less. I tried Sloan's Liniment and used it with such satisfactory results that I sent for two large bottles, and I have up to this time used about half a 50 cent bottle with splendid success."—JAMES HYON, Beebe, White County, Ark.

LAFAYETTE YOUNG IS APPOINTED NEW SENATOR

PUBLISHER OF THE DES MOINES CAPITAL IS THE CHOICE FOR HIGH OFFICE PENDING ELECTION BY LEGISLATURE.

FIRST NATIVE BORN IOWAN TO BE NAMED

PROSPECT OF A DEADLOCK IN THE LEGISLATURE MAY GIVE YOUNG SEAT DURING THE ENTIRE NEXT SESSION.

Des Moines, Nov. 12.—(Special)—Lafayette Young, editor of the Des Moines Daily Capital is the new United States senator for Iowa in place of Senator Dolliver, deceased. Governor Carroll's private secretary, C. C. Nye, at noon announced that the governor had sent for Young and offered him the post and Young had accepted. As a result there are two United States senators from Des Moines. The progressive republicans will be angry. The rest of the state jealous, and the next legislature will see a political war that people will come miles to see.

Mr. Young will serve until the next legislature meets January 8, when a senator will be chosen to fill Dolliver's unexpired term, which ends in 1913, unless a deadlock gives him a longer term in office or he should be re-elected.

There are rumors that Governor Carroll and Mr. Young have an understanding and that the latter will only serve until the legislature meets and not be a candidate for election by the legislature, but this is denied. Inasmuch as the legislature is divided into three camps, each so small it cannot control, there are prospects of a deadlock which will last the entire session and Young may serve as senator during that time.

First Native Born Senator. Surrounded by his friends extending their congratulations, Senator Young this afternoon said:

"I was the first native born Iowan to serve in the state senate when I was twenty-five years of age, and now at the age of sixty-five, I am the first native born Iowan to serve in the United States senate. There are no strings to my appointment. I do not know whether I will be a candidate or not before the legislature, but if I should want to be, I can."

Mr. Young was born in Monroe county on May 10, 1848. He is a son of John and Rachel (Tutus) Young, farmer, and a descendant of Scotch, English and Irish ancestry. Mr. Young was educated in the common and night schools, and early entered the journalistic profession, which he has followed with eminent success. In February, 1871, he established a newspaper in Atlantic, Iowa. He soon became active and prominent in politics and in November, 1873, was elected state senator for a term of four years.

In 1877 and again in 1885, he was re-elected to that office, serving in all twelve years with acknowledged ability. While a member of the Iowa senate, he served on the committees on ways and means, railroads and appropriations and took a leading part in shaping legislation. On March 30, 1890, he purchased the Des Moines Capital, of which he has since been the editor and publisher. As an orator, as well as an editor, Mr. Young has achieved distinction. He was delegate-at-large from Iowa to the republican national convention in 1900 at Philadelphia, and had the honor of placing Theodore Roosevelt in nomination for the vice presidency. He was with General Shafter's army at Tampa and in Cuba in the late Spanish-American war, and later was a member of the Philippine commission. He served for a number of years as state binder. He is a member of the Masonic and Odd Fellows fraternities, the Knights of Pythias and the B. P. O. Elks. On March 20, 1870, Mr. Young was married in Cascade, Iowa, to Josephine Bolton, and has three children.

AMES JUDGING TEAM ON TRIP

STATE COLLEGE TO SEND LARGE EXHIBIT TO CHICAGO STOCK SHOW.

Ames, Nov. 12.—The team of five men chosen to represent the Iowa State college at the national stock show in Chicago are as follows: E. N. Cassidy, of Whiting; H. L. Thompson, of Vinton; Phin Shearer, of Marshalltown; A. R. Chappel, of Des Moines; and E. I. Quaffe, of Iowa. The men are leaving with the determination to win and great doings are expected.

Professor Kennedy left Thursday evening with the team for Hudson, Iowa, where they will visit the Cronover horse farm until today, when they will go on to C. V. Battle's cattle farm at Maquoketa. On Wednesday they intend to go for a trip through Indiana, Illinois and Wisconsin to inspect a number of well known livestock farms. On the 24th they go on to Chicago for the contest.

This will be the keenest contest ever held in the United States. In addition to the teams from the American colleges, there will be one from Ontario and one from Manitoba, one interesting feature, of which Ames people should be especially proud, is the fact that six of the contesting teams were coached by I. S. C. graduates—Manitoba, Prof. W. H. Peters, high man on the '06 Iowa team; Nebraska, Professor Hall, '05; Ohio, professor Marshall, '00; Kansas, Professor Kinzer, '01; Texas, Don Griswold, '08; Kentucky, Professor Hooper, '07. The college will send out a better exhibit this year than ever before, consisting of seventeen head of horses thirteen head of sheep and thirty-eight head of swine.

