

MEXICAN CITY IS QUIET TODAY AFTER RIOTING

ESTIMATES OF DEAD IN PUEBLA RIOTING VARY FROM 100 TO 170; MOST OF DEATHS WERE CAUSED BY BOMBS.

Mexico City, Nov. 19.—Reports from Puebla where revolutionary rioting occurred yesterday are that the town is quiet today. Similar reports are received from the interior cities. The estimates of the number killed in the fighting vary from 100 to 170. Strong forces of cavalry and infantry are patrolling the streets and pickets and sharpshooters occupy the church towers. The revolutionary movement appears to have ended with the capture of Jose Cordan, who is credited with having headed the rebels. Forty-two alleged plotters against the government have been arrested. Troops of artillery and cavalry are held in readiness in this city to be rushed to Puebla if the occasion requires.

Bomb Kills Great Number.

The trouble began when several policemen headed by the chief attempted to break up a meeting of anti-revolutionists being held in a large hall. As Chief of Police Miguel Cabrera and his men advanced toward the building a door was opened by a woman who shot the chief. A fight then began between the police and the occupants. A bomb was thrown from one of the windows in the midst of the policemen and rurales, the latter having been called to assist the officers. The bomb exploded, killing many. The other casualties occurred in the course of the fighting which took place in the street.

From other sources in Mexico last night it was learned that the seventeenth battalion left here late today for Puebla by special train and that other troops were in readiness to transport additional troops to the scene if necessary. It was officially stated here that eighteen men had been killed in Puebla.

Troops Arrive on Scene.

A telegram from Puebla at 6:45 o'clock last night said that the first federal troops had arrived, as had also a corps of rurales. There under the command of Generals Luis Valle and Eduardo Caus were being led against the house in which the rebels were fortified and were attacking, shouting "Long live the supreme government."

The Madristas, as they have come to be known, were keeping up a hot fire from the windows and balconies. A feature of the fighting was the part played by women. The wife of Jose Cordan, who killed the chief of police, was in turn killed by the fire of the troops. Several other women who were in the house also were said to have appeared upon the balcony and taken part in the conflict. When the place was captured, several were found among the dead and wounded. A later dispatch contained the information that the house had been taken by the troops and that 100 rifles and a quantity of ammunition had been captured and that order had been restored.

Secretary of Foreign Relations Enrique C. Cuel at a late hour last night authorized the statement that he had no official information as to the number of dead and wounded at Puebla, but it was a fact that many had been killed and that bombs and dynamite had been employed by the revolutionists. The trouble he said, was confined to Puebla.

Details of the Conspiracy.

Mexico City, Nov. 19.—Details of the anti-Diaz conspiracy alleged to have been promoted by Francisco I. Madero, now a fugitive from Mexico, and which has resulted within the last two days in the arrest of several conspirators in this city and elsewhere, came to light today indicating that Sunday, November 20, was the date fixed for a general uprising against the existing government. Circles which appear to have been sent out by Madero or his agents from San Antonio to various persons in this city outline his campaign and announce Madero as constitutional president of Mexico.

INDIANA FARMER'S SON CONFESSES HE CLUBBED PARENT UNTIL UNCONSCIOUS.

Muncie, Ind., Nov. 19.—"I thought he was dead. I loaded the body into the buggy and started for the old well. I had the body propped up on the seat. "On the way my father revived a little and threw his arms around my neck. Then I beat him over the head again until he was quiet. Just as I was about to throw the body into the well, he groaned and gave a long sigh."

This, according to the police, is part of the signed confession of Benjamin Smith, 22 years old, a farmer, now in the Muncie jail. It was the climax of a remarkable recital of murder.

Smith's father was mysteriously missing and suspicions were aroused which led to his arrest. Under examination he finally said that he would show the police where his father was.

BOYS OF TODAY ARE NO NUISANCE

FRED GOODMAN COMPLIMENTS YOUTH OF AMERICA IN ADDRESS AT Y. M. C. A.

BIBLE STUDY WORK

Conference Yesterday Was Largely Attended—Interesting Talks Were Delivered by Rev. R. Ames Montgomery and Secretary

"We do not look upon the boy of today as a necessary nuisance out of which to make a man, as the people did twenty-five years ago," declared Fred S. Goodman of New York City, international secretary of the bible study department of the Young Men's Christian association in an address yesterday afternoon at the united conference of church workers at the association building. "Instead we find that he has power and presents an influence which was formerly unappreciated," continued the speaker.

The address was entitled "Can the Boys' Bible Class do for the Church?" The conference was well attended yesterday afternoon and evening by representatives of churches, Sunday schools, brotherhoods, adult bible classes, boys' clubs and Y. M. C. A. workers.

Well Known Bible Student.

