ENGINEERS TAKE POSITIVE STAND

Cleveland, May 26.—(Special)—The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers Monday by unanimous vote, adopted a resolution favoring the enactment of a law requiring the use of power headlights on railroad motive power. This question was discussed at some length on Saturday, but no official action was taken at that time. The resolution shows that the B. of L. E. delegates present an undivided front on this question.

At its last session congress passed a bill placing all parts of locomotives under jurisdiction of the locomotive inspection department of the interstate commerce commission. Previous to that the duties of the employees of this department did not go beyond the boilers. The engineers are in favor of having headlight jurisdiction given the department.

George A. Pearson, Richmond, province of Quebec, was elected a trustee of the insurance department of the B. of L. E. Monday. He belongs to division 142 and has run a locomotive on the Grand Trunk since 1887. It is expected that four more insurance trustees will be elected today.

Another resolution adopted Monday was the project to raise to pay of delegates from $8 to $9 per day. This has been talked over almost since the beginning of the convention and it went through without a dissenting vote. Delegates have to pay their own expenses. None of them have to pay cards entitle them to transportation. Railroad fares as their brotherhood
