSES AT BIG 4 FAIR GROUNDS

ELDON'S NEW HORSE BARN AT TRACTS WAPELLO COUNTY HORSEMEN.

Eldon, Aug. 8.—The new horse barn at the Big 4 fair grounds seems to be quite an attraction for horsemen in this part of the country. There are thirty-one head stable and in training at the grounds at the present time. George Kreise, our Eldon horseman, who has charge of the new barns and track, has ten head in training. Bert Morgan of Hedrick has eight head; W. D. Thomas of Douds one; Harry J. Rigg of Des Moines one; J. McGowan of Bloomfield two; H. Botter of Ollie four; Mike McInerney of Agency two; P. E. Lienhauser, Morris Williams and Harry Creamer of Ottumwa each one, and John Fye of Ollie will be here in a few days with two head. Mr. Fye, with his favorite horse, Basham Fred, put the first record of 2:30 on the Big 4 track twenty years ago. The same year Mr. Fye won the three-minute trot with a little three-year-old trotter called Bally, in 2:57. Everything looks favorable for a big race program at the coming Big 4 fair Sept. 6 to 9.

MOURNS RUNAWAY SON.

Left Easter Sunday and Not Heard From Since—Mt. Vernon Woman Heartbroken. Waterloo, Aug. 6.—A heart broken mother in Mt. Vernon township, Black Hawk county, desires to know the whereabouts of her son, who left home Easter Sunday, March 27, 1910. He is about 19 years of age, height about 5 feet 4 inches, weighs about 145 pounds, light complexion, blue eyes, cowlick on right side of forehead, small gold filling in left front tooth; great reader, preferring history, both ancient and modern. It is supposed that he is working on a farm, if alive. If any one knowing the whereabouts of the above described lad will communicate with 505-X, care of Waterloo Evening Courier, Waterloo, Iowa, he will confer a great favor. It is feared that the mother's reason will become deranged if word if not learned of her son soon.

Crippen May Be an Iowan.

Dubuque, Aug. 6.—That Dr. Hawley H. Crippen, the American dentist whose flight from London, where it is alleged, he murdered his wife, and his subsequent arrest in Quebec last Sunday, has attracted world wide attention, was born in Dubuque county, a few miles from Dubuque, is the belief of many of the old resident of this city. Crippen is said to be the grandson of a Frenchman named Creppen, who emigrated to this county in the pioneer days and later located on a farm about three miles north of Dubuque.

M. A. Crippen, the father of the accused doctor, is now a resident of Los Angeles, Cal. Dubuquers who are familiar with movements of the Crippen family after their departure from Dubuque state that the last heard of the sons of the pioneer Frenchman was that they were residing in California.

ALBIA.

The interurban and electric light company are building a cement smoke stack 9 feet in diameter and 150 feet high. The company hope to abate the smoke nuisance to a great extent. James Roney and family of Melrose left for Kansas City where they will make their future home. Joe Nichol leaves for Colorado this week to make his home with his son Elder Nichol. Miss Blanch Massey has returned from Cedar Falls where she has been attending the summer session of that institution. James Mowrer and family returned from a visit with relatives and friends at Fremont, Neb. Rev. and Mrs. W. S. Gardner of Mt. Pleasant stopped at the Harry Burdock home for a short visit. They were on their way to South Dakota.

EXCITING MIX TO SPEED BOYS

DANNY SENNO'S TRUSTY WHIP NIPS TWO HANNIBAL PLAYERS AT COUNTING PLACE.

LOCALS WERE OUTHIT

Umpire Nugent Suffered With BlinKitie and Nearly Gave Game to Visitors; Swalm Banished; Score Wps 2 to 1.

In one of those nerve racking, hair raising games, which causes the "creeps" to crawl up one's spinal column, those Speed Boys took the first of the series of games from "Ginger" Forney's Cannibals at the Myrtle street ball yard yesterday afternoon by a 2 to 1 count. When both teams put up a wonderful fielding game the brilliant support given the Speed Boys to "Maury" Kent, Boss Egan's $500 twirler, was sufficient to put a crimp in the Missourians' attempts to reach the top of the pitching ladder and resulted in a closer relationship with the Speed Boys. It was the fastest exhibition seen in these parts for some time and three Cannibals were cut off at the plate, when they had good intentions of scoring, by the trusty arms of the Speed Boys.

