JAMES QUINLAN CALLED BY DEATH

EARLY PIONEER AND CONTRACTOR PASSED AWAY THIS MORNING AT BURLINGTON.

James Quinlan, a pioneer of Ottumwa, died this morning at 4 a. m., at the St. John's hospital in Burlington at the advanced age of 80 years. The deceased was well known among the early settlers of Ottumwa. For a number of years he was engaged in contracting work. Mr. Quinlan left Ottumwa a short time ago, going to Burlington, where he was making his home with relatives. He was a former member of the Ottumwa police force, being employed as dump watchman in Central addition. He resigned this position about a year ago.

For many years Mr. Quinlan engaged in contracting work and one of his largest jobs was that of filling the dump between the south end of the Market street bridge and Myrtle street. With Benjamin Jeffries, Mr. Quinlan filled the swamps at that point and converted it into Church street, which is the principal travel thoroughfare to South Ottumwa. Before Messrs. Quinlan and Jeffries took the contract, three bridges crossed these swamps to the south. The task of filling these swamps was a difficult one, but the two men did the work in an excellent manner. He also filled the swamps on the site of the union depot, which in early days was a part of the Des Moines river bed. This job took place in 1888. Mr. Quinlan removed the old depot to Central addition, where it was transformed into a residence. He also graded down many of the hills in Ottumwa, using the dirt from Court Hill to fill at the union depot.

The remains will arrive in the city tomorrow morning on Burlington No. 3 and will be taken to the S. A. Crowley undertaking parlors on West Second street, where friends can view the body. Funeral services will be held Saturday morning at 9 o'clock from St. Mary's church. Requiem mass will be celebrated by Rev. Father F. W. Hoppman. The remains will be interred in Calvary cemetery.

BIRTHS.

BORN—Saturday, December 3, 1910 to Mr. and Mrs. James McGahey, 309 Van Buren avenue, a son.

FUNERALS.

The remains of John Daugherty, who died at Lincoln, Neb., arrived this afternoon on Burlington No. 6. The funeral cortege moved from the depot to the Ottumwa cemetery, where services were held in the chapel, conducted by Dr. T. W. Jeffrey of the First M. E. church. Interment was made in the family lot in the cemetery. The deceased is survived by his wife and one daughter. Mr. Daugherty was a well known and wealthy farmer who lived north of Ottumwa for many years.

WILSON SAYS YEAR'S CROPS ARE THE BEST

REPORT OF SECRETARY OF AGRICULTURE SHOWS THAT VALUE OF FARM PRODUCTS FOR YEAR IS NEARLY $9,000,000,000.

CORN COULD PAY DEBT OF NATION

CO-OPERATION IS SUGGESTED BETWEEN THE PRODUCER AND THE CONSUMER TO REDUCE THE EXCESSIVE COST OF LIVING.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 8.—Nothing short of omniscience can grasp the value of the farm products of this year, is the statement of the secretary of agriculture in his annual report for 1910. At no time in the world's history has a country produced farm products within one year with a value reaching $9,256,000,000, which is the value of the agricultural products of this country for 1910. The value of farm products from 1899 to the present year has been progressive without interruption. If the value of the products of 1899 is placed at 100, the value for this year is 189, or almost double the value for the census year eleven years ago.

"During the period of unexampled agricultural production, a period of twelve years, during which the farmers of this country have steadily advanced in prosperity and wealth and in economic independence, in intelligence, and a knowledge of agriculture, the total value of farm products is $79,000,000,000.

The corn crop of 3,121,381,000 bushels exceeds that of the record year, 1906, and is greater than the average crop of the preceding five years by 14 per cent. While the value of this crop is below that of 1909 and also of 1908, its amount belongs to stories of magic. It can hardly be reckoned as less than $1,500,000,000, a sum sufficient to cancel the interest bearing debt of the United States, buy all the gold and silver mined in all of the countries of the earth in 1908, and still leave to the farmers a little pocket money.

Corn Leads All Crops.