Fred Goodman is a specialist of bible study work. For more than twenty-five years he has been engaged in religious work for men and boys, and for eight years he has been secretary for bible study work for the international committee of the Young Men's Christian association of North America. He has held these conferences for co-operation and efficiency in thirty-eight cities of this country and also in Great Britain. He is an excellent talker and his addresses yesterday were eagerly listened to. The conference continues over today and tomorrow. Mr. Goodman carries along with him numerous charts and photographs to illustrate his lectures. The photographs show the great advancement of bible study among the men of the country.

Rev. Montgomery Gave Talk.

Ernest Daggett presided over the conference yesterday afternoon. "What Can a Boys' Bible Class Do for a Boy?" was the subject of a short address by Rev. Ames R. Montgomery of the First Presbyterian church. His address was very interesting. In opening he stated that one of the most important things accomplished by a boys' bible class was to start the boy right. Another important thing accomplished was the changing of his environments in school and public life. "The bible class gave the youth the right attitude," said the speaker, "and tells him what the bible is and gives him experience." The fourth reason assigned by the Rev. Mr. Montgomery was that it demanded from the boy, obligations to his home, and the fifth, that it aided him in selecting good companions.

Solved Men Problem.

"What Can the Boys' Bible Class Do for the Church?" was the subject of Mr. Goodman's theme. The speaker brought out that it gave the boy a worthy ideal of manhood and was the best way of winning the youngster to the church. It helped to solve the men problem and helped to develop a strong missionary spirit. Mr. Goodman as an illustration told of eleven boys' bible classes at Grand Rapids, Mich. which were giving to foreign missions.

Upon the completion of his talk a long discussion followed, in which Mr. Goodman answered all questions submitted. He quoted the remarks of a speaker who declared "there is no boy problem." "The only problem," asserted Mr. Goodman, "is securing the right kind of adult leadership. Bible study by boys is no longer a dream. Thousands of boys over the country are following regular graded courses of study which require much work out of class."

Points Out Seven Reasons.

"A Modern Bible Study Policy—Things Fundamental," was the address of Mr. Goodman at the evening conference. At the outset he referred to the transition of the old style of bible study to the new order of things. The readjustment he declared was never easy but painful, and that the changes were in methods and not in principles. From a wide survey of the bible the speaker gave the following seven reasons for the rapid and increasing interest in the study of the bible:

First—Profound and active convictions as to the nature of the bible and the value in the development of individuals in church and natural life.

Second—Organization develops intelligent appreciation of difficulties in the way of discovery of men and money and system and wise use of these resources.

Third—Increasing use of the bible by the plain average man. A devotion and special training.

Fourth—Adaptation of methods of different types for men and boys, and its different purposes.

Fifth—Newer movement enters in an earnest desire to give every man a chance of the gospel of Christ. "Every man is a possible disciple of Christ."

Sixth—The newer methods include projection of bible classes not only in churches, but the mines, factories, fire stations, railroad shops, etc.

Seventh—In order to stir inertia put fresh vigor into the church, attract attention of outsiders—such as a program characterized by audacity.

City Physician A. H. Peterson was assessed a fine of $5 in Police Judge Morrissey's court this morning for violating the city ordinance regulating the speed of automobiles. The case was heard before Judge Morrissey yesterday morning. He rendered his decision this morning. City Physician Peterson will probably take an appeal to the district court.

Investigation by Chief Peter Gallagher has resulted in the bringing out of the information that Newton Cocke, the Kirkville farmer who mysteriously disappeared Monday morning, stayed at the Central hotel Tuesday night. MEETING ENDED FRIDAY

The career of Master William Toggard Keller, the youth from Farmington, whom his former caretaker would send to the reform school, was short and ended in the local home of the American Home Finding association. The boy's career there while it lasted served only to impress the management with his good qualities. This morning, accompanied by Rev. U. B. Smith, the head of the association, he and another lad were taken to Eagle Grove where homes for each have been found on farms near that place.

Rev. U. B. Smith when asked about the boy whose induction into Ottumwa was unfavorable to his good name, showed the high standing in which he made himself felt by those in charge at the local institution. He stated that the boy is very intelligent and a perfect little gentleman. Those who at the court house a few days ago were impressed by the marked intelligence of the youth, and felt that he was being unfairly treated, are pleased with their success in having had him accepted by the local home. It will be remembered that this boy was said by Mrs. Jennie Ficktenmiller of Farmington, with whom he was making his home, to be incorrigible and possessed of an unusual degree of mean traits. Among those recited by his accuser was that of driving another person's team around a portion of Farmington when sent to Sunday school. He stated that he was a nephew of the famous jockeys Tod and Bob Elmore and that he did some jockeying himself. Rev. U. B. Smith is hopeful that the home found for the boy will bring out the good qualities that he possesses and is confident that someone will secure a good boy in taking the lad.