C. S. Barger has purchased a new automobile. He made a trip to Moulton yesterday in his new machine. Deputy Robinson of Chariton had charge of the big meeting in the A. O. U. W. order last night. Eight new members were initiated into the mysteries of the brotherhood. The lodge is in a fine condition but is still aggressive and reaching out for better things.

At the declamatory contest of the high school Thursday evening John Garrison was given first place and will represent the high school at the district contest in the spring.

Special meetings began in the Friends church this week. That at the First Methodist church is attracting general interest. Mrs. Jesse Palmer who has been ill since the death of her husband, is slowly improving. Goldie Fry of Marysville and Gladys Flanagan of Knoxville were granted a license to wed Friday.

About thirty enthusiastic lovers of the automobile went to Blakesburg on Thursday to attend the big meeting for furthering the Blue Grass road. Six cars were used for the trip. A large crowd was present at the meeting in the town hall in the afternoon. It is the general opinion that the road will be made. Several definite steps were taken by the assembly.

BOY'S KINDNESS NETS HIM $20,000

FRANCIS COWLES OF ELLSWORTH COLLEGE WINS OUT IN HARDIN CO. DISTRICT COURT.

Ackley, Nov. 12.—By the action of Judge Wright, who after the case had fairly proceeded, in Hardin district court dismissed the proceedings, young Francis Cowles, a student attending Ellsworth college, retains possession of the estate—valued at about $20,000—of the late Mrs. Dan Bolender, who for full thirty years and practically up to the time of her death was a resident of Ackley. Daniel Bolender, her husband, preceded her in death by about two years. The property consists of a farm of 160 acres in Franklin county, money and personals.

The couple had no children. Several months previous to her death, Mrs. Bolender went to make her home with relatives at Iowa Falls; she had previously made her home for a considerable length of time with Mr. and Mrs. John Bolender—brother of Daniel of this city. While at Iowa Falls she became acquainted with Mr. Cowles; he was not a relative of hers; he had come from New York state and was taking an educational course at Ellsworth. He had received the favor of his instructors and appears to possess considerable musical talent. He showed Mrs. Bolender many kind attentions. In November preceding Mrs. Bolender's death, which occurred last January, she had made a will in which she bequeathed the bulk of her estate to the young man.

The only other bequests were $1,000 each to her two nieces and $500 was set aside for the erection of a family monument. It seems that the relations of Mrs. Bolender and her husband, during his life, with the nieces, Johnson by name, had been strained, and that she did not desire that they secure the bulk of her estate. The court, after a hearing, directed the jury to find for Cowles, thus sustaining the will.

MOTION DAY IN DISTRICT COURT

COUNSEL ARGUE ON DISMISSAL OF CITY OF OTTUMWA VS. PHILLIPS APPEAL.

Arguments on motion are taking up the time of the district court today and among the matters being argued is a motion to dismiss in the case of city of Ottumwa vs. Phil Phillips brought to the district court on an appeal from the police court. Violating the speed ordinance is the charge in the original hearing. A motion to dismiss is also being argued in the case Hein vs. City of Ottumwa, in which Harper & McIntire Co. file the motion to dismiss on grounds of misjoinder. In the matter of the estate of Jane Stevens, H. L. Edmunds had filed as administrator of the estate, a petition for power to sell real estate which was granted by the court. The appraisers appointed by the court are, William Venator, George Myers, Jr., and Joseph Lane. In the case of H. W. Pierce vs. Malon and Marie Ziems, a petition for the appointment of a receiver of certain property, the court handed down an order giving the defense until December 3, to show why receiver should not be appointed. The Shuttlefield-Neil land case did not come up today but will be resumed Monday.

CHILDREN'S CASE SAD.

Davenport Mother Consents to Placing Them in Children's Home—Pays $6 For Each Child Per Month. Davenport, Nov. 12.—An order was issued yesterday afternoon in the district court of Scott county committing Wm. Bur, Leonard and Ethel Sell to the Iowa Soldiers' Orphans' home in this city. The order was issued with the condition that the mother pay the sum of $6 per month for the keep of each child in the home. If she fails to do this it is ordered by the court that the children shall be placed in good homes.

The story of the children is a sad one, as the father and mother are separated and she has used every endeavor of which she is capable to keep the home together and provide for the little ones, the oldest of which is but nine years of age. In the endeavor she has failed and has had to consent to the placing of the children where they can receive the proper care.

REST ROOM SUPPLIES A NEED.

The rooms have been used by people from a large number of different places, both near and far, as the records kept for the last week show. Durling the week persons from Chicago, Delevan, Wis., Melbourne, Eldora, McCallsburg,