All of the cereals except corn are together worth only three-fourths as much as that crop. The great allied iron and steel industries had, in the latest census year, for which results have been published, 1904, a production worth only 60 per cent of the value of this year's corn crop.

The growing importance of the south in corn production is becoming conspicuous. In 1889 it produced hardly more than one-fifth of the national crop; now it produces one-third.

The cotton crop of this year may be worth in lint and seed a round $900,000,000 at the farm, or more than the corn crop was worth in any year since 1901. This value is 13 per cent above the five year average.

The value of the hay crop is about $720,000,000, an amount which has been exceeded but once, and that in 1907; it is 13 per cent above the average of the preceding five years.

Fortunately the wheat crop is divided into two sowings, autumn and spring, so that the two crops are subject to different climatic accidents, as was the case this year. The production of spring and winter wheat is 691,767,000 bushels, or substantially the same of the preceding five years, whereas the value is about $625,000,000, or 7.6 per cent above the five year average.

Easily the fifth crop in point of value is oats, the value of which this year is $380,000,000, or 12 per cent above the average of the five preceding years. For the second time in the history of the country the crop exceeds 1,000,000,000 bushels, the precise estimate standing at 1,096,396,000 bushels, or 22 per cent of the five preceding years.

Next in order of value is the potato crop, which has been exceeded in only two or three former years. With the exception of the crop of 1909, which was in a degree an overproduction, the crop of this year is the largest ever grown in this country.

Beet sugar production in 1910 will about equal that of 1909, say 512,000 short tons. Its factory value is reckoned at $51,000,000 and the factory value of cane sugar at about $28,000,000, an amount which has been exceeded in four years.

Tobacco Crop Above Average.

The tobacco crop has slightly exceeded the production of the record year, 1909, and its 967,150,000 pounds are 26 per cent above the average production of the five preceding years. Its value will be about $95,000,000, or about the same as that of the crop of 1909, and fully $20,000,000 more than any tobacco crop antedating that year.

Barley has hardly maintained the average production of the preceding five years, the crop of this year being 158,138,000 bushels, but its value, $97,000,000, is 16 per cent above the five year average.

Flax seed production is far below that of recent years on account of a severe drought, the preliminary estimate being 10,050,000 bushels, but the price of flax seed soared to $2.29 by Nov. 1, so that the value of the entire crop is about $33,000,000, amount which was exceeded only in 1909.

Rye is one of the steady crops, both in quantity and in value, the production of 32,088,000 bushels this year being worth at the farm about $23,000,000.

Rice production in 1910 remained substantially at the figure of 1909, or a little over 1,000,000,000 pounds of rough rice. No year previous to it produced as large a crop; it exceeds the average of the previous five years by 25 per cent. The price of rice, however, has declined so that the crop of this year is worth hardly $16,000,000 or per cent below the five year average.

Cereal Value Below Average.

The hop crop is regarded as 13 per cent below the average of the previous five years, and the smallest in a dozen years or more, but the farm price has improved over the average of the previous five years, so that the total value of the crop is 3 per cent above that average.

In no previous year has the production of the cereal crops equaled the grand total of 5,140,896,000 bushels of the cereals of 1910. This is 13 per cent above the five year average. In value, however, the cereals of this year fall below that of 1908 and 1909, principally on account of the decline in the farm price of corn. This year's value is $2,710,000,000 or about $230,000,000 below the total for 1909 and $50,000,000 below that of 1908. However, it is 11 per cent above the five year average.

Except for two years, 1898 and 1901, the highest balance of trade in favor of this country in foreign trade in farm products was $488,004,787 for 1908, a year which seems to mark the culminating point in the course of the balance of foreign trade in farm products. In 1909 the balance declined to $274,210,152, and in 1910 the balance declined to $198,090,925.

Farmer's Share of Prices.

High prices receive considerable attention in this report. In the farmer's aspect of the matter he receives various percentages of the consumer's price for farm products. In the case of milk, in seventy-eight states distributed throughout the United States where the subject was investigated by the department, the farmer receives a scant 59 per cent, or one-half of the price paid by the consumer. The railroads get about 7 per cent, so that the remaining 43 per cent of the consumer's price is received mostly by the retailer.