Danny's Whip Helped. While Kent was practically invincible with men on bases, Daniel Senno, Esq., who covers the center garden for Manager Egan, is responsible largely for Ottumwa's victory as his mighty right whip from center field, true to the counting station, allowed Joey Link to tag out Forney and Eberts. Burr Oaks who shined around the off corner for Egan's proteges, also came into the lime light in the home throwing out festivities when he retired Hamilton at the rubber. While both sides played errorless ball, Umpire Nugent committed a grave error which might have caused Ottumwa to lose the mix when he turned his back upon Foley and allowed him to score from third. While this mistake was very grave, he committed others also, and "Smiling" Charley Swalm was put out of the mix and fined when he took exception to His Ump's decisions. Catcher Buce Evans, he of Oskaloosa-ville, had to retire in the early part of the first inning when one of Swalm's "phublers" nipped him on his sore finger and bared the bone.

Swalm Was Mystery. Hannibal touched up Kent for ten safe bingles but the big collegian was working good and a big part of the safeties were wasted. Swalm had a rare collection of zig zags up his right wing and while he did not cause the locals to ozone he made them hit in the waiting digits of his mates. At that Hank Severid, the coming Cincinnati star, was the only one who took a particular fancy to the curves and he bobbed three safe bingles. After both teams had retired in rapid order in the first three stanzas, Severid started the needed doling in the fourth when he drove a sizzling liner near second. Swalm allowed one of his graduation curves to get away from him and Sev went to second on the throw. Johnston drove one down to Hamilton. Hank chasing on to third. Senno did not hit safely, but he did as good when he landed on the spheroid with sufficient force to remind Harry Hamilton that he was handling a cannon ball and while Jimmy was recovering the ball, Severid crossed the tally station while Hamilton got his man a L Webster.

Umpire Has BlinKitis. The visitors negotiated their one lone tally in the seventh frame while Umpire Nugent was suffering from an attack of blinKitis. Hamilton started the doling when he singled, Foley followed with a single, and Forney, Foley, to make the situation more exciting pilfered the bag. Kent walked Webster. Swalm drove a hard one down to Oaks who retired Hamilton at the rubber. Link returned the ball to Borton in hopes of getting Swalm and the first sacker returned it to catch Foley at the plate. Link had his optics pointed towards second and missed out on the play was called Foley safe.

Link's Hit Did It. To end the afternoon's nervousness Ottumwa got the needed tally in the next chapter when Senno got a base on balls off Swalm which looked like choice ones and Swalm's objections led to his banishment from the game. Kraft went in to do the twirling stunt. After tagging him Danny stole second and Oak's wild hair sacrifice sent the Spaniard on to third and he scored on Joey Link's long drive to the left field fence which Kerwin tried to knock down but which was beyond his reach.

SUMMER SCHOOL AT OKOBOJI.

Branch Department of State University Attracting Attention—Popular Lectures Daily. Lake Okoboji, Aug. 6.—The summer school which has been established at Miller's bay through the efforts of the alumni of the state university is becoming one of the most important features of the summer activities at the lake. The summer school includes in its faculty the following members of the state university faculty: Prof. T. H. McBride, botany; Prof. Shumek, the conchologist; Prof. Calvin, the state geologist; Prof. Wiley and Prof. Wood of the department of zoology. A large part of the instruction at the summer school consists of field work in botanical and zoological branches. Daily lecturers of popular nature are delivered and they are being largely attended by the general summer colony.

The alumni of the university started the summer school by buying five and a half acres of ground at Miller's bay for $6,500. An additional $2,500 has been spent by them for a laboratory building. It is the sentiment of local alumni of the state university that the legislature should make an appropriation sufficient to furnish equipment for all who wish to attend the school. The summer school consists of two terms of six weeks each. Credits are given by the university for work done at the school.
