HORSE RUNS AWAY; INJURES PEOPLE

MRS. HENRY DEBRUIN AND FRED FISHER HURT WHEN ANIMAL BECOMES FRIGHTENED.

Mrs. Henry DeBruin of Eddyville was knocked down and painfully injured this afternoon about 2 o'clock at Fourth and Court streets when a horse owned by the Kent-Musselman Grocery Co. and driven by Fred Fisher, became frightened and ran away. Mr. Fisher was thrown from the wagon and suffered a compound fracture of the left wrist and bruises about the right arm, face and body. Mrs. DeBruin was taken to St. Joseph's hospital while Mr. Fisher was given medical attention at a doctor's office.

Mr. Fisher was coming down Court street when his horse became frightened and started to run. He tried to quiet the animal but it swerved, throwing the wagon against a telephone pole demolishing the vehicle. The horse continued on its wild gallop around the city park where scores of women and children were congregated to hear the concert by the rural school pupils. Mrs. DeBruin did not see the approach of the animal and was thrown to the pavement with much force. The condition of Mrs. DeBruin or Mr. Fisher is not considered serious.

DOG OWNED BY J. H. MITCHELL ATTACKS YOUNG BOY; FEAR BEAST HAS RABIES.

Young Phillips was passing the Mitchell residence last evening when the dog snarled and started from the yard. The lad seeing the dog coming started to run and as the dog overtook him he kicked it several times. The canine buried a tooth deep into the boy's leg and it bled profusely.

Information was sworn out against Mr. Mitchell sometime ago by Rev. C. A. Field on the charge of keeping a vicious dog. Judge R. R. Ramsell ordered that the dog be locked up and this morning ordered that the beast be shot. Rev. Field wished to keep the dog for ten days and have it examined by a veterinarian but it is not likely that the dog will be allowed to live.

BISHOP LONGLEY FOR PREPAREDNESS

EPISCOPAL CLERGYMAN FAVORS PEACE WITH HONOR; TALKS TO CLUB.

The annual banquet and business meeting of Trinity Men's club was held Thursday evening in the crypt of the church. Half a hundred were present. The supper which was served at 7 o'clock was preceded and followed by music by a nine piece orchestra. Mrs. Guy Kitterman sang several numbers. The feature of the evening's program was an address by Bishop H. S. Longley of Des Moines.

The keynote of the bishop's talk was that a belief in an Almighty God must be the basis for all successful endeavor. He expressed a belief that the religion of the average man is one of social righteousness rather than the form prescribed by the church. This, he said, is all right insofar as it goes, but it does not go far enough, because the first requirement of all is a respect for a reverence of God. His conclusion was that the religion of the average man does not go far enough.

On the subject of law and law enforcement he dwelt at some length. He deplored the fact that there are so many laws and that so many of them are either forgotten or unheeded. "Until there is a public sentiment in favor of enforcement of a law, it will not be enforced," he said. "You can pile the statutes to high heaven but until the sentiment favorable to their enforcement exists, there will be no enforcement of them."

He lauded labor unions and their purposes but did not condone some of their practices. He expressed the belief that capital must come to feel that labor is its best asset and worthy of more consideration, while on the other hand, labor must come to realize more its responsibility to and dependence on its employer.

Favors Preparedness.
Bishop Longley is not a "peace at any price" man. In the course of his address devoted much time to the European war. He objected to the title "Christian Nations" being applied to the warring countries of Europe and said that lack of Christian practices by the people themselves was at the bottom of the awful strife.

While he could see no sufficient reason to justify the war in Europe, he admitted that he does not believe in "peace without honor." He advocated sufficient military preparedness to assure the safety of this country and its people. While he hopes that the time will come when peace will reign over the whole world, he is not deceived into thinking that such a state of affairs can be obtained in a day or that the best way to secure it is to throw aside defenses and trust to the other nations to follow suit. But he does believe that every man, woman and child could and should begin working right away to build up a sentiment out of which a permanent and honor peace can be created. He cited figures showing the awful cost of war, both in money and in lives. In the latter connection he stated that war has cost the lives of fifteen people for every minute since the birth of the Lord, in other words that war in the last two thousand years has taken over fifteen billions of lives. The bishop closed with a fervent plea to his hearers to help build up a sentiment for an honorable and lasting peace even though there may be no realization of such a dream for generations to come.

Frank Kerfoot, formerly of Ottumwa, and now of Des Moines, accompanied the bishop and met his old friends among the club which he helped to organize.

Officers Elected.
A very brief annual business meeting was held during the evening and the rector, Rev. W. C. Hengen, President W. C. Boone and John K. Mahon made reports on work being done by the club. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President—R. D. MacManus.
Vice president—E. H. Mathers.
Secretary—Manley O. Stevens.