Cases presenting many details with regard to the increase of prices on farm products between farmer and consumer, the secretary of agriculture declares that "the conclusion is inevitable that the consumer has no well grounded complaint against the farmer for the price that he pays."

Suggests Co-operation.

In continuation of this subject, the secretary of agriculture suggests that the problem of high prices is one for treatment by the consumer. "Why do not consumers buy directly from the farmer?" he asks. "A distribution of farm products in this simple way is already begun in England where co-operative organizations of farmers are selling by direct consignment to co-operative organizations of consumers in London. Farmers' co-operative selling associations are numerous in this country, but co-operative buying associations among people of cities are few.

Cases reported to the attorney general for prosecution under the several laws administered by the department of agriculture numbered 1,738, twice as many as the year before. More than $4,000 in fines during the last few days; hundreds of tons of misbranded foods and drugs were forfeited.

The cost of meat inspection during the year was about $2,940,000. Animals inspected before slaughter numbered 49,307,672, including 7,999,547 cattle, 2,295,509 calves, 27,731,627 hogs, 11,164,655 sheep and 116,963 goats.

BEWARE OF THE RATTLING EGG

INSPECTOR MIKE E. FLYNN TELLS HOW TO KEEP OFF THE ANCIENT HEN FRUIT.

VISITS DAVENPORT

In interview States How to Discriminate Between Packed and Fresh Laid Product—A Simple Test.

"If it rattles it is not a fresh egg," said M. E. Flynn, pure food inspector for the state, in speaking of the cruises that he has been making in Davenport during the past week for the pure food department. The Davenport Times tells of Inspector Flynn's visit in Davenport and gives the following interview with the man who is looking out for eggs over age:

"It is a very simple test, but an effective one to eliminate a large portion of the packed eggs from the category of the freshly laid. Hold the egg to near your ear and shake it. If it rattles it is not a fresh egg."

"Understand, I don't say it is a bad egg. Packed or storage eggs are not necessarily bad eggs. But a housewife should not be called on to pay fresh egg prices for this quality of goods. Fresh eggs are full. There is no air space and no chance for them to rattle. But after a while they begin to evaporate and in four or five months about one-sixth or one-fifth of the filling is gone. Therefore the buyer does not receive his full value for what he buys, and the egg is not fresh and cannot be sold for such, and prosecutions will follow wherever we find that this is being done.

"It can readily be seen that a large community may be swindled out of thousands of dollars on eggs in a short time. If the dealer can label his eggs fresh he can add from seven to ten cents a dozen to the price of them. And the public pays the bill.

"It is no excuse in a court of law that the retailer purchased the eggs as the fresh article. He is supposed to exercise proper care to ascertain that he is buying fresh eggs and so protect the consumer. Nor is the commissionary excusable because he buys the eggs from country shippers as fresh. He has means of knowing fresh eggs from the storage and packed variety.

"Packed eggs do not all come from the big storage plans in Chicago. They often come from the farmer's cellar or the store room of country commission men. During the late spring and early summer when the price of eggs is lower there is a tendency among the country folks to keep their eggs packed away in the cellar until winter, when the prices soar, then bring them into the market and demand fresh egg prices for them. And the consumer pays the price. This method of packing eggs is not so good as that employed by the big commission houses which keep them in an even temperature in their big storage houses.

"But the eggs come from the country and the supposition naturally is that they are fresh."

Mr. Flynn spent some time last week watching at the Bell-Jones company plant. He was observing shipments brought in from the commission men in the country towns throughout the state. In several cases it was mistaken for eggs shipped in marked as fresh contained many old eggs, and will follow up these shipments to their source and start prosecutions against the men who shipped them and try in this way to reach the men at the initial end of the deal as well as the grocer and wholesale commission men.

"But few of these eggs are shipped out of the state to New York or the other big eastern cities, as the commission men know enough not to take any chances with the government inspectors, who are watching closely for these western shipments."

NEW STRENGTH FOR BAD BACKS

Thousands of men and women who work every day have lame, weak aching backs.

They do not know that bad backs are caused by sick kidneys.

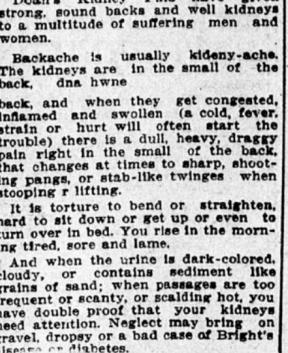

Doan's Kidney Pills have given strong, sound backs and well kidneys to a multitude of suffering men and women.

Backache is usually kidney-ache. The kidneys are in the small of the back, and when they get congested, inflamed and swollen (a cold, fever, strain or hurt will often start the trouble) there is a dull, heavy, dragging pain right in the small of the back, that changes at times to sharp, shooting pains, or stab-like twinges when stooping or lifting.

It is torture to bend or straighten, hard to sit down or get up or even to turn over in bed. You rise in the morning tired, sore and lame.

And when the urine is dark-colored, cloudy, or contains sediment like grains of sand; when passages are too frequent or scanty, or scalding hot, you have double proof that your kidneys need attention. Neglect may bring on gravel, dropsy or a bad case of Bright's disease or diabetes.

FAVOR BORAD EMPLOYING MEN

OTTUMWA COMMERCIAL ASSOCIATION WOULD HAVE GOOD ROADS LEGISLATION.

ADOPT RESOLUTIONS

Local Business Men Go on Record Favoring Additional Power to Supervisors; To Aid the Commissioners.

Resolutions favoring new legislation giving additional power to the county boards of supervisors that the latter may employ competent men to make Iowa road improvements and assuring the city administration and the waterworks commission of their aid in the newly acquired enterprise of the city, have been drafted by the Ottumwa Commercial association. The committee on the good roads proposition, composed of F. A. Nimocks and E. G. Moon, drafted the following resolution, and it was unanimously passed by the directors of the Commercial association:

Road Improvement Resolution.

Whereas, The interest of the state of Iowa together with the interests of each and every community in the commonwealth require the development and improvement of our public roads;

Whereas, It is the opinion of this association that such improvement can best be carried on when conducted in a uniform and systematic manner; and,

Whereas, It is further the opinion of this association that it is impracticable to secure a uniform and systematic improvement of the public highways under the regulations which are now in force, leaving such work to smaller subdivisions of the county which in turn results in wasteful and inefficient efforts without marked or permanent benefit; Therefore,

Be it resolved, By the Commercial association of Ottumwa, that said association earnestly recommends such legislation of the Thirty-fourth general assembly as will increase the power of the board of supervisors in each county with reference to the permanent improvements of the highways in each county, such authority extending to the employment of competent men to supervise and direct the building of roads and highways under such regulations as the legislature of the state may deem proper.

Resolved further, That a copy of these resolutions be forwarded to Hon. J. F. Webster and Hon. Frank Shane, senator and representative-elect respectively from this senatorial and legislative district, comprised of Wapello county.

F. A. Nimocks, E. G. Moon, Com.

The Other Resolution.

The report of the special committee to draft a resolution with reference to the recent purchase of the waterworks, which has been accepted by the association, follows:

The directors of the Commercial association:

Socialism.—Your committee appointed to prepare resolutions regarding the purchase of the water company property recommend the adoption of the following resolution:

Whereas, At a special election held November 22, 1910, a substantial majority voted to ratify the action of the city council in contracting to buy the Public Water company property; and,

Whereas, Mayor Hartman has appointed as commissioners to handle the property Hon. H. L. Waterman, for six years; D. E. Morey, for four years; H. C. Williams, for two years; therefore,

Resolved, That the directors of the Commercial association pledge themselves to aid the city administration and the commissioners in any way they can in this new enterprise to the end that it may be a success and a benefit to our city; and,

Resolved, That the action of the mayor in his selection of commissioners be commended and endorsed by this association.

THREE WEEKS AND ALL CHANGED

BRIDE WHO ANSWERED "WIFE WANTED" AD NOW SEEKS A DIVORCE FROM HUSBAND.

The ride awakening after three weeks of weaned life of a bride who answered an advertisement for wife, is recorded in a divorce petition filed with Clerk of District Court George Phillips by Elaine N. Bartlett against William Bartlett. Mrs. Bartlett states in the petition that her husband became cold and abusive after they were wed but three short weeks, and that he called her horrid names as well as questioned her character. She also recites in her petition that she learned that she had some money and at divers times procured the same from her to the amount of $280. Claiming that she has been a faithful wife to him during the time he permitted her to reside with him, she now alleges the charges of cruelty and inhuman treatment. The couple were brought together, according to the wordings of the petition by the means of an advertisement for a wife that was inserted in a publication by the defendant and appeared about February of this year. She answered the advertisement and correspondence ensued between them with the result, so the petition states, that the plaintiff asked his prospective bride to come from her home to Ottumwa, where about February 10, 1910 they were married. Nor is that all that the plaintiff avers in her prayer for divorce. She claims that she was made to go out and work by the defendant and did work at the packing house and elsewhere, and that all or a part of the money so earned was demanded of her by the defendant. And again, the petition states that hearing that her brother had some money of hers, the defendant tried, but was unsuccessful in getting, the said money from the brother of his bride. Finally she asks the court to give her a divorce from her husband that she may pursue her way singly.

MORNING GOOD TIME TO SHOP

THE CHRISTMAS RUSH IS BEING NOTICED IN OTTUMWA STORES; MANY OUT OF TOWN BUYERS.

The days for early shopping are slipping away one after another. The crush days are approaching just as fast. Each succeeding day brings more people and the shopping district becomes more and more congested. Even now in the afternoons the stores are taxed to their full capacity in supplying the requirements of the Christmas shoppers. To eliminate as much as possible the great crush that is gradually but surely coming the Christmas shoppers will have to get busy at once.

It is a fact that numbers of people, for one cause or another, will be compelled to shop during the last few days before Christmas and consideration should be given them by persons who have ample time and means to shop in advance of the rush days.

The morning hours are ideal shopping hours. You can and will get quicker attention and better service. Stocks are in order, there is less confusion, salespeople are fresh and not worn out.

Out of town shoppers arrive between 10:30 o'clock and noon, and by the time they lunch and are ready to shop it is afternoon. Home people should think of this and shop as much as possible during the morning hours. It will greatly relieve the afternoon congestion. Besides they will find shopping more pleasant during the early hours of the day.

Ottumwa is a great shopping center, attracting trade from all parts of southern Iowa. Many local people have no idea of the vast numbers that come from a distance to shop in Ottumwa. Ottumwans should make it pleasant and agreeable to them and they will come again. It is a good way to boost Ottumwa. Be a booster—shop early, and in the morning, so you can make room for those who are compelled to shop late.

BERTHA SELLS SHOWS UP.

Once Queen of the Big Circus Tent Sells Bros.; Was Tight Rope Walker in Her Early Days.

Manson, Dec. 6.—On the register of the Manson hotel during the past week there was spread the name of Bertha Sells, a name to conjure with in the circus world. The possessor of the name is a woman well along in the sixties, who claims to be the sister of Ephraim, Peter and Lewis Sells, one time kings of the circus world, the predecessors of the mighty Ringlings, and formidable business foes of P. T. Barnum, James A. Bailey, Coup, Cole, Van Amberg, John Robinson, Adam Forepaugh and the other circus magnates of nearly a half century ago. Bertha Sells told many interesting stories of the catwag woman and the sawdust arena. She was a tight rope artist, a sideshow mind reader, a snake charmer and a general all-around handy circus queen. She talked interestingly of the old time circus work, seeming intelligent and bright. She had money to pay her way but did not seem to know where she was going. She had with her a wonderful wardrobe of flashy and make-up stuff galore. She left for the east as mysteriously as she came, nobody knows whence.
